* Before a name means Lay Delegate. Abbreviations in right-hand Column after the names of the Conferences: NE, Northeastern Jurisdiction; SE, Southeastern Jurisdiction; C, Central Jurisdiction; NC, North Central Jurisdiction; SC, South Central Jurisdiction; W, Western Jurisdiction; OS, Overseas Conference. The first number in parentheses (5-10) indicates the number of the Report of the Committee on Credentials; the second numeral the item in the Report showing for whom the Reserve was seated. PLAN OF ORGANIZATION AND RULES OF ORDER—1952 GENERAL CONFERENCE

Amended. See JOURNAL, pages 240, 242, 292, 332, 358.*

Following the celebration of the Holy Communion on the first day of the 1952 Session of the General Conference, the General Conference Committee on Plan of Organization and Rules of Order submits the following motion:

"In behalf of the General Conference Commission on Plan of Organization and Rules of Order, we move that the consideration of the Plan of Organization and Rules of Order, as presented by this Commission (ordered by the 1948 General Conference and printed in the 1952 Handbook) shall be the Order of the Day on the second day of this 1952 session of the General Conference, immediately after the report of the Committee on Journal, and that this Plan and these Rules shall be in effect until a Plan and Rules shall have been permanently adopted for this session.

"No proposed amendment to this Report shall be considered except such as shall have been submitted in writing to the Secretary of the General Conference before 2:30 o'clock this afternoon for presentation to the Commission on Rules. This shall not prevent the author of any amendment thus presented from speaking in support of the same, nor shall it prevent the presentation and consideration of an amendment to any amendment presented as provided for above."

A. PLAN OF ORGANIZATION

I. Opening Session and Organization

The General Conference shall assemble at 10 o'clock A.M. on the day fixed and at the place determined upon in accordance with action taken by the preceding General Conference. The Holy Communion shall be celebrated by the Conference, the Council of Bishops being in charge; after which the Conference shall be called to order by the Bishop designated, as provided in Paragraph 8, Item 11, of the Discipline (1948).

The following order of business shall be observed.

A. Roll Call. The roll shall be called by the Secretary of the preceding General Conference in the following manner:

1. There shall be called the names of the Bishops who have died since the adjournment of the preceding General Conference, and likewise the names of delegates-elect who have died.

2. The record of attendance shall be made in writing to the Secretary of the General Conference by

a. The Secretary of the Council of Bishops for the Bishops and

b. The Chairman of each delegation for its membership. The latter shall be provided with a blank form on which to report in writing the attendance of its members, noting absentees and substitutions, which reports shall be tabulated by the Secretary and published in the Daily Advocate. Any reserve seated in the place of a regular delegate shall have been duly elected as a reserve delegate by his Annual Conference, and shall meet the requirements set forth in the Discipline of The Methodist Church (1948), Paragraphs 23, 24, 25, 502. Delegates, including reserves, when the latter are substituted for a delegate or delegates, shall be seated in the order of their election, except when a reserve is seated temporarily, in which case he shall occupy the seat of the delegate for whom he is substituted. All delegates arriving after the opening Roll Call shall be reported by the Chairman of the Delegation to the Committee on Credentials, in order to be properly enrolled.

3. A majority of the whole number of delegates to the General Conference shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. (Paragraph 503, 1948 Discipline.)

B. Adoption of Plan of Organization and Rules of Order. The report of the Committee on Plan of Organization and Rules of Order created by the preceding General Conference shall be presented for Conference action on the second day immediately after the report of the Committee on Journal.

C. Election of Secretary. If a quorum be present, the Conference shall elect from the ministry or lay membership of The Methodist Church, on nomination from the floor, a Secretary, which election shall be by ballot if there be two or more nominees. Tenure of office, filling of vacancies, and election of Assistant Secretaries shall be as set forth in Section IV, Paragraphs 1, 2 and 3.

D. Committee Nominations and Elections. The Council of Bishops shall present nominations for the Administrative Committees, and such other nominations as are hereinafter committed to it, for election by the General Conference.

E. Miscellaneous Business.

F. Adjournment.

II. Episcopal Address

There shall be a session of the General Conference held at 8:00 P.M., on the opening day, for the purpose of hearing the Quadrennial Address of the Council of Bishops.

III. Presiding Officers

The Presiding Officers for the several sessions of the Conference, the opening session excepted (see Sec. 1), shall be chosen from among the effective Bishops in the following manner: The Council of Bishops shall at the opening session nominate for election by the Conference a Committee on Presiding Officers composed of one minister and one layman from each Jurisdiction, and one minister and one layman from among the delegates representing the Annual Conferences outside the United States. The Committee thus constituted shall select the Presiding Officer for each session of the Conference, notifying the Bishop of his selection at least 24 hours in advance, and in each instance report its selection to the Conference prior to adjournment of the session immediately preceding.

IV. Secretarial Staff

1. The Secretary of the General Conference elected as hereinbefore provided shall serve until the next General Conference is organized and a successor elected.

2. The Conference shall elect, upon the nomination of the Secretary, such Assistant Secretaries from the ministry or lay membership of The Methodist Church, as it may deem wise.

3. If in the interim of the quadrennial sessions of the General Conference the office of Secretary shall for any reason be vacated, the Council of Bishops shall elect a successor to serve until the next session.

V. Committees

The General Conference shall have the Standing Committees hereinafter indicated, with such functions, responsibilities, and limitations respectively as are hereinafter prescribed, and such Special Committees as it may order.

1. Administrative Committees

(1) Committee of Chairmen. The Chairmen of the several Legislative Committees, the Chairman of the Committee on Rules, and the Chairman of the Committee on Entertainment shall be constituted a Committee whose function it shall be to arrange for the presentation of Committee reports to the Conference in such order as to expedite the business.

(2) Correlation and Editorial Revision. There shall be a Committee of three known as a Committee on Correlation and Editorial Revision. This Committee shall be composed of three persons, not members of the General Conference, appointed by the Council of Bishops. They shall be entitled to travel expense and per diem allowance, the same as the delegates. The functions of this Committee shall be:

(a) To review all legislation enacted by the General Conference and to report promptly to the Legislative Committees concerned, or to the General Conference as the situation may warrant, any and all contradictions, duplications and inconsistencies discovered therein.

(b) To report to the Chairmen of the several Legislative Committees all changes it has made in the language of the reports adopted by the General Conference.

(3) Courtesies and Privileges. There shall be a Committee of fourteen, composed of one minister and one layman from each Jurisdiction and one minister and one layman from among the delegates representing Annual Conferences outside the United States, known as the Committee on Courtesies and Privileges, having the following duties and responsibilities:

a. To consider, as presented to it by members of the Conference, what said members regard as questions or matters of privilege, to decide whether they are such or not, and, if they are regarded as being such, to recommend to the Conference that they be heard.

(Note: Only questions or matters of privilege which are so urgent that they cannot wait for consideration by this Committee may be presented immediately to the Conference as provided in Rule 9, Page 16.)

b. To prepare with due regard for brevity, and present to the Conference for its action, such complimentary resolutions as occasion may demand.

c. To arrange for extending courtesies of the Conference to any to whom they may be due, fraternal delegates and official visitors excepted.

d. To arrange for a Memorial Service, at some time agreeable to the Conference, for deceased delegates-elect, for Bishops and General Officers of the Church who have died since the adjournment of the last preceding General Conference.

e. To limit its report, including the statements of the Chairman and the hearing of such persons as may be presented, to a maximum of twenty minutes in any one business session. No person or persons shall be presented after the sixth day unless approved by a 2/3 vote of the Conference.

(4) Credentials. There shall be a Committee of seven on Credentials. To this Committee the Chairman of the respective Annual Conference delegations shall report, on a form provided for that purpose, the names of absent delegates and of available reserve delegates to be substituted for said absentees. This Committee shall in turn report all such cases of absence to the Conference with recommendations as to the seating of reserves if such are available. No reserve delegates shall be seated except by action of the Conference and after a report has been made upon the case by this Committee; provided, that reserve delegates reported by the Chairmen of the respective Annual Conference delegations as substituted for absentees at the opening session shall be seated tentatively without the action of this Committee; provided, further, that such substitutions shall be reported to this Committee for review and report to the General Conference for its action.

All changes in the personnel of the seated delegates of the Annual Conference delegations shall be reported to this Committee on blanks provided by the Secretary of the Conference. Per diem allowances shall be paid on the basis of the report of this Committee.

(5) Fraternal Delegates. There shall be a committee of seven whose function it shall be to extend the courtesies of the Conference to the Fraternal Delegates and Official Visitors and present them to the General Conference at its pleasure. The terms "Fraternal Delegates" and "Official Visitors" shall be interpreted to include only persons who have been duly elected by the Christian Communions of which they are respectively members to represent the same before the General Conference, and who present the appropriate credentials of such elections. (The Committee on General Conference Entertainment shall arrange for the local entertainment of Fraternal Delegates.)

(6) General Conference Entertainment. There shall be a Committee on the Entertainment and Program of the General Conference composed of one minister and one layman from each Jurisdiction, who shall be nominated by the Council of Bishops and elected by the General Conference. The Secretary of the General Conference and the Treasurer of the General Administration Fund shall also be members ex officio without votes. This Committee shall determine the place and time (within such limits as may be set up by the General Conference) of the next General Conference and shall make all necessary arrangements in connection therewith including arrangements for the publication of a Book of Quadrennial Reports of the General Boards and other general agencies of the Church, the same to be published by The Methodist Publishing House. It shall organize before the adjournment of this General Conference and shall serve through the next session of the General Conference.

(7) Journal. There shall be a Committee of seven which shall daily examine the record of the Secretary, comparing it with the stenographic record, and report its findings to the Conference, recommending appropriate action. Any error subsequently discovered in a section of the Journal which has been approved shall be reported to the Conference for corrections.

(8) Presiding Officers. See Section III, Paragraph 1.

(9) Reference. There shall be a Committee of Reference composed of one ministerial and one lay representative from each Jurisdiction, at least two of whom shall be lawyers and one minister and one layman from Conferences outside the United States, to be appointed by the Council of Bishops from the regularly elected delegates to the ensuing General Conference at the winter meeting of the said Council of Bishops, preceding the session of the General Conference. Said Committee shall meet with the Secretary of the previous General Conference at the seat of the Conference on the Monday preceding the opening of said Conference. This Committee shall be convened by the Secretary of the General Conference. After ascertaining that the memorials, resolutions and similar communications dealing with the regular business of the Conference meet the requirements herein specified, this Committee shall refer the same to the appropriate Administrative or Legislative Committees. This Committee shall be responsible for such assignment of all memorials, which may be in the hands of the Secretary prior to the opening session, including the Episcopal Address, the Book of Printed Quadrennial Reports, and all other communications which shall come into his hands after the convening of the General Conference. The third day of the Conference shall be fixed as the deadline for the introduction of memorials and petitions.

The Committee of Reference may withdraw a paper after having assigned it to a Committee, either upon a request or upon its own motion. It may also withhold from reference or publication any document it shall deem improper, promptly advising the author, or authors, thereof of its action in order that an appeal may be made to the Conference if desired. The Committee shall publish as promptly as possible, in the Daily Advocate, lists of the communications it has referred to the several Standing Committees, identifying each by number, title, origin and destination. No memorial or petition shall be assigned by the Committee of Reference to any General Conference Committee unless it comes from some organization, minister, or member of The Methodist Church, and also contains information essential to the verification of the alleged facts concerning its origin.

All memorials should be presented in triplicate. Each should deal with only one general subject. Not more than one memorial should be presented on a single sheet of paper.

(10) Rules. There shall be a Committee of seven on Plan of Organization and Rules of Order. The Secretary of the Conference shall be an ex-officio member and one of the seven. To this Committee shall be referred any proposed amendments to the Plan of Organization and Rules of Order. To it may be referred any other matters relating to parliamentary order or procedure in the business of the General Conference.

The Committee shall study the Plan of Organization and Rules of Order, and, after making such modifications and adaptations therein as in its judgment are necessary, shall present them to the General Conference for its consideration and final action, the same to be published in the Journal of the General Conference.

The Plan of Organization and Rules of Order of the General Conference shall be the Plan of Organization and Rules of Order as published in the Journal of the preceding General Conference until they have been altered or modified by the action of the General Conference. (For this particular paragraph 3 of No. 10, Rules, see Par. 505, 1952 Discipline, of The Methodist Church.)

(11) Sifting Committee. There shall be a Committee of seven to whom shall be referred, without motion or debate, all questions, proposals, resolutions, communications, or other matters not included in the regular business of the General Conference, as set forth in this Plan of Organization. This Committee shall determine whether or not the matter presented shall be considered by the Conference. If matters of the nature above described shall be introduced in open Conference without having been approved by this Committee, the Presiding Officer shall, as soon as he shall have discovered the character of the same, refer all such matters to this Committee without reading, and the same shall not be publicized in the Daily Advocate unless and until they have been approved and presented to the Conference by the Sifting Committee; provided, however, that should the Sifting Committee determine that any matter referred to it should not be brought before the Conference for consideration, then if a petition signed by twenty, or more, members of the Conference shall be presented to the Conference requesting consideration, unless a two-thirds vote of the members of the Conference present and voting shall refuse consideration, the matter shall be referred by the Sifting Committee to a Standing Committee of its choice.

(12) Tellers. There shall be a Committee of sixty, to act as Tellers for the purpose of reporting on count votes and ballots ordered by the General Conference. The Tellers shall be divided into two groups of thirty each. Each group shall have Reserve Tellers in such number as the Council of Bishops may deem proper.

2. Legislative Committees

The General Conference shall have the following Standing Legislative Committees which shall consider proposals looking toward new legislation or changes in the present legislation of the Church and report recommendations relating thereto to the Conference. The term "legislative," however, as descriptive of the functions of these Committees, is not to be interpreted with absolute strictness, inasmuch as they may consider matters calculated to eventuate in the form of advices, resolutions, appeals, etc., as well as in legislation.

(1) Conferences. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to the General Jurisdictional, Central, Provisional Central, Annual, Provisional Annual, District, Quarterly, and Church Conferences, and Missions, and the organization of the local church.

(2) Education. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to the Board of Education and to the interests and activities which by the law of the Church are made the concern of this Board.

(3) Lay Activities. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating distinctly to Lay Activities and the Board of Lay Activities.

(4) Membership and Evangelism. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to Church membership, including conditions, duties, and transfer thereof; and all matters pertaining to Evangelism and to the devotional life and literature of the Church, made by the law of the Church the concern of the Board of Evangelism.

(5) Ministry. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to the ministry of the Church in all its forms, grades, and orders.

(6) Missions and Church Extension. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to the Board of Missions and Church Extension and to the interests and activities made by the law of the Church the concern of this Board.

(7) Pensions. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to the support of retired and supernumerary ministers, widows, and dependent children of deceased ministers, not including Bishops, and all matters relating to pensions of Lay Employees of Church Organizations, Boards, Agencies or institutions.

(8) Publishing Interests. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to the Board of Publication and to the interests and activities made by the law of the Church the concern of this Board.

(9) State of the Church. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to social service, labor, Sabbath observance, divorce, amusements, and those elements, factors, and aspects of the social and spiritual welfare of the Church not made the responsibility of any other Committee.

(10) Temperance and Prohibition. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to temperance and prohibition of the liquor traffic and all matters relating to the Board of Temperance and to the interests and activities made by the law of the Church the concern of this Board.

(11) Temporal Economy. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to trustees, properties, church finances (general and local), and to such activities of the Church at large in and through its institutions and Boards as are not made the specific responsibility of any other Committee.

(12) Hospitals and Homes. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to the Board of Hospitals and Homes, to the interests and activities which by the law of the Church are made the concern of this Board, and to all the eleemosynary work and responsibility of the Church not comprehended in the responsibility of any other Legislative Committee.

(13) Interdenominational Relations and Activities. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to interdenominational activities, relations, interest, and responsibilities of The Methodist Church, including the American Bible Society, and National Council of Churches of Christ in U.S.A., and the World Council of Churches.

(14) Judicial Administration. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to the formal disciplining, trial, and appeal of members and ministers of The Methodist Church and relating to the Judicial Council and the judicial procedure within the Church.

(15) Ritual and Orders of Worship. To this Committee shall be referred all memorials, petitions, resolutions, etc., relating to ritual and orders of worship.

(16) Enabling Acts and Legal Forms. There shall be a Committee of seven charged with the responsibility of preparing and presenting for adoption by the Conference such enabling acts and legal forms as may be needed in the continuing process of unifying the interests and agencies of the Church.

3. Membership of Committees

(1) Except as otherwise provided in the Plan of Organization, or ordered by the General Conference, the membership of all Committees shall be constituted by election of the Conference, on nomination of the Council of Bishops. In making nominations the Council of Bishops shall maintain as nearly as practicable and advisable an equal ratio of representation between ministerial and lay delegates on all Committees.

(2) Legislative Committees numbered 12 to 15, inclusive (Hospitals and Homes, Interdenominational Relations and Activities, Judicial Administration, and Ritual and Orders of Worship), shall each consist of two ministers and two laymen from each Jurisdiction, and one minister and one layman from the delegates representing Annual Conferences outside the United States.

(3) Each delegate shall serve as a member of one of the Legislative Committees numbered 1 to 11. Within the Delegation each member shall choose from the Legislative Committees 1 to 11 the Committee on which he shall serve, the choice being made in order of election. (See note *.) The layman first elected shall be entitled to the first choice, the minister first elected to the second choice, and thus the right of choice shall continue to alternate between lay and ministerial delegates in the order of their election; provided, that two members of a delegation may not serve on any one of the above designated Legislative Committees 1 to 11, unless the said delegation is represented on each of them. All delegations composed of twelve or more members shall assign all members in excess of eleven according to this same principle of distribution. (For example, a Conference with sixteen delegates shall have two members on each of any five of these eleven Committees, and one on each of the remaining six. Each delegate may, in the order of his turn to choose, select any one of these eleven Committees, provided that the foregoing division of delegates among the Committees is maintained.) If a matter is under consideration in any Legislative Committee which in the judgment of any Annual Conference delegation vitally affects the interests of its constituency, and if the said Annual Conference is not represented in the membership of said Committee, then the said delegation may choose one of its number to represent its Annual Conference in the Committee when the matter judged to be vital to the interests of its constituency is under consideration. Such a person shall be entitled to sit with the Committee while this particular matter is being considered. He shall be entitled to the floor, subject to such limitations as are imposed on the regular members of said Committee, but he shall not be entitled to vote.

4. Meetings of Committees

(1) For Organization. The Legislative Committees shall meet for organization on the afternoon of the first day of the General Conference sessions. Those numbered 12 to 16, inclusive, at 2:30 o'clock, and those numbered 1 to 11, inclusive, at 3:30. A Bishop appointed by the Council of Bishops and an Assistant Secretary appointed by the Secretary of the General Conference shall serve, respectively, as Chairman and Secretary to effect an organization in each of the several Committees.

- a. The first named on each of the other Committees shall act as Convener, calling a meeting for organization at the earliest practicable date.
- b. The election of Chairman, Vice-Chairman, and Secretary of each Committee, both Administrative and Legislative, shall be by ballot.

"Your Committee recommends that the first choice on Committees should alternate from quadrennium to quadrennium between the ministerial and lay delegates." This would mean that the laymen had first choice on Legislative Committees in 1944. In 1948 the minister first elected the first choice of Legislative Committees. In 1952 the laymen first elected will have first choice of the Legislative Committees.

- c. The Assistant Secretary appointed for the organization of each Legislative Committee shall report in writing to the Secretary of the Conference at the earliest possible date the officers elected. In the case of all other Committees the Secretary elected shall make such report immediately to the Secretary of the Conference.

(2) Regular Meetings. The Legislative Committees 1 to 11, inclusive, shall meet each weekday at 2:30 P.M., unless otherwise ordered by the Conference, until their work is completed.

Legislative Committees 12 to 16, inclusive, shall meet each weekday at 7:30 P.M., or such other times as they may themselves respectively determine until their work is completed.

(3) Quorum for Committee Meetings. A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business in all Committees.

5. Function and Authority of Committees

The Administrative Committees, without specific instruction or direction from the Conference, shall assume responsibility for considering and reporting to the Conference upon (if it seems wise to do so) all matters which would logically fall within their respective purviews as these are indicated hereinbefore. The Legislative Committees may not originate business, but shall consider and report only upon that which is referred to them directly by the Conference or through the Committee of Reference, the Sifting Committee, or the Committee of Chairmen.

VI. Proposal to Establish New Board, Commission, or Committee

When any proposal is submitted to the General Conference to establish an interim or continuing Board, Commission, or Committee, before final action is taken by the General Conference establishing such Board, Commission, or Committee, said proposal shall be referred automatically to the General Commission on World Service and Finance, or its Executive Committee, with the request that it bring to the General Conference an estimated budget of the expense of operation of the proposed Board, Commission, or Committee for the next quadrennium and a statement of how the adoption of such proposal will effect the budget or budgets for the existing Boards, Commissions, or Committees as already presented by the General Commission on World Service and Finance.

VII. Delegates' Expense Account

1. The report of the Committee on Credentials shall be the basis for settlement with principal and reserve delegates for their per diem allowance.

2. The total traveling expense shall be payable to the principal delegate if he be present and seated. If during the session of the Conference a reserve delegate is seated in his place, he shall adjust the travel expense with such reserve on the basis of the time served by each.

3. Travel expense for delegates to the Conference shall be on the basis of railroad fare by the most direct route (clergy fare for ministers) lower berth or roomette (Pullman) and meals en route. Overseas delegates will be allowed the equivalent of second class ship fare for that portion of their trip which is by water. When two or more delegates come in one automobile the owner shall be allowed 6 cents per mile for his car plus the cost of room and meals en route. Guest passengers who are members of the General Conference shall submit only the cost of room and meals en route. In all cases delegates shall report only the actual cost of travel.

B. RULES OF ORDER

I. Daily Schedule

Rule 1. The following shall be the daily order for the General Conference, Sundays excepted:

- (1) 8:30 A.M. to 9 A.M.—Devotional Service under the direction of the Council of Bishops.
- (2) 9 A.M. to 12:30 P.M.—Conference business with recess for ten minutes at 10:30.
- (3) 2:30 P.M. to 5 P.M.—Committee meetings.
- (4) 7:30 P.M.—Committee meetings.

Rule 2. After devotional service the daily sessions of the Conference shall be conducted as follows:

- (1) Report of Committee on Journal of the previous meeting or meetings.
- (2) Report of Committee on Courtesies and Privileges.
- (3) Reports of other Administrative and Special Committees.
- (4) Calendar.
- (5) Miscellaneous business.

II. Presiding Officers

Rule 3. The Bishop presiding shall be the legal Chairman of the General Conference. He shall decide points of order raised by the members and shall rule on points of order not raised by the members, as he deems necessary to conform to these Rules of Order; subject, in both cases, to an appeal to the Conference by any member without debate; except that the Chairman and the Appellant, in the order here named, shall each have five minutes for a statement in support of their respective positions. A tie vote in the case of appeal shall sustain the Chair. When any member raises a point of order he shall cite, by number, the Rule he adjudges to have been violated.

Rule 4. When the Chairman stands in his place and calls the Conference to order, no member shall speak, address the Chair, or stand, while the Chairman stands.

III. Rights and Duties of Members

Rule 5. ATTENDANCE AND SEATING RESERVES

No member, unless hindered by sickness or otherwise from being present, shall absent himself from the sessions of the Conference without permission of the Conference, and all absentees shall be reported by the Chairman of the several Annual Conference delegations to the Committee on Credentials on a form provided for this purpose. No reserve delegate shall have the privilege of membership until the substitution has been approved by the Conference, except at the first session of the Conference, as provided in the Plan of Organization, Division I, Section A, Subsection 2b.

Rule 6. DIRECTIONS FOR "SECURING THE FLOOR"

When a delegate desires to speak to the Conference, he shall arise at his assigned seat, respectfully address the Presiding Officer, using the term "Mr. Chairman," and after recognition, proceed to the speaker's platform, where, before speaking, he shall give the Chairman, in writing, his name and that of the Annual Conference which he represents; which, in turn, the Chairman shall then announce to the Conference.

If by reason of the intended brevity of his remarks he speaks from one of the microphones in the aisles of the assembly hall, he shall first announce his name and the name of the Annual Conference which he represents, which in turn, the Chairman shall then announce to the Conference.

Rule 7. INTERRUPTING THE SPEAKER

No member who has the floor may be interrupted except for a breach of order, or a misrepresentation, or to direct the attention of the Conference to the fact that the time has arrived for a special order, or to raise a very urgent question of high privilege.

Rule 8. SPEAKING MORE THAN ONCE; LENGTH OF SPEECH

No member shall speak a second time on the same question if any member who has not spoken desires the floor, nor more than twice on the same subject under the same motion, nor longer than ten minutes unless his time shall be extended by the Conference, except as provided in Rule 36. This ten-minute limit may be reduced by a majority vote of the Conference at any time, and for any period of duration.

Rule 9. QUESTION OF HIGH PRIVILEGE

A member claiming the floor at any time for what he believes is a very urgent question of high privilege, shall be allowed to indicate briefly the nature of the question, and if it be adjudged by the Chair to be such, he may proceed at his pleasure or until the Chairman judges that he has exhausted his privilege. (See Plan of Organization, Page 5, Division V, Section 1, Sub-section 3a.)

Rule 10. VOTING AREA OF CONFERENCE

Only delegates within the area of the Conference when the vote is taken shall be entitled to vote. All delegates within the area at the time a question is put, shall vote, except such as shall have been excused for special reasons by the Conference.

Rule 11. VOTING PROCEDURE

Voting shall be by a show of hands unless otherwise ordered by the Conference. An "aye" and "no" vote, if taken, shall be by signed ballot. A count vote may be ordered on call of any member supported by one-third of the members present and voting, in which case the delegates shall rise from their seats and stand until counted.

No other business shall be in order when a vote is being taken or when the previous question has been called, until the process is completed, except such as relates to the vote itself, or that which can be appropriately fitted into the time while waiting for the report of the Secretaries on a count vote, or an "aye" and "no" vote. The count shall be made by members seated next to the aisles, who shall be designated by the Secretary of the General Conference, and whose names shall be printed in the Daily Advocate.

Rule 12. DIVISION OF QUESTION

Before a vote is taken any delegate shall have the right to call for a division of any question, if it is subject to such division as he indicates. If no delegate objects, the division shall be made, but if there is objection the Chair shall put the question of division to vote, not waiting for a second.

Rule 13. VOTE BY ORDERS

The ministerial and lay delegates shall deliberate as one body; but upon a call, by motion of any delegate, seconded by another delegate of the same order and supported by one-third of the members of that order voting, the ministerial and lay delegates shall vote separately. But when the Conference votes by orders no measure shall be passed without the concurrence of a majority of both classes of delegates. In cases of such a vote the order calling for it shall vote first; provided, however, that the Conference may not vote by orders on a proposed amendment to the Constitution. (Discipline 1948, Paragraph 10, Item 2.)

IV. Business Procedure

Rule 14. MOTION FOR ADOPTION OF REPORTS AND RESOLUTIONS UNNECESSARY

Whenever a report of a Committee signed by the Chairman and Secretary thereof, or a resolution signed by two or more members of the Conference, shall be presented to the Conference for its action, it shall be deemed in proper order for consideration by the Conference without the formality of a motion to adopt and a second thereto.

Rule 15. REQUIRED FORMS FOR REPORTS, RESOLUTIONS, MOTIONS

All resolutions and Committee reports shall be presented in triplicate; and, when requested by the Secretary, motions, including amendments, shall be presented in writing.

Rule 16. READING OF REPORTS AND RESOLUTIONS

All resolutions, Committee reports, and communications to the Conference shall be read by the Secretary except as otherwise provided in Rule 33.

Rule 17. ALTERATIONS OF MOTIONS, ETC.

When a motion is made and seconded, or a resolution is introduced and seconded, or a Committee Report is read, or is published in the Daily Advocate, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the Conference, and may not be altered except by action of the Conference. (See Rule 32.)

Rule 18. UNDEBATABLE MOTIONS

The following motions shall be acted upon without debate:

- (1) To adjourn, when unqualified, except to adjourn the Conference finally.
- (2) To suspend the rules.
- (3) To lay on the table, except as provided in Rule 36, Page 25.
- (4) To take from the table.
- (5) To call for the previous question.
- (6) To reconsider a non-debatable motion.
- (7) To limit or extend the limits of debate.
- (8) To call for the orders of the day.

Rule 19. RIGHTS OF "THE MAIN QUESTION"

The main question may be opened to debate under the following motions: To adopt, to commit, to substitute, to postpone, and to reconsider. No new motion, resolution, or subject shall be entertained until the one under consideration shall have been disposed of except as provided in Rule 11. The foregoing does not apply to secondary motions if otherwise allowable in the existing parliamentary situation.

Rule 20. PRECEDENCE OF SECONDARY MOTIONS

If any one or more of the following motions shall be made when one or more other motions are pending the order of their precedence in relation to one another shall be the same as the order of their listing below:

- (1) To fix the time to which the Conference shall adjourn. (This motion is subject to amendment, or it may be laid on the table.)
- (2) To adjourn.
- (3) To take recess.
- (4) To order the previous question.
- (5) To lay on the table.
- (6) To limit or extend the limits of debate.
- (7) To postpone to a given time.
- (8) To refer.
- (9) To amend or to substitute (one amendment being allowed to an amendment).
- (10) To postpone indefinitely.

Rule 21. TABLING RELATED MOTIONS

No motion which adheres to another motion, or has another motion adhering to it, can be laid on the table by itself. Such motions, if laid on the table, carry with them the motions to which they respectively adhere, or which adhere to them.

Rule 22. REFERRING REPORTS, ETC.

It shall be in order for the Conference to refer to a Committee a section or part of a report or resolution which is before the Conference for consideration, or any amendment offered thereto.

Rule 23. PROCEDURE FOR CONSIDERATION OF SUBSTITUTES

When a resolution or Committee report is properly before the Conference for consideration and action (even if amendments thereto are pending), a substitute therefor may be offered by any member moving that the same be substituted for the resolution or report under consideration. The motion to substitute may not be considered or put, however, until the original report or resolution is perfected, including consideration of and action on any amendments to it which may have been offered. The Conference may terminate this perfecting process by ordering the previous question on the motion to adopt the report or resolution. If this be done, the vote shall immediately be taken on any amendments to the report or resolution then pending, but the vote shall not be taken on the adoption of the report or resolution or on making the substitution until the substitute is also perfected. The main question, or report, or resolution, having been perfected, the substitute shall be considered, which consideration may be terminated at any time by ordering the previous question, in which case, after action on any amendments to the substitute then pending, the vote shall be taken on the motion to substitute. After this, without further debate or amendment the vote shall be taken on the motion to adopt, if the previous question thereon was ordered as above indicated as being allowable, or if it was ordered later. In the course of the foregoing perfecting process in the case of either the main question or the substitute, or both, the time to be consumed in presenting, considering and acting on amendments may be limited by action of the Conference. If this be done, the previous question may not be put on the adoption of the report or resolution, or on making the proposed substitution until two members (including the Chairman of Committee presenting the report and the member presenting the substitute, if the pending question is the adoption of a report of a Committee) shall have spoken on each side of the proposal to substitute or adopt, as the case may be, after the motions to amend, if there be any, have been acted upon, if there be those who desire so to speak.

Rule 24. PREVIOUS QUESTION. (SEE RULES 18-5, 23, 25, 36.)

When any member moves the previous question (that is, that the vote be now taken on the motion or motions pending), he shall indicate to what he intends it to apply, if any secondary motion or motions are also pending. If he does not so indicate, it shall be regarded as applying only to the immediately pending question. This motion shall be taken without debate, and shall require a two-thirds vote of those present and voting for its adoption, and if adopted the vote shall be taken on the motion or motions to which it applies without further debate except as provided in Rule 34.

Rule 25. UNLAWFUL MOTION AFTER SPEECH

It shall not be in order for a member immediately after discussing a pending question, and before relinquishing the floor, to make a motion whose adoption would limit or stop debate.

Rule 26. EXCEPTIONS TO MAJORITY VOTE

A majority of those voting, a quorum being present, shall decide all questions with the following exceptions:

- (1) One-third of those present and voting shall suffice to sustain a call for a count vote in case the decision of the Chair is doubted. See Rule 11. A tie vote sustains the Chair, Rule 3.
- (2) A call for a vote by orders shall prevail if sustained by one-third of the members of the order from which the call came, present and voting. (See Rule 13.)
- (3) A two-thirds vote shall be required to sustain a motion to suspend (See Rule 38) or amend (See Rule 39) the rules; to sustain a motion for the previous question (See Rule 24); to set aside a special order; to consider a special order before the time set therefor, or any motion whose adoption would limit debate.
- (4) A two-thirds vote shall be required to approve a proposal for a Constitutional amendment. (See Par. 10, 1948 Discipline.)

Rule 27. RECONSIDERATION

A motion to reconsider an action of the Conference shall be in order at any time if offered by a member who voted with the prevailing side. If the motion it is proposed to reconsider is non-debatable, the motion to reconsider may not be debated.

Rule 28. CALENDAR

REGULAR; NON-CONCURRENT

The Secretary shall keep a chronological record of Orders of the Day and of reports of Committees (See Rule 31 and this record shall be called the Calendar, and the matters of business placed on it shall be considered in order, unless by a two-thirds vote of the Conference an item is taken up out of its order.

Legislative Committee reports recommending Non-concurrence shall be kept upon a separate Calendar to be taken up when the regular Calendar is exhausted or at the pleasure of the Conference, except when a minority presents a report recommending concurrence, in which case both shall be included in the regular Calendar.

Rule 29. MOTION TO ADJOURN IN ORDER EXCEPT—

The motion to adjourn, when unqualified, shall be taken without debate, and shall always be in order, except

- (1) When a delegate has the floor.
- (2) When a question is actually put, or a vote is being taken, and before it is finally decided.
- (3) When the previous question has been ordered and action thereunder is pending.
- (4) When a motion to adjourn has been lost, and no business or debate has intervened.
- (5) When the motion to fix the time to which the Conference shall adjourn is pending.

The foregoing does not apply to a motion for final adjournment of the Conference.

V. Committees

Rule 30. DUTIES AND PREROGATIVES OF COMMITTEES

When a memorial or resolution or any similar item is referred to one of the several Legislative Committees, it shall be understood that the whole question with which the paper has to do is referred to that Committee for such action as it may deem wise. Committees shall report to the Conference upon all matters referred to them by the Conference directly or through the Committee of Reference. Committee reports on resolutions, memorials, petitions, etc., shall cite the same, identifying them by the numbers they bear respectively, in the published reports of the Committee of Reference, or in some other suitable manner.

When a Committee ascertains that another Committee is or should, in its judgment, be considering a subject which the former is considering, it shall report the matter to the Committee on Correlation and Editorial Revision for such adjustments as the situation may require.

Rule 31. LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEES REPORT TO SECRETARY

At the close of each day's meeting the Chairmen and Secretaries of the several Legislative Committees shall provide the Secretary of the Conference with copies in triplicate of all reports adopted by their respective Committees for presentation to the Conference. The Secretary shall enter said reports on the Calendar in the order in which they reach him and shall furnish the editor of the Daily Advocate with one copy of each of the said reports for publication in the next day's issue. Reports from Committees (and minority reports) recommending proposed changes in the Discipline shall give Chapter, Section, and Paragraph to be affected.

"They shall quote the language of the part it is proposed to change, underscoring it, and then state the language as it will appear if adopted with the new part only in CAPITALS. The Daily Advocate shall follow the same rule in printing such reports except that it may substitute italics for UNDERSCORING and Heavy Black-Faced Type for CAPITALS."

Rule 32. PUBLISHED REPORTS IN POSSESSION OF CONFERENCE

A report of any Committee signed by the Chairman and Secretary thereof and printed in the Daily Advocate shall be regarded as in the possession of the Conference and on the day following its first appearance in the Daily Advocate, or any time thereafter, in order for its consideration at the pleasure of the Conference. The same rule shall apply to a report of a minority of any Committee signed by one-tenth of the members of the Committee or by ten members thereof. (See Rule 17.)

Rule 33. PREPARATION AND PRINTING OF REPORTS

All Committee reports shall be presented to the Secretary of the Conference in triplicate on paper provided therefor, and bearing at the top the name of the Committee, its total membership, the number present at the time the report was adopted, the number voting for and the number voting against the report respectively, and the number not voting. Reports of the Legislative Committees shall be printed in the Daily Advocate at least one day before being presented for consideration by the Conference and they shall not be read unless by its order.

Reports of minorities of Committees adopted by them with a view to their being offered as substitutes for Committee reports shall likewise conform to this Rule so far as it is applicable, indicating clearly to what Committee the respective minorities belong and for what reports by serial numbers, etc., they propose the respective substitutes.

Rule 34. COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN NOT IN HARMONY WITH REPORT

When the Chairman of a Committee is not in harmony with a report adopted by the Committee, it shall be his duty to state the fact to the Committee, which shall elect one of its members to represent it in the presentation and discussion of the report in the Conference; but if, in such a case, the Committee shall fail to select a representative, the Chairman shall designate a member to represent the Committee, and said representative shall have all the rights and privileges of the Chairman in relation to such report.

Rule 35. PRESENTATION OF REPORT OF MINORITY

A member selected by the signers of a report of a minority of a Committee to present the same, shall have the same rights and privileges in relation thereto which belong to the Chairman in the presentation of the regular (majority) report of the Committee, except that he may not present said minority report until the majority report has been presented, and shall then offer it as a substitute therefor, and except, further, that in closing the debate on the question of making the substitution the member presenting the minority report shall speak first and the Chairman last. (See Rule 23.)

Rule 36. SPEAKERS FOR AND AGAINST

When the report of a Committee is under consideration, it shall be the duty of the Presiding Officer to ascertain, when he recognizes a member of the Conference, on which side he proposes to speak, and he shall not assign the floor to any member proposing to speak on the same side of the pending question as the speaker immediately preceding if any member desires to speak on the other side thereof.

Except for undebatable motions, no report shall be adopted or question relating to the same decided without opportunity having been given for at least one speech for and one against the said proposal; provided this right is claimed before the Chairman, or duly authorized member representing the Committee's report or the minority report, if there be such, is presented to close the debate.

When all have spoken who desire to do so, or when (and after) the previous question has been ordered, the Chairman or/and duly authorized member or members presenting the Committee's report (and the minority report if there be one) shall be entitled to speak before the vote is taken.

This right of the Chairman and/or other member or members to close the debate shall prevail in like manner, to a limit of five minutes, when a vote is about to be taken on a motion to amend, to substitute, to postpone, to refer, or to lay on the table or any other motion whose adoption would vitally affect the report under consideration; provided that this five minutes limit shall not apply to a motion to substitute a minority report for a regular (majority) report of a Committee.

Rule 37. LEGAL ENACTMENT

All actions of this General Conference of The Methodist Church shall become effective upon the final adjournment of the present session (1952) of the General Conference of The Methodist Church, unless otherwise specified.

VI. Suspending, Amending, and Supplementing

Rule 38. SUSPENSION OF RULES

The operation of any of the provisions of this Plan of Organization or of these Rules of Order may be suspended at any time by a two-thirds vote of the Conference. Rule 26 (3).

Rule 39. AMENDING RULES

This Plan of Organization and these Rules of Order may be amended or changed by a two-thirds vote of the Conference; provided the proposed change or amendment has been presented to the Conference in writing and referred to the Committee on Rules, which Committee shall report thereon not later than the day following. Rule 26 (3).

Rule 40. ROBERT'S RULES OF ORDER REVISED, SUPPLEMENTAL AUTHORITY

In any parliamentary situation not clearly covered by this Plan of Organization or these Rules of Order, the General Conference shall be governed in its action by Robert's Rules of Order Revised.

THE EPISCOPAL ADDRESS OF THE BISHOPS
OF
TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE
1952

The presentation of an Episcopal Address on the opening day of the General Conference is a custom which has behind it a history of nearly a century and a half. It is a review of the life and thought of the Church and its responsibility in contemporaneous life. The address is written by a Bishop chosen by ballot by his colleagues. The contents are carefully and critically reviewed by the entire Council of Bishops and are finally presented to the Church bearing the signatures of all the Bishops of The Methodist Church.

The Episcopal Address was read by Bishop Paul B. Kern, Wednesday night, April 23, 1952. See JOURNAL, page 237.

DEARLY BELOVED IN CHRIST:

Pursuant to the custom of the Church, inaugurated by the first delegated General Conference of American Methodism in 1812, the Bishops herewith respectfully present their quadrennial message on the state of the Church. We bear grateful testimony concerning the spirit of comradeship and harmony which has characterized the Council since union was consummated. The names of each and all of the Bishops are affixed to this address because it sets forth the ideals and objectives which we cherish and under which we labor. It could hardly be expected that so large a company of men could be in agreement in every detail of one address covering so wide a range of subjects. Into this address are written, however, our deep convictions, and in its basic ideals and recommendations we are of one mind.

There should be no misunderstanding of the point of view from which the Council speaks. We represent the Church as a whole. The Methodist Church is more than an American church. Its work extends into more than fifty countries, and the churches within the territory of our Central Conferences are not mere appendages or colonies of the Church in the United States but are integral parts of the whole, with all the rights and dignities which belong to those in any part of the world. Nevertheless, because of the preponderance in the number of members in the United States of America and the personnel of this delegated General Conference it is inevitable that a larger amount of space and emphasis should here be given to general American conditions and needs, leaving the Jurisdictional and the Central Conferences to consider and deal with their varied local and national problems.

May grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit rest upon us as with humbled hearts and dedicated wills we seek to discover what God would say today to the Church we love.

IN MEMORIAM

Let us pause to remember, in everlasting gratitude, those who in our Church Universal, the Methodism of all lands, have passed through the portals of death into "the home not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." For all the saints who from their labors rest we give thanks to God. Some of them have quietly fallen asleep within the love and security of their earthly homes; others have died in loneliness behind hostile barriers of hate, and still others have chosen to die rather than deny their faith and have thus shared with their crucified Lord the public humiliation of the Cross. The testimony of their martyrdom, written in blood, takes its place upon the crimson pages of the Church's eternal and indestructible witness.

Death, during this quadrennium, has robbed our own fellowship of some of our dearest and most trusted leaders. We have labored by their side, felt the uplift of their faith, joined hands in a common, world-wide task, and today, saddened in heart because of our earthly loss, we yet rejoice that they stand in the presence of their Lord and share the Kingdom of His glory.

THE WORLD WE LIVE IN

The Church stands today between an old world that is dying and a new world struggling to be born. We may with calmness and yet deep concern look out upon this civilization of which we are a part and seek better to understand it in order that we may better serve it. The maladies which afflict it grow out of its strength rather than its weakness. Because our world was rich and proud and felt strong, we thought it was healthy. Because it controlled power, and had behind it industrial resources, military might, and the atom bomb, we thought it was safe. But we have discovered that we cannot advance much further materially until we discover new spiritual resources. "Man is mounted on a bigger horse than he can ride." World order and peace and security rest upon moral principles. Democratic government, in fact self-government of any kind, is a moral adventure. Without self-restraint and inner discipline it lacks authority and is on its way toward collapse. What we witness is the exaltation of power politics and the frantic substitution of military expediency for those far-sighted and enduring attitudes and relationships out of which arise international understandings and the prospect of a world of peace.

The picture is no brighter in domestic life. We stand shocked and amazed at the revelations of immorality, greed, and dishonor in our world. We ask, with a famous newspaper editor: "Why has moral deterioration set in among us that brings corruption, loose behaviour, dulled principles, subverted morals, easy expediences, sharp practices?" The answer ought not to be far to seek. The crumbling of our ethical standards goes back to our rejection of the authority of God, our refusal of the disciplines of a righteous society, and our unabashed faith in a secularist philosophy of life. We cannot sow the wind without reaping the whirlwind. In many high and influential circles, in education, in politics, in business, we have paid lip service to Christian principles but have carried on our enterprises without recognizing the supremacy of the moral law and the higher authority of the Christian ethic. God's judgment rests upon us today and the only way by which we may escape is by a resolute seeking of His will and an humbled obedience to His law. If the Church is spiritually alert she may lead our world into a new kingdom of clean living, disciplined rectitude, and selfless service.

" 'Tis time
New hopes should animate the world, new light
Should dawn from new revealings to a race Weighed down so long."

In the face of this picture of the shortcomings of our present generation we must not yield to the complacency of dark despair or to the treachery of an easy optimism. This is not the first time our world has stumbled in the dark. Hysteria will rob us of moral perspective and political wisdom. We must never forget that our very awareness of widespread moral defection is an indication of a vast reservoir of righteous indignation within our people. Across this earth there are many millions of good people who still believe in God, in honor, in decency, in brotherhood, and in peace. The healing forces of the universe are greater than the forces of disease and death. We shall not undo our history or retrieve our mistakes by one masterful strategic blow. We must guard against impatience in seeking a sound solution to the world's present plight. God works slowly but He never quits. His purpose, made vibrant and available in Christ, is firm and unyielding. Every evil is by its nature transitory; every good is of its essence eternal. If we, in calmness and confidence, shall yield ourselves and the nation we love to the sway of His unfolding will, we shall yet see a spiritual rebirth from which shall spring an ordered and just society. The instrumentality for which God waits is an awakened Church, touched with fearless prophetic fervor and filled with the power of the Holy Spirit. May Methodism find its place in this divine drama of a new world order.

THE BRIGHTER SIDE

Let us pause to look for a moment at the more hopeful aspects of American life. There is something to thank God for upon every remembrance of our country. We stand today in a position of unparalleled power in world affairs. With this power goes tremendous moral responsibility for the welfare of mankind. The issue of peace or war rests largely upon the people of the United States who have chosen to defend the Republic of Korea, through the United Nations, from the aggression of a Communist invasion. It has been a costly and sacrificial price to pay for a safer world in the Far East. The issues are confused but the peril was clear, and we pay in reverence our tribute to those who, in mortal combat, have given their all that freedom might not perish from the earth. The willingness to assume so large a share of this burden of tragedy, both at home and abroad, is the pledge to free men everywhere that the only war we seek is a relentless struggle against despotism, poverty, and human bondage.

Bitter are the memories of Pearl Harbor, of Corregidor, and the Coral Sea. The flaming war from the jungles of Burma to the shores of Lingayen Gulf found us ready and cold as steel in the face of aggression. Who then could ever have believed we would write a treaty with Japan and leave out of it vengeance and write into it mercy and hope and compassion? Former treaties have been the seed plots of future wars. It may be we have found a new and better way to prevent war and build peace. Let us be thankful that this country has had the courage and the faith to venture on these untried paths of reconciliation.

There are other touches of light on the horizon. Who shall tell the tale of the hungry who have been fed, the naked who have been clothed, the displaced who have been rescued, the friendless who have been befriended around the world because Americans believe in sharing? Our own Overseas Relief has poured over eleven million dollars into the distressed areas of the world; CARE has sent its packages across the earth like a beneficent shower of blessing upon a parched and hungry land. Through the United Nations last year we made 28 millions of dollars available for technical assistance and upward of 100 million through "Point Four" programs in 57 countries administered by 1,000 technical experts recruited from 37 countries. Never in history has any nation shown such concern for dispossessed and retarded peoples in lands other than their own. When you grow disheartened over your native land, think on these things.

"This is my song, O God of all the nations,
A song of peace for lands afar and mine;
This is my home, the country where my heart is;
This is my hope, my dream, my faith, my shrine.
But other hearts in other lands are beating
With hopes and dreams and faith the same as mine."

WHAT METHODISTS BELIEVE

The beliefs of Methodism arise out of the experience of Methodists. Our Societies began as a passionate protest against the spiritual deadness which characterized English life in the eighteenth century. John Wesley was a rebel against the established order of religion. He was not concerned to exploit any unique view of Scripture or exalt any form of Church organization. He freed himself from the stifling atmosphere of a Church whose chief concern was more for intellectual regularity and liturgical correctness than it was for the good news in Christ and the heart hunger of a multitude that knew not God.

But Methodism is not indifferent to the intellectual basis of the faith it proclaims. There are great Christian doctrines which we most surely hold and most firmly believe. Our religious belief is not some weird individualistic interpretation of divine truth, nor is it some mandate from a so-called infallible hierarchy which must be believed upon peril of our very souls. It rests rather upon the revealed Word of God perceived and attested by the enlightened conscience of man. It grows up out of life and the character of the God in whom we believe. The final test of validity is not in the forums of theological discussion but in the hot arenas of life where men strive and stumble and sin only to rise again and yield themselves to the arms of an ever-loving and forgiving God.

The verities we hold are shared by the main body of Protestant believers. It is our glory that we are in the central stream of Christian thought throughout the world. This but reinforces the validity of our faith and emphasizes the broad acceptability of our confession. The past quadrennium has seen a helpful emphasis upon our faith, and it is therefore appropriate that we should attempt to state succinctly but clearly the main elements in what Methodists believe.

1. We believe in God. God is the creative and sustaining Power who works in and through all existing life. God is a Person. His personality transcends our limited human personalities but we are made in His spiritual likeness. He knows each of us and we can have personal and conscious fellowship with Him. God is love. He loves every creature whom He has made and yearns for his salvation and perfection. Not only is His love self-giving but He craves our love in response. There is no conflict between the justice of God and the mercy of God; both spring out of His infinite love for His children.

2. We believe in Jesus Christ. Jesus is the Son of God, the eternal divine Word made flesh and dwelling among men. In His sinless life He revealed the nature of His Father and our Father. His infinite wisdom is our guide. His sacrifice upon the cross is our redemption, and His resurrection from the dead is our pledge of eternal life. He lives today, unseen though ever present, and in the acceptance of Him as Saviour and as Lord lies humanity's hope for the present and for the future.

3. We believe in the Holy Spirit. God manifests Himself upon the scene of our daily living as the Lord and Giver of life: interpreting the divine will to our human hearts, comforting us in our sore bereavements, awakening within us a hunger for the eternal, quickening our souls to repentance for sin, witnessing with our spirits that we are the children of God. The nature of the Holy Spirit often lies beyond the limits of our knowledge and understanding, but the glorious fact of His presence in our minds and hearts is the central certainty of our Christian experience.

4. We believe in the Bible. The Scriptures are the record of God's progressive revelation of Himself through inspired men, and the story of His righteous purpose in history to bring mankind to final perfection in Christ. The Bible contains all that God requires for salvation and is the sufficient rule of both faith and conduct. It has withstood all efforts to destroy it; it has survived the scientific study of its pages, and by its enduring truth it has confounded its critics and stands today more historically credible and more spiritually indispensable than ever before. It is God's eternal Word to every generation.

5. We believe in man. We hold as central the dignity and sacredness of every human personality. Man is made in the spiritual image of God and partakes of His character and fellowship. He is greater than the world through which God produces and sustains His life. The Scriptures remind us that man is a sinner and has fallen short of the glory of God. He may, however, through grace, rise above his sin and the circumstances which surround him. His glory is in his humanity and not his race or color. Endowed with freedom of choice, he may descend to the lowest hell or rise to the highest heaven. In him as a person all the moral ends of the universe and all the movement of God's eternal purpose find meaning and value.

6. We believe in salvation from sin. This experience comes through faith in Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord. The act involves penitence for past sins and the acceptance of His mercy and forgiveness. Salvation comes not by our own striving or any achievement of merit. It is the free gift of God's grace who "shows his love for us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us." Thus God takes away our sins, restores His image in our hearts, and grants to us a new birth, another chance, through the unmerited love of His Son and our Saviour, Jesus Christ.

7. We believe in Christian experience. It is the privilege of every redeemed soul to know his sins are forgiven and to be assured, through the co-operating witness of the Holy Spirit with his spirit, that he is a child of God. Reason, like the Law, may be the schoolmaster leading us to Christ. Yet our deepest assurance is not the result of reason but of repentance and faith. Our faith is often and unashamedly suffused with intense feeling. Yet our assurance arises not out of emotion but out of the radiant certainty of an indwelling Christ, whose mercy has cleansed us, whose love has saved us, and whose presence within our hearts has given us power and victory. The experience of the whole man, evaluating Scripture, tradition, and reason, through the vital action of the Holy Spirit, becomes the ultimate authority in religious certainty.

8. We believe in Christian perfection. God's grace is manifested not only in the forgiveness of our sins but is also creatively redemptive, the power that works in us to make us perfect in love. Nothing short of perfection, Christlikeness in thought, word, and deed, can measure God's loving purpose for us. It is our faith that the fundamental change wrought in the individual by regeneration is a dynamic process which by growth in grace moves toward "mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ." We may quench the Spirit and fall from grace but our divine destiny is perfect love and holiness in this life.

9. We believe in the Church. The Church is not essentially a human institution but is the community of believers of which Jesus Christ is Lord and in which He works by his Holy Spirit. It is the gift of God for the salvation of the world through the proclamation of the evangel of good news to all men. It asserts the claim of Christ as the incarnate Word of God to the lordship of all human life. It is universal in nature, standing greater than any group claiming exclusively to represent it, and above every nation and culture in which it finds its home. Belonging to all the ages, it defies the passing of the centuries and embraces within its visible and invisible membership both the living and the dead. Though composed of both human and divine elements, its nature is not abridged by the frailties of those forgiven sinners who composed its membership. It is His body, the instrument of His active power, and the bond of fellowship between all those who accept His lordship.

10. We believe in the Kingdom of God. It is the reign of God in every department of human society, the divine scale of values for every individual, group, and nation. As Christian perfection is the goal in the individual life, so is the kingdom of God in human society. Its creation is a co-operative task involving both God and man. The pattern of a redeemed society is the thought of God. Its achievement is through the spiritual energy imparted by His spirit in human hearts, but its final consummation comes slowly through the joint efforts of God and man, working side by side, in the struggle to create a new and divine order and to make His will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

11. We believe in the divine judgment. God is not only the Creator but he is also the Judge of all the earth. All men and nations stand before His judgment bar. The moral law and the Christian ethic judge both sinner and saint. Beyond all human laws, customs, and opinions there is one divine Law which remains absolute and unchanging. Men may break themselves and their civilizations upon that Law but the Law itself stands forever. The judgments of the Almighty are true and everlasting.

12. We believe in eternal life. Man, whose earthly existence is so brief and uncertain, has nevertheless eternity set in his heart by the Creator. The words of Jesus and His resurrection from the dead bring to us the assurance that for the Christian death shall be swallowed up in victory. God is eternal, Jesus is the conqueror of the grave, and we, being united by faith with Him, share His everlasting life. Death is a doorway from a natural world into a spiritual world. Behind the thin veil that conceals from our human eyes the Blessed Country there stands One who has gone to prepare a place for us and who will one day receive us unto Himself in eternal glory. Heaven is the perfect companionship of the believer with Christ, and death is but a transition into the deeper fellowship of His nearer presence.

The above treatise is in no sense an attempt to write a systematic theology for Methodists. It does not compass the whole range of Christian belief held among us. It is only an effort to lift up in brief and simple terms the central doctrines of the people called Methodists. Our theology has never been a closely organized doctrinal system. We have never insisted on uniformity of thought or statement. We have always reserved for our members freedom of reverent inquiry. We are proud to re-emphasize John Wesley's famous dictum: "As to opinions which do not strike at the root of Christianity, we think and let think."

THE ADVANCE FOR CHRIST AND HIS CHURCH

For the past eight years the forces of our Church have been united and have moved with a new consciousness of power toward the achievement of certain great and worthy goals. To many of us there has come a new conception of the strength of Methodism. We have seen what can be accomplished for Christ when, with one mind and heart, we give ourselves to the program outlined by the General Conference. We should pause to give thanks to Almighty God for the tasks He has set before us and the power He has supplied for their accomplishment.

It is not easy to evaluate the Advance movement which reports to this session of the General Conference. We can be grateful for providential leadership in the administrative office and also for the tireless co-operation of District Superintendents, ministers, and lay members throughout the Church. We have seen a superb example of a great cause effectively promoted through the regular channels of our Church life. What Methodism ought to do Methodism can do through the remarkable efficiency of her own organization.

Full and detailed reports will bring to you the major accomplishments of The Advance for Christ and His Church. We call to your attention certain areas where our labors have been particularly blessed of God. We have come into a new awareness of our faith. Multiplied thousands of our people have restudied the basis of their belief in the great Christian doctrines. They have rejoiced to share in "the endless line of splendor" which began in the little town of Epworth in England in the beginning of the eighteenth century and today sheds its light in every corner of Method-ism's world parish. We have come to feel a new sense of responsibility for the missionary enterprise at home and abroad. Through these specials accepted freely by our local churches we have added in four years the sum of approximately 12 million dollars over and above our World Service acceptances. The Week of Dedication has added more than 2½ millions. The day may not be far distant when the acceptance of a Missionary Special by each congregation will be the normal procedure throughout the Church. Such an act of sharing would strengthen our world enterprise and at the same time bring untold spiritual blessings to our local churches.

We have taken a long look at our ministerial personnel and have occasion for rejoicing at the upward turn of the number of candidates for our ministry. Our youth is responding to the call to give their lives to the full-time service for Christ. We shall ever need new and worthy recruits to take the place of those who lay their armor down. If Christian young people today are lost amid the confusions and the superficialities of our modern life, may they not turn with confidence to the high calling of God in Christ Jesus, where life discovers new meanings and joys unspeakable await those who make the supreme dedication?

The Advance has highlighted our concern for the Christian family. The pressures upon our family life everywhere have been devastating. The foundations of our social structure crumble when the homes of our people are invaded by secularism and worldliness. The Family Life Conference in Chicago was the climax of a long process of study and was at the same time the spark which lighted a widening and deepening interest in those problems which threaten the home today. The Week of Dedication has proved a glorious spiritual experience in the life of countless churches. Amid the maddening rush of our modern life we need a time when unitedly we can seek our altars in prayer and self-dedication. This movement is young in the life of the Church; it is capable of unbelievable development if only we can rightly appraise its potential power for a Church that stands in the need not of material things but supremely of the power of God in its life.

What of the future? We may desire to shift our emphasis, to strengthen our home base in the local church, but under no circumstances must we forfeit the gains we have made or fail to carry forward those accepted responsibilities to which we have committed ourselves. "Let us not be weary in well doing." Let no mood of restlessness turn our feet into easy paths. Let us take counsel of our faith, believing in the ultimate and available resources of the God who has called us and will go before us from victory unto victory.

OUR WORLD PARISH

As our minds turn toward the world parish of our Church we are almost staggered by its diversity and intricacy. We share the common perplexities of peoples everywhere struggling through the dark corridors of time into the light of a new and living chapter in history. The revolutionary power of democratic ideas and Christian standards for human life, plus the technological skills of the West, has stimulated this world-wide ferment. Other countries have learned well what they think are the secrets of power. We no longer confront backward and servile peoples who will tamely submit to the pressure of our ideas or our arms. We must have something better to send abroad than the products of our modern industry and our armament plants. We must guide the feet of the world out of the Communist paths of destruction by showing a better way to peace. "This," says Arnold Toynbee, "is the West's next assignment, and no doubt it is the hardest one that has ever been put upon us Westerners. It is a call to rise above ourselves. This is a call we cannot refuse. But it is a call that we can only rise to with God's help."

This puts missions in the center of the picture of the world's unrest. It is no small-scale enterprise geared to the strength of a single denomination. It is rather a frontal attack upon the forces of paganism everywhere, demanding the undivided strength of a united Church. Today Methodism takes her place in this world-renewing enterprise. We work in fifty-eight different lands, using at least seventy-four languages and dialects. Our 1,536 missionaries, co-operating with many times that number of pastors, Bible women, and other workers, are spread across the world in your name and the name of Jesus, bearing their witness to the saving power of the gospel of Christ. They preach the Word, in season and out of season, to hungry masses sitting in the midnight shadows of ignorance; they help to lay the foundations for the young, indigenous churches; they lay their healing hands upon the broken bodies and fear-stricken minds of God's children who have lived beyond the pale of modern medicine. Like their Master, they go about doing good, scorning any thought of sacrifice, counting it all joy to suffer for the name of Jesus.

There are many signs of an awakened interest in foreign missions. This is evidenced by a substantial increase in the financial support of our overseas work and also by the large number of highly consecrated and qualified young people offering themselves for missionary service. There have gone out 225 new missionaries within the past two years. It is estimated that there are 33,000 churches in Methodism taking a Missionary Special for home or foreign work. This growing concern of the Church is definitely a reflection of a wider feeling of unity thrust upon us by a shrinking world and a keener sense of inter-relatedness. We must match our message against world chaos. It is enough to send us to our knees seeking from Almighty God new and Pentecostal power to meet the challenge of a divided and stricken world, and a more faithful stewardship of our means to help redeem it.

But the recent years have not been without their reverses and losses. We should be untrue to the facts if we did not admit defeats and grave problems beyond our control. In some countries there has been a black-out of all Christian work. In others severe restrictions have been thrown around our educational program and our freedom to preach. Communist China has slammed the door upon Christian missions and has silenced or executed many of our trusted leaders. Korea has been plowed by the machines of war, her Christian population scattered and dispossessed, and the bitter wounds of this great nation will be long in healing. Government pressure has cut us off from the Christian remnant in most Communist satellite lands. We have suffered persecution, yea even unto death, for our witness in Roman Catholic dominated countries. And yet our work goes on. We are bent but not broken. We are oppressed but not unto despair. Our God is faithful and in His faithfulness is our strength.

What is the strategy for these distressful and critical days? Retreat? Never. We did not choose our world mission; we were commanded and commissioned by the Founder of the Church. We are men under orders and until those orders, "Go, preach, make disciples, teach—Lo, I am with you always," are countermanded, the Church has no option. She must obey or lose the presence of her Lord. Where then lie the emphases in the missionary program in the days just ahead? In four areas, we may find the wisdom for these times. First, build the Church. All roads of service lead to the central establishment of a Church which is a worshipping, witnessing, working fellowship of Christ-changed men and women. If the Church is there it will have its roots in two worlds, and from it will flow healing streams of living water. Second, develop the sense of unity on the field and in the sending churches. We should foster Christian co-operation and unity in other lands and thereby avoid the tragedy of a divided Protestantism in the younger churches. This can be done effectively only when the same principle is accepted in the councils of our Mission Boards in America. Third, let the churches on mission fields share the responsibility of evangelizing other lands. As they give they grow. No Church can long remain in vigor which does not bear its missionary witness. Fourth, put evangelism once again in the center of our emphasis. Evangelism in all its richness and fulness, bringing the whole of life under the captivity of Christ. Twice-born men and women, bearing witness to the redeeming love of God in daily life, are the invincible answer to a callous world and the joy of an obedient Church.

No motive for missions is deep enough which does not bring us to share Christ's suffering for a lost world. It is the love of Christ which must constrain us. No humanitarian impulse goes far enough. No adventurous "do-goodism" will stand up under the pressure. But when His Church is willing to walk in the way of the Cross, pray as He prayed in Gethsemane, share His sacrificial compassion for a broken world and give itself to others as He gave Himself for us, then will come again the new Pentecost and God will bless His Church with a baptism of power equal to that which rested, in flaming tongues of fire, upon the disciples in the upper room.

WORLD SERVICE AND STEWARDSHIP

World Service is Methodism in action. Its program is pivotal and its support is the base line for our benevolent giving. If that line moves forward all the causes of the Church move with it; if it retreats it brings disaster to every agency carrying the work of Methodism at home and abroad. When therefore we talk about the importance of World Service we are really talking about the importance of the mission of the Church itself.

Gratifying progress has been made in the benevolent giving of our Church in the past decade. From $4,166,262 in 1941 we have increased to $8,136,170 in 1951. The average per member has grown from 63 cents to $1.11, an increase of 76 per cent. Regrettably this increase must be measured against the devaluated dollar. In spite of a large increase in membership the low purchasing power of our money has given us an increase of only 11 per cent in financial resources in ten years.

It is also interesting to note how we spend our dollar in The Methodist Church.

These figures show that only 15.6 per cent of the money given to the Church goes to benevolences for the support of Christian activities beyond the local church parish.

We have deep appreciation for the service our Commission on World Service and Finance has rendered and for the hearty response that has come from our people to the call for increased giving during these recent years. Had it not been for this co-operation and response every good cause for which we stand would have limped or fallen by the wayside. We face today a new and demanding situation. What happens in Methodism in the next four years will set the course of our Church for a quarter of a century. We need to move from the periphery into the center, to think less about causes and more about motives, to lay aside our emphasis upon this appeal or that and to attack the whole concept of the Christian stewardship of our money. There are being presented to this General Conference causes that cannot be denied. Wrapped up in their acceptance is the secret of God's favor upon this Church. We must face them as God's stewards, in remembrance of His goodness to us and in the light of the Cross upon which He died.

Methodists are not giving God His rightful share of their possessions. According to the report of the United Stewardship Council we stand in forty-fifth place in per capita giving to benevolences among the denominations of America. We have no right to keep back for ourselves so much of what God has entrusted to us. We can talk a long time about "stewardship" but for most Methodists it comes down to the question: "What am I doing with what I call my money?" We must give our people help. A lot of them are losing their Christian joy because they have only an unscriptural and haphazard rule for giving. There is a multitude of good men and women who need counsel about what they, as Christians, ought to be giving to the Church. A definite schedule of proportionate giving, with the tithe as the minimum, should be forcefully and persuasively put before our membership. Our solutions do not primarily lie in increasing our World Service askings. They lie in a much more fundamental procedure: in creating in all our people a deeper desire to share and to support the work of Christ at home and abroad. Our people will respond but they want guidance. This is no appeal sent out by a single Board or Commission. This is a major operation involving all the agencies and resources of the Church, but it is the path to victory, and victory in the sector of giving means victory along the whole battle front. A hundred causes look to us, a million wistful faces are turned our way, a Church waits for the lift of our faith. We shall not desert them or withhold from Christ aught that He claims when He has given us so much more than we deserve.

THE ECUMENICAL MOVEMENT

The most significant movement of modern religious history is the growth of the ecumenical Church throughout the world. The series of international gatherings which began within the memory of living men came to their glorious consummation in the organization of the World Council of Churches at Amsterdam on August 23, 1948. Into this Council there have come one hundred and sixty-three denominations and the representatives of more than fifty countries. The bond which unites these widely scattered faiths is a common loyalty to Jesus Christ as Lord. As the Council declared: "The World Council of Churches is composed of Churches which acknowledge Jesus Christ as God and Saviour. They find their unity in Him. They do not create their unity; it is the gift of God." The Council is not a Super-Church. Its decisions cannot be forced upon any constituent member. Its validity rests upon a basic conception of the Church as the Body of Christ, a spiritual unity which arises out of its divine nature and which transcends variations in doctrine, in polity, and in worship. It has been the high privilege of our Church to make through all the years constructive contributions to this movement of world-wide Christian unity. For a long time we have been repeating: "I believe in the holy catholic Church." Now we are seeing upon the horizon of our troubled times the outline of this New Testament ecclesia, helping to answer our Lord's prayer for the oneness of His followers.

A further advance toward the goal of Protestant unity was taken when the National Council of the Churches of Christ was organized in Cleveland in November of 1950. This historic step brings into focus the power of our distinctive faiths, enlivens our common social conscience, and gives voice to the prophetic note in the Protestant message to our day. To conserve the freedom and creative initiative of the participating bodies and, at the same time, give substance to united Inter-Denominational leadership is undoubtedly a difficult, even a baffling, task. But the machinery will adapt itself gradually to the multiform demands of our common religious need, and we shall all be stronger for sharing with one another the riches of our separate heritages and also implementing more effectively those means of spiritual warfare which God entrusts to all of every faith who obey His will.

We must be realistic in our ecumenical enthusiasms. There are some Christian bodies which will have no part in it, preferring their own free autonomous fellowships and their separate denominational loyalties. They fear the growth of a centralized, authoritarian hierarchy completely destroying the independence and vitality of the member Churches. Such procedures would contravene the sense of freedom which is the very genius of Protestantism and defeat the worthy ends for which we struggle. There is no conflict between denominational loyalty and adherence to the ecumenical ideal. The best way we can serve the Church Universal is to serve with intelligence and devoted loyalty the Church to which we belong. Unity within denominational groups is the first essential step toward the wider unities within Christendom. Our recent Ecumenical Conference in Oxford brought an exhilarating sense of oneness to the branches of Methodism scattered across the earth. Their unity is not an outgrowth of exclusivism in life, theology, or polity. It roots in a common spiritual tradition which is by its very nature catholic and co-operative. The formation of the World Methodist Council, with a distinguished member of our own body as its first President, is a prophecy of a deepening fellowship within world-wide Methodism. We shall hold in trust our precious historic heritage looking forward to God's good day when we shall be privileged to share it with all who seek their oneness in Christ. The words of Archbishop Temple, spoken on the day of his enthronement, still echo in our hearts: "We shall impoverish our service of the wider fellowship if we let our membership of our own Communion become hesitant or indefinite. Rather we have to make strong the bonds of our own unity, with gratitude for our splendid inheritance, so that we may bring to the Universal Church a life strong in faith, in order, in corporate devotion—maintaining all that we have received but recognizing also God's gifts to His people through traditions other than our own."

This ecumenical movement needs quickly to gravitate from official circles to the local church and the individual member. We are not interested in a spectacular act of ecclesiastic strategy upon a world stage. What deeply concerns us is that this universal movement toward Christian unity should create within the hearts of individual believers and local churches a sense of the supernal grandeur of the Church to which they belong, and lift their eyes from the round of petty interests and sectarian rivalries to the lofty endeavor of making a whole world Christian. We shall move forward, both at home and abroad, as God gives us strength, to heal the broken body of Christ and unite our forces for the conquest of the powers of darkness.

THE NEGRO IN THE METHODIST CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES

No race in history has made progress comparable to that of the Negro race since its historic emancipation from slavery. Particularly has this been true in the past half century. There are astounding figures in the realms of educational and economic progress. Enrollment of college students in institutions for the higher education of Negroes rose from 2,624 in 1900 to 74,526 in 1950. Negro illiteracy, which was more than 90 per cent in 1865, and 44 per cent in 1900, is now well below 10 per cent. Today there are three million Negro children attending the public schools, about the same proportion as those of the white race. Fifty years ago Bachelors' Degrees were conferred on 156 students, last year on 13,108, an increase of 87 times. Negro faculty members in these institutions have increased from an estimated 150 to 5,851. The physical property of institutions of higher learning in 1900 was valued at $7,930,949. In 1948 this had risen to $119,857,859, an increase of 15 times. With all our shortcomings it cannot be said that we in America have shut the doors of learning in the face of eager Negro youth.

The advance of the Negro race in the ministry, the law, medicine, and business has been equally remarkable. The epic story of this phenomenal progress has taken place in spite of social barriers, widespread segregation, and terrific handicaps. We are happy to observe that these obstacles are lessening in every area of American life. To discriminate against a person solely upon the basis of his race is both unfair and unchristian. Every child of God is entitled to that place in society which he has won by his industry, his integrity, and his character. To deny him that position of honor because of the accident of his birth is neither honest democracy nor good religion. Any race that can produce a Marian Anderson in art, a Ralph Bunche in diplomacy, a George Washington Carver in science, a Jackie Robinson in sport, and a Mary Bethune in education, may well be proud of its racial achievements and dignity.

We are concerned with the Church life of the Negro and especially with those who belong to The Methodist Church. Of the 9,285,698 members of Negro churches in America, 24.8 per cent belong to Methodist denominations and 75.1 per cent to two Baptist groups. This accounts for over 99 per cent of the total memberships in Negro churches. Of this total 3.6 per cent belong to The Methodist Church. The statistics bearing upon the membership growth of the Central Jurisdiction are not as favorable as we could wish. Since Unification there has been a gain of $4\frac{2}{3}$ per cent in comparison with a gain of 9.4 per cent for the entire Church. The number of ministers who serve the Central Jurisdiction and their qualifications for leadership constitutes an acute problem. Their additions on profession of faith remain at about the same level since 1940 as in the previous decade. In benevolent giving a gratifying increase is apparent.

These figures and the human elements behind them force us to give serious and constructive consideration to the welfare of the Negro in our Church. Our common labor and service together during the past three quadrenniums have been characterized by mutual fellowship and ever deepening appreciations, but we cannot be blind or indifferent to the problems and tensions which confront us. Unitedly and with brotherly frankness we should face them. Situations are never eased by taking refuge behind walls of sentiment or pride. Because the answer is difficult does not mean that it should not be diligently sought. There have been many suggestions as to the wise solution of these problems involved in our inter-racial relationships. (a) Some would stabilize the situation upon the basis of the present pattern, urging an enlarged effort to increase the effectiveness of the Central Jurisdiction and deepening our mutual services upon the local and community level. (b) Others would do away with the Central Jurisdiction, leaving five geographical Jurisdictions inclusive of all churches within the United States. (c) It has been advocated in some sections that the best answer is to do away with all Jurisdictions and abandon the Jurisdictional system. To this suggestion there would undoubtedly be strong objections. This system seemed to be the key to Unification in 1939, and some would contend that we are not far enough from that date to force this Constitutional issue upon our people. (d) A final suggestion has been brought forward. The General Conference can by majority action allow any existing Jurisdiction to change by vote its boundaries and, upon concurrence of the Negro Annual Conferences within that Jurisdictional area, to merge all the Annual Conferences within that territory into one Jurisdiction. This elastic procedure recognizes the basic principle of democracy and grants the right of self-determination to each Jurisdiction.

Two principles appear to be clear: We must keep vividly before us a goal which is no less than the mind of Christ, recognized and made regnant in all our race relations, and secondly, we should at once take any practicable forward step, however short it may be of our goal. We face the critical adjustment between the absolute Christian ideal and the human level upon which a retarded and hesitating social conscience moves. Christian truth and strategy must reach us where we are and lead us by divine grace to where God would have us be. We owe it to our moral dignity to face the situation with steady seriousness and to do each day what is possible on that day. And every step forward brings another step forward within the realm of possibility.

One final word. Would we not be more likely to find a happier and more Christian solution to these questions if we approached them not from the standpoint of problems but from the standpoint of opportunities? The race situation in America is widespread and acute. It is in many ways a test of our democratic professions. Our failures are grist for the propaganda mills of our critics and enemies. We can and will ease these tensions and extend the benefits of democratic freedom to all races without fear or favor. Religion ought to do this. Christianity holds the answer if we are willing to apply its principles. The Methodist Church is in a peculiar position of responsibility and trust. We are a Church of many races, both in this country and abroad. There is no reason why we could not demonstrate by our patience, our forbearance, and our vision a solution of this problem which would be just and Christlike to all races. When we treat it as a human problem it baffles us; when we approach it as a God-given opportunity it thrills us.

HIGHER EDUCATION

We have in continental America $318,551,475 invested in educational plants, grounds, and equipment. Added to this is $245,496,167 in endowment funds. Using these facilities are 250,171 students, served by over 13,000 teachers and administrators. If you add to these totals the vast sums invested in institutions overseas you can see at one world-wide glance that Methodism places a high premium upon the value of education.

The strategic place which higher education holds in the conflict over the regulative ideals that control our modern age is readily seen. Our combination of physical power and moral and social waywardness is the crisis of the twentieth century. Education is power, and this power may be used for setting up goals and standards or for destroying them. Our Boards of Trustees hold a responsibility not alone for administrative details and fiscal policies. In a very true sense they are the guardians of the free spirit and the Christian idealism that should prevail in our colleges. Much depends upon the teaching staff. The faith and hope of any college depends upon the men and women who are on the faculty. If the urge which drives them originates in a materialistic philosophy of life then their contribution to the college is secular and spiritless. If, on the other hand, they hold to the conviction that Christianity gives meaning and value to every part of the curriculum and that "a Christian college is a community existing around a group of learners, both teachers and students, who confess Jesus Christ as their Saviour and Lord," then teaching is a high calling of God.

We rejoice that our colleges and Wesley Foundations are drawing closer to the Church which gave them birth. Ever more seriously they are seeking to give religion a full expression in life and at the same time conserve their intellectual integrity and their search for the truth. They are recognizing that our culture needs an integrating unity, a central core of reality which lends significance to the mystery of our fragmented existence, and this they are finding in a theistic conception of the universe. You cannot impose two hours of required Bible on a student and make him religious. Religion is caught quite as much as it is taught, and its vitality is determined by the climate of the campus and the atmosphere of the classroom. In all these respects we are happy to observe a real deepening of the religious attitudes in our institutions of higher learning. They are closer to the Church than they have been in a generation.

On the other hand, the Church must move closer to the colleges. At times we have taken pride in a chartered guarantee of ownership and the privilege of electing Trustees, but we have not faced up to an equal sense of responsibility for the financial support of the institutions we own. No student fully pays for the education he receives from college. From some source, either public taxation, endowment, or gifts, the "hidden scholarship" must be made up. Our Church-related colleges are in a peculiarly difficult spot. They must meet competition from tax-supported institutions into which millions of dollars are poured annually from the public treasury. Endowment income grows less and less in our present investment market. Inflation raises the cost of every item in the budget from the professors' salaries to the price of a mop. And yet the demands for larger and better service to the student grows from year to year. Twenty per cent of all liberal arts colleges in America reported deficits in 1948-1949. The deficit doubled last year and the story is not told for this year. It all adds up to one inescapable conclusion. If the Church wants Christian higher education it must pay for it. This for years it has not done with either liberality or adequacy. We shall not get good education on a bargain counter. Our Conferences must accept much larger apportionments for their colleges, and our Methodist people should support, by their gifts, their loyalty, and their patronage, our own Methodist institutions. Unless the Church is concerned to pour into the stream of our democratic life men and women schooled in a Christian sense of values, and fired with a passion for public service, the drift toward materialism and nihilism will go steadily on to our confusion and shame.

THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

When Harvard College was founded the forefathers recited in quaint and classic words their efforts to build homes, rear churches, and settle civil government, and then they added: "One of the next things we longed for, and looked after was to advance Learning and perpetuate it to Posterity: dreading to leave an illiterate Ministry to the Churches, when our Ministers shall lie in the Dust." They saw with prophetic clearness that freedom of religion and the vitality of democratic institutions could not long endure in this new wilderness society without a trained and consecrated ministry. This vision has not always been so clear in The Methodist Church. Only slowly have we raised our standards for admission into the Annual Conferences. Our seminaries in other years were reaching only a fraction of our ministry. But today all that is happily changed and training in a theological seminary is the normal and expected course for every ministerial candidate. We list ten seminaries in this country ably manned by devoted, loyal, and scholarly men. Their curricula have been expanded, their classrooms are crowded, and the teacher-student load is too heavy for sound instruction. Most of our young ministers will be trained in our own theological schools. For education is not only of the mind, it is of the spirit, and there is a historic tradition, an evangelical emphasis, to which every young Methodist preacher is entitled, and which he can best find within the atmosphere of his own religious household.

This Conference must face with faith and generosity the support of its seminaries. It must also undergird our program for training missionaries for home and foreign service, and that vast number of young, unordained lay workers who serve on our Local Church and Conference staffs. All this means a large increase in our contributions to these institutions. If the amount seems disproportionate, let us remember that it goes into the most pivotal and creative spot as we look toward tomorrow's Church.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION IN THE LOCAL CHURCH

The religious growth of the person toward Christlikeness is the primary concern of those who work at the important task of Christian education. Here the central institution is the Church School, touching life from the cradle to the grave. The Methodist Church cannot get its task done without the Church School. It is dependent in large measure upon the Church School for the dissemination of knowledge about the Bible and for the stimulation of all phases of our Christian program in the local church, in the community, and in world affairs.

We rejoice in the growth of our Church Schools in practically every department of their life. Some idea of the vastness of this Christian impact may be gained by recalling that on any average Sunday in this country and abroad there are more than four million persons attending our Sunday Schools, that there are nearly twice that number enrolled, that last year they contributed three million dollars to World Service, and that out of the classes under instruction during the past four years 678,670 persons joined the Church on profession of faith. What hath God wrought? one might exclaim, when he recalls that Wesley, in one of his early Conferences, asked: "What shall we do for the rising generation?" The answer was: "Where there are ten children meet them an hour once a week." Today there are four hundred times ten thousand, of every age, who find their way to the doors of our Church Schools.

The task ahead of us is crowded with challenge. Just about one out of every two persons in America is unchurched. Every community is a field white unto the harvest. Our homes neglect the teaching of the Bible, our public schools are bluffed into timidity by a misconception of the relation of Church and State. The Church School is called upon to battle in behalf of the fragment of the population it can reach, against the floods of indecent magazines, vapid comics, sensuous movies, and silly television programs. The home cannot stem this tide alone. It must have the vigorous and the intelligent help of the Church. And the Church must be prepared through every educational channel at its command to enter into the current struggle for a decent, healthful, and inspiring community life.

The Methodist Church has been painfully, almost tragically, slow to make use of such teaching media as the movies, radio, and television. A few churches, several Annual Conferences, and at least one Jurisdiction have done significant pioneering in this field, but we are only at the beginning of a modern process of education which must not be monopolized by secular and commercial agencies. The Radio and Film Commission has gone a long way in co-ordinating and unifying the entire audio-visual program of the Church. It is no idle dream to envision television programs that shall be the means of interpreting the gospel in the homes of the indifferent in America, and radio programs and educational films skilfully directed may reinforce the work and message of the Church in all parts of the world. Interest in and adequate provision for a program of audio-visual approach to our constituency is no longer an option. It is an imperative strategy offered us by modern science and holding undreamed-of possibilities in the field of modern religious education.

OUR CHURCH-SCHOOL LITERATURE

The Methodist Church is the largest distributor of Church-School literature in the world. In 1951, one hundred and five million pieces of Church-School literature were used by our churches. The quality of this vast output is attested by the fact that each year our subscriptions and orders have increased. Our distribution of lesson materials is at an all-time high. This significant testimonial, from our own people and from many other denominations, is one for which we are humbly grateful. We are determined that both in form and content our literature shall continue to meet the needs of an ever-widening circle of readers.

The Methodist Church is a broadly representative Church. Its members have different inheritances, insights, outlooks, and cultural backgrounds. There is nothing static or uniform about Methodists. They have deep convictions about many important questions. Since the days of the early disciples there probably has never been gathered into a single body of believers such a wide variety of intellectual outlook and Christian experience. To prepare Church-School literature that will be acceptable to this wide range of personal and social attitudes is a difficult, if not impossible, task. Our editors must write for the whole Church and they must ever keep in mind these differences among our people. The framework within which they work must be composed of the Christian gospel as it applies to personal and social redemption; the Bible as the inspired Word of God; and The Methodist Church and its mission to the world. Behind the editors is a Curriculum Committee composed of soundly intellectual and devotedly loyal Methodists, and back of them is a Board of Education, chosen by the Jurisdictional Conferences. Editors are not free-lance writers. They are subject to constant supervision, advice, and counsel. They make mistakes like all the rest of us. Sometimes their material is misjudged and misinterpreted. Often the criticisms are positive and constructive, occasionally devastatingly unfair. Is this not to be expected in a time of nervous tension and almost universal fear? We live and operate in a free Church, but our freedom must always be tempered and conditioned by the liberty that is in Christ whose mind is our law and whose will is our goal.

CHRISTIAN RESPONSIBILITY IN ECONOMIC LIFE

Because so much of our restlessness centers in divergent views regarding economic theories and social patterns, this may be the place where we should say a word concerning political and economic conditions which now confront us and the responsibility of the Church in this confused scene. It is perfectly clear that Christianity must not become identified with any particular school of economics. It remains a fact that Methodism preaches its gospel of the abundant life as a vital expression of religion in countries operating under many widely variant forms of social and economic philosophy. We may individually be firmly convinced of the superiority of one system as over against another, but the Christian faith is not the sponsor of any particular economic ideology, but rather is the judge of each and every one of them. "Know ye not that the saints shall judge the world?" We may be compelled to live under one or the other system and as good citizens render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, but as members of the Kingdom of God our first obligation is to render unto God the things that are God's. If Christianity had permitted itself, with earthly shrewdness, to become the protagonist of successive economic theories which through the centuries have risen and fallen, it would have suffered the fate of these passing and partial expressions of the economic good. It would have been discarded by the enlarging wisdom of men seeking progressively to find the answer to man's search for a sound and enduring pattern of material values. Thus the eternal quality of our faith would have been compromised by subservience to a contemporary and fragile interpretation of the good life. It should be clearly understood that our Church must not be maneuvered into the defense of any political party or economic philosophy. Almost everyone agrees that what people want is a free way of life, economic abundance, and social justice. However, the maintenance of a system of private property, free initiative, and competition does not imply a policy of leaving things as they are. No system is better than the men who administer it, or the motives that drive it, or the ends that it seeks. A faulty system administered by good men may finally prove better than a good system sponsored by bad men. Most people in America believe in the system of free enterprise but we know it is not a perfect answer to all economic needs. We have yet far to go to reach our dream of the City of God among men.

It is the mission of the Church to interpret the Christian message in the difficult situations arising from the tensions of a highly organized industrial society. As an interpreter, it seeks to judge irresponsible and concentrated wealth on the one hand, and excessive governmental controls on the other. The Church's duty is to cultivate Christian attitudes and to ask, not who is right, but what is right. It must proclaim that within any industrial group, whether trade union or trade association, the individual member shares moral responsibility for the acts of the whole group.

Because the Church sets as one of its ultimate goals the achieving of a society that recognizes the brotherhood of man, it is the duty of the Church to lead divergent groups within the nation into a common understanding. The Church must be an ever-expanding fellowship. This is the essence of its missionary heritage. Neither social nor economic status can be the determining factor for membership or leadership. The Church must not lose its own identity while fulfilling its social and industrial mission.

We rejoice that great progress has been made by the Church toward a sympathetic understanding of the problems of labor and management. Theological seminaries have provided clinical training in the area of social and industrial relations, and Pastors' Summer Schools have offered courses accompanied by field work and plant tours. Clergymen are meeting with industrial leaders, managerial groups, and rank-and-file employees. Chaplains of industrial relations have been appointed who seek to interpret group to group, with the aim of preventing deadlocks in the resolving of industrial tensions. We heartily commend these efforts and urge their continuance and extension.

Let us here pay a tribute to that large number of Christian laymen who take their religion into their business and seek to apply the principles of the Sermon on the Mount in their daily life as employer and employee. They are to be found in every community, quiet, devoted, rigidly honest, graciously personal in every human relationship, "fervent in spirit, serving the Lord." Their love for the Church is as ardent as their devotion to business. They have undergirded our local budgets, supported our missionary enterprises, shared in our community services, strengthened our ecumenical movements, and sought everywhere to advance the Kingdom of God. These laymen who have chosen to be Christians and Churchmen claim no special privileges, but they can never be fairly judged or fully appreciated until they are set over in contrast against that large number of businessmen who in their mad rush for profits and power have forsaken recognized business standards, sound principles of economic co-operation, and their stewardship to Almighty God. Methodism is rich in the vast number of its lay men and women who, in every walk of life and every economic station, are seeking to follow Christ's way all the way.

OUR PUBLISHING INTERESTS

When, in 1789 in old John Street Chapel in New York, our fathers took action to organize a Book Concern for Methodism, they could hardly have envisioned the vast institution known today as The Methodist Publishing House. With assets, including plant and equipment, totaling over fourteen million dollars, with sales for this quadrennium totaling fifty-one millions, it is today the largest single producer in the world of religious publications and periodicals, and of religious books. It is the world's largest distributor of religious materials and one of the largest in the field of general book distribution. It operates the largest denominational printing plant in America, and during the past four years has used twenty-one hundred carloads of paper and has spread three-quarters of a million pounds of ink through its presses.

The present quadrennium has witnessed exceptional progress. In addition to paying $1,600,000 from its produce to our retired ministers, it has invested $3,645,651 in plant improvements and equipment in order to serve our people more extensively and effectively. This is a great business, and the Board of Publication has shown commendable foresight in expanding its facilities to meet the increasing demands of tomorrow. The Publishing House is not an independent business concern operated primarily for profits. It is the Church meeting its responsibility for spreading the gospel through the printed page. It must be operated in the spirit of Christian ideals but it must also be operated on sound business principles. Its only dividends are its contribution to the support of superannuated preachers and the supplying of Christian literature to an ever-widening circle of readers.

The Survey Commission has made certain recommendations concerning the periodicals of the Church. It is not our purpose to discuss these in detail. Undoubtedly there is a surplus of publications growing out of the urge of Boards and causes to promote their own particular emphases. But Methodism needs at least one periodical that speaks its voice and really reaches its constituency. Every official member in every Methodist church ought to know what is going on in his Church and what are the life-and-death issues in the present struggle for a Christian way of life. Beyond this official group there is a vast reading public which we are not reaching today. There will be need for specialized journals of one kind or another but here we need a family paper coming into the homes of our people, available at a reasonable subscription rate. The Publishing Agents cannot produce this periodical without the united, insistent co-operation of every Bishop, District Superintendent, Pastor, and Official Board. Subscriptions for all officials might be included in the local church budget. It may need a new name, a new format, a new promotional strategy, but whatever it requires, who are we to say in this great Church of ours that it cannot be done? Our people perish for the lack of knowledge, our causes limp because the news and the appeal never reach the man in the pew, our unity and morale suffer because ignorance of great issues and Christian duties leads to fear and suspicion and disunity. We call for a bold venture for the creation of a Methodist periodical, combining the best of modern craftsmanship and editorial skill and aimed at a circulation within twelve months of not fewer than one million copies. It can be done and we are the people to do it.

A TRIBUTE TO YOUTH

There is a tendency among many of us to attribute the ills which afflict our society to the decline in behavior and morals of the young people of this generation. Nothing could be more unfair. They have their shortcomings and their faults, but have we considered the era into which they were born and the tensions and conflicts which they confront? They have never known a peaceful and stable world. The youth of today were born in a depression, they grew to adolescence amid the sufferings and anxieties of World War II, and in their later years they are surrounded by the instabilities and the threats of a cold war which for them may at any moment suddenly become hot. If they did not react sensitively, yea even rebelliously, to all this tragedy that surrounds them they would betray their spiritual birthright and become a dead and spiritless drag upon the future. Then indeed they would be "the lost generation."

We had better turn our eyes upon ourselves. Adults made the world in which they live. Their moral defections are all in the pattern set by their elders. Our generation turned legalized liquor loose upon them. We broke their world up into power blocks and set their feet in the bloody paths of war. We reap the dirty profits from nationwide gambling joints, and then wonder why an occasional youth sells out his honor. The best way to clean up youth is to begin in the homes where they are born, and the new commandment may well be: Thou shalt be the kind of father and mother whom your child can honor.

We salute the vast multitude of Christian youth in our Church. Gathered Sunday after Sunday in your Methodist Youth Fellowships, seeking the Christian way in your numberless camps and assemblies, holding aloft the banner on every mission field, keeping your standards above reproach on college campuses across the world, and assembling together in great Youth Conferences to face through the eyes of the Master the confused issues of your day, we know that slumbering in your breast is the spirit of sacrifice and heroism waiting to be challenged. The Church needs the stimulus of your creative and daring thinking. We are glad to have you speak your mind as you discover the mind of Christ. We are happy that the dream of a warless world still flames as a bright hope in your eyes. We are not worried because you are restless about discriminations that are unchristian in our society, and critical of a social and economic order when it is unjust and unmerciful. We extend to you across the years that separate us the right hand of fellowship and pray that God will grant you "courage for the living of these days."

OUR CHANGING EPISCOPACY

There is much to be commended in the Jurisdictional method of electing Bishops, but there is also a manifest need for a greater mobility in our Episcopal System. The value of "the general superintendency" is somewhat depreciated by the disciplinary limitations under which Bishops operate only in the Jurisdiction which elects them. It is possible for a Bishop to function in another Jurisdiction but the process by which this can be accomplished is so involved as to make it more difficult than it should be. We can preserve the values of a Jurisdictional system and, at the same time, enlarge the usefulness of the Bishops and bring a sense of unity to our Church through a less restricted Episcopal leadership.

The last two quadrenniums have accentuated a drift, which was already strong, to consider the Bishop the key man in all the major promotional programs of the Church. Once thrust into this role, he immediately becomes the indispensable leader in every Conference and almost every District enterprise. Thus he is pressured into an endless administrative task which consumes vast amounts of time and precious physical and spiritual energies which often might be used more effectively in his diminishing vocation as a thinker, a writer, or a preacher. The dynamic activism of our Methodist way of doing things has much to commend it, but it takes a heavy toll from both preacher and Bishop of those moods of quietness, those secret trysts with the Eternal, and those unhurried moments in which the tyranny of schedules does not blast the undisturbed continuity of thought. We must beware lest in the multiplicity of our endless emphases we lose our sense of direction.

We are not entering a complaint. We want to do to the best of our several abilities the task the Church lays upon us. If we are to be arch administrators, super-promoters of the whole program of the Church, the General Conference should gear its thinking into this interpretation of our responsibilities. It should bring under review the resources available in our Episcopal offices for promotion. Today they are totally inadequate. We are without the facilities and the personnel to get done effectively the tremendous job the Church asks of us. We have a great task to perform in our world and we must not be parsimonious with the means required to accomplish it. We should not be beholden to the patterns of yesterday except in so far as they insure a vital Episcopal leadership.

ORDINATION AND THE SACRAMENTS

There will come to the attention of this Conference a question of grave importance concerning the ordination of ministers and the conditions under which they may administer the Sacraments of the Lord's Supper and Baptism. It is earnestly hoped that in the consideration of this problem we may be led of the Spirit of God to the right conclusion. For we shall be taking a step fraught with historic significance and implications as to the very nature of the Church itself.

Memorials have been presented asking that whenever an unordained Supply Pastor is appointed to a pastoral charge he shall automatically be granted the right to administer the Sacraments. Many reasons are urged for this position. Most of them are based upon a high interpretation of expediency. In recent years we have had to appoint so many Supply Pastors, because of the lack of fully qualified ministers, that these men face an embarrassment because of their inability to administer the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Present provision allows them to perform the rite of marriage and the Sacrament of Baptism, but restlessness has come over the churches because of the inability of the unordained man to meet this demand for the Holy Communion.

The real question involved is not so much the availability of the Sacraments as it is the fundamental nature of the Sacrament itself, and the historic significance of the rite of ordination. The Sacraments are the divinely ordained symbols of the continuity of the Church held by Methodism from the beginning, together with the great majority of the Christians of the world. We have always taken our position that the Sacraments are effectual means of grace, appointed by Christ Himself, and, except for a brief period, that ordination is the historically accepted prerequisite for their administration. We are persuaded that to abandon this position would be a step fraught with peril to our historic tradition and a course of questionable spiritual benefit to our people.

The solution seems to lie in maintaining the present relation of ordination to the Sacraments but shortening and simplifying the requirements demanded before the young minister can be ordained. One of the gravest problems we have confronted with our Supply Pastors is their lack of interest in the Courses of Study prescribed for their better training. In other years many men have drifted along woe-fully unprepared for their high and difficult task. These men are faithful and devoted servants of the Church, and if the emergency of our present pastoral supply problem demands their use, the Church must offer them every inviting avenue of training for a better ministry. Since ordination has been required before one can administer the Communion, it is a fact that the number of Supply Pastors completing the course of study has increased more than 500 per cent over the preceding quadrennium. We do not need to apologize for maintaining even these relatively low standards for our supply men. They will not be incited to prepare themselves for ordination if, by simply accepting an appointment at the hands of the Bishop, they enjoy all the benefits now accruing to the ordained man. We are not sacramentarians tied to forms of our historic traditions, but neither are we a chain of autonomous congregations, indifferent to the historic processes that gave us birth, and determined to meet every exigency by yielding to pressure for the expedient.

We believe this difficult question can be constructively answered by the General Conference, and every reasonable demand of both people and preachers fully met.

OUR ANCIENT AND UNCEASING BATTLE WITH INTEMPERANCE

Fifty years ago the Bishops in their address to the General Conference wrote that language failed them "to depict the poverty and squalor, the vice and crime, the political corruption, and the widespread depravation of morals" resulting from the legalized liquor saloon. If our fathers were disturbed over the dangers of the legalized liquor traffic in 1900 when the alcohol bill of the nation was $1,172,000,000, what should we not feel in 1952 when our bill for intoxicants has reached the staggering total of nearly $9,000,000,000?

We pay our tribute to the Board of Temperance for the vigorous, intelligent, and constructive battle it has waged, especially during this quadrennium. It has exposed the spectacular growth of the liquor menace since repeal; it has fought for decency and sobriety around our military camps; it has carried the battle into Congress for the Langer Bill, prohibiting the advertising of beverage alcohol; it has promoted Commitment Day and has in its files the names of more than 3,000,000 Methodists who have signed a pledge of total abstinence. Thus the battle goes on continuously, relentlessly, religiously.

It will little avail for us to pour out further our righteous censure of this abominable social curse. Since drinking has become so increasingly prevalent, and the saloon has exchanged its sawdust floor and its brass rail for the dim, carpeted luxury of the cocktail lounge, and the burly aproned bartender has given place to the girlish figure of a young woman waitress, the whole matter of drinking has moved over into a new atmosphere of social respectability. It cannot be denied that many members of our Church, including some who bear official responsibility, have surrendered to this prevalent pressure and insist upon their right as individuals to indulge in social drinking. Is it wrong? Does the Church have anything, from the Christian viewpoint, to say to its members who assert that if they want to drink it is nobody's business but their own? Let us look at it.

Long ago the mother of John Wesley wrote to her son: "Whatever weakens your reason, impairs the tenderness of your conscience, obscures your sense of God, or takes off the relish of spiritual things—in short, whatever increases the strength and authority of your body over your mind, that thing is sin to you, however innocent it may be in itself." How would drinking stand up to that test? Long before Susannah Wesley, the chief interpreter of the mind of Christ wrote: "All things are lawful for me but not all things are expedient." . . . "If meat causeth my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh forevermore that I cause not my brother to stumble." Will the drinker accept the burden of his weaker brother's stumbling? Immanuel Kant gave terse expression to the moral law which binds all men: "Act only by a rule fitly universal." Is it moral to do something as an individual which, if universally observed, would bring evil and disorder upon mankind? We are stewards of our bodies; we are stewards of our ability to think straight; we are stewards of our time; we are stewards of our money; we are stewards of our influence upon others. All this drives us to one inescapable conclusion: for a Christian, drinking intoxicating liquor is a fundamental moral question and must be faced in the light of conscience and the law of God. We call our people to the high doctrine of total abstinence and ask them to face their Christian duty and their social dilemma in the light of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

THE CHURCH AND THE ACHIEVEMENT OF PEACE

If peace is to be won it must be waged just as war must be waged if it is won. We do not drift into peace. We earn peace by deserving it. Peace does not follow inevitably from victory in war. Peace is not the absence of strife, it is the concerted will of a people to get along with their neighbors and share mutually in lifting the levels of human life everywhere. If we are to have it we must seek peace and pursue it. "We honestly desire peace in the dizzying confusion and terrifying strife of the global age now upon us, but we cannot give it substance because we lack the fearless clarity of single-minded faith and the daring fiber of single-hearted love. We all want peace, but like the young man in the scripture, we go away sorrowful when we hear the clear-spoken word or see the clean incarnated deed."

Nothing could be more disastrous than a fatalistic acceptance of the inevitability of World War III. It is the most ominous specter that hangs over the life of our generation. To envision it is to dash to the ground every climbing hope for a more Christian world. Its toll in blood and tears, its cost in manhood and money brings to every sane man a deadly paralysis of heart. Former Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray has estimated that the ultimate cost of World War II, before the last pension is paid, will be for America alone one trillion, three hundred million dollars. No one can say what World War III would cost. It might conceivably collapse our civilization and use up all our capital resources.

There are definite steps that can be taken by those who are willing to make a Christian stand for peace. There is no magic formula for ending strife and insuring a peaceful world. But there is a way that leadeth unto life, and we as followers of Jesus Christ can set our feet in that way and keep walking onward and upward until the light of peace dawns for our earth.

1. We can keep in our thinking always the people who live beyond the borders of political governments that are unfriendly to us. In the main they are folks like us who hate war and dwell in fear of its coming. They have their work, their farms, their homes, their children, their churches and their faith. In many lands they are the helpless victims of blind national politics. Only 750,000 out of 200 million Russians belong to the Communist Party. It is estimated that fewer than 10 per cent of China's millions are in sympathy with Russian-inspired communism in Asia. Somehow the spiritual unity that binds together these peace-hungry multitudes in every land must be made vocal until they can lay a restraining hand upon the blind ambitions of those who govern them. We need a democratic diffusion of the power of decision when the life of a nation is threatened.

2. We must keep disarmament before the nations as they seek an alternative to war. The theory upon which the Western allies and their Communist antagonists are operating is that their only security lies in amassing such a weight of armaments that nobody will dare challenge them. This theory has repeatedly been tested in history. It has never yet brought peace. It is morally fallacious, and deep in our hearts we know it brings only a specious and trembling sense of security. In the United States, Congress not only demands our money in stunningly pyramided taxes but the Pentagon would tap our sons on the shoulder and seek to place them in peace time in a military camp under the authority of a system of Universal Military Training. This radical departure from the American way of life is both unnecessary and morally dangerous. Gloss it over with every clever euphemism, conceal it under pages of propaganda, the fact remains: military training is training in the science of being an efficient killer. War is not glory, it is jungle strife. To take the successive generations of our youth from their normal relations to home and school and Church, and thrust them at the formative years of their early manhood into the abnormal associations of military encampments, under the authority of officers whose right to command is military preferment and not moral superiority, and subject them to all the temptations incident to camp life, is gravely to imperil the moral quality of our citizenship. And let no man say that the Church can view this growing militarization of our public mind without entering its protest against this philosophy of fear which threatens the very foundations of moral idealism in this country.

3. We can unswervingly hold to our faith in the United Nations. Because it has not turned out to be a miraculous preventive of all war, the unthinking are prone to discredit the tremendous task that it has performed. It is still our best hope for united action in behalf of peace upon an international scale. The record of its performances in these few years should make us proud; the confidence that its constitution can be adjusted to meet the exigencies of a changing world order should give us hope. The future of our dreams for world peace lies not in the keeping of strident nationalisms or greedy imperialisms, but rather in the will to work together for the common good and a deathless faith in the essential spiritual unity of all mankind. The United Nations is the symbol of this hope.

4. The last definitive step we present can best be put in the words of John Foster Dulles: "Our greatest need is to regain confidence in the supreme value of our spiritual heritage. The precepts of religion are and must be relevant to every kind of society through the ages past and those to come. They are relevant to the complex conditions of our present society. We need to have that burning conviction and carry it into daily life if we are to combat successfully the methods and practices that derive from a materialistic creed, and if we are to achieve leadership in a world that desperately craves spiritual sustenance." As the power of the spirit gains ascendancy in our public life, so does the danger from the kingdoms of this world diminish.

On the wall of the room in Paris in which Victor Hugo died in 1895 is the following prophecy in autograph:

I represent a party which does not yet exist:
the party of revolution, civilization.

This party will make the twentieth century.

There will issue from it first the United States of Europe, then the United States of the World.

HOME MISSIONS AND CHURCH EXTENSION

The problem of evangelizing the unreached areas of our American life still challenges us and is our unfinished task. There are vast sectors of our population which are unevangelized and thus become an easy prey for un-American and un-christian propaganda. The service which our Board is rendering to these areas is so often a quiet and unspectacular ministry that it often goes without full appreciation. The very circumstances surrounding these underprivileged minorities shut them out from our common avenues of contact and hence the helpful service our Church renders to them is not fully understood. The average Methodist seldom meets an Indian, has few acquaintances among Orientals on our shores, thinks of Mexicans mainly as a labor problem, and steers clear of city slums. City folks see the rural community only from the window of a speeding automobile. Hawaii and Alaska and Puerto Rico are less glamorous in missionary appeal than Japan or India or Korea. But the need at home is no less critical than the need abroad. If we must lengthen our cords we must strengthen our stakes. Our Home Mission program must be reinforced lest the powers of secularism and anarchy, latent within the shadowed portions of our dispossessed population, shall poison the cup of blessings. We cannot have prosperity unless we share it. Our American way of life ought to be as broad as America itself and as deep as every human need found within our borders.

The problems in our rural life continue to grow in range and intensity. The good earth is God's gift to His children, and upon it we are dependent ultimately for our very existence. Farm life was once a way of living for the vast majority of Americans. Today the family-size farm is slowly yielding to vast concentrations of land, operated by absentee owners, and worked by tenant farmers and migrant workers. There is a danger that farming may become simply a business of raising crops instead of a way of rearing the right kind of people. There can be no sound, rich, rural life without the Church of God in the midst. We must meet the changing rural parish with alert, scientific intelligence, with a sound and far-sighted Church strategy, and with a ministry skilled in understanding and consecrated in spirit to the humbler but more rewarding task of ministering to the solitary whom God hath set in families along the highways and byways of the world.

Without in any sense relaxing our efforts in behalf of the welfare of the rural church, let us turn to an acute phase of our Home Mission responsibility, namely, that of establishing new congregations and building new churches. To the consideration of this problem we urge upon the part of this General Conference the most sober and realistic attention. The situation is critical and unless steps are taken promptly to reverse a trend in our life we shall find ourselves forfeiting the opportunity which God has placed at our very doors. Let us face the facts.

The Yearbook of American Churches reports a total number of local churches in this country in 1940 of 244,319. In 1950 this number had grown to 281,511, or an increase of 37,192 local churches within a period of ten years. The question immediately arises how many local churches Methodism contributed to this net increase of 37,192. The answer is not one to which we can point with pride. According to the General Minutes, Methodism lost a total of 2,104 local congregations between 1940 and 1950. While we frankly recognize that the processes of local unification and the abandonment or merging of many churches stranded in depleted or shifting population areas may account for this uninspiring record, there is another side to it. We have not grasped our opportunities to deploy our forces and claim new territory into which large numbers of families have moved. We have begun to grapple with this suburban situation but it is often "too little and too late." The problem presses upon us everywhere.

What has been happening? Twelve million civilians and military personnel are moving constantly, and seventy million Americans have changed their residences within the last ten years. Nearly one in five persons moves every year in the United States. Where are they moving? To the cities. Over 53 per cent of America's people now live in cities of 10,000 or over. But where do the Methodists live? Two thirds of them still live in communities of under 10,000. In other words, the people have moved away from us and we have not followed them. Methodist strength is not where the people are. Boys and girls are moving away from the farms. While our population has increased by 75 million in the last half century, the total number of people living on farms is just about what it was in 1900, namely, 23.5 million. Those 75 million people who have moved to the city are in large part unshepherded. Fifty million people are out of touch with their Church. Among them we would discover many of our 1,600,000 "inactive" members. Many of the rest of them are living in new suburban developments without adequate Sunday schools or church facilities. Many others have gone into aggressive groups which have benefited from our slow motion and unstatesmanlike policies.

Basically, this is not a problem of denominational rivalries and a mere scramble for membership. It is a profounder problem than that. It stabs us awake with the inquiry as to how seriously we take our religion and whether we believe that Methodism has a responsibility for her normal share of these unrelated and unevangelized millions. There are 35 million children in America. Methodism is reaching 2.25 million of them. Of the unusually large crop of babies we have responsibility for 1.5 million. We are reaching a half million and neglecting one million. It is estimated that there are 71,272,000 adults in this Christian land of ours not reached by any Church School. Add over 21 million young people without religious instruction of any sort and you have the startling outline of the picture.

These figures may confuse you but you cannot escape from asking: What are we going to do about it? It is crystal clear that our present strategy is distressingly inadequate to meet this new situation. It is interesting to note that those Churches which have within the last few years overhauled their entire approach to this expansion program have grown by leaps and bounds. May we make three concrete proposals?

First, we must change the psychology of the average well-established city church. Too many of our large congregations are satisfied and unwilling to sponsor new suburban churches, especially when they have members living in those areas. They should enlarge their interest to sponsor and support new churches until they could stand on their own feet. There is almost no recorded instance where this has happened that the sponsoring church has not actually gained in membership and financial strength. Losing for Christ's sake it gains by a law of spiritual arithmetic.

Second, our base of strategy is too narrow. We are still operating in the main upon the pattern in church extension of thirty years ago, while our whole basic problem has undergone a complete revolution. Our Board has done well with the resources in personnel and funds at its command. But these have been pathetically inadequate. The time has come to restudy our total approach to this pressing problem which holds nothing less for us than the place of Methodism in the life of America within the immediate and the distant future. Do we have the creative imagination and the bold courage to attack this problem upon the basis of an overall strategy which shall marshal the total leadership of this Church and adequate financial resources to get this job done?

Third, it will take a greatly increased investment in money. But let us note that we are talking about an investment and not an expenditure. What we put into these new churches will come back to us in World Service gifts within a short number of years. But at present the funds available through our Division of Home Missions and Church Extension are so pitifully inadequate that they do not seriously affect the problem before us. What these new Methodist groups need is an initial investment by their denomination, and in time any reasonable investment can be repaid. It moves in a circle; they have no capital assets, hence they cannot borrow from a commercial institution, and having no way to secure sufficient funds to establish a church, they can accumulate no capital funds. Hence they are blocked and often must wait only to see the territory and the unattached Methodist membership taken over by another denomination which has developed a financial strategy to meet exactly that kind of situation. This General Conference should not adjourn without facing constructively this impasse in the growth of our Church.

CHRISTIANITY AND COMMUNISM

The philosophy of atheistic communism must be frankly and aggressively faced by the Christian forces of the world. In the hundred years since Marx and Engels published the Communist Manifesto their narrow dogmas have moved with such speed and effectiveness over vast segments of the human race that they constitute today a major challenge to the whole Christian conception of life.

The Communist threat must be met. It openly derides and opposes Christianity. To surrender to it or be overcome by it is to forfeit the supreme values underlying our highest culture and our Christian gospel. We shall not serve the cause by impassioned attacks which substitute emotion for intelligence and denunciation for thorough acquaintance with facts. Thinking men know that there are some very real reasons for communism's thriving existence in today's world, and those reasons are not always unrelated to the Church's failure to be dynamically effective in preaching the gospel and demonstrating Christian principles in human society. Emil Brunner, speaking at Amsterdam, bluntly declared: "The present social disorder is a judgment of God upon the Church."

Bullets cannot kill Communism. For example, you could destroy every communist in the world but your basic problem would still confront you. We believe we have the truth, we believe the Christian, democratic way offers the only solution, but if the earth-bound philosophy of Communism is not to be accepted by the multitudes of earth we shall need to out-think, to out-love, and to out-sacrifice the leaders who offer it. We reject their doctrine of dialectic materialism because it is based upon the denial of the existence and sovereignty of God. It seeks its summum bonum from the interaction of economic forces and recognizes no moral law superior to human standards and behavior. We oppose Communism because it rejects the essential dignity and worth of the individual man and insists that the ends of his existence can be met by satisfying his material needs through the proletarian class struggle. We strongly reject its doctrine of force and violence as a method of accomplishing its ends and exercising tyranny over the multitudes it holds in subjection. The denial to its subjects of those essential freedoms which we regard as basic to any decent society is to us a denial of the good life of which it so proudly boasts. Christianity with its faith in God, its belief in the essential worth of the individual, and its commitment to the creative power of redemptive love challenges this pagan philosophy in every area of national and international life. The Church has the right to know exactly where we stand on this issue. We reiterate our declaration contained in the Episcopal Address of four years ago.* We know no way in which to make our position clearer.

Our basic problem is world revolution. Humanity everywhere is in revolt. Hundreds of millions of human beings living in abject misery, oppressed, underprivileged, and disillusioned, are rising to demand release from squalor, poverty, famine, discrimination, and exploitation. They are

* "We reject Communism, its materialism, its method of class war, its use of dictatorship, its fallacious economics and its false theory of social development; but we know that the only way to defeat it permanently is to use the freedom of our own Democracy to establish economic justice and racial brotherhood."

the multitudes of Asia, Africa, the Middle East, and every major land area on the globe. More than half of the babies born in India die before they are one year old; half the children of China have never had enough to eat; three fourths of the 200,000 babies born every day will never know how to read or write. They are sick and tired of hunger and racism and landlordism and colonialism, and they will grasp anything, any philosophy, any system of economics or government which seems to offer them hope. Our real problem turns out to be not Communism but revolution, and Communism is a perverted and godless way of directing revolution to its own evil ends. It is not Russia that is our real enemy but the evils in modern society which Russia falsely offers to eradicate. These millions adrift in a sea of wretchedness cling to the lifeline that Communism throws them, believing her false promise for rescue through world revolution and a planned economy. They will accept her tyranny for the moment because they have known naught in their lives save tyranny, but their God-given yearning for freedom will assert itself again when enough men of good will all over the world determine that people now in the throes of revolution shall have the health, the security, the education, and the sense of individual worth that they have a right to demand. This world tragedy lays upon the Church a high summons to self-examination, to cross-bearing devotion and a renewed dedication to her Lord who came that all men might have life and have it abundantly.

EVANGELISM

Nothing should make glad the heart of The Methodist Church so quickly and spontaneously as tidings of redemption and of newborn souls throughout our borders. No quadrennium in all our history has equaled the record made in evangelism during these last four years. Our nearest estimate indicates that 1,209,802 people have joined the Church on profession of faith. Under magnificent leadership through our Board of Evangelism we have moved steadily forward to make this supreme phase of our life effective in every part of the Church. But our greatest work lies out in front of us. This advance must lead us not only to seek new members but to bring every new communicant into a deep and growing sense of the richness of life in Christ. The best part, and perhaps the most important part, of evangelism cannot be put into a statistical table. It is in creating the mind of Christ and the power of Christ in the life of the believer. We should gather up the momentum of these victories and make it the inspiration of the most dynamic and redemptive advance in all our history.

This civilization of ours is sick. This nation we love suffers from the diseases of secularism, humanism, and cynicism. In an hour when God in history has thrust us into the perilous eminence of world leadership we are realizing to our shame that we lack the moral idealism and the religious insight to meet the destiny that is upon us. We need God. The decadence of a culture is always associated with the loss of religious standards and values. We must not fail God and man in these tempestuous days. To keep the soul of this country alive to spiritual ideals, to discipline her life in the stewardship of her strength, and to "crown her good with brotherhood" is a task that can be accomplished only by the Spirit of God working in and through those who love Him. The highest patriotism we know is to make the will of God and the mind of Christ regnant in the life of our times. Would that we knew "the things that belong unto our peace."

It is upon this high level that we would talk about evangelism. A redeemed society is possible only through redeemed individuals. And the Church has within its keeping this gospel that is the power of God unto salvation. We have done well but not well enough. There are eighteen million homes in America which do not have a single member in any Church—Protestant, Roman Catholic, or Jewish. There are thousands of young couples establishing homes every week without the recognition of God, half of them headed for shipwreck. There are millions of men and women caught in the meshes of business responsibilities and the vapid routines of social convention who are conscious of the emptiness of their lives but know not how to discover reality and meaning in life. There are vast areas of suburban developments, row upon row of new streets and neat, modest homes, where little families have taken the great adventure only to discover that they have everything in their neighborhood except a church. There is a vast multitude of young people upon college campuses today questing for reality and eager to invest their lives in creating a brave new world. Great continents, slumbering in darkness, victims of ancient but impotent religions, confused by the mirage of an economic heaven offered by the Communists, await the coming of those who bear good tidings, tidings of peace, the good news of the gospel in Christ. Everywhere, everywhere God is calling. Let us arise and be going.

Evangelism lies like a warm heart at the center of all our life. There are signs on hand that our ancient passion for souls is manifesting itself in renewed vigor in every quarter. We enter in 1953 upon a world-wide crusade of evangelism with our Methodist brethren in every land. This concerted movement coming on the 250th anniversary of the birth of John Wesley will prove an incentive to our deepest dedication. Our Church has shaken off the lethargy of a decade ago and is pressing the claims of Christ upon this generation with manifestations of God's power and blessing. The work of laymen in visitation evangelism cheers our hearts. The united Conference-wide and Area-wide campaigns have produced amazing results. The Sunday-night evangelistic service is recovering its lost appeal. The simple Christian witness of God's cleansing power to another person who has never found Him is still the blessed way that holds the secret for building up the fellowship of believers. When, out of a heart redeemed and filled with joy, we can say "Let me commend my Saviour to you," God will add daily to the Church those who are being saved. Let our pulpits ring with this insistent pleading note and let our people back up this deep concern with their lives, their prayers, and their witness, and nothing can prevent this Methodism of ours from becoming increasingly an instrument of God for saving our world.

FREEDOM IN AMERICAN LIFE AND IN METHODISM

It is a terrifying anomaly that after victory in two world wars, waged presumably to protect and establish our democratic freedom, we should at this moment in America be confronted by a widespread and sinister threat to the liberties we cherish. And yet that danger is real and serious. Personal and civil liberty cannot be separated from religious liberty. Not one can be abridged without affecting the existence of all related freedoms.

This threat to personal liberty stems from a prevalent widespread philosophy which is essentially anti-democratic and totalitarian. It denies that there is any valid moral law; it denies that man, by virtue of this law, possesses certain rights which are inherent and inalienable, and therefore superior to the authority of the State, and it denies that the purpose of government is to secure these inalienable rights. To quote revealing excerpts from some academic sources: "There are, of course, no such things as inherent and inalienable rights. . . . Only by collective action can men lay down universal rules of conduct . . . the attempt to trace human rights to any other source is sheer fantasy." "Each man may do things, ought to do things that will be for the benefit of the community, but he has not the right to demand anything from the community. . . . The citizen, then, may and must do what the community determines it is best for him to do." Only recently the Chief Justice of the United States in an opinion declared: "There are no absolutes—all concepts are relative." One is tempted to call from the annals of history the men who wrote the Bill of Rights, the Declaration of Independence, and the Constitution of the United States. It was Montesquieu who said that a nation's decadence begins when it loses sight of the principles upon which it was founded.

No one among us would gloss over the real dangers that confront us. Espionage and sabotage are always threats to security. But we are succumbing to fear—to a fear that is, in large part, groundless and neurotic. This feeling of insecurity is being aggravated and exploited by reckless demagogues. It is becoming more and more impossible to shape foreign or domestic policies upon rational grounds. The democratic process cannot operate when disagreement is counted disloyalty. It is always easy to find a rationalization for the suppression of opinion, and the temptation to do so is very great when men are frightened and angry. The American people, with a revolutionary background, a tradition of independence and toleration, find themselves threatened by a growing dependence upon regimentation and uniformity and a weakening faith in the democratic process by which our nation has always found that inner security that rests not upon repression but freedom. And freedom is of God and not of men. Long ago William Penn said, "Unless we are ruled by God we shall be ruled by tyrants." No people can be secure in their rights any further than they believe that their rights are derived from God. Conscience can never be rooted in or bounded by society. It is God's inalienable gift to man and his inviolable birthright in a moral universe. Freedom is the right to choose; without this right of choice man is not a man but a thing. If he does not have the right to possess his mind and conscience he is a pawn or a puppet. And yet in at least three of the principal domains of our national life we are witnessing concerted and often vicious efforts to regiment thought and curb freedom of speech.

This pressure is very potent in the political life of our times. It denies liberty to men who by independence of thought claim the right to criticize the status quo and seek to improve it within the framework of the democratic process. It takes advantage of public anxiety over the East-West conflict and the struggle between Democracy and Communism to circumscribe our traditional liberty and to paralyze with fear those from whom we might expect wise leadership. This demagoguery smears the names of honest men by unfounded charges of traitorous connections. Rumor peddlers, enjoying congressional and legislative immunity or hiding behind innuendos or hearsay evidence, break down confidence in our society and throttle the free voice of free men. Is character so unprotected that it may be assassinated by unchecked rumors uttered by party fanatics who, under the guise of super-patriotism, hold no truth in reverence if a lie will better serve their unholy purposes? Thomas Jefferson, in his famous First Inaugural Address, said: "If there be any among you who wish to dissolve this Union, or to change its republican form, let them stand undisturbed, as monuments to the safety with which error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it."

This threat is equally alarming in the field of American education. There has broken out a rash of so-called loyalty oaths. They are, in reality, "non-disloyalty oaths." Take, for example, the story of the University of California. The efforts of the Regents to regiment every employee of the university by requiring him to subscribe to a pledge of "non-disloyalty" to his own country were, fortunately, declared unconstitutional by the courts, but the resultant affront to the sense of personal dignity and liberty lingers on. In one form or another this threat has invaded the campus of more than one university. The viciousness of this process evidences itself in the resultant stifling of the impulse to free and unbridled search for the truth. Universities are citadels of intellectual freedom, and it is against these citadels that the attack is launched because its aim is nothing less than the extinction of academic freedom. This is the road to sterile waste lands of intellectual death in American education. Hitler knew this deadly technique and regimented the once free and proud German universities. They were no longer a free voice but only the tool of a nefarious totalitarianism.

This process of controlling thought through fear of dismissal or withdrawal of support is moving in upon the public school system of America. Though the nature of the attack on the schools varies from place to place, the general pattern is identical. The attackers use the same techniques, the same literature and the same sweeping charges. They accuse teachers and textbooks of being subversive; they link modern educational practices with Communism; and they attempt to stampede parents into believing that our public schools are the breeding grounds of totalitarianism. A Committee of the House of Representatives declares: "The review of textbooks by self-appointed experts smacks too much of the book-burning orgies of Nuremburg to be accepted by thoughtful Americans without foreboding and alarm." Often those who direct these campaigns of slander and insinuation are, themselves, not accredited educators but charlatans who parade as saviors of our public school system, seeking to resurrect outmoded methods in education and stir up strife and suspicion in the name of democracy. As Jesus said of the Pharisees: "Verily they have their reward."

Our country was founded upon what appeared to be a wild and reckless faith in the common man. Our strength has always been in the inquiring, individual human mind. We have long known that when you control the mind you control the man, and when you control the man, you have no longer a Democracy but a Slave State, subject to the whim of the demagogue or the will of the tyrant. Life is in the human spirit, the hungers and the longings that drive it, the sense of infinite personal worth that supports it, the feeling of freedom, of creativity, and of beauty that lifts it—this is God's gift to the free man and the heritage for which our sons have died on a hundred battlefields.

It would seem inevitable that this same trend should make itself felt in religion. And we suffer our share of it in Methodism. There have always been both preachers and laymen among us who want to declare "out of bounds" any Methodist who dares to think and preach independently and creatively upon the issues of the current social and economic order. They profess great love for their Church, they have a heavy stake in the preservation of the existing order, and they want their Church to stay off controversial subjects and proclaim what they so naively call the "old-fashioned gospel." They want to preserve "the original character of Methodism." Would God they knew their history better! Early Methodism stood in the center of a swirling century of revolution and preached alike its gospel of personal regeneration and social reform. Original Methodism was a bold and challenging defense of the rights of the underprivileged and the dispossessed against the predatory indifference of an economic aristocracy most of whom were perfectly decorous members of a Church that had forgotten its mission to the multitude. This social concern is in our bloodstream.

In recent years one of the bedrock principles of American Democracy has been widely and covertly assailed. From the time when Roger Williams founded the colony of Rhode Island upon the principle of soul liberty and the complete separation of Church and State we have steadfastly resisted any attempt to make the Church the vassal of the State or to control the State by any ecclesiastical hierarchy. We do not believe in a State supported or controlled Church. We believe in a free Church resting upon the consciences and the support of free men. We want no ambassadors in our Church Councils save the ambassadors of Christ who come in the humble garb of servants of the Most High. We want no representatives to any Church-State, especially to one whose political entity is a fictitious presumption, and whose ecclesiastical autocracy is ill-concealed by the scanty robes of an artificial and diminutive State. This is not religious intolerance; it is plain, straight-thinking, honest Americanism.

We believe in a free pulpit but we also believe in a free pew. Ministers seek no immunity from criticism by hiding behind the cloth. The liberty we ask for preachers we gladly share with the layman. Search for truth, freedom of discussion, honest and open approach to every debatable subject—these are the paths to the goals we both seek. We all love our Church and obey the same Lord. But unity does not grow out of uniformity, it grows out of resolved conflict. We have room, thank God, in Methodism, for the conservative and the liberal and also for that vast multitude who are more interested in fighting the good fight than they are in fighting their fellow Methodists. Labels are often libels. We get nowhere by calling names or casting shadowy doubt around the character of honorable men. Black lists of supposed subversives are essentially unfair. We reassert our complete confidence in the fidelity, the loyalty, and the Christian character of the leaders of this Methodism of ours. We appeal to men to look for the best in Methodism and not for the worst, to give to the Church the lift of faith rather than the load of doubt. We want for all of us only the liberty wherewith God hath set us free. And when Methodists cannot make up their minds about any issue before them, their place is on their knees and the answer is to be found in the discovery of the mind of Christ.

This whole question of freedom is assuming alarming proportions in American life. In many instances we are redefining freedom and debasing the coinage of the word until it means "freedom to be like everybody else, to think as the majority in the town, or state or country thinks, to teach what the legislature or the dominant political or religious opinion wants taught." This is the creeping miasma of intimidation. It is not freedom as our fathers understood it, but totalitarianism as our enemies practice it in the name of Democracy. Not only legislative Committees but vigilante groups of private citizens have taken it upon themselves to tell us to think as they decree or be listed as subversives. The defense of this country against Communism will not come through practicing the tactics of the police state. It will arise out of the wellsprings of liberty in the hearts of individual men who dare, untrammelled and uncontrolled, to search for the truth as God gives them to see the truth and to utter it without fear or favor because they are Americans in the glorious tradition of free men.

OUR MISSION TO THE MULTITUDE

A discerning magazine writer a few years ago referred to our Church as the "typical American Church." The implication was clear that we reached and represented a cross section of American life. Our nine million members in this country and our vast membership and constituency at home and abroad represents perhaps the most solid single Protestant group seeking to realize here on earth the Kingdom of God. We are, therefore, by virtue of our geographical spread and our historic emphasis, a people's Church. And such we must remain.

The trends of Church membership in the larger religious bodies of America present some interesting and startling facts. With few exceptions the Churches having a conspicuously rapid growth are the small, Protestant "sects" (so-called). These are of an intensely evangelistic type, strongly Bible-centered and frequently apocalyptic, emphasizing the Second Coming of Christ. Once they made their appeal to the socially disadvantaged, but today they are attracting larger numbers of middle-class families. It may be worthwhile to remind our modern Methodists that the Church they inherited had its origin among the socially dispossessed and was regarded as an unrespected "sect" in both England and America. In seeking the explanation of the phenomenal growth of these small conservative groups, we do not have to look far. Many of them exhibit the characteristics of early Methodism. Is their secret not to be found in their zeal for God and their Church, their increasing evangelistic fervor, their response to Bible-centered preaching, their tie-up of emotion with religious experience, their unquestioning acceptance of certain fundamental doctrinal emphases, and last of all, their almost universal expectation and requirement of tithing upon the part of all their membership? Without doubt they have their weaknesses and shortcomings, and few among us would want to work over Methodism into the conservative pattern of these religious enthusiasts.

But we are not as smart as we think we are if we do not seek to learn from them the basis of religious response among the common people and adjust our approach to their felt need. If we do not, we have forgotten the stories of George Whitefield and John Wesley and Francis Asbury.

Methodism has a message to the multitude, and in delivering it she does not need to go off after the swamp fires of a wild and unbiblical apocalypticism, nor does she need to debase her intellectual self-respect with an arid, dogmatic, legalistic literalism. She needs only to preach with warmth and vigor and conviction the gospel of God's redeeming love and our salvation in Jesus Christ who lived and died for us. What we need is to discover a great concern for people, a passion that flames in our heart to share with lost men and women our redemptive experience in Christ. We dare to assert that God raised Methodism up not to be a class Church. John Wesley did not envision a Church home where the intellectually elite might be free to roam at will and where the economically privileged might nurse their pride and escape the judgments of the Almighty. What we had in those days was a zeal for Christian perfection, a fervid evangelism that flamed like a fire in our blood, a message rooted in a sane and spiritual interpretation of God's Word, an experience of Christ in our hearts that rushed to our lips in testimony, and a practice of stewardship which, faced with poverty, built out of nothing the structure of our Methodism in the cities of England and in the wilderness that was America and laid the foundations of our modern missionary enterprise. These are not the mechanics of religion, they are its spirit. The secret was not superb organization, it was rather a dynamic earnestness which would not be denied. Our Church can once again discover the marks of a Methodist, and God can use to his glory our immense resources and our chastened spirits for the evangelization of this world—even in this generation.

WE LOOK TO THE FUTURE

We stand at the end of the most momentous half century since the beginning of the Christian Era. Across our world there sweep cyclonic forces which shake the very foundations of our modern civilization. Amid all this welter of change and revolution the Church of Jesus Christ stands, stricken in conscience because of its disunity and its shortcomings, but resolute and unfaltering in the presence of a broken and heartsick world. Our hope is not in ourselves but in God who brought us to birth and gave us our high commission. His faithfulness is our security, and no cause is hopeless if we are on His side.

This is not the first dark hour in history. We have walked in the depths before. A world disillusioned by facile optimism must turn at last back home to God. The firm foundation still stands. The moral order is inviolate. Sin destroys itself. The goods of secularism turn to ashes before our eyes. Only the good lasts. Righteousness alone is eternal. The answer is to be found in Christ Who, from the foundation of the world, has willed not defeat but victory for the spirit of man. Some day these kingdoms that thwart His will shall be conquered by His irresistible love and bow before the sign of His authority which is the sign of the cross.

"O timorous Church of Christ! cease counting your gains and losses:

The Future, imperiled, is calling with the voice of a million crosses!

Calling for faithful prophets and seers to rise up and prophesy—

To kindle a fading vision afresh lest a visionless people die.

Our sins are many, our needs are sore, O prophets, show us the roll—

Take up the scales of God once more and weigh the things of the soul.

Point not wholly to the patriarchs for the guidance we need today.

Scrolls of the ancients we cherish, but the prophets must lead the way.

Waits the importunate world for a word to quicken its heart again;

Then speak, O Church, and rekindle the faith in a world of despairing men."

(Marshall Wingfield.)

If Methodism will walk with Him, obey His will, yield itself, with all its riches of life and possessions, to the sway of His eternal purpose, then the future is bright with promise, and God will crown our Church with the seal of His favor. "Now I commend you to God and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up and give you the inheritance among all those who are consecrated." "For God did not give us a spirit of timidity but a spirit of power and love and self-control." "Now to Him who by the power at work within us is able to do far more abundantly than all that we ask or think, to Him be glory in the Church and in Christ Jesus to all generations, for ever and ever. AMEN."

tion to the Council of Bishops, and especially to Bishop Paul B. Kern, who delivered the Address, for this masterful message.

The Address reviewed the work of The Methodist Church in the past, commending it for its successes and pointing out the areas of our life in which the Church has come short. It emphasized the importance of the present moment and urged the Church to improve its opportunities. It was prophetic, in that it pointed the way The Methodist Church, and all mankind must travel, if the world shall ever realize that glorious estate which Jesus Christ our Lord described as the Kingdom of God.

This Address should have a wholesome influence upon the actions of this General Conference.

Having such leadership in our Chief Pastors, the Council of Bishops, as this Address reveals, we thank God, and take courage.

Statement Ordered to Record—Clyde E. Lundy

Motion of Clyde E. Lundy (Holston), duly seconded, prevailed that the statement and Resolution be approved and adopted by the General Conference, and that it be printed in the Journal of this session of the General Conference. The statement and Resolution, as read by Waight G. Henry, Sr. (North Alabama) is as follows:

The Reverend J. Stewart French, D.D.

Since the last meeting of the Judicial Council, the Reverend Dr. J. Stewart French, our former colleague and friend, has gone to be numbered with the saints in glory everlasting. This sad news came to us through the following telegram:

"My husband had hoped to attend General Conference now being held in the Golden Gate City, San Francisco. But man proposes and God disposes. He deemed it wise to send Stewart to another Golden Gate into the Eternal City of God. He left us at 7:30 P.M., Thursday, April 17. The Judicial Council was his 'pet' for which he worked four years before it became a reality.

"MRS. J. STEWART FRENCH"

Dr. French served in the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South, with notable distinction. He was a pastor in Jacksonville, Florida, Atlanta, Ga., Birmingham, Ala., Memphis, Tenn., and Nashville, Tenn., besides serving in many of the leading appointments in the Holston Conference over a term of years.

He was often consulted by the leaders of our Church and was always found to be a trusted counselor. He was a man of sound judgment and penetrating insight; firm in his opposition to what he thought to be erroneous, but never lacking in charity in his final decisions. At more than one General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, he received a substantial vote for Bishop. Though not elected to that high office he was entirely worthy and competent.

Dr. French was a delegate to each session of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, from 1910 to and including 1934. At the 1926 session of the General Conference a Committee was appointed to revise the Constitution of the Church. Dr. French was a member of this Committee. To the task of preparing an acceptable provision for a Judicial Council to be inserted in the revised Constitution he devoted himself with both zeal and fidelity. In this task he was greatly aided by Judge Martin E. Lawson, a member of the present Judicial Council.

FOURTH DAY, SATURDAY, APRIL 26, 1952, MORNING SESSION

To the 1930 session of the General Conference this Committee submitted the result of its labors. The revised Constitution as a unit was rejected by the General Conference, but the provision for a Judicial Council was lifted out of the Report of the Committee and adopted as a Constitutional Amendment. During the succeeding quadrennium this Amendment was adopted by the members of the several Annual Conferences of the Church.

At the 1934 session of the General Conference this Amendment to the Constitution of the Church was put into operation. Dr. French was elected as one of the clerical members of the body which had been brought into existence largely through his efforts. On organization of the first Judicial Council he was elected Secretary, a position in which he served with characteristic fidelity until union became a reality.

If anything more is necessary to proclaim Dr. French' statesmanship in the legal realm of the Church he so loved and served, it is found in the fact that when the legality of union was brought into question at the 1938 session of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, it was he who drafted the major portion of the Decision of the Judicial Council upholding the validity of union—a Decision that has commanded the respect of the highest appellate courts of our States and Nation in all litigation that has reached them involving disputes over property rights growing out of Union.

But Dr. French's services did not end with Union. He was a delegate to the Uniting Conference in 1939, and was elected by it to the Judicial Council of The Methodist Church, a position he held until his retirement on account of age at the 1948 session of the General Conference.

In our counsels we shall miss the warmth of his great Christian personality, the depth of his understanding and the impelling force of his arguments. Above all we shall miss the inspiration of that sweet fellowship we had with him across the years. His permanent memorial is found in the record of his outstanding service to the Church, both as a statesman and as a minister of the gospel.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, that we hereby register our sense of loss in his departure.

Be It Further Resolved, that we make a record of this statement and Resolution in our minutes, and forward to Mrs. J. Stewart French a copy of same with our sincere sympathy, assuring her of our continued love and prayers.

It is with gratitude that we note, as evidenced by the telegram quoted above, that she is sustained by that same living faith that sustained her distinguished husband until he was called last Thursday (April 17) to pass through The "Golden Gate into the Eternal City of God."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) presented Report No. 1 of the Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, Subject, "Co-ordinating Council."

In a preliminary statement before introducing Report No. 1, Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) as a matter of high privilege, expressed the thanks of the Committee of Six on Conference, and also of the General Conference, to the Commission to Study the Local Church, for this gracious courtesy extended to the Committee of Six on Conference, for the early presentation of Report No. 1; and then made the following statement:

"There is one matter I should like very much to clear up for you all. When we met yesterday one member of the three in the Committee of Six representing the opposition to the Report of the Survey Commission said that a rumor had been going around the General Conference that Mr. Charles Parlin was being paid to represent the opposition to the Report. We assumed that was entirely absurd as even a rumor, and yet there have been several rumors going around and we would like to clear up this one: The members of the Survey Commission who are on the Committee of Six are completely convinced that Mr. Parlin is doing his service for the General Conference as a Delegate in exactly the same way all the rest of us are serving and that there is no pay of any kind involved for him."

Continuing Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) said further:

"For the record we would also like to clear one other matter: The question has been raised about Mr. Thomas Harwood's being here. He is a Consultant with reference to the Survey Commission. He is an alternate Delegate to the Conference, and he is here entirely at his own expense."

The General Conference applauded both of these statements.

At the top of column 3, DCA-37 delete lines 1, 2, 3 and 4, which read:

"Its decisions concerning such issues shall be binding upon the agencies involved and it shall place responsibility on the appropriate agencies for carrying out the decisions."

and substitute therefore the words:

Delete the words "such decisions," found in line five, following the words, "A record of all," and substituting therefore the word "recommendations," so that the amended paragraph shall read:

In the event of non-compliance, the recommendations shall be reported to the next General Conference. A record of all recommendations shall be kept; a report of each shall be forwarded to the Council of Bishops, the Council on World Service and Finance, and the Secretary of the General Conference."

"3. In consultation with the Council of Bishops, the Executive Secretary of each General Agency, and the President and the Treasurer of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, it shall formulate and present to the General Conference, for its action and determination, plans for a unified, on-going program for the Church, including long range objectives. The financial objectives shall be recommended by the Council on World Service and Finance to the General Conference for its action."

SEVENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Other ships were blown and battered,
 Other ships were sore distressed,
 But the winds that seemed to drive them
 Brought to us a peace and rest.

Then I thought of other mornings
 With a keen remorse of mind,
 When I too had loosed the moorings
 With the Presence left behind.

So I think I know the secret,
 Learn through Him untroubled way;
 You must seek Him in the morning,
 If you want Him through the day."

They have proved themselves at all points true ministers of God by great endurance, by suffering and troubles, by toils and selflessness, enormous insight and patience, kindness, unaffected love, true words and the power of God. They have labored with the weapons of integrity for attack and defense. Unknown—they are well known. Poor—they are rich. Grieved—they are always glad, and having nothing, by the fruits of their ministry they possess everything. All of their lives they have labored that the Church might be presented before Him in splendor, without spot or wrinkle or flaw. Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) raised the following Point of Order:

"When your Committee met last night, and finally agreed upon their method of presenting the problems, it was agreed that they would be separated and presented to you as separate issues. We are now under point 3, which deals with the principle of the size of the Boards. This does not involve the question on which Reverend Calkins spoke. We come to that under Items 4 and 5 at a later time. The two points are completely independent."

Ruling of Bishop A. Frank Smith

"There is a fine distinction there. The larger number of Bishops had to do with a larger membership. Of course, since Bishops are considered specifically later, there is a point also to what you say. So the Chairman stands with a foot in either camp and recognizes the brother now before you?"

M. R. Mobley () Against the Principle of Reduction*

M. Randolph Mobley (*) (South Carolina-SE) spoke against the principle of the reduction of the membership of the General Boards and Agencies.

Closing Debate on Question 3—C. C. Parlin (*)—H. C. Case

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) closed the debate on the adoption of Question 3, which proposes the principle of the reduction of the membership of General Boards and Agencies, speaking against the adoption of Question 3.

Question Raised—Mrs. S. W. Tillman (*)—Answered H. C. Case

Mrs. Sadie Wilson Tillman (*) (Tennessee-SE) raised the following question:

"We are just wondering if this will be accepted as a mandate that all Boards must be reduced."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied as follows:

"There is no mandate involved. It is the establishment of a principle, and then the entire matter, the size of every Board and Agency, would still be before the General Conference for a decision."

Question 3 Adopted

Question 3, "Whether in principle there shall be any reduction in the size of membership of the General Boards and Agencies," on being put to the vote of the General Conference, was adopted.

NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Clarifying Information—Bishop A. Frank Smith

Bishop A. Frank Smith asked the following question:

"Now, pardon me just a moment. Allow the Chair to ask a question here for clarification. The present practice and law of the Church is that every Bishop belongs to the Board of Missions, every Bishop belongs to the Board of Education. Do you proponents of this mean that if this is adopted, then that legislation must be changed, so that every Bishop shall not belong to those? Or, if it remains in that fashion, no Bishop shall be on the Council on World Service, or on the Co-ordinating Council?

Harold C. Case (Southern-California-Arizona). It means that an amendment would have to be passed.

Bishop A. Frank Smith. That is what you have in mind?

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona). Yes.

Bishop A. Frank Smith. That would affect the structure of those Boards?

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona). That is correct.

Bishop A. Frank Smith. That was merely for information."

NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Question Raised—C. S. Kendall—H. C. Case Replies

Charles S. Kendall (Southern California-Arizona) asked the following question:

"I would like to ask Dr. Case, if this Item 4 should be decided in the negative, that is, the Bishop may not be a member of the Council, and also of a General Agency, if that should be the decision, would it preclude the Bishops from sitting on any or all Boards of the General Agencies as observers and ex officio members, but without the right to vote? They could be there even though they were not members?"

"Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona). They could sit in every Board and Agency with the full effect of all the information that would come to them, but without vote."

L. T. Moore Speaks in Opposition

Leon T. Moore (Philadelphia) spoke in opposition to the pending matter.

Previous Question Moved and Ordered—A. W. Pugh

Bradford V. Powell (Missouri) moved the previous question on the pending matter. The motion was duly seconded.

Question Raised—P. V. Shearer ()—Answered—Bishop A. Frank Smith*

Paul V. Shearer (*) (Iowa-Des Moines) asked the following question:

"The question I would like to ask is whether or not the Committee or Council on World Service and Finance have the power to allocate the various sums of money to the General Agencies? If they do, it seems to me that we have a principle involved regarding determination."

"Bishop A. Frank Smith: You, sir, are discussing the question, Mr. Shearer. The answer to your question is, That they do."

Previous Question Ordered

The previous question on Section 2 of Question 4, was ordered by more than the two-thirds vote by the General Conference.

The following:

"5. Bishops who are not members of the Co-ordinating Council, or the Council on World Service and Finance may be members of the Board of Missions and the Board of Education." (See statement of H. C. Case, bottom of page 425.)

The motion to substitute was duly seconded by Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark).

Question Raised—W. B. Robinson—Answered—H. C. Case—C. C. Parlin ()*

William B. Robinson (North-East Ohio) raised the following question:

"The question I am raising, sir, is if we have not already taken care of that matter, in our vote on No. 1 where we have listed the tenure in all Divisions and Boards and Commissions, would those Bishops, then, who have served longer than eight years in their capacity be barred by this action?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied as follows:

"At least much the Committee could clear. It is not intended, of course, under Section 1 of this Report to apply to membership on the Council of Bishops, or membership on the Judicial Council."

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) said,

"This was clearly the intention of your Committee of Six, and was understood so."

Question of Legality of Proposed Action—L. T. Moore

C. V. Adams () Against Referring*

Charles V. Adams (*) (Central Pennsylvania) spoke against the motion to refer.

Question Raised—C. S. Kendall—Reply—Bishop Smith

Charles S. Kendall (Southern California-Arizona) raised the following question:

"The question I would like to ask the Chair is whether or not, if this motion of reference prevails, it would give the Committee of Six opportunity to resolve the confusion implicit in Dr. Case's motion and the proposed giving the Bishops opportunity to give special help in the suggested reorganization of the Church. There seems to be confusion. Would not this motion of reference give the Committee of Six an opportunity to study that further?"

Bishop A. Frank Smith replied:

"The Chair is unable to specify as to what areas the Committee of Six might explore if this is referred to them. The immediate motion before the General Conference is that of Dr. Case and the subsequent motion of Dr. Bucke that the motion of Dr. Case be referred back to the Committee of Six."

Previous Question Moved—E. D. Worley—Held in Abeyance

Elbert D. Worley (Holston) moved the previous question on the pending matter, but held his motion in abeyance until a question raised by Frederick B. Newell (New York East) could be answered.

Question—F. B. Newell—Answered—H. C. Case

Frederick B. Newell (New York East) raised the following question:

"I would like to ask Dr. Case what exactly he meant when he said that paragraph or Question 1 did not apply to the Council of Bishops or to the Judicial Council? Many of us assume that he meant that their term should not be limited."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied as follows:

NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"Mr. Chairman, the question was the matter of tenure. I wanted to make it clear that if passed, point 1 on tenure, limiting it to eight years, would not apply to the Judicial Council, or to members of the Council of Bishops."

Question—J. K. Mathews—Answer—Bishop A. Frank Smith

James K. Mathews (Bombay) raised the following questions:

"We certainly do not have under discussion the tenure of Bishops as Bishops. It is rather their possible tenure on the various Boards. The question would be, are they also limited to eight years in their tenure on any or all of the Boards?"

Bishop A. Frank Smith replied:

"The answer is yes, they are."

Question—F. B. Newell—Answer—H. C. Case

Frederick B. Newell (New York East) raised this further question:

"May I then in view of that answer (the answer of Bishop A. Frank Smith), ask Dr. Case one more question? Would it not mean, then, Dr. Case, that if all the Bishops except those who may be upon the World Service Council, and the Co-ordinating Council, should be on the Board of Missions at the end of eight years, all of them would have to go off?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied as follows:

"We would be obliged, Mr. Chairman, to write in the exception, if that is the will of the Conference, except for membership on the Board of Missions and membership on the Board of Education from among the Bishops of the Church."

Previous Question—E. D. Worley—Adopted

The motion of Elbert D. Worley (Holston) for the previous question, previously made and held in abeyance until certain questions had been raised, and answered, being duly seconded, prevailed by more than the two-thirds majority vote of the General Conference, and the previous question was ordered.

NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Motion to Defer—C. P. Hardin—Not Adopted

Cecil P. Hardin (Holston) moved that action on the matter involved in the motion of Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) be deferred until the Reports are brought in from these various Boards as to their membership. The motion was duly seconded.

The motion of Cecil P. Hardin (Holston) to defer action, on being put to a vote of the General Conference, was not adopted.

Motion Re Board Membership—W. R. Cannon—Out of Order—Bishop A. Frank Smith

William R. Cannon (North Georgia) moved as a substitute for the motion of Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) that not more than twelve Bishops, two from each Jurisdiction, shall be members of the Board of Education and the Board of Missions.

Bishop A. Frank Smith ruled that the motion was out of order, as Report No. 1 of the General Standing Committee on Education, Calendar No. 5, DCA-153, Column 3, Subject, "Organization of the Board of Education," had previously been adopted at the evening session of Thursday, May 1, 1952, fixing the membership of the Board of Education to include all effective Bishops resident in the United States.

Personal Privilege—C. C. Parlin ()*

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) as a matter of personal privilege stated that he considered it impossible for the Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission to work out all of the organizational details, and urgently recommended that all such matters be left with the Legislative Committee of each respective Board.

Previous Question—L. S. Ivins ()—Ordered*

Lester S. Ivins (*) (Ohio) moved the previous question on the pending matter. The motion, duly seconded, prevailed by more than the necessary two-thirds vote of the General Conference, and the previous question was ordered.

Closing Remarks—H. C. Case—C. C. Parlin ()*

Under the call of the previous question Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) said:

"Mr. Chairman, it was the intention of the motion to say, in order that the Committee of Six may bring you a specific recommendation."

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) stated he had nothing further to say.

Section 5 Adopted

Section 5 was adopted as follows:

"5. Bishops who are not members of the Co-ordinating Council or the Council on World Service and Finance may be members of the Board of Missions and the Board of Education, in order that the Committee of Six may bring you a specific recommendation."

Question Raised Re Tenure—E. A. Love—Answered—H. C. Case

Edgar A. Love (Washington) raised this question:

"Item No. 1: I understood Dr. Case to say it was not their intention to include the Bishops in this provision, but no action has been taken on No. 1 which exempts them from this condition."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, the intention of No. 1 was that tenure would apply to Bishops for all Agencies and Boards of the Church, with the exception of special action that might be taken concerning the Board of Education and the Board of Missions, and excepting the Council of Bishops."

Motion to Reconsider Section 1—E. A. Love—Not Adopted

Having voted with the prevailing side, Edgar A. Love (Washington) moved a reconsideration of Section 1 on tenure of membership.

The motion was duly seconded, but on being put to a vote of the General Conference was not adopted.

Motion to Extend Time—R. H. Nichols—Not Adopted

Ray H. Nichols (*) (Northwest Texas) moved to extend the time.

The motion, duly seconded, was not adopted.

Adoption of Report as a Whole—Point of Order—J. E. Skillington—Point of Order Sustained

Bishop A. Frank Smith started to present the Report as a whole for adoption, when J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) made the following Point of Order:

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the Conference: Dr. Cannon's motion was ruled out of order because it was in conflict with the action taken by the Conference last night determining that all effective members of the Council of Bishops resident in the United States shall be members of the Board of Education.

"Dr. Case's motion, then, was also out of order, and we have by adopting it, adopted something that was contrary to the action we took last night.

NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"Last night we took action saying that all the Bishops effective in the United States shall be members of the Board of Education, now we have taken action to say that all should be members except those who are on these other two Agencies.

"Where do we stand?"

Bishop A. Frank Smith ruled that the point of order was well taken.

Time Extended by Common Consent

The hour of adjournment nearing, by unanimous common consent the time of this session was extended.

Motion to Amend Set of Questions—C. C. Parlin ()*

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) moved that the Report before the General Conference be amended to carry instructions that the details as to the constitution of the Boards be referred to the respective Legislative Committees.

The motion to amend, by reference, being duly seconded, Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) spoke to the same.

R. C. Calkins Against Referral

Raoul C. Calkins (Iowa-De Moines) spoke against the motion to refer.

E. W. Peterson () For Motion to Refer*

Ernest W. Peterson (*) (Oregon) spoke for the motion to refer.

Question—J. O. Gross—Answer—C. C. Parlin ()*

John O. Gross (Kentucky) asked the following question:

"Does the amendment carry only matters concerning membership on the Board, or does it carry also the reconciliation of parts of legislation which may be in variance with what has been adopted today?"

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) answered the question, as follows:

"We did two things today. We adopted Report No. 3, which carries some legislation. That is on your books.

"Then we submitted to you five questions, merely for direction and advice. We have received your answers.

"Now comes the task of following your instructions as to the legislation to draft. We have on the basis of these answers some wide open territory for debate. On a Board, how many Bishops should you have? What Jurisdiction should they come from? How many laymen? How many laywomen on each Board? The construction of the individual Boards, even the numbers. It is all so wide open. As Dr. Case said, you still have the questions of how much to reduce your Boards. Do you reduce them by one man? By 20 percent? Do you cut them in half? I think those are the questions which must be thrashed out.

NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"It seems to me the Legislative Committees find that within their legislative means, and they should bring back to the floor of this General Conference their recommendations on legislation on that point, just as the Legislative Committee always does do. It would be normal, standard procedure."

Bishop A. Frank Smith asked Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) if he had anything to say. The answer was, No.

Amendment to Amendment—R. E. Clay

Russell E. Clay (Southern California-Arizona) moved to amend the motion to refer by adding "In harmony with the principles in Sections 1, 2 and 3 adopted this morning."

The motion to amend the amendment to refer, being duly seconded, Russell E. Clay (Southern California-Arizona) spoke to the same.

Point of Order—V. M. Mouser ()—Out of Order—Bishop A. Frank Smith*

Vincent M. Mouser (*) (Louisiana-SC) raised a point of order as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, I raise a point of order, that the Survey Commission had assigned the responsibility for dealing with these problems which had arisen with respect to the Survey Report, to the Committee of Six.

"In order that we might discharge that responsibility we requested instructions from the General Conference upon these specific issues.

"Now, what the Conference has done is to advise us as to what we should do in principle with respect to these matters. I feel that it would be out of order to tack onto that a transferring to the Legislative Committees, unless you would also direct us to consider that no longer any of our business."

Bishop A. Frank Smith replied, as follows:

"The Chair will have to rule that the amendment is in order unless you appeal, Judge Mouser."

Parliamentary Situation Stated—Bishop A. Frank Smith

Bishop A. Frank Smith stated the parliamentary situation as follows:

"We have a motion to adopt this paper. We have an amendment to refer the paper to the Legislative Committees. We have an amendment to the amendment giving instructions that the three principles adopted be considered."

NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Question Asked—A. G. Walton—Answered—Bishop A. Frank Smith

Aubrey G. Walton (Little Rock) raised a question which was answered by Bishop A. Frank Smith.

Point of Order Raised—J. E. Skillington—Well Taken

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) raised the point of order that the amendment that was offered gave some instructions, namely that it was to refer in accordance with the judgments of the General Conference expressed in their previous votes on these questions, and therefore it was not an amendment at all, but a straight motion of reference.

Ruling of Bishop A. Frank Smith

Bishop A. Frank Smith ruled as follows:

"The point is well taken. It is matter of referral, rather than an adoption of the Report with the amendment of instruction."

N. B. Harmon Speaks to Pending Motion

Nolan B. Harmon (Baltimore), Book Editor spoke to the pending matter stating that we were dealing with the Discipline and the legislation which goes into the Discipline, and that to proceed properly we should have the actual legislation of the present Discipline before us with any and all suggested changes.

H. C. Case Speaks to Motion to Refer

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) spoke to the motion to refer, as follows:

"If now you vote to refer a portion of the Report of the Committee of Six brought to you today in order to get your judgment, you would defeat the method by which we have been working, and reduce us to an atomistic condition again. If you would defeat the motion to refer, then you would have enhanced the principles, the entire 1 to 5 reports you have passed, one by one. You will then simply say to the Committee of Six, 'Well, you come back with a specific report for the full consideration of the Conference to vote up or down as the Conference may wish.'"

C. C. Parlin () Speaks to Motion to Refer*

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) spoke to the motion to refer, as follows:

"Here Dr. Case and I have some different concepts of our Committee of Six. We have been discussing principles on which we could agree, and today you have heard the first principles on which we were not in agreement, and we presented them to you for guidance.

"We have your answers, and I am not asking in any way for a reconsideration, but within those questions—and all you have done is to answer certain questions—somebody has got to sit down and do some hard work on legislative drafting and co-ordinating the Discipline as it exists, and try to fit in what you have suggested in your will today.

NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"That is the job of Legislative Committees. I don't believe this Committee of Six was set up with the idea that we are going to redraft the Discipline. Certainly I don't think so. I think now the Legislative Committees would pick up and act in the light of the guidance which you today gave them."

D. E. Walter () for Referring Report to Committee of Six*

Dwight E. Walter (*) (Ohio) spoke against referring the Report to the Legislative Committees, and for referring the Report to the Committee of Six.

Previous Question—V. D. Morris—Ordered

Virgil D. Morris (Louisiana-SC) moved the previous question on everything before the General Conference.

The motion, duly seconded, prevailed by more than the required two-thirds vote of the General Conference, and the previous question was ordered on all before the General Conference.

Question of R. C. Baker

Rufus C. Baker (Colorado) raised the following question:

"If we refer these 5 questions without adopting them as a whole, then will the several Legislative Committees have your choice in this matter before them, or will they be left free to make their own decision as to all these matters that have been presented in these questions?"

Reply of Bishop A. Frank Smith

Bishop A. Frank Smith replied as follows:

"The Chair would presume that the Legislative Committees will act under the instructions contained in the principles here adopted."

Parliamentary Situation Discussed by J. E. Skillington

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) spoke to the parliamentary situation as follows:

"If the motion to refer prevails, we have adopted nothing, though there appears to be a bit of difference between the two spokesmen of the different sides here. I understand Mr. Parlin to say they have brought us just five questions, and we have given answers to those questions, and anyway, if we are going to vote on the thing as a whole, that implies our adoption to 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 was only a tentative adoption, and didn't become a real adoption, until we adopt the whole.

"Now, if we refer, before we adopt the whole, we haven't adopted anything."

NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Statement of Bishop A. Frank Smith

Bishop A. Frank Smith replied as follows:

"We have adopted the five individually, and Mr. Parlin offered an amendment, which you informed us later, and we accepted the same, was a move to refer that that amendment carried with the direction as it was adopted as a whole that these five points be taken to the respective Legislative Committees. That was the purpose of your motion, was it not, Mr. Parlin?"

Reply of C. C. Parlin ()*

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) replied as follows:

"You have stated it correctly, Bishop. I in no way intended to open up or review the answers which you had given to the five questions. This is simply a motion to adopt in total the five after you have adopted them seriatim.

"The question is, who picks up those recommendations and works on them afterwards? My amendment was designed to force the Legislative Committees to now study the structures of their respective Boards in the light of your decisions."

Response of J. E. Skillington

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) replied as follows:

"Well, if his motion to refer was after it was adopted, then the motion to refer ought to have been made after it was adopted."

Statement of Bishop A. Frank Smith

"Well, we all know where we are headed, Doctor. Now, whether we are on the road exactly or not, no one would question your astuteness there. The point is Mr. Parlin is not trying to circumvent the action of this Conference.

"The action having been taken on the five, and we now having come to the point to adopt as a whole, Mr. Parlin wishes these to be referred to the respective Legislative Committees, which will consider these as instructions and will bring in the necessary legislation to implement the whole.

"Now, an amendment was offered there that carried with it the declaration that we recognize the first three principles as binding. Mr. Parlin had no thought of not recognizing them as binding in the motion he made."

C. C. Parlin () Makes Statement*

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) made the following statement:

"I do not accept that as an amendment because it limits it. I don't think you should limit any principles. I think all the principles should be adopted in accordance with your wish and handled in the way I have indicated."

Amendment to Amendment Not in Order—Bishop A. Frank Smith

Bishop A. Frank Smith made the following statement:

"The reason the amendment to the amendment was offered was because the last two have to do with Bishops, and the first three with certain principles, but Mr. Parlin declares that his motion did not invalidate your action with respect to principles. Therefore, the amendment to the amendment is not in order unless his purpose is questioned. "That is the point he makes."

Question Raised—T. C. Hall ()*

Thomas C. Hall (*) (Pacific Northwest) asked the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask this question. If we refer these questions to the various Committees, the Committee of Six to which we have referred the Survey Report is still in possession of the Survey Report, and has not reported it back to this Conference for its consideration. At the present time, they have only asked for guidance in considering that Report. If we refer these recommendations to the various Committees, they have nothing before them except—"

Answer of Bishop A. Frank Smith

Bishop A. Frank Smith replied, as follows:

"You are making a speech, sir, though you are asking a question as to whether that will leave anything before them.

"The Chair is of the opinion that the motion is altogether in order, and the Legislative Committees and the Committee of Six would clarify that."

Point of Order—L. D. Slutz () Ruling of Bishop A. Frank Smith*

Leonard D. Slutz (*) (Ohio) started to raise a point of order, and Bishop A. Frank Smith stated "We are acting under the previous question."

Point of Order—L. J. Radcliffe—Sustained

Lynn J. Radcliffe (Ohio) was recognized and made the following statement:

"I have never before made a point of order. I do not want to delay our procedure at this time; I want to clarify it. I wonder whether a motion to adopt the entire Report is in order? This is not a Report. These were five separate questions brought to us for our judgment. We have spoken. That action should stand. I believe it was the final action on each of these five. With that interpretation Mr. Parlin is in agreement, and Dr. Case is in agreement. I wonder whether we may ask the question of the point of order, why we should adopt this as a whole? We have adopted directly what we democratically described as our will. Those principles stand; they need no further action."

NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Ruling—Bishop A. Frank Smith

Bishop A. Frank Smith made the following statement:

"The point will be sustained with that interpretation. But the Chair assumed naturally that this is a Report brought in; it isn't numbered, consisting of various sections. We adopt the various sections and then the Report as a whole. That is the invariable procedure.

"But if the proponents of these questions wish to say that they brought them in merely for information, and each question took care of itself, the matter has been settled, and then we are without a motion upon the whole."

Motion to Adjourn—L. D. Slutz ()—Held in Abeyance*

Leonard D. Slutz (*) (Ohio) moved that we do now adjourn.

Bishop A. Frank Smith replied, "Just a minute. Let's see what they have in mind."

C. C. Parlin () Speaks to the Situation*

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) made the following statement at this time:

"I don't want to carry this any further. I think we are tired. But as a matter of personal privilege, if you ask your Committee of Six to draft this legislation you have imposed upon us, or at least I will speak in the first person—you have imposed upon me an impossible request.

"Remember that your Committee of Six has not yet completed its work. This is the first controversial item to come before us. We still have hours of work to frame agreements and disagreements on the whole area of promotion, publications and magazines. We have been working every night until after midnight on this thing.

"You cannot ask us to further study periodicals, publication, promotion, and bring you sensible reports, and at the same time ask us to do this terrifically difficult problem of redrafting almost your whole Discipline. It is just too much to ask. If I could do it, I would. I wouldn't shirk the request of this Conference, but you are imposing an absolutely impossible situation.

"I see no way to get through within the ambit of our time. But you assigned this particular function to our Legislative Committees."

Statement of Bishop A. Frank Smith

"Do you wish to say a word, Dr. Case? Can we not come to agreement here? I think you understand what Judge Parlin is trying to say, that the Committee of Six does not wish to have to write this legislation."

Question—J. E. Carothers

J. Edward Carothers (Troy) asked if there was a motion before the General Conference?

Ruling—Bishop A. Frank Smith

"If they insist that each of these be taken separately, the Chair

NINTH DAY, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1952, MORNING SESSION

accepts the interpretation, and the paper as a whole does not have to be adopted as a Report would.

"That being true, there is nothing before us."

Question—J. D. Heer

John D. Heer (Philadelphia) raised the following question:

"I would like to ask a question, too, Mr. Chairman. I appreciate the difficulty of getting comparative figures for this particular General Conference, because since before, the money came through the Boards, and now has to be channeled through Dr. Lugg, and also the different fiscal dates.

"However, I think it would help this General Conference if we could know whether there is any comparative figure equal to that $120,000.00 which is proposed to be given to the 'General Purposes' program, or was the $550,000.00 (see end of Section 'H.'—Editor) for all special services, so that the $120,000.00 would be in addition to what was given previously?"

Reply—F. G. Gibson

Foye G. Gibson (Holston) replied as follows:

"There were twelve different Agencies that have been consolidated recently into the National Council of Churches. The only individual Agency to which the World Service Commission contributed directly was the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. May we have the assurance of their continual fellowship in Thee, and realize that, though converse be no longer possible according to the flesh, there is no separation in the realm of love. Lift us into that light and love where the Church on earth is one with the Church in heaven; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE CANTICLE

The souls of the righteous are in the hand of God.

In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to die: and their departure was accounted for their hurt,

And their going from us was taken to be their ruin; but they are in peace.

For though in the sight of men they be punished, yet is their hope full of immortality.

And having borne a little chastening, they shall receive great good; because God made trial of them, and found them worthy of himself.

As gold in the furnace he proved them, and accepted them.

For in the Lord is their reward, and the care of them is with the most High.

Therefore shall they receive a glorious kingdom, and a crown of beauty from the Lord's own hand.

The Gloria Patri

The General Conference then joined in the singing of the "Gloria Patri."

Amendment—C. A. Smith () Out of Order*

Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) moved to delete paragraph 4, Paragraph 170, page 35 of the Report of the Commission.

Ruling—Bishop Magee

Bishop J. Ralph Magee, ruled that as the Commission itself had moved the deletion of paragraph 4 of Paragraph 170, page 35 of the Report, and the substitution therefore of "Paragraph 255.1" of Report No. 8 of the General Standing Committee on Missions and Church Extension, Calendar No. 128, the motion of Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) was out of order.

Substitute Adopted

On being put to the vote of the General Conference, the motion of Alexander K. Smith (Philadelphia), Secretary of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, to substitute Paragraph "255.1," DCA-350, column 1, No. 8, Calendar No. 128, of the General Standing Committee on Missions and Church Extension, was adopted.

Paragraph 156 Amended by Commission—A. K. Smith

(2) Alexander K. Smith (Philadelphia), Secretary of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, requested the General Conference to turn to page 29 of the Report, section (1) of Paragraph 156, which had been amended at the morning session of Wednesday, April 30, 1952 by an amendment of Chester A. Smith (*) (New York), which reads as follows:

"Notice of the proposed action, and the date and time of the regular or special meetings of the members of said church at which it is to be considered, shall be given at least fourteen (14) days prior thereto, twice from the pulpit of the church and in its weekly bulletin."

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Alexander K. Smith (Philadelphia), Secretary of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, made the following statement:

"The amendment which was offered the other day required that the announcement shall be given twice from the pulpit and in the bulletin of the church.

Suppose a church does not have a bulletin, or suppose it be a Circuit and preaching service is held the second or third Sunday; we are up against a difficulty in that situation.

We move to amend the paragraph as it stands here, substituting fourteen (14), which was by your action, for ten (10) days notice. Otherwise the reading of the section stands as it is printed in the Report of your Commission on page 29."

The motion was duly seconded.

Statement—C. A. Smith ()*

Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) spoke for his former amendment, as follows:

"I desire to make the amendment that if the church has a bulletin, but if the church has no bulletin, then it shall not be published in the bulletin.

I desire that we retain the rest of that provision as I made it, and as you accepted it."

Statement—A. K. Smith

Alexander K. Smith (Philadelphia), Secretary of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, replied, as follows:

"We offer no alteration of the statement we have just made, announcements from the pulpit or the weekly bulletin."

Question—L. H. McKay ()*

Leo H. McKay (*) (Erie) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, I have a question of the Chairman. I understand the intent of Mr. Smith's amendment a few days ago to be that the sale of property and mortgage of property had to be ratified and approved by the membership of the church.

The Chairman has just read the section that says fourteen (14) days' notice shall be given of the Quarterly Conference meeting, and otherwise the section remains as it is. Will that be clarified?"

Reply—A. K. Smith

Alexander K. Smith (Philadelphia), Secretary of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, replied as follows:

"I referred to the sentence under (1). We made no change in the other amendment that was proposed by Brother Chester Smith. 'A

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Resolution authorizing the proposed action shall be passed by a majority vote of the members of said church present and voting at such special meeting called to consider such action.' We have not touched that. That remains."

Question—L. H. McKay ()*

Leo H. McKay (*) (Erie) asked a further question, as follows:

"That is to be added to the section?"

Reply—A. K. Smith

Alexander K. Smith (Philadelphia), Secretary of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, replied as follows:

"Yes, sir. It is in there; we are not offering any change on that."

(Note. The amendment of Chester A Smith (*) (New York) now under discussion, was made to Section (2) of Paragraph 156. Editor)

William B. Robinson (North-East Ohio) moved to amend Paragraph 149, page 27 of the Report.

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, MORNING SESSION

proposed by the Commission was adopted, and reads as follows:

Amendment—W. B. Robinson—Accepted—A. K. Smith

William B. Robinson (North-East Ohio) moved to amend Paragraph 149, page 27 of the Report, by adding at its close, the following:

so that the last sentence of Paragraph 149, page 27 of the Report shall read as follows:

"provided, however, it shall not violate the rights of any local church organization elsewhere granted by the Discipline (Par. 189), and provided further, that the Board of Trustees shall not prevent or interfere with the pastor in the use of any of the said property (Par. 159), for religious services or other proper meetings or purposes recognized by the law, usages, and customs of The Methodist Church, nor shall the Trustees permit the use of said property for religious or other meetings without the consent of the pastor, or in his absence the consent of the District Superintendent."

Amendment—J. M. Versteeg—Deferred

John M. Versteeg (Ohio) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman and members of the Conference. A matter of personal privilege. I proposed an amendment to Paragraph 101, page 10 of this Report, and it was reported on pages 232 and 233 of the Daily Christian Advocate.

The Chairman of this Commission summarily declared my proposal unconstitutional, and was sustained by the Chair. I then asked that the Judicial Council might rule as to my right to make such a proposal.

I wish now to ask, Mr. Chairman, if the Judicial Council is ready with a Report on my proposition so that, if I am in order, I may make my proposal."

Reply—Bishop Magee

Bishop J. Ralph Magee replied, as follows:

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"Judge Childers says he thinks they will have it before the day is over, but they do not have it back from the stenographers as yet."

A Further Question—J. M. Versteeg

John M. Versteeg (Ohio) asked a further question, as follows:

"Do I understand I will have the right to make that proposition even though this Report has been adopted as a whole? Where do I come in?"

Reply—Bishop Magee

Bishop J. Ralph Magee answered, as follows:

"It would be the judgment of the Chair we cannot adopt it as a whole while there is something in suspension."

Answer—J. M. Versteeg

John M. Versteeg (Ohio) answered, as follows:

"Thank you, sir, that is all I wanted established."

Question—J. R. Kenney—Answered—A. K. Smith

John R. Kenney (California-Nevada) raised the following question:

"There is a Report from the Board of Missions and Church Extension, on page 350, Daily Christian Advocate, the second column, in about the middle of the page, that has to do with constituting a new church.

If you notice in the pamphlet, the organization of a new church deals more with the membership and the officers than those matters. The Board of Missions Report deals with the property.

If the Commission is willing to accept it and let the Editor of the Discipline harmonize it when the Discipline is printed, it will be acceptable to the Board of Missions, I am sure.

Reply—A. K. Smith

Alexander K. Smith (Philadelphia), Secretary of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, replied, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, I think the matter of procedure; what you refer to is in a Memorial to be presented, and we think it ought to come in regular order. We will deal with it at that time."

Further Question—J. R. Kenney

John R. Kenney (California-Nevada) asked this further question, as follows:

"Let me ask this question: If, when it is presented by the Board of Missions, and is adopted, it will appear in this part in the editing of the Discipline?"

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Reply—A. K. Smith

Alexander K. Smith (Philadelphia), Secretary of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, replied, as follows:

Answer—J. R. Kenney

John R. Kenney (California-Nevada) replied,

"That is fair enough."

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Embree H. Blackard (Western North Carolina) moved the previous question on the amendments before the General Conference for consideration and action.

The motion was duly seconded.

Point of Order—C. A. Smith ()—Not Well Taken*

Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) raised the point of order that the motion for the previous question was out of order because it called for the adoption of the Report as a whole.

Ruling—Bishop Magee

Bishop J. Ralph Magee ruled that the point of order was not well taken as the motion for the previous question, made by Embree H. Blackard (Western North Carolina) was for the amendments before the General Conference.

The motion of Embree H. Blackard (Western North Carolina) for the previous question on the pending amendments, being put to the vote of the General Conference, was adopted by more than the required two-thirds majority vote, and the previous question was ordered.

"The question is whether or not this long argument shall be read before the Decision is rendered. The Chair does not know whether it can or not. Somebody else will have to decide that."

Statement—M. A. Childers ()*

Marvin A. Childers (*) (Southwest Texas) President of the Judicial Council, made the following statement:

"We would think that is within the purview of the General Conference to say whether it shall all be read, or simply printed in the Advocate.

If it is the desire that it be printed in full in the Advocate, and only the Decision read here, then it is within the power of the General Conference to request it."

Question—R. V. Candelaria (*)—Answer—A. K. Smith

Ruben V. Candelaria (*) (Philippines) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, I just want to ask a question for the benefit of our Philippines Conferences. On page 18, the section on elections, Paragraph 133, it says, 'The Quarterly Conference shall elect annually the following officers for the pastoral charge,' and the number and the election of the Lay Members of the Annual Conference. This matter has always been a problem in our Conferences, because in many instances our Ministerial Delegates are far outnumbered almost two to one by the Lay Delegates because of the fact that there are many pastoral charges consisting of four or five local churches with organized Quarterly Conferences, each electing a Lay Delegate to the Annual Conference.

I should like to ask the Chairman of this Commission if that is permissible under this Paragraph?"

Alexander K. Smith (Philadelphia), Secretary of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, answered, as follows:

Question—W. H. Alderson—Answered—A. K. Smith

William H. Alderson (New York East) raised the question as to what will become of the amendment at the top of page 39 which had been referred to the General Standing Committee on Temperance and Prohibition.

Alexander K. Smith (Philadelphia), Secretary of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, stated that the motion to adopt, was that we adopt the Report, with the exception of the matter which had been referred to the General Standing Committee on Temperance and Prohibition.

Carl W. Haggard (*) (Kentucky) was recognized and sought to make an amendment to the Report.

ference be and is hereby substituted for Part II, Paragraphs 101-279, 1948 Discipline of The Methodist Church, and for Paragraphs 1502-1508 of the 1948 Discipline of The Methodist Church, and that the same be included in the 1952 Discipline as legislation duly enacted by the General Conference of The Methodist Church.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That all other legislation in the 1948 Discipline dealing with the organization and work of the local church that is in conflict or at variance with the legislation governing the Local Church, approved by this General Conference, and referred to above, be and hereby is revised to conform therewith, and that the Editors of the 1952 Discipline be and hereby are instructed and directed to make such corrections and revisions as may be necessary to give effect to this action."

No. 1. Report Committee on Correlation and Editorial Revision—D. L. Marsh

Daniel L. Marsh (New England), Chairman of the Committee on Correlation and Editorial Revision, made the following Report for the Committee on the matter referred to them earlier in this session:

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the General Conference:

The question that was referred to the Committee on Correlation and Editorial Revision asked for a reconciliation of Paragraphs 102 and 111 in the Report of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, which you have just adopted.

It is plain that there is a conflict. Paragraph 102 says certain things, 'and one who has been baptized,' and Paragraph 111 says very plainly that 'a person in good standing from any Christian denomination may be admitted by a Certificate of Transfer.'

The Committee is of the opinion that the General Conference ought to do one of two things: First, either say there are two ways by which a person can become a member of The Methodist Church, one expressed in Paragraph 102, and the other in Paragraph 111, or the phrase, 'and who has been baptized,' should be inserted in Paragraph 111.

In the light of the Articles of Religion XVII, it would seem that probably the latter method should be followed."

Motion to Amend Paragraph 111—W. R. Cannon—Adopted

Motion of William R. Cannon (North Georgia), duly seconded, prevailed by the vote of the General Conference amending Paragraph 111, page 11, of the Report of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, by inserting the words, "has been baptized and," in the first line of Paragraph 111, following the words, "Christian denomination," so that the amended Paragraph will read:

¶ 111. A member in good standing in any Christian denomination who has been baptized and who desires to unite with The Methodist Church may be received into membership by a proper certificate of transfer from his former Church, or by his own declaration of Christian faith, and upon affirming his willingness to be loyal to The Methodist Church, and after he and the members of the church have entered into solemn covenant with one another as provided in the Ritual (¶ 1916).

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, MORNING SESSION

RESOLUTION PERTAINING TO THE AMENDMENT OF ARTICLES OF EXISTING LOCAL CHURCH CORPORATION*"RESOLVED:

The "Recommendations" are as follows:

RECOMMENDATIONS

As a result of our study of the Local Church and its organizational needs, the members of the Commission on The Study of the Local Church have experienced an increasing appreciation of the great importance of the more than 45,000 local churches of our communion, at home and overseas, established and maintained for the worship of God, and the promotion of his kingdom. These thousands of congregations in many lands are The Methodist Church. They supply the Church's material and spiritual resources. Since unification we have given large attention to our General Agencies. It is the conviction of your Commission that during the next quadrennium we should look especially to the local church—to perfecting its organization, enriching its life, and undergirding its ministry. We, therefore, recommend:

1. That the General Conference request the Council of Bishops during the first two years of the ensuing quadrennium to give special leadership to the perfecting of our church rolls and local church organization after the following manner:

(1) Through the District Superintendents in their respective Districts to see that a proper Committee is appointed in each local church for the purpose of setting up the roll of membership in each in accordance with the provisions of the Discipline;

(2) Through the District Superintendents in their respective Districts to lead in an effort to have every local church to meet the minimum organizational requirement as provided in the Discipline—to wit: (a) An Official Board, constituted as the legislation directs, and meeting regularly, (b) and as a minimum four Commissions as required on Evangelism, Education, Missions, and Finances;

(3) To receive from the District Superintendents at proper intervals reports of the number of churches in their respective Districts achieving these goals;

(4) To report on the above items from time to time and in such detail as the Council may determine, including a Report to the next quadrennial session of the General Conference showing the results in each Episcopal Area in the Jurisdictions. We recommend that further details of this program be committed to the Council for its determination.

2. We further recommend:

(1) That the General Conference request the General Board of Lay Activities to assume leadership in instructing our people through the ensuing quadrennium in the organizational structure of The Methodist Church, with emphasis on the local church; that plans be made immediately for the production of proper literature, the cost to be provided out of the funds derived from the sale thereof; that the Board plan church institutes on the Area, Conference, District, or Sub-district level, making use of lay leadership on these respective levels;

(2) That the General Conference request the Board of Education in its current literature and in its leadership schools to provide suitable material for instructing our people in the organization and spiritual significance of the Church;

(3) That the General Conference request the Board of Lay Activities and the Board of Education to establish an Inter-Board Committee for the purpose of planning and correlating their work, and that the Boards above mentioned report in detail to the 1956 General Conference.

Report Completed—Commission on the Study of the Local Church—A. K. Smith

Alexander K. Smith (Philadelphia), Secretary of the Commission on the Study of the Local Church, stated that this completes consideration of and action on the Report, with the exception of that part at the top of page 39 which had been referred to the General Standing Committee on Temperance and Prohibition. For Report see page 1077.

No. 6. Tellers—Second Ballot for Reserve Lay Members of the Judicial Council—L. W. Wells (*)

Statement—C. W. Haggard ()*

Carl W. Haggard (*) (Kentucky) made the following statement:

"May I make a statement, please?

I don't think we would want to do something that would be discourteous to anyone, and yesterday when we were balloting, the Secretary announced those two men who had withdrawn.

I followed that very closely, and I talked to one of these men. I tried to find him last night, but he was sick, and he did not intend that his name should be withdrawn except for the principal, and not as an alternate.

I want to state further that the Chair, or the Secretary, did not announce that there were to be any alternates to be elected until after these two gentlemen had withdrawn their names as principals. I can speak for only one, and that was not his intention. And that was Judge Osso W. Stanley."

"As a matter of information, we adopted a Budget last night as presented by the General Commission on World Service and Finance.

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, MORNING SESSION

I am wondering, if this Report is adopted, if the provision of that Budget would provide for the additional Bishop required."

Thomas B. Lugg (Illinois), Treasurer of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, replied as follows:

"We estimate that the cost per Bishop—and that can only be an average—under the new amendments that were set last night, will run somewhere between $17,500.00 and $18,500.00 per Bishop. That would increase the total, amout $35,000.00.

We are in a period of rising salaries, and the Budget as presented last night—2 per cent would probably carry it during the quadrennium."

In line eighteen (18) from the bottom of the column change the word "three" to "four"; at the end of that sentence in line fifteen (15) from the bottom of the column, change the period (.) to a comma (,) and add the words, "one Staff member from each of the other General Boards." so that the amended sentence will read:

"The following shall be ex officio members of the National Conference: members of the Staff of the Division of the Local Church who have responsibility for youth work, members of the Staff of the Division of Educational Institutions who are responsible for student work, four representatives of the Staff of the Division of Education and Cultivation of the Board of Missions and Church Extension, one Staff member from each of the other General Boards."

Unanimous consent was given by the General Conference for the amendment to Paragraph 1404, DCA-215, column 1, as suggested by Frank C. Tucker (St. Louis).

H. C. Case Speaks to Amendment

In the preparation of these forms it shall consult with a Committee appointed by the Council of Bishops from that body, and with representatives of The Methodist Publishing House,' and so on.

This has been passed and does give authority, I believe, to the Council on World Service and Finance."

Question—Bishop Magee

Bishop J. Ralph Magee asked the following question:

"Does that take care of what you wanted?"

Reply—Claude Young

Claude Young (Northwest Indiana) replied, as follows:

Reply—H. C. Case

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied:

"Yes."

Bishop J. Ralph Magee made this further statement:

"That is already passed and a part of our action.
Just a minute: I want to know whether this takes care of his substitute."

Answer—Claude Young

Claude Young (Northwest Indiana) made the following statement:

"What I would like to know, Bishop, is this: Would there, then, be a conflict between the legislation that has been passed, and the Report which is before us, as it was before us originally?"

F. C. Tucker—Speaks to Amendment

Frank C. Tucker (St. Louis) spoke to the amendment, and made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, could that not be referred to the Committee on Correlation and Editorial Revision?"

Reply—Bishop Magee

Bishop J. Ralph Magee replied, as follows:

"I judge it could, but it is up to this House to decide. The Chair is not deciding questions."

Statement—Bishop Magee

Bishop J. Ralph Magee made the following statement:

William B. Robinson (North-East Ohio) moved to amend Paragraph 1448, DCA-216, column 1, by inserting the words, "agreed upon," following the words, "by the Annual Conference those persons," in line twenty-eight (28) of the Paragraph, so that the amended sentence will read:

"The Executive Secretary shall consult with the District Superintendent relative to nominations for the District Staff of Christian education, and shall report to the Board for confirmation by the Annual Conference those persons agreed upon, etc."

Frank C. Tucker (St. Louis) accepted the amendment for the Committee, no objection being raised by any member of the Committee, or of the General Conference.

Order of the Day—Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam—Citation for Bishop Arthur J. Moore—Consul General Young Han Choo of Korea

The Order of the Day having arrived, Bishop J. Ralph Magee requested Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam to take charge.

Bishop Oxnam Presents Bishop Moore, Bishop Lew, Bishop Welch

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, of the New York Area, Northeastern Jurisdiction, Secretary of the Council of Bishops, made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the General Conference. This is a very high moment of privilege.

"Among us there is one who stands uniquely, I think, as Methodism's missionary to the world. Many of our Bishops have served with distinction in fields overseas, but I think no one now living, with the exception of the one who is about to be honored, has been in fact an Ambassador of Christ at large, an Episcopal leader, whose parish is the world.

"The Council of Bishops has sent Bishop Arthur J. Moore upon several important missions overseas. No one of them has been more important than the mission to Korea immediately after the war. He was commissioned to reorganize the Korean Church; he was conspicuously successful.

"In 1951 Bishop Moore was commissioned to visit Korea once again. He presided at the Conference in which the Korean Bishop, Bishop Hyunki J. Lew, was elected, and he consecrated Bishop Lew. He was the guest of the President of the Republic, of General Ridgway, and of General Van Fleet and, under military permit, visited the front lines.

"So outstanding was his service that the Republic of Korea is about to confer upon him one of its highest honors, the National Medal of Honor.

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"I shall suggest that Bishop Moore take his place here, that Bishop Lew stand upon his right, and that Bishop Welch stand upon his left, and after they have taken their places, I shall present the Consul General of the Republic of Korea who will confer the honor, reading the citation. After that, a word concerning Bishop Lew, and a prayer by Bishop Welch."

The General Conference rose and applauded.

Young Han Choo Presented—Bishop Oxnam

The General Conference still standing, Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, of the New York Area, Northeastern Jurisdiction, Secretary of the Council of Bishops, presented the Honorable Young Han Choo, Consul General of the Republic of Korea.

The General Conference applauded.

Citation Read—Young Han Choo

The Honorable Young Han Choo, Consul General of the Republic of Korea, read the citation, first in the Korean language, and then the English translation, as follows:

"For many years Bishop Moore has been known for his efforts in behalf of the Korean people. His intense interest and zeal have been constantly displayed. With a heavy schedule of work in his homeland, he has found time to make a number of trips to Korea to secure first-hand information and consult with Korean leaders. His visits have contributed greatly to Korean morale.

"In America Bishop Moore has continuously used public address and private counsel, radio and printed word, to impress upon his people the tremendously difficult situation confronting Korea. Through his efforts many tons of goods and thousands of dollars have been secured for civilian relief in Korea.

"As President of the Board of Missions of The Methodist Church for twelve years, and as President of the Council of Bishops of The Methodist Church, he has had a nationwide influence in uniting the hearts and efforts of America and Korea in building toward a true peace and a united world.

"It is a great privilege, and a great honor for me to present the National Medal of Honor of the Republic of Korea to Bishop Arthur J. Moore in behalf of my beloved President, Dr. Syngman Rhee."

There was continued applause as the Consul General presented the National Medal of the Republic of Korea to Bishop Arthur J. Moore.

Bishop Oxnam Replies to Presentation

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, of the New York Area, Northeastern Jurisdiction, Secretary of the Council of Bishops of The Methodist Church, replied as follows:

"Mr. Counsel General, I am sure I speak on behalf of this Conference when I voice our gratitude, because in honoring one of our most distinguished Methodists you have also honored The Methodist Church."

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Bishop Lew Presented—Bishop Oxnam

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, of the New York Area, North-eastern Jurisdiction, Secretary of the Council of Bishops of The Methodist Church, presented Bishop Hyungki J. Lew of the Korean Methodist Church, with the following statement:

"It is also a privilege to present to you our newly created Bishop of Korea, Bishop Lew, who has been ill. He has just arrived, but he requested me to say that he will be unable to say a word, because of his illness.

"We do wish to welcome him and give him our love, and assure him of our abiding affection."

The General Conference arose and applauded.

*Further Word to Consul General of the Republic of Korea
—Bishop Oxnam*

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, of the New York Area, North-eastern Jurisdiction, Secretary of the Council of Bishops of The Methodist Church, spoke further to the Consul General of the Republic of Korea, as follows:

"And now before I call upon Bishop Welch to offer a brief word of prayer, will you allow me also to say to the Consul General of the Republic of Korea that we assure him of the abiding interest of the American people, as his people with our people face the issue of freedom in an issue that today is faced in such costly fashion that there can be no answer save the answer of seeing that matter through until at last freedom exists there and everywhere. I am sure I speak for the Delegates.

Prayer—Bishop Welch

Bishop Herbert Welch led in the following prayer:

"O God and Father of us all, we pause to say a word of prayer together for Korea, for its distressed and tortured people, for its Church standing so gallantly to bear witness for Christ and for good will; for the schools and hospitals and orphanages; for the doctors and the nurses and the teachers and the preachers who together are going through these dark days still believing in the light and looking for the light.

"And especially we pray Thy blessing upon our brother upon whom such heavy responsibilities have been placed by the letter of his Church and people, and upon his dear wife and helpmeet; that in this day of fiery trial they will have the courage and the strength and the wisdom to carry out Thy will, and to receive Thy abundant blessing.

"For this land, and for all lands we ask Thy blessing and guidance, through Jesus Christ. Amen."

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, of the New York Area, North-eastern Jurisdiction, Secretary of the Council of Bishops of The Methodist Church, presented Mrs. Hyunki J. Lew, wife of Bishop Lew of the Methodist Church of Korea.

The General Conference arose and applauded.

No. 6. Tellers—Result Second Ballot Lay Reserve Member—Judicial Council—L. W. Wells ()—F. M. Benson ()

The result of the ballot for the last Reserve Lay Member of the Judicial Council, term of office to expire in 1960, was presented by Luther W. Wells (*) (Virginia), Secretary of Ballots and Tellers, who made the following statement:

"Before the Chair announced the ballot we called your attention to the fact that we are instructed that anyone who had withdrawn would not be counted in the ballot.

"Representatives of one of them requested that his name might be included in this morning's ballot, but we were not instructed to include it by the General Conference. However, we do not want to do an injustice to anyone. For that reason if we include the votes put in for Brother Stanley, the person now with the majority would not have a majority, and there would be no election.

"So I thought in due consideration of his matter that the Conference shall have it in their possession. If they instruct his name should be on the ballot we should take another ballot."

Statement—Osso W. Stanley

Osso W. Stanley (*) (Kentucky) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I requested withdrawal from the ballot."

Statement—Bishop Magee

Bishop J. Ralph Magee stated:

"Judge Stanley still says to withdraw. Therefore there is a majority."

A Statement on Church Extension—E. R. Brown

Earl R. Brown (North-East Ohio), General Executive Secretary of the Department of Home Missions of the General Board of Missions and Church Extension, called attention to the action of the General Conference on Friday afternoon, May 2, 1952, in the adoption of "Section II Need for Church Extension," of "Special Requests to Annual Conferences," DCA-223, column 1, which reads as follows:

"The General Commission calls the attention of the General Conference to the urgent necessity of establishing and housing new congregations if Methodism is to maintain its position of leadership in America and around the world. We found that 600 newly organized congregations are in temporary quarters; that 1,500 new churches should be organized within the quadrennium; and that an adequate building program calls for $219,225,000.00.

"We therefore recommend a Conference-initiated Financial Program as provided in suggested legislation known as Par. 784B."

Earl B. Brown (North-East Ohio) next called the attention of the General Conference to its action in adopting on Friday night, May 3, 1952, the following legislation, DCA-227, column 1:

1. Insert in Paragraph 1299 of the 1948 Discipline a new section (3) reading as follows:

At least quadrennially each Annual Conference and District shall survey its Church Extension needs, placing special emphasis upon the unchurched areas, with a view to determining in each what should be the overall financial objective. Due consideration shall be given to the responsibility of the Division of Home Missions and Church Extension for areas requiring home missions and church extension aid beyond that which the Conference is able to provide. From this study an adequate Conference-initiated financial program shall be formulated with a view to meeting these needs.

Sections (3) and (4) as numbered in the 1948 Discipline should, after the insertion of this new section, be renumbered (4) and (5) respectively.

Earl R. Brown (North-East Ohio) then made the following statement:

"It seemed very wise and expedient that a statement should come to this body. It does not necessarily require action, but does set up a procedure between the Division of Home Missions and Church Extension and the Annual Conference, if this program is to become effective.

"Therefore we will read it, and take just as little of your time as possible."

Earl R. Brown (North-East Ohio) then read the following statement (DB-134), requesting the approval of the General Conference, and its publication in the Journal:

Statement on Church Extension

The strategic importance of Church Extension has been emphasized by the Episcopal Address to the 1952 General Conference, by the report of the Quadrennial Committee of Twenty-eight, and by the Report of the General Conference Commission on World Service and Finance. The members of this General Conference realize the imperative need to reach the unchurched multitudes for Christ. We have no alternative except to build our share of the new sanctuaries for America and to provide adequate pastoral leadership for these new churches. The continued support of our Methodist institutions and the financial undergirding of the on-going program of the Church, at home and abroad, depend to a large degree upon a well-planned and far-reaching program of Church Extension. Over 70,000,000 Americans have changed their residence within the past decade and this great shift in population continues to create new needs and opportunities. This unprecedented mass migration of people has created a Church Extension challenge which we simply cannot avoid and dare not neglect.

The recent survey conducted by the Division of Home Missions and Church Extension indicates that The Methodist Church is confronted with a building program of $219,225,000 during the coming quadrennium. A minimum of 1,500 new churches—in excess of one a day—must be built to house new congregations and an effective pastoral leadership must be provided. At present, over 600 new congregations are worshipping in temporary quarters or public buildings and must have new church edifices. Over 15 per cent of our 1,300 abandoned church buildings—most of which are in revived rural areas—should be reopened for divine services. The present available resources are not sufficient to meet this staggering task. The Division of Home Missions and Church Extension is anticipating requests for donation aid and salary support for new churches in an amount over nine times the funds which will be available.

In addition, the need for loans to Methodist churches for building purposes will exceed $70,000,000 for the next four years. At present, the loan funds of the Division of Home Missions and Church Extension, in an amount of approximately $12,000,000, are either loaned to churches or committed to churches. The Division has made available for church loans all funds except those trust and annuity funds which cannot legally be used for church loans. We urge all churches which have loans from the Division to repay those loans as quickly as possible, in order that these funds may be used for those desperately needed new congregations.

It is, therefore, recommended that the 1952 session of the General Conference endorse all efforts to arouse Methodism to her duty to establish these new churches by:

1. Seeking Divine guidance in the development of an effective strategy of advance in this great task of church extension, to the end that the effort to establish new congregations be accepted as a primary objective of each Annual Conference of The Methodist Church for the quadrennium 1952-56.

2. Urging our pastors and church members to give full support to this program, reminding them that existing churches never suffer from the establishment of new societies. We call attention to the effective precedent established by many of our great churches in sponsoring a number of new congregations in adjacent communities.

3. Requesting each Annual Conference to make a careful survey of its Church Extension opportunities, and if practical, to set up a priority list of these opportunities that the needs may be met in the order of strategic importance.

4. Urging each Annual Conference to set an adequate financial objective (based upon actual need) in order to finance these new congregations under the plan for Conference-initiated specials. The goals thus set should be vigorously promoted in each Annual Conference, and the Division of Home Missions and Church Extension should expand its services where necessary in order to provide leadership for these Conference surveys and financial efforts.

5. Urging each Annual Conference to utilize the services available through the Division of Home Missions and Church Extension: such as (1) supervision of research and survey; (2) consultation for architectural planning; (3) direction in conducting the Conference financial crusades; (4) guidance in financial program for individual building projects; (5) the granting of aid in the form of donations and loans so far as the fund will permit.

We further call attention to the fact that the total resources of the Church must be mobilized in the local churches, on the Districts, within the Annual Conferences, and by our General Agencies that together we may co-operate fully that our beloved Church may meet the challenge of the hour. Methodism has never refused to face a great opportunity and challenge. We must act now for the crucial need will be within the next four years. It is our conviction that this General Conference will sound the call for a vital and effective Church Extension program which shall challenge the entire Church and produce the strategy and resources by which Methodism may meet her share of the need for new churches.

Motion of Approval and Publication—O. T. Olson—Adopted

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio) moved that the General Conference heartily endorse the program, and that the statement be published in the Journal of the General Conference.

The motion to endorse and publish was duly seconded.

Question—W. S. Evans—Answered—E. R. Brown

William S. Evans (Memphis) asked the following question:

"Does this motion pertain to the Report of the Commission on World Service and Finance?"

Earl R. Brown (North-East Ohio) replied:

"Yes; it does."

Point of Order—W. S. Evans—Not Sustained

William S. Evans (Memphis) raised the following point of order:

"When this matter of the Report of the General Commission on World Service and Finance was before us, I asked the Chair, the Presiding Officer, if this matter was being adopted in substance by sections, or would I have an opportunity to present a matter later. He said it was pertaining only to that section. Then when the Report was closed, I asked for the floor and asked the question if this matter was before us, and the Chair ruled that this matter was closed, that it would not be adopted as a whole.

"Now, here is another motion that is before us pertaining to that same matter when I have been ruled out of order."

Statement—E. R. Brown

Earl R. Brown (North-East Ohio) made the following statement:

"May I say, this is not a Report of the Commission. It is a Report of a Committee composed of the Council of Bishops and the Secretaries of the Division, and it deals with nothing except a procedure.

"An Annual Conference is not bound in any way by it, for they have the final decision."

Ruling—Bishop Harrell

Bishop Costen J. Harrell ruled as follows:

"The Chair must rule that the Brother's point is not well taken, and that the paper is before you. Is there any discussion?"

Statement Endorsed and Ordered Published in Journal

The motion of Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio) to

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

Trustees Drew University—Elected—F. G. Holloway—C. E. Lundy

Fred G. Holloway (Baltimore) presented nominations (DB-135) for the Trustees of Drew University, and moved that the Secretary of the General Conference be instructed to cast the vote of the General Conference for the election of the Trustees nominated.

The motion, duly seconded by Clyde E. Lundy (Holston), prevailed, by vote of the General Conference.

"Mr. Chairman, it seems to me that we might understand this word 'inactive' not in its technical sense, as we have used it in other legislation. Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy, of the Portland Area, Western Jurisdiction, Chairman of the Commission to Study the Ministry, lucidly gave a brief résumé of the content and purpose of the Report.

Motion to Receive and Print in Journal—O. T. Olson—Adopted

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, made the following motion:

"I would like to move that we receive this Report, have it printed in the Journal, and then such portions of this Report that call for legislative enactment, by which I mean the Chapter beginning on page 8 entitled, 'Ordination and the Sacraments,' the paragraphs on page 13 under the title, 'The Minister's Personal Habits,' and the paragraphs on page 15 entitled, 'Supply Pastor'; that these be printed, and then added to each of these paragraphs, such legislative enactments that will become a part of the Discipline of The Methodist Church be indicated by Paragraph number."

Welsh Sproule Boyd (Pittsburgh) called for a division of the question under Rule 12 of the Rules of Order.

Question—Leland Moore—Answer—O. T. Olson

"I should like to know, Mr. Chairman, before I vote on this question, to what extent am I believed to be approving of this paper as a whole if I vote the publication of it?"

Point of Order—H. S. Swales—Not Well Taken

Harold S. Swales (Central New York) raised the following point of order:

"My point of order is that Mr. Smith's motion to delete a part of the Report is out of order. His motion might be in order if he had made a motion not to print, but to delete a part of a Report just nullifies the Report."

Ruling—Bishop Harrell

Bishop Costen J. Harrell made the following statement:

"In the Chair's opinion, and it is the Chair's understanding, that Brother Smith made the motion that in the publication of this Report those paragraphs should be deleted. You cannot delete it from the Report that is before us. We are not approving it nor disapproving it.

"The Chair must therefore rule that the point of order is not well taken. The Conference can determine what it will publish."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, accepted the amendment, there being no objection raised by any member of the Committee, or of the Commission, or of the General Conference.

Motion to Receive and Publish—Adopted

Question—Time Limit—J. M. Versteeg—Answer—Bishop

"Bishop Harrell, I want, first of all, to raise the point when the five minute rule enacted by this Conference does not obtain in these presentations."

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

Question 2—J. M. Versteeg—Answer—Bishop Harrell

John M. Versteeg (Ohio) raised the following question:

"May I then ask a question of privilege for the House if the Chair will indicate whether we are operating under Rule 13, which calls for a vote by orders, and Paragraph 22 of the Constitution of The Methodist Church which says, down here, that 'on all matters relating to the character and Conference relations of its ministerial members,' and so forth the laymen members may not vote."

Bishop Costen J. Harrell replied as follows:

"That is under Annual Conference regulations, is it not?"

John M. Versteeg replied, as follows:

"Here is Paragraph 22. Shall I read it, Mr. Chairman?"

Bishop Harrell replied:

"Yes."

John M. Versteeg (Ohio) read Paragraph 22 of the Constitution of The Methodist Church, as follows:

"The Annual Conference is the basic body in the Church, and as such shall have reserved to it the right to vote on all Constitutional Amendments, on the election of ministerial and lay delegates to the General and the Jurisdictional or Central Conferences, on all matters relating to the character and Conference relations of its ministerial members, and on the ordination of ministers, and such other rights as have not been delegated to the General Conference under the Constitution.

"What I want to ask is whether that applies to us here, or whether we must operate under Rule 13?" See note following.

(Note. Rule 13 of the Rules of Order reads as follows:

The ministerial and lay delegates shall deliberate as one body; but upon a call, by motion of any delegate, seconded by another delegate of the same order and supported by one-third of the members of that order voting, the ministerial and lay delegates shall vote separately. But when the Conference votes by orders no measure shall be passed without the concurrence of a majority of both classes of delegates. In cases of such a vote the order calling for it shall vote first; provided, however, that the Conference may not vote by orders on a proposed Amendment to the Constitution. Discipline 1948, Paragraph 10, Item 2—Editor.)

Bishop Costen J. Harrell replied as follows:

"Brother Versteeg, do you raise that as a Constitutional question?"

John M. Versteeg answered, as follows:

"Purely by way of explanation for the House."

Bishop Costen J. Harrell ruled as follows:

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

"I rule, sir, that in a General Conference that lays down rules for all of us, we all vote. The application of those Rules in an Annual Conference is confined to the ministerial part of the House in so far as they apply to those ministerial matters referred to."

Question 3—John M. Versteeg—Answer—Bishop Harrell

John M. Versteeg (Ohio) asked a third question, as follows:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman. I shall then still ask, would it be permissible—I don't know whether it would be desirable—at any time that Rule 13 should be obeyed, namely, that we vote by orders, that it would be permissible."

Bishop Costen J. Harrell ruled as follows:

"That is permissible if you meet the proper conditions, a motion supported by one-third of the side of the House from which the motion comes."

O. T. Olson Speaks to Minority Report

The motion for the substitution of the Minority Report for the Majority Report of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, having been duly seconded, Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, spoke for the substitution of the Minority Report for the Majority Report of the General Standing Committee on Ministry.

Point of Order—J. E. Brower—Not Sustained

J. Emmons Brower (North Carolina-C) raised the point of order that the General Conference had voted to have three-minute speeches instead of five-minute speeches.

Ruling—Bishop Harrell

Bishop Costen J. Harrell stated that the motion for three-minute speeches, to take effect at this session, was not adopted when presented.

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

Questions—H. J. Smith—Answers—Lester Rumble—O. T. Olson—W. K. Pope

Herbert J. Smith (New Jersey) asked a question of Lester Rumble (North Georgia), as follows:

"You said a poll had been made of the District Superintendents of the Church, if I understood you, with the exception of the Northeastern Jurisdiction."

Reply—Lester Rumble

Lester Rumble (North Georgia) replied as follows:

"That is correct, yes."

Second Question—H. J. Smith—Answer—Lester Rumble

"May I ask you why the Superintendents of the Northeastern Jurisdiction were not polled on this matter?"

Lester Rumble (North Georgia) answered, as follows:

"If I may make this statement, Mr. Chairman, I polled the Southeastern Jurisdiction before I went to a meeting that worked it out. Then when that was done it was authorized by the Committee that the Jurisdictional representatives make a poll in the Jurisdictions, of not only the District Superintendents, but one minister from each District. We did that. I don't have those figures, because I just wanted to talk about the District Superintendents, because I thought they were more fully in touch with the situation totally than anywhere else. We never received a Report from the Northeastern Jurisdiction."

Statement—O. T. Olson

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio) made the following statement:

"The poll was for inclusion after our final meeting."

Request—H. J. Smith

Herbert J. Smith (New Jersey) made the following request:

"Could we have a statement as to the result from the Northeastern Jurisdiction?"

Reply—O. T. Olson

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio) replied to the request, as follows:

"My memory is not infallible. All I can say is that the poll of the Northeastern Jurisdiction was in favor of the kind of a thing that the speaker now on the podium stands for.

"That is understandable because of the theological seminaries that are there."

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

Time Extended—Common Consent

Bishop Costen J. Harrell called the attention of the General Conference to the fact that the time of this session was fast drawing to a close, and asked if the General Conference would extend the time to hear from W. Kenneth Pope (Texas-SE).

By unanimous common consent the time was extended to hear the remarks of W. Kenneth Pope (Texas-SC).

Statement—W. K. Pope

W. Kenneth Pope (Texas-SC), Secretary of the Commission on the Study of the Ministry, was recognized, and made the following statement:

"Just this word, brethren: The men from the various Jurisdictions were asked to poll their respective Jurisdictions. I cannot give you the full reasons why; I don't know.

"The brother on the Special Committee to Study the Ministry simply didn't respond with his work. He did not write up his home work."

Motion to Postpone Action Until Monday Morning—W. B. Robinson—Pending

William B. Robinson (North-East Ohio) made the following statement and motion:

"Mr. Chairman, a matter of privilege. The point I make, sir, is simply this: We are on one of the most important matters that will confront this Conference.

"Many of our members because of engagements tomorrow already have been compelled to leave. Many of the rest of us are compelled to leave between this and tonight's session.

"To settle this without a full complement of our membership I think will be highly injurious to whatever we may want to do. I state that, for the sake of the House, and I therefore move that the final decision of this matter be postponed until Monday morning."

The motion was duly seconded.

Point of Order—W. F. Davis ()—Not Well Taken*

Wilmer Fell Davis (*) (Peninsula) raised the point of order that the Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission had established the Order of the Day for the entire session of Monday morning, May 5, 1952, if such time was needed to complete the Report of the Committee of Six.

"The point of order is not well taken. It may be deferred and then fitted into the Calendar according to the Order of the Day."

Motion to Extend Time—Bernard Vessey (*)—Out of Order

Bernard Vessey (*) (Colorado) moved that the time be extended to take a vote upon this.

Ruling—Bishop Harrell

Bishop Costen J. Harrell ruled as follows:

"There is a motion before the House, and you are out of order, sir."

Question—G. A. Dahlquist—Answer—W. B. Robinson

G. Albin Dahlquist (New England Southern) asked the following question:

"Would this seem to indicate that this evening's session would be a secondary session of our Conference?"

William B. Robinson (North-East Ohio), at the request of Bishop Costen J. Harrell to answer the question propounded, replied as follows:

"No, sir, I don't mean that at all. I mean that in keeping with the requests which were made long before we came here, many of us agreed that we would preach in pulpits in this community and in other communities as much as 150 miles away, and we were told the other day that we have no session on Saturday night.

"Arrangements have been made and we must keep those engagements in fairness to the congregations where we have been assigned. We cannot do other than that, it seems to me. Of course, that means we cannot be here when this very vital matter is being considered."

Statement—L. T. Moore

Leon T. Moore (Philadelphia), Chairman of the Committee of Chairmen, made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I am perfectly willing in the interests of the Calendar and program to accept that in our program, and adjust our work accordingly."

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, EVENING SESSION

Chapter III, Section II—Presented—L. L. Roush—Adopted

Question—W. M. Scheuermann—Answered—L. L. Roush

Walter M. Scheuermann (*) (Iowa-Des Moines) raised the question as to how the General Conference was adopting Report No. 1 of the General Standing Committee on Pensions.

Lester L. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, replied that,

"We adopt in Sections, sir."

Second Question—W. M. Scheuermann ()—Answer—T. A. Stafford*

Walter M. Scheuermann (*) (Iowa-Des Moines) asked a second question, as follows:

"What justification, or what reason is there for this eight-year term in Paragraph 1613, Section 2, electing the members for eight years?"

Thomas A. Stafford (Northern Minnesota), Executive Secretary of the Illinois and Maryland Corporations, on request, answered as follows:

"I believe it was thought by the Commission that prepared this Report, which has been through the Committee, that we should harmonize the term of office that we are proposing for the membership of the Board of Pensions itself; should harmonize it with the membership, or harmonize the membership formula in the Annual Conference Board of Conference Claimants, so we would have a carry-over of experienced persons, instead of electing them every year, as we do now. Everybody knows that you have to work with this complex matter in Annual Conferences with the people who know something about it. The idea is to preserve a certain amount of continuity in the business by keeping a few experienced people on the job for a relatively long term. I don't think any damage would be done by this, and something would be gained. At least, that is the opinion of the Board, which is constituted in larger part, or entirely, by the membership of the Commission on Pension Legislation. One is patterned after the other."

Lester L. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, presented Chapter IV, Subject, "General Pension Regulations," DCA-256, columns 1 and 2,

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, EVENING SESSION

paragraphs 1614, 1615, 1616 and 1617 and moved its adoption, and requested Charles L. Calkins (Dakota), Assistant Executive Secretary, Illinois and Maryland Corporations, to speak particularly to Section 7 of Paragraph 1617.

The motion to adopt was duly seconded.

C. L. Calkins' Statement

Charles L. Calkins (Dakota), Assistant Executive Secretary of the Illinois and Maryland Corporations, made the following statement:

"This is entirely new. It provides that in the event a minister has attained age 65, and remains in the effective relation, and some emergency may occur following a session of the Annual Conference, that the Board of Conference Claimants will be allowed to make an emergency appropriation for him during the remainder of the year, until the next session of the Conference, at which time he could be retired.

Previously it was necessary for the minister to have incurred some sort of physical or mental disability to permit this additional emergency grant. However, this makes it possible for him to do so, for the Board of Conference Claimants to do so, even though there is no physical incapacity. It might be some family difficulties, or something of that sort."

Chapter IV, Subject, "General Pension Regulations," Paragraphs 1614, 1615, 1616 and 1617, DCA-256, columns 1 and 2, was adopted. See page 1354.

Lester L. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, presented Paragraphs 1618 and 1619 of Chapter IV, Subject, "General Pension Regulations," DCA-256, columns 2 and 3, and DCA-257, column 1, and moved its adoption. The motion was duly seconded.

Charles L. Calkins (Dakota), Assistant Executive Secretary of the Illinois and Maryland Corporations, spoke to the Paragraphs presented.

Question—R. C. Calkins—Answer—C. L. Calkins

Raoul C. Calkins (Iowa-Des Moines) asked the following question:

"A point of information. I note in the print that paragraph (h) of Paragraph 1918 is deleted. Not having studied this, perhaps, as carefully as I should, is there other provision elsewhere in your legislation to take care of that, or does that mean that there is a complete end to the counting of the years on trial?"

Charles L. Calkins (Dakota), Assistant Executive Secretary of the Illinois and Maryland Corporations, replied as follows:

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, EVENING SESSION

"The deletion of (h) is tied up with the provision early in 1618, which indicates that years of service under appointment, left without appointment to attend school would all be counted, and also that all years of service on trial would be counted."

Question—J. H. Crawford—Answer—L. L. Roush

J. H. Crawford (Northwest Texas) asked the following question:

"A question. This question is with reference to credit on trial and left without appointment to attend school. Would that be left to active, say, to say a man who is retiring this year on years in the past."

Lester L. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, replied:

"It does."

Paragraphs 1618 and 1619 were adopted, as presented. See pages 1355-57.

Chapter IV—Paragraphs 1620, 1621, 1622, 1623, 1624 Presented—L. L. Roush—Amended—Adopted

Lester L. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, presented Paragraphs 1620, 1621, 1622, 1623 and 1624 of Chapter IV, Subject, "General Pension Regulations," DCA-257, columns 1, 2 and 3, and DCA-258, column 1, and moved their adoption, with the deletion of the words, "to Conference Claimants," found in lines 6 and 7 of paragraph 3 of Paragraph 1624, DCA-257, column 3. The motion to delete and adopt, duly seconded, prevailed by the vote of the General Conference. See page 1357.

Chapter IV—Paragraphs 1625-1637—Chapter V—Paragraph 1638—Chapter VI—Paragraphs 1639-1641—Presented—L. L. Roush—Adopted

Lester L. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, presented the remainder of Chapter IV, Paragraphs 1625 through 1637 inclusive, DCA-258, columns 1, 2 and 3; DCA-259, columns 1 and 2; Chapter V, DCA-259, column 2, Subject, "Special Regulations Effective in the Territory of the Illinois Corporation," and Chapter VI, DCA-259, column 2, Subject, "Special Regulations Effective in the Territory of the Missouri Corporation," and moved their adoption. The motion was duly seconded.

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, EVENING SESSION

Amendment—G. M. Davenport—Not Adopted

George M. Davenport (North Alabama) moved to amend paragraph 3 of Paragraph 1625, by deleting the bold-face type which reads as follows:

"provided, however, that on the recommendation of the Board of Conference Claimants, any Annual Conference by a two-thirds vote may order such payments to be made monthly, semi-annually, or annually."

and to substitute therefore the following (DB-143):

"provided, that the Annual Conference may by majority vote order such payments to be made monthly, semi-annually or annually."

The motion, being duly seconded, George M. Davenport (North Alabama) spoke to the same.

A. T. McIlwain Speaks to Amendment—Request—L. L. Roush

At the request of Lester L. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pension, A. Thomas McIlwain (North Mississippi), Executive Secretary of the Missouri Corporation of the General Board of Pensions, spoke to the amendment, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, so far as administration from the General Board is concerned, it makes absolutely no difference. The only thing concerned here is that most of the Annual Conferences prefer it on this basis. If it suits all the Annual Conferences concerned, it is all right with the General Board to adopt this amendment."

C. A. Dahlquist Against Amendment

C. Albin Dahlquist (New England Southern) spoke against the amendment.

The amendment of George M. Davenport (North Alabama), on being put to the vote of the General Conference, was not adopted.

The remainder of Chapter IV, Paragraphs 1625 through 1637 inclusive, DCA-258, columns 1, 2 and 3, DCA-259, columns 1 and 2; Chapter V, Paragraphs 1638, DCA-259, column 2; and Chapter VI, Paragraphs 1639 through Paragraph 1641, DCA-259, column 1, were adopted as presented. See pages 1360-1366.

Method of Procedure—J. K. Mathews—Reply—L. L. Roush

James K. Mathews (Bombay) was recognized, and suggested that in view of the hour, the highly technical nature of the legislation under consideration, that final action be postponed until Monday morning or afternoon, May 5, 1952.

Lester L. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, answered the suggestion, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, we think the controversial matters are over. There is only one more new item that needs to be called to your attention in the Reserve Pension Fund, which would completely dispose of it."

Question—Bishop Phillips—Answer—The Delegates

Bishop Glenn R. Phillips propounded the following question:

"What is the will of the body? Do you wish to let the brother go ahead and complete that?"

The Delegates replied as follows:

"Complete it."

Chapter VII—Paragraphs 1642-1657—Presented—L. L. Roush—Adopted

Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, presented Chapter VII, Subject, "Ministers Reserve Pension Fund," DCA-259, column 3, DCA-260, columns 1, 2 and 3, DCA-261, columns 1, 2 and 3, Paragraphs 1642 through 1657 inclusive, and, on his motion, duly seconded, Chapter VII was adopted. See page 1367.

Chapter VIII—Paragraph 1658—Presented—L. L. Roush—Adopted

Lester L. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, presented Chapter VIII, Subject, "Lay Employees Pension Fund," Paragraph 1658, DCA-261, column 3, DCA-262, columns 1 and 2, and on his motion, duly seconded, Chapter VIII was adopted. See page 1376.

In co-operation with the National Council of the Churches of Christ, to study the desirability and feasibility of the inclusion of the service of Ministers in Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance (O.A.S.I.) on a voluntary basis; provided, however, that in the event that legislation is presented to the Congress of the United States relative to this matter during the quadrennium, the Council of Bishops, the Council on World Service and Finance, the Council of Secretaries, and the Board of Pensions shall be authorized to take such joint action as they may deem advisable."

Unanimous common consent was given by the General Conference for the insertion of paragraph 9 at the place indicated.

Amendment—J. E. Skillington—Not Adopted

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) moved to amend Paragraph 1660 at the bottom of column 2, DCA-262, in the bold-face type, by inserting the words, "constituted from the membership of the Board," in line three to follow the words, "for the quadrennium of 1952-1956," and to delete the sentence found near the close of the Paragraph, and which reads:

"This Committee shall have a claim on the General Administration Fund for an amount not to exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) for expenses during the quadrennium."

Time Extended—By Common Consent

The time of adjournment nearing, by common consent of the General Conference, the time was extended to complete the matter under consideration.

T. A. Stafford—A. T. McIlwain Speak to Amendment

Thomas A. Stafford (Northern Minnesota), Executive Secretary of the Illinois and Maryland Corporations, made the following statement:

"I would be very favorable to what my good friend Dr. Skillington suggests if it were not for the fact that our Budget, as reflected in the amount allowed us by the World Service Commission, is one of the smallest in the entire assembly of Boards, considering the vast amount of work we have to do in our office.

"We did not include one penny of that for this purpose. We offered, and it was accepted, that we would raise $15,000.00 of our office costs ourselves from other sources. That is going pretty well.

"I want you to understand clearly before you vote, that there will be extra expenses that we cannot dodge when we do this work. If you will look at the controversial questions being referred to us in the last part of this Report, and some of them are very difficult, including the very difficult question that is proposed to be answered here in this 9th proposition, whether ministers should be placed under Federal Social Security coverage or not. That will apply just to hired competent actuaries and to make studies. It might run to a cost of $10,000.00 or $15,000.00. We are offering to do it for the tiny little sum of $3,000.00. I think that is trying to be economical par excellence."

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, EVENING SESSION

A. Thomas McIlwain (North Mississippi), Executive Secretary of the Missouri Corporation of the General Board of Pensions, made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, Dr. Skillington referred to the fact that this was an outside organization. If you will read this carefully, it is composed of members of the Board of Pensions. It is in the Board of Pensions entirely. I agree with all Dr. Stafford said with reference to our limited Budget.

"There has been something left out in the printing. We intended to include that the membership should come from the Board of Pensions, and request that the proper insertion be made at the proper place."

By unanimous common consent the General Conference ordered the insertion made at the proper place.

The amendment of J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania), on being put to the vote of the General Conference, was not adopted.

Chapter IX was then adopted by the General Conference. See page 1378.

Adopt As a Whole—L. L. Roush—Adopted

Lester A. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, moved that Report No. 1 of the Committee, Calendar No. 55, Subject, "Pension Legislation," DCA-255, columns 1, 2 and 3; DCA-252, columns 1, 2 and 3; DCA-257, columns 1, 2 and 3; DCA-258, columns 1, 2 and 3; DCA-259, columns 1, 2 and 3; DCA-260, columns 1, 2 and 3; DCA-261, columns 1, 2 and 3; and DCA-262, columns 1, 2 and 3 be adopted as a whole, with the exception of paragraph 1 of Paragraph 1602, DCA-255, column 1, relative to the composition of the General Board of Pensions, on which action had been deferred until the Report of the Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission had been considered and acted on, dealing with the composition of all the General Board of The Methodist Church. The motion, to adopt as a whole with the exception of Paragraph 1602, paragraph 1, was duly seconded.

Typographical Error—E. F. Tripp—Corrected—L. L. Roush

Ernest F. Tripp (Troy) asked why the first paragraph of Paragraph 1646, appearing at the bottom of column 1 of DCA-260 and the top of column 2, DCA-260 was not printed in bold-face type as the legislation proposed is new.

Lester L. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, stated that it was simply a typographical oversight and would be corrected.

TENTH DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1952, EVENING SESSION

Motion to Refer—Expense Item—E. W. Gamble—Adopted

Motion of Edge W. Gamble (Louisville), duly seconded, prevailed, referring the Expense Item of $3,000.00 for the Committee of Pension Legislation for the quadrennium 1952-1956 to the General Commission on World Service and Finance, for their consideration and action.

Previous Question—G. M. Davenport—Not Needed

George M. Davenport moved the previous question on the Report as a whole, and Bishop Glenn R. Phillips replied that is the question already before the General Conference.

Question—R. W. Lyon—Answer—L. L. Roush

Roswell W. Lyon (Wyoming) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I am not at all sure of what point of order I come in on, but this is the thing that has happened to me, and perhaps to many others here. The action taken on Paragraph 1646, which is in the light-face type, and which is brand new legislation, and which does increase the contributions of all ministers by one-third to the Reserve Pension Fund annually, has been slipped through without my attention.

"It may be there is nothing I can do about it, but if I could be in order I should like to defer action on this whole matter until we have had time to have a statement as to why the increase was made, and as to whether or not we are willing to vote such an increase."

Lester L. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, gave the following explanation:

"Mr. Chairman, there has been almost a universal desire on the part of the Reserve Pension members to have the privilege of increasing and paying one more per cent. It means, of course, that they will receive that much larger pension, and inasmuch as most pensions pay more, such as in the school systems and the Y.M.C.A., and many other pensions, it has come by request from the Reserve Members themselves, and in response the Memorials were to that effect and requests that came to us. We responded and lifted it, giving them the privilege of paying three per cent instead of two."

Report No. 1 Pensions—Adopted As a Whole

Report No. 1 of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, Subject, "Pension Legislation," was adopted as a whole, with the exception of Paragraph 1602, paragraph 1, on which action was deferred, pending the Report of the Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission touching the composition of the General Boards of The Methodist Church. For Report see page 1349.

No. 3. Report of Correlation and Editorial Revision—D. L. Marsh—Adopted—C. P. Hardin—No. 2 Committee of Six

Q. Schisler, Executive Secretary of the Division of the Local Church of the General Board of Education:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CORRELATION AND EDITORIAL REVISION

"Paragraph 1399 (Advocate page 215) in Calendar No. 22 was referred to your Committee in view of the prior adoption of Report No. 2 of the Committee of Six. That Report provides that the Council on World Service and Finance shall—

'Prepare and edit all Official Statistical Blanks, Record Forms, Record Books required for use in The Methodist Church (except Official Records for use in the Local Church School, and Forms used by the Woman's Board of Christian Service). In the preparation of these Forms the Council on World Service and Finance shall consult with a Committee which shall utilize the experience of persons who have served on the Commission on Records, Forms and Statistical Blanks (Paragraph 1139, 1948 Discipline) and which in its composition shall include representatives of the Council of Bishops, of Annual Conferences, and of The Methodist Publishing House. All Official Blanks, Record Forms, and Record Books required for use in The Methodist Church shall be printed and published by The Methodist Publishing House.

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"The Division of the Local Church, General Board of Education, is greatly concerned here. There are several reasons:

"1st. Its program gears directly into the Statistical Questions in the Blanks. The questions have promotional and educational value in guiding pastors and others in matters relating to the Local Church School.

"2nd. The Methodist Church School Record System for which the Division is responsible must gear in with these Statistical Questions and form one total Statistical System, otherwise there will be confusion.

"3rd. The Division is dependent on these Statistics to measure progress in the Local Church Schools. Unless the needed items are included its work is hindered.

The Division of the Local Church, General Board of Education, does not ask that more space in the Blanks be devoted to the Local Church School. It should, however, have part in determining the items to be included in that space.

To that end we make the following recommendation:

In Report No. 2 of the Committee of Six, page 1, Paragraph 8, there numbered 7, after the words "and with representatives of The Methodist Publishing House." insert the following, "and with representatives of General Boards whose programs are directly involved," so that the Paragraph as amended shall read:

"Prepare and edit all Official Statistical Blanks, Record Forms, and Record Books required for use in The Methodist Church (except Official Records for use in the Local Church School, and Forms used by the Woman's Board of Christian Service). In the preparation of these forms the Council on World Service and Finance shall consult with a Committee which shall utilize the experience of persons who have served on the Commission on Records, Forms and Statistical Blanks (Paragraph 1139, 1948 Discipline) and which in its composition shall include representatives of the Council of Bishops, of Annual Conferences, of The Methodist Publishing House, and with representatives of the General Boards whose programs are directly involved. All Official Blanks, Record Forms, and Record Books required for use in The Methodist Church shall be printed and published by The Methodist Publishing House."

MURRAY H. LEIFFER, Secretary

On motion of Cecil P. Hardin (Holston) duly seconded, the Report was adopted,

No. 4 Committee of Six—Presented—H. C. Case—C. C. Parlin (*)—Amended—Adopted

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) presented Report 4 of the Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, Subject, "General Agencies-Membership and Functions," and moved its adoption. The motion to adopt, was duly seconded by Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark).

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Method of Presentation—Bishop W. Angie Smith—H. C. Case

Bishop W. Angie Smith asked the following questions, to which Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) made replies:

Bishop Smith:

"May I ask is this being presented as a full Report? Is it to be adopted Section by Section, and then adopted as a complete Report, or is it to be adopted as each Section as a separate Report? So that we will not get into an argument at the close?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona):

"Mr. Chairman, the motion the Committee of Six would make is for the adoption of Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission."

Bishop Smith:

"It will be Section by Section, and then adopted at the end of the Report as a whole?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona):

"We would make one covering motion to adopt the entire Report with discussion of any part of it."

Bishop Smith:

"Then it will not be adopted Section by Section?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona):

"That is correct."

Bishop Smith:

"Thank you, sir. That is understood by the house? Please proceed, Dr. Case."

Appreciation—H. C. Case

Before beginning the detailed presentation of Report No. 4 of the Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) expressed his appreciation to and of the members of the Committee of Six, who had worked so tirelessly and continuously in the performance of their obligations to the General Conference.

Report Presented—H. C. Case—C. C. Parlin

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) presented Page 1 of mimeographed Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, and made the following statement after the first paragraph of the Report:

"It is necessary to have the legislation printed. It will be in tomorrow's Advocate for a single motion to adopt the legislation."

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

After reading paragraph 1 under "General Provisions," Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) made the following statement:

"Of course, this does not apply to Bishops of the National Council of Churches, or to the World Council of Churches."

Paragraphs 2, 3, and 4 of the "General Provisions" were read by Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona).

Paragraph 5 called for an amendment to Report No. 1 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission.

Reconsideration Report No. 1—D. W. Walter (*) Adopted

On motion of Dwight E. Walter (*) (Ohio), duly seconded, Report No. 1 of the Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, Subject, "Co-ordinating Council," adopted at the morning session of Friday, April 28, 1952, was reconsidered, for the purpose of making the amendment proposed on page 1 of Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission.

Report No. 1 Special, Committee of Six—Amended—Adopted—J. R. Kenney

The legislation adopted in Report No. 1 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, Subject, "Co-ordinating Council," was amended by deleting the sentence found in lines 14 to 17 inclusive of the second paragraph, DCA-27, column 2, and which reads as follows:

"Members shall serve until their successors are appointed or elected and, during their term of office, shall not be eligible to membership on any other General Agency."

and substituting therefore, the following:

"Members shall serve until their successors are appointed or elected. No person, other than a Bishop, shall be eligible to membership on any other General Agency. In a review of any question involving overlapping of activity or lack of co-operation among or within the General Agencies, a Bishop who is a member of an Agency involved shall be disqualified on the particular review."

Report No. 1 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, Subject, "Co-ordinating Council," was adopted as amended, on the motion of John R. Kenney (California-Nevada), duly seconded,

Report No. 4 Resumed

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Committee on the Report of the Survey Commission was presented and explained by Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona), said page containing the list of the General Agencies of The Methodist Church, and the proposed membership of each respective General Agency.

Question Raised—H. B. Watts—Answered—H. C. Case

H. Bascom Watts (East Oklahoma) raised the following question:

"I would like to make an inquiry as to whether the passage of this Section of the Report binds the Conference with respect to the establishment of a Board of Social and Economic Relations, or does that come up on a Report from the Legislative Committee later on?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, in an earlier Report of the Special Committee of Six, a Board of Social and Economic Relations was voted. (See Report No. 3, page 412, Editor.) Its constitution was not considered. We have before you the number 48 which, although it may seem fairly large, in the judgment of the Committee of Six is proper.

"It is a new Board, it has broad responsibilities and at least in this first quadrennium should have a broadly based membership for that reason."

Question Raised—E. H. Blackard—Answered—H. C. Case—C. C. Parlin ()*

Embree H. Blackard (Western North Carolina) raised the following question:

"It was my understanding that when we adopted that original Report to which the Chairman referred, we adopted it in principle, saying that there should be a Co-ordinating Board for the Peace Commission, and for this proposed new Council.

"I do not believe this body feels it has already voted to establish this Board on Social and Economic Relations."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, the motion was clearly on the establishment, the Co-Chairmen have discussed it and have no desire to debate the matter at all.

"It was simply our belief that the Conference did vote the establishment of a Board of Social and Economic Relations, its functions, structure and size to be determined."

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) made the following statement:

"We had assumed that that was the case. It is not necessary to assume it, because I hope your Calendar will be such that later in the day we will bring to you the Report of the Committee on the State of the Church, recommending to you, I believe by a unanimous vote of that Committee the establishment of such a Board.

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"We therefore had assumed that this body would adopt such a Board, but certainly here we are dealing only with the question of number if it is constituted."

Suggestion—Allen Whitfield ()—Accepted—H. C. Case*

Allen Whitfield (*) (Iowa-Des Moines) raised the following question and suggestion:

"I would like to ask the Chairman if it would not be wise to permit the Council of Bishops to designate alternate members of these Boards, in order that we may assure representation to the maximum from the Episcopal group in connection with the Board meetings?"

"I have understood that the Bishops are very busy men. I noted their comments in the Episcopal Address. Under the circumstances, with pressing engagements and sometimes commitments for travel that might interfere with attendance at Board meetings, would it not be wise that the Council of Bishops have the privilege of naming alternate representation at these Board meetings from the Episcopacy?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied as follows:

"The total proposal from the Committee of Six is taken care of, I believe, in the statement that a Bishop may attend any meeting of any Board or Agency with voice, but without vote."

Allen Whitfield (*) (Iowa-Des Moines) made the following suggestion:

"Would it not be wise to permit alternate representatives to be in attendance with the privilege of vote in case the regular members are unable to be present?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) made the following reply:

"The Chairman sees no objection to that; I think we would accept that."

The suggestion of Allen Whitfield (*) (Iowa-Des Moines) was accepted by Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) for the Special Committee of Six on the Report of Survey Commission, no objection be raised by any member of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, or of the General Conference.

Question Raised—H. N. Holmes ()—Answered—H. C. Case*

Harry N. Holmes (*) (New York East) raised the following question:

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"Mr. Chairman, I just want to ask the Chairman one question. The Committee on Overseas Relief has taken a tremendous reduction of over 50 per cent. When we found that the success of our appeal over twelve years was tremendously helped by wide representative participation, I wonder if you have any word because you gave us the maximum reduction."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied as follows:

"I think all I could say for this Committee of Six is that this is after very thorough discussion and consideration. Beyond that, I think I would not have a comment."

Question—R. E. Clay—Answer—H. C. Case

Russell E. Clay (Southern California-Arizona) raised the following question:

"In the constitution of the Board of Missions and the Board of Education, nothing is said about as far as the Bishops are concerned that each Jurisdiction is represented. Is that in the law, or should we have an amendment to that effect, or will the Committee accept it?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied as follows:

"I am sorry, I didn't get the full import of that."

Russell E. Clay (Southern California-Arizona) stated the question in these words:

"Where you talk of the membership of the Board of Missions and the Board of Education on the part of a Bishop, is it assumed that every Jurisdiction shall be represented in the eighteen on the Board of Missions, seventeen on the Board of Education?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied:

"Yes."

Russell E. Clay (Southern California-Arizona) replied as follows:

"That is not part of the law, however."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) answered:

"It is assumed."

Method of Procedure—Bishop W. Angie Smith—H. C. Case

Bishop W. Angie Smith raised the following point of procedure:

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"May I ask as he is coming up, is it the desire of the body to stop and discuss each of these, or have the entire Report read, and then go back and discuss it? What is your desire, Dr. Case?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied:

"We would favor going through the entire Report, and then having any part of it discussed."

Floor Yielded—E. W. Gamble—Bishop W. Angie Smith

Edge W. Gamble (Louisville) was recognized, and in view of the parliamentary situation, made the following statement:

"May I yield the floor with the privilege of coming back? I yield the floor with the understanding that I will be given the floor later."

Bishop W. Angie Smith replied, as follows:

"I will be delighted to do it.

"Go right ahead, Dr. Case. By common consent, then, there will not be interruption until after he has read the full Report."

Report Presented—H. C. Case

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) then proceeded to present pages 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 of the mimeographed Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, explaining it in detail where needed.

C. C. Parlin () Speaks to Report*

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) spoke to Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, emphasizing twelve important things the Special Committee of Six had done, making the following opening and closing remarks:

Opening: "Perhaps you would wish me to analyze with you for a moment what this Report does. Remember we are working not on the Survey Report, but on the Discipline of 1948. Everything in the Discipline of 1948 remains exactly as it is, except for the specific amendments that have been brought to you in Reports of the Special Committee of Six, Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4, the 4th being before you now. Anything that is not touched in one of these Reports specifically remains exactly as it is in the 1948 Discipline."

Closing: "In general, let me say that it is the unanimous opinion of the Special Committee of Six that the 1948 Discipline, with these amendments, gives our Church a much more effective organizational setup and machinery for operation than we have ever had."

Statement—H. C. Case

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) made the following statements for information:

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"Mr. Chairman, there are just three items for information. One, the number on the Co-ordinating Council is 34 including 2 from overseas Methodism, persons who may be in this country at the time the Co-ordinating Council meets.

"Second, on page 4, the third full paragraph from the bottom of the page; That paragraph replaces Paragraph 753, page 110 of the Daily Christian Advocate.

"Third, on page 9, the final paragraph does not give the Co-ordinating Council authority to write in any legislation. It does give the Co-ordinating Council responsibility for carrying out provisions which may be indicated as procedural only."

Amendment—E. W. Gamble—Not Adopted

Edge W. Gamble (Louisville) moved to amend Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, page 2, relative to membership on the General Board of Pensions, as follows (DB-147):

"On the General Board of Pensions there shall be two Bishops, selected by the Council of Bishops, and one clerical and one lay member for each 600,000 members of each Jurisdiction, provided, that each Jurisdiction shall have at least one clerical and one lay member."

The motion, being duly seconded, Edge W. Gamble (Louisville) spoke to the same.

A. T. McIlwain Speaks for Amendment

A. Thomas McIlwain (North Mississippi) Executive Secretary of the Missouri Corporation, General Board of Pensions, spoke in favor of the amendment.

W. E. Stanton—Against Amendment

Willard E. Stanton (Pacific Northwest) spoke against the amendment.

L. L. Roush for Amendment

Lester L. Roush (Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Pensions, spoke for the amendment.

Previous Question—Virgil D. Morris—Ordered

Virgil D. Morris (Louisiana-SC) moved the previous question on the amendment. The motion, being duly seconded, prevailed by more than the two-thirds majority vote of the General Conference, and the previous question was ordered.

C. C. Parlin () Against Amendment*

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) spoke against the amendment, as follows:

"I think Dr. Case agrees in this particular, too, when I speak,

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

because my feelings on the size of Boards are well known. Every item here is debatable, including Pensions. Pensions has been cut down, but we felt this was a Board that required chiefly people of technical skills, and those of you who listened to the discussion of Saturday night, I think, will feel the same. I hope the amendment will fail."

Amendment—E. W. Gamble—Not Adopted

The amendment of Edge W. Gamble (Louisville) on being put to the vote of the General Conference, was not adopted.

Amendment—C. V. Adams ()—Not Adopted*

Charles V. Adams (*) (Central Pennsylvania) moved to amend Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, by adding on page 9 of the Report, the following (DB-148):

"I move that the Survey Commission be and hereby are instructed to turn over to each Board, or other Agency, of The Methodist Church which has been studied and reported on as to its work, all information, charts, surveys, and recommendations that concern such Board or organization, so that the Boards and organizations shall be able during the next four years to have the benefit of the material for its planning and work."

The motion being duly seconded, Charles V. Adams (*) (Central Pennsylvania) spoke to the same.

Bishop W. Angie Smith made the following statement:

"I would ask if Dr. Case and Mr. Parlin as Joint Chairmen to either accept or reject."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, for the Survey Report there is nothing beyond the factual findings and the Survey Report. They are available."

Charles V. Adams (*) (Central Pennsylvania) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, may I ask through you if the factual Reports will be turned over to each Board and organization? That is the thing we are asking in this amendment."

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I think I speak for my Committee of Three; we don't know what we are getting into there and, therefore, take no position on this."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) made the following statement:

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"Mr. Chairman, speaking now for the Survey Commission, and not for the Committee of Six, there are fifteen copies of all the factual material now in the office of the General Commission on World Service and Finance. They are available to all Agencies in the Church. If you are asking the Survey Commission to print up additional copies, it would have to be by order of the General Conference. If you are asking for the information, it is already filed in the Central Office, and is and would be available unless the General Conference orders otherwise to all Boards and Agencies."

Previous Question—R. G. Morris—Ordered

Robert G. Morris (Lexington) moved the previous question on the amendment. The motion, duly seconded, prevailed by more than the two-thirds majority vote of the General Conference, and the previous question was ordered.

Amendment—C. V. Adams (*)—Not Adopted

The amendment of Charles V. Adams (*) (Central Pennsylvania) on being put to the vote of the General Conference, was not adopted.

Question—R. G. Mayfield (*)—Answer—H. C. Case

Robert G. Mayfield (*) (Southwest Missouri), Executive Secretary of the General Board of Lay Activities, raised this question:

"I would like to ask Dr. Case and Mr. Parlin if the last paragraph on page 4 and the first paragraph on page 5, concerning a Journal for pastors, includes the Methodist Laymen, which is not specifically mentioned in the Discipline."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied, as follows:

"The answer is, yes, it does."

Robert G. Mayfield (*) (Southwest Missouri) raised this further question:

"In other words, it eliminates the only magazine that goes to the laymen."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, of course, this is a recommendation to the Commission on Promotion and Cultivation. This is not a mandate, but if it were carried out as one Journal, it would mean exactly that, including the Methodist Laymen. (See page 581.)

Judicial Council Matters—Bishop W. Angie Smith

Bishop W. Angie Smith stated that we were just in a few minutes until recess, and that the Judicial Council had an important matter they desired to present to the General Conference.

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Motion to Hear Judicial Council—D. H. Youell ()—Adopted*

Donald H. Youell (*) (Holston) moved that further consideration of and action on the Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission be deferred until after recess, and that we now hear from the Judicial Council, and then go into recess. The motion, duly seconded, prevailed by the vote of the General Conference.

M. A. Childers—Speaks to General Conference

Marvin A. Childers (*) (Southwest Texas), President of the Judicial Council of The Methodist Church, made the following three brief statements:

(1) The Judicial Council of The Methodist Church is greatly in need of a Discipline of the Methodist Protestant Church.

(2) This General Conference has enlarged the powers of the Judicial Council by requesting it to pass upon the constitutionality of proposed legislation, with the result that the work of the Judicial Council has been greatly augmented.

(3) Finally, in the light of statement TWO, refer only those matters that are important to the Judicial Council for its consideration and action.

Time Extended—C. P. Hardin—Adopted

On motion of Cecil P. Hardin (Holston), duly seconded, prevailed, that the time be extended to hear this Decision.

Decision 87—J. T. Alton

Marvin A. Childers (*) (Southwest Texas), President of the Judicial Council of The Methodist Church, stated that John Taylor Alton (Ohio) would present Decision, No. 87 on "The Right of a Retired Minister to Vote in His Annual Conference."

John Taylor Alton (Ohio) presented Decision, No. 87 (DB-149) which stated that a Retired Minister has the right to vote in his Annual Conference. For full text of the Decision, see page 1023.

Recess

The time of recess having arrived, the General Conference recessed at 10:36 A.M. for the regular ten-minute period.

Reconvene—Bishop W. Angie Smith

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

The Methodist Church to order at the close of the recess period.

Hymn No. 240—J. R. Houghton ()*

No. 4—Special Committee of Six—Resumed

Consideration of and action on Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission was resumed.

Question—Mrs. R. M. White ()—Answer—H. C. Case*

Mrs. Roscoe M. White (*) (Virginia) asked the following question:

"Bishop Smith, I have a question for Dr. Case. Dr. Case stated that the books of factual material are available for study. Does he mean by that that any member of a Board would have to go to Chicago, or could some of those books be placed at the headquarters of the different Boards? I think the Boards have a right to that material, but if they have to go to Chicago for it, it would be inconvenient."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied, as follows:

"Yes, indeed. The 15 Reports are only filed in the Chicago office. Any number could be placed at Nashville, at New York, at Chicago, to be available to all the Boards. And of course the Survey Commission would hope that would be done. In addition may I say all the factual material in the Survey relating to any Board or Agency is now filed in the office of that Board or Agency. So that in addition to the total factual material, the specific material for each Board is already in the hands of that Board."

Bishop W. Angie Smith asked the following question:

"Is that satisfactory, Mrs. White?"

Mrs. Roscoe M. White (*) (Virginia) replied:

"Yes, thank you."

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Statement—R. H. Nichols ()*

Ray H. Nichols (*) (Northwest Texas), President of the General Board of Lay Activities of The Methodist Church, referring to "The Methodist Laymen," stated that this Report does not discontinue any magazine or periodical, but refers the whole matter to the Inter-agency Commission on Cultivation, Promotion and Publication for study.

Amendment—E. H. Blackard—Accepted—H. C. Case

Embree H. Blackard (Western North Carolina) moved to amend Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, by adding on page 2 after the first sentence, the following:

"Nothing in the Report shall be construed to prevent this General Conference from considering on its merit Report No. 9, of the General Standing Committee on the State of the Church in reference to establishing a Board of Social and Economic Relations."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona), accepted the amendment for the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, no objection being raised by any member of the Special Committee of Six, or of the General Conference.

Previous Question—F. H. Faber ()—Ordered*

Frank H. Faber (*) (Minnesota) moved the previous question on the adoption of Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, as a whole, and for a hearty vote of appreciation of a hard job well done. The motion, duly seconded, prevailed by more than the two-thirds majority vote of the General Conference, and the previous question was ordered.

Question—R. C. Baker—Answered—H. C. Case

Rufus C. Baker (Colorado) asked the following question:

"If you turn to page 4 of the Report, under No. 2, the second paragraph at the top of that page, the term, 'periodical for Pastors' is used. In the last paragraph on the same page, the second line, the term, 'Journal for pastors' is being used.

My question is, do these terms refer to the same Journal or separate Journals?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) answered, as follows:

"In paragraph 2 at the top of the page, 'Religion in Life' is the Journal to which we refer. At the bottom of the page is a Minister's Trade Journal. They are not the same Journals."

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Question—C. A. Smith (*)—Answer—H. C. Case

Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) asked the following question:

"I desire to ask Dr. Case whether or not this Report provides that laymen shall be equally represented on every Board, Commission, and other Agency of The Methodist Church?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) answered, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, the principle of lay membership is the same as we have in the present Discipline. I cannot say it is equal, because in certain cases there is not equal membership. We have Bishops, as well as ministers who are serving pastoral charges. But the basis of selection is the same we now follow."

Question—G. M. Davenport—Answered—H. C. Case

George M. Davenport (North Alabama) asked the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, the other day we referred an amendment that the Conference passed on tithing to this Committee. They have not said anything about tithing in this Report. Does that preclude any action on tithing in the future?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied, as follows:

"No, it does not."

George M. Davenport (North Alabama) asked this further question:

"Can it come up now, or when can it come up?"

Bishop W. Angie Smith, replied, as follows:

"It would come up at a later date, not in connection with this Report. They did not handle it, I presume."

Question—R. R. Patton—Answer—H. C. Case

Russell R. Patton (Kentucky) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, I have a question of Dr. Case. The Committee recommends the General Conference refer with power to act, and then regarding establishing a periodical, this question: Does this make mandatory that the Board of Publication establish a monthly magazine instead of the weekly Christian Advocate we now have?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied, as follows:

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"No, sir, it only gives them power to consider it."

No. 4 Special Committee of Six—Adopted by Standing Vote

Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, Subject, "General Agencies—Membership and Functions," consisting of 9 mimeographed pages, was adopted by a practically unanimous standing vote of the General Conference. For Report see page 1713.

No. 5 and 6—Special Committee of Six

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) presented Report No. 6 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, Subject, "Amending Report No. 3 of the Committee of Six," with this statement:

"We turn now to Report No. 6. This is not an error. There was originally a Report No. 5; however, you have now covered the matter in that Report. Report No. 6 is before you." (See page 1721.)

No. 6. Special Committee of Six—Presented—H. C. Case—Adopted

Reconsideration Report No. 3 Special Committee of Six—C. E. Lundy—Adopted

Section (b) of Report No. 6 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, called for the voiding of certain legislation passed in the adoption of Report No. 3 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, which was adopted on Friday morning, May 2, 1952, and the substitution of new legislation.

Motion of Clyde E. Lundy (Holston) duly seconded, prevailed that Report No. 3 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission be reconsidered for this purpose.

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) presented the substitution set forth in Report No. 6 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, and moved its adoption. The motion was duly seconded.

Question—D. Stewart Patterson (*)—Answer—H. C. Case

D. Stewart Patterson (*) (Baltimore), Executive Secretary of the Methodist Commission on Chaplains, raised the following question:

"I desire to ask a question of Dr. Case and then, dependent on that answer, to have the privilege of offering an amendment.

"Does this legislation carry with it the new Section of 1389 as found at the bottom of the second column and the top of the third column on page 43 of the Daily Advocate, April 23?"

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied, as follows:

"And your question is, does that remain?"

"This is left out now and would be included for the co-operation of the group now placed within a Department."

D. Stewart Patterson (*) (Baltimore) Executive Secretary of the Methodist Commission on Chaplains, asked this further question:

"Will you say that again, please?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California) replied, as follows:

"This Paragraph is now deleted and this substitutes which we have read, and leaves that matter to the co-operation of the Sections within this Division."

D. Stewart Patterson (*) (Baltimore), Executive Secretary Methodist Commission on Chaplains, replied:

"In other words, Ministerial Training, Chaplains, Hospitals, and Homes would co-operate in that field, and that section is now deleted?"

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) replied:

"That is right."

Amendment—W. L. Steffens—Not Adopted

William L. Steffens (Ohio) moved to amend by deleting the words,

"and a simplified Four-year Course which, if the Annual Conference shall so determine, may be used for the Accepted Supply Pastors in lieu of the regular Conference Course."

found in lines 2 through 4 inclusive, at the top of page 2 of Report No. 6.

The motion, being duly seconded, William L. Steffens (Ohio) spoke to the same.

R. W. Goodloe Against Amendment

Robert W. Goodloe (Central Texas) spoke against the amendment.

Point of Information—J. O. Gross

John O. Gross (Kentucky), Executive Secretary of the Division of Educational Institutions of the General Board of Education, called attention to the fact that the language used in the substitute of Report No. 6 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, is already in the Discipline, and has been for some time.

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

The amendment of William L. Steffens (Ohio) on being put to the vote of the General Conference, was not adopted.

GENERAL ENABLING ACT

"And all corporations heretofore organized or incorporated under the laws of any State, under or pursuant to authority heretofore granted by any General Conference of The Methodist Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, or the Methodist Protestant Church shall be, and they, and each of them, hereby are authorized and directed to make, or cause to be made, any change or changes, amendment or amendments, in and to their respective Charters, Constitutions, or Articles of Incorporation that may be necessary to conform them to the actions of the 1952 General Conference of The Methodist Church, relating to such corporations, or to any of them, in order that any and all rights, interests, and property of said corporations, or any of them, may be properly safeguarded and preserved."

Amendment—J. K. Mathews—Accepted—H. C. Case

James K. Mathews (Bombay) was recognized and made the following statement and request:

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the Conference: In our haste a moment ago in approving Report No. 4, I believed that we passed over a matter which lacking the information, amounts, I think, to a matter of privilege for the whole house.

"There was a recommendation from the Commission on the Structure of Methodism Overseas which has to do with membership on Boards. That was handed to the Committee of Six and Dr. Case and Mr. Parlin did accept it, but in the haste it was not read.

"I would like to ask the privilege for Dr. Case to read that amendment, and if it is possible to have it included in Report No. 4 by common consent."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, the Committee of Six would accept this with the consent of the house. It does this one thing: It says that there shall be a maximum of eighteen Bishops residing in the United States of America on the Board of Missions, and adds, 'There shall be six Bishops from overseas members of the Board of Missions when they are in this country, and under travel restrictions already provided in the Discipline.'

"That is to say, they would not travel to a meeting of the Board of Missions with a special trip, but if in this country, up to the number of six, Bishops serving overseas would be members of the Board of Missions.

"The Committee of Six would accept it, if the house consents."

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) accepted the proposed amendment of James K. Mathews (Bombay) for the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, no objection being raised by any member of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, or by any member of the General Conference.

Report No. 4 Amended by Common Consent—Bishop W. Angie Smith

Bishop W. Angie Smith, made the following statement:

"Is there objection on the part of any one? Do you care to reconsider, or will you by common consent have this inserted in legislation already passed?

"If I hear no objection, I will rule that it can be. Is there objection? Is there any objection at all?

"If not, I rule then, that that will, by common consent, or unanimous consent, be included."

C. C. Parlin (*) Speaks to Report No. 6

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) speaking to Report No. 6 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, made the following statement:

"Just in summary, two points.

"First, the most important thing we have done by way of structure is the change in the Commission on Ministerial Training going over in to the Department of Education. I am sure that nothing herein is intended to change the basic philosophy.

"Heretofore the six Bishops on the Commission have been selected by the Council of Bishops. There will be now on the Board of Education seventeen Bishops, six of those seventeen will serve on this Commission on Ministerial Training, now the Department of Ministerial Education.

"I think that we should understand the selection of those six, the designation of those six remain where it always has been, namely, in the Council of Bishops.

"Secondly, as a privilege of the house I would like to have an announcement by Dr. Dannelly as to the mechanical procedure of getting before you the method for electing of the new members to the Boards."

Motion—C. M. Dannelly (*) Re Board Members—Adopted

Clarence M. Dannelly (*) (Alabama) made a motion, which was duly seconded, and adopted by the vote of the General Conference, as follows:

"I move that the Chairman of each Legislative Committee be responsible, after consultation with any Board Members present, including the officers and any members of the Committee which may have contributions to make for presenting this legislation, for printing in the Daily Christian Advocate without its initial reference to the General Conference. It will then be in the Advocate tomorrow morning, before you for action."

No. 16. Chairmen—L. T. Moore—Priority of Legislation—Adopted

Leon T. Moore (Philadelphia), Chairman of the Committee of Chairmen, presented the following Resolution (DB-150), which being duly seconded, was adopted as follows:

"Be It Resolved That, in the event that any portion of the legislation adopted by this General Conference shall be contradictory to another portion, that portion which was enacted last shall prevail and any portion contradictory thereto is hereby repealed, except as follows:

"Any legislation proposed by the Commission on the Study of the Local Church and adopted, and any legislation proposed by the Committee of Six and adopted, shall prevail regardless of the chronological order of passage, and any other portion of legislation contradictory thereto is hereby repealed."

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) stated that in addition to consideration of and action on the introductory and closing statements, that the printer had inadvertently left out of the printed Report the recommendation of the Commission that Paragraph 745 of the 1948 Discipline be deleted, and that action should be taken upon the recommendation of the Commission.

For final action on Paragraph 745 see next page, and pages 674-681.)

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

The motion was duly seconded.

Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) provided that the Committee on Correlation and Editorial Revision is authorized to work it in smoothly with what we have here, there being no objection raised by any member of the Committee or of the General Conference, the General Conference giving unanimous common consent for the addition of the amendment to Paragraph 753-A.

Amendment—A. R. Grummon—Withdrawn

A. Ray Grummon (Illinois) moved to amend the Report of the Committee on the Quadrennial Report, by deleting the recommendation of the Committee that Paragraph 745 be stricken from the Discipline, said recommendation having been inadvertently omitted from the printed Report.

The motion, being duly seconded, A. Ray Grummon (Illinois) spoke to the same.

Recommendation Withdrawn—J. E. Skillington—Amendment Withdrawn—A. Ray Grummon

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, we are going to move at an appropriate time that the Report No. 9, presented by the General Commission on World Service and Finance, that dealt with legislation, one feature of which was the provision for The Methodist Foundation, shall be reconsidered.

"I would like now to have permission to withdraw this from this Report, this deletion of 745 from this Report, that I may present it with that Report on revisions of legislation. You can have a little time to think about it between now and then."

Bishop W. Angie Smith made the following statement:

"In order to clarify that, then, it will be necessary first of all for this Conference to grant permission. When anything is printed, or stated here, it is in your possession. You grant permission for the withdrawal of this deletion of 745, which would naturally carry with the amendment which was made by Dr. Grummon."

Permission Granted—C. C. Sherrod ()—Adopted*

Motion of Charles C. Sherrod (*) (Holston), duly seconded, prevailed granting permission to withdraw the recommendation to delete Paragraph 745 requested by J. ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

No. 3—Temporal Economy—Presented—Harry Denman (*) —Amended—Adopted

Harry Denman (*) (North Alabama), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Temporal Economy, presented Report No. 3 of the Committee, Calendar No. 150, DCA-409, columns 2 and 3, Subject, "Expense Allowance to Pastors," and moved its adoption. The motion was duly seconded.

Question—F. M. Templin—Answer—Harry Denman ()*

Frank M. Templin (Indiana) asked the following question:

"In the body of this Memorial, among other expenses to be listed, are you including moving expenses?"

"Does the changed sentence, which requires that the total of all these expenses. . . ."

Harry Denman (*) (North Alabama), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Temporal Economy, answered, as follows:

"It does not include moving expenses; we debated that in the Committee."

Question—M. T. Steel—Answers—Harry Denman ()—
G. C. Pettygrove*

Marshall T. Steel (North Texas) raised the following question:

"How is a minister going to compute the expense of office if he has an office in the church, and uses a church Secretary as Secretary?"

Harry Denman (*) (North Alabama), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Temporal Economy, replied as follows:

"In a church of that kind, that will be in another column, will it not, under your church expense items?"

"This is primarily for a preacher who doesn't have an office, or an office secretary."

Second Question—M. T. Steel—Answer—Harry Denman ()*

Marshall T. Steel (North Texas) raised a second question, as follows:

"What is included in office expense?"

Harry Denman (*) (North Alabama), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Temporal Economy, replied, as follows:

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"Postage."

Marshall T. Steel (North Texas) made the following statement:

"I am opposed to it if it requires that a minister try to distinguish the detailed cost of the operation of a church office. I don't think that ought to have to be reported as a matter of expense and broken down into a separate item in a Conference Journal."

Statement—G. Clifford Pettygrove

G. Clifford Pettygrove (California-Nevada), Secretary of the General Standing Committee on Temporal Economy, replied, as follows:

"This is more in the nature of clarification, I hope:

"If you will read the provision carefully, you will see that we are referring here to expense items paid to the pastor. If the pastor is occupying an office in the church, needless to say, the church Treasurer is not paying rent to the pastor.

"This has to do with general expense allowances, some of them very general, we find paid to pastors. Some of them have reported to us as high as $1,000.00 or $2,000.00.

"This refers only to such items of expense as are paid to the pastor. If the church Treasurer pays other bills, he will be paying them to other people, but not to the pastor."

Amendment—O. D. Jackson—Adopted

Olin D. Jackson (Minnesota) moved to amend the Report by deleting the word "office" found in line one of the bold-face type.

The motion, being duly seconded, Olin D. Jackson (Minnesota) spoke to the same.

The motion of Olin D. Jackson to amend, on being put to the vote of the General Conference, was adopted.

Question—W. H. Alderson—Answer—Harry Denman ()*

William H. Alderson (New York East) raised the following question:

"I just want to ask a question for clarification: A statement was made here a while ago about the fact that if items were not paid to the pastor, of course this did not apply to them.

"How about a matter of heat where the church pays for the heat of the parsonage, but where they pay the coal company, for instance, directly?

"Is an item like that included?"

Harry Denman (*) (North Alabama), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Temporal Economy, replied, as follows:

"No, sir, it is not included; just items paid to the pastor."

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Previous Question—C. E. Lundy—Ordered

Clyde E. Lundy (Holston) moved the previous question on the Report. The motion, duly seconded, prevailed by more than the two-thirds majority required of the General Conference, and the previous question was ordered.

Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) be recognized for a privileged motion.

Motion to Reconsider—Report No. 9—General Commission on World Service and Finance—J. E. Skillington—Adopted

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) moved a reconsideration of Report No. 9 of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, said motion to be of record, and to be acted on at a later time. The motion was duly seconded.

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

*Question—W. S. Evans—Answers—Bishop W. Angie Smith
J. E. Skillington*

William S. Evans (Memphis) raised the following question:

"It has to do with the announcement that Dr. Skillington made. I want some information.

"When we had come to the close of the discussion of the Report of the Commission on World Service and Finance, I had brought up the question of consideration of that Report as a whole, and Dr. Skillington made the statement, DCA-454, column 1, which the Chair at that time ruled as acceptable.

"He said, 'Mr. Chairman, I object. The Report was adopted. It was presented as a whole. You didn't vote on any paragraph separately. You voted to make amendments to several paragraphs and defeated all of them.'

"The question I want to ask, Mr. Chairman, in the light of two decisions by two different Chairmen that seem to be in conflict, is it not reconsidered as a whole so that I might make a motion that I tried to get into the record a number of times, so that I may get that before this body?"

Bishop W. Angie Smith ruled as follows:

"I do not know who my distinguished predecessors were in this Chair, and therefore I am speaking impersonally, but I would have to rule that this was not adopted as a Report as a whole, it was adopted by sections as separate Reports and acted upon.

"You have the privilege of moving a reconsideration of any section that was adopted as a full Report, and then the Conference can determine whether they want to do so or not, at the proper time. It was not adopted as a whole, it was not presented as a Report of a whole, it was presented in a series of Reports.

"Is that correct, Dr. Skillington?"

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) replied as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, I recall very distinctly that discussion, and when I said the Report was adopted, it was presented as a whole. You didn't vote on any paragraph separately; you voted to make amendments to several paragraphs and defeated them. Of course, they weren't all defeated; one was accepted or adopted.

"I was referring, and I thought the discussion appertained solely to Report No. 9, which I presented. I didn't suppose that anyone thought that all those Reports presented by the General Commission on World Service and Finance constituted one Report, any more than a series of Reports from any Legislative Committee would constitute one Report. So I was talking about Report No. 9, and other persons were talking about the whole series of Reports."

"Report No. 9 was considered as a whole, as I said, and adopted."

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Bishop W. Angie Smith added this statement:

"Thank you, sir.

"It would not preclude, of course, moving a reconsideration of the section in which he wanted to have something done, if he wanted to do it at a later time."

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) added this statement:

"That is right. He could move reconsideration of any one of the Reports, or any other Reports."

"Mr. President, and Members of the Conference: It is my very high honor, and a privilege I prize very, very much to present to this Conference a group of our missionaries, and with them certain distinguished representatives of the autonomous Methodist Churches in Brazil, Mexico and Korea.

"Never in my lifetime that I can remember, was I in such a conflict between what my head tells me to do, and what my heart wants to do. I do not know how to put together any combination of words which will adequately express to these who stand before you our appreciation of their faith, their sacrifices and their fidelity.

"They have been standing in the wings for a few minutes, waiting to come to this place before you. That was not for them a new experience. For year in and year out, in far and sometimes difficult places, they stand face to face with forces bent upon their own destruction.

"By their patience, their vision, their efficiency, their Christlike compassion they have written an imperishable record in Christian heroism.

"I have the very great honor of presenting them to you, the missionaries of the Church, with these representatives from autonomous Churches, from the ends of the earth."

The General Conference applauded, loud and long.

recognized, and presented a paper (DB-159), which was unanimously adopted, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, and Members of the General Conference:

"We are deeply conscious of the absence of many of our Methodist fellowship who, under normal circumstances, would be in attendance at this General Conference. They have been prevented from doing so because of present world tensions.

"We hold in our hearts the multitude of loyal and devoted leaders and members of The Methodist Church, forced to live today under extremely dangerous, though challenging circumstances.

"Although communication between them and us has been interrupted, we are able to unite with them at the Throne of Grace. We pray that God may bless and guide them, and bestow on them spiritual power and much wisdom. Our fellow-Christians have indicated repeatedly that one of the bulwarks of their strength is this solidarity of Christian fellowship surmounting all man-made barriers.

"We move, therefore, that this General Conference remain standing for a moment of silence in recognition of these Methodist heroes of the Cross, after which we request Bishop Arthur J. Moore to lead us in prayer.

Presented Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of the New York Area, Secretary of the Council of Bishops, for the following important announcement:

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the Conference: This morning you determined the number of persons who will serve upon the Boards and Commissions of the Church.

Your Committees are at work determining the categories under these totals. The Council of Bishops will be required to make a number of nominations for your subsequent consideration.

We make this request, if you can see your way clear to grant it, that as soon as an Agency has determined its categories under the total you fixed, that that Report be released to you, so that we can proceed with the nominations. We know that all of these matters are subject to your approval tomorrow morning.

However, to make the nominations tomorrow and bring them back to you would be very difficult. If you should change any of the categories we of course would be under your instructions to go back and to renominate.

It is purely a request to facilitate the business of the Conference. We hope you may see your way clear to grant it."

The motion was duly seconded.

No. 18. Chairmen—L. T. Moore

Leon T. Moore (Philadelphia), Chairman of the Committee of Chairmen, made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the Conference: I have no objection to this, except this one point as a matter of courtesy. Twice we had Mrs. Brooks listed to come on with the Report of the Committee on Missions and Church Extension.

Because of these very numerous special privileges and courtesies, Mrs. Brooks twice has come to the platform to present her Report, and twice has not been privileged.

I had scheduled this this afternoon, and so notified the Committee on the State of the Church, that the two I wanted to bring before you this afternoon were the Missions Report and the State of the Church, because of the very reason for which the statement has just been made.

If it is perfectly satisfactory to Mrs. Brooks, and I would not want to embarrass her, I have no objection to the State of the Church coming on first. Mrs. Brooks is standing. Are you satisfied, Mrs. Brooks?"

Mrs. Frank G. Brooks (North Iowa), President of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, General Board of Missions and Church Extension, replied, as follows:

"Yes."

Leon T. Moore (Philadelphia), Chairman of the Committee of Chairmen, made the following statement:

Church, and then come to the question of the Federation for debate.

Am I permitted to clear my docket of the State of the Church, as we had planned to do it, or must I go directly to Federation?"

Bishop Marshall R. Reed replied, as follows:

"The action was for the reception of the Committee on Federation, isn't that right, Dr. Moore?"

Leon T. Moore (Philadelphia), Chairman of the Committee of Chairmen, replied, as follows:

"The action, as far as my statement, was, I recognized the State of the Church Committee, and it is up to the body."

Bishop Marshall R. Reed then stated:

"But the motion of Dr. Watts asked for the Report of the Federation, did it not?"

H. Bascom Watts (East Oklahoma) made the following statement:

"The motion was on Calendar Nos. 83 and 84, the Majority and the Minority Reports of the Committee on the State of the Church."

Method of Procedure—C. C. Parlin ()—Adopted*

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on the State of the Church, made a statement regarding procedure, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, before I start I wish the agreement of the body on procedure.

When your Committee of Chairmen met to discuss this matter, it was recognized that this was one of the most controversial issues of our entire Conference. We agreed, subject to approval of the house, on the following procedure; that the Majority Report would be presented, with ten minutes allowed. Thereafter the Minority Report would be presented, with ten minutes allowed.

Then each Report would be supported by two speakers, with five minutes on each Report, in an attempt to epitomize for you the debate which took place on three days in the Committee itself.

If you accept this suggestion, you will find speaking as follows: Mr. Paul R. Ervin (*) for the Committee Report; for the Minority Report, Reverend Raoul C. Calkins; supporting the Majority Report, Reverend Skillington, and for the Minority Report, Reverend Worley.

The debate would then be thrown open to the house for debate as long as the Conference wished to debate, and upon calling for the closing of the debate, and the previous question, the Minority would be allowed five minutes in summary, and I will speak the final five minutes in support of the Majority Report.

Perhaps we should have the consent of the house to this procedure which is recommended to you by the Committee of Chairman."

Motion of Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on the State of the Church,

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION duly seconded, prevailed by the unanimous vote of the General Conference, for the above outlined method of procedure.

Request—C. C. Parlin ()*

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on the State of the Church, made this additional statement:

"May I request that as this debate proceeds, that there be no applause. I think this is a time for cool thinking and firm speaking, but there should be no emotion of applause."

J. W. Henley—Minority Report No. 7-A—H. H. Crane—

Substitute for Minority Report—Presented—H. H. Crane—Substituted

Henry Hitt Crane (Detroit), representing the Minority Report of the General Standing Committee on the State of the Church, was recognized, and made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the Conference: The original Minority Report which appears in the Daily Christian Advocate was a spontaneous, hurried, honest attempt to express the desires of the signers to achieve genuine co-operation and to avoid controversy.

"But on more mature consideration we have come to realize that there are some very precious principles involved in the question with which we are confronted, principles that we are willing to recognize and are anxious to preserve, but principles that we are liable to overlook unless we can point up the issue more clearly by restating the case.

"Therefore, with the consent of all the co-signers of the Minority Report, and with the consent of Mr. Parlin and Dr. Skillington, we are asking that we substitute this Minority Report for the rather lengthy and ambiguous one, so far as implementation is concerned.

"This is the Minority Report, for the purpose of clarifying the issues, so that there will not be the ambiguities and uncertainties, and altogether frank facing of the basic issues.

"We respectfully request the Council of Bishops of The Methodist Church to set up an impartial Commission to investigate the Methodist Federation for Social Action, as well as other unofficial organizations and publications using the word 'Methodist' in their title,

Statement—R. W. Lyon

"I am told by Miss Barnwell, who is a very accomplished authority in this field, that the jurisdiction of this Report covers only the United States, and that all deaconess work in the other fields is covered by the legislation worked out through the Central and Mission Conferences, and therefore we do not have jurisdiction there, and this could not apply to them."

Statement—J. R. Wilkins

John R. Wilkins (California-Nevada) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I am wondering whether or not the words could be deleted and still not violate any agreement with the home Deaconess Board in this country with their Deaconesses. It certainly would not seem to bar any Deaconesses in this country, and still there would be no misunderstanding abroad over the status."

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, EVENING SESSION

Amendment Acceptable—R. W. Lyon

Roswell W. Lyon (Wyoming) stated that the Commission would be glad to accept the amendment.

Ferdinand Sigg Against Amendment

Statement—R. W. Lyon

"It says earlier, somewhere in the Report that a Deaconess shall be a woman available to work in The Methodist Church. This is Section 4 in the middle of the Paragraph 1252, page 345. The recommendation is that Deaconesses are hereby authorized in The Methodist Church.

"This office entitles a woman to serve The Methodist Church through any of its agencies in any capacity not requiring full clergy rights, which would be required if they were to vote on the Conference floor."

Amendment—W. E. Stanton—Accepted—R. W. Lyon

Willard E. Stanton (Pacific Northwest) moved an amendment to the amendment of Juan Nabong (Philippines) by adding the words "without vote" at the end of Paragraph 623, so that the amended Paragraph will read:

Question—C. H. Ginns—Answered—R. W. Lyon

C. Homer Ginns (New England Southern) asked the following question:

"It is on that same Paragraph that I raise a point of information, for it would indicate that all of the Deaconesses, without relation to Conference boundaries, are allowed to be seated in the Annual Conference sessions, and given the privileges of the floor.

"I wonder if that is the intent, or whether it is really Deaconesses within the bounds of the Conference."

Roswell W. Lyon (Wyoming) answered as follows:

"It is the intent that it shall be the Deaconesses who are working within the bounds of the Conference."

"At the same time, however, just as a visiting minister is given the courtesy of sitting in the floor of the Conference session, I think that it has been in our mind that the same courtesy would be extended, provided Deaconesses are visiting from one Conference to another."

Substitute—C. H. Ginns—Accepted—R. W. Lyon

C. Homer Ginns (New England Southern) moved as a substitute for the recently amended Paragraph 623, the following (DB-174):

Statement Judicial Council—Report No. 28—Ministry

Marvin A. Childers (*) (Southwest Texas), President of the Judicial Council of The Methodist Church, was recognized, and presented the following statement (DB-175):

ELEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1952, EVENING SESSION

STATEMENT JUDICIAL COUNCIL

MAY 5, 1952

TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE:

The Judicial Council has been officially notified by the Secretary of the General Conference that at the morning session of the Conference today a motion was made and adopted that the Judicial Council be asked to make a statement regarding its former Decision relating to the subject matter of a proposed change in Par. 440 of the Discipline set forth in Report No. 28 of the Committee on Ministry, Subject, "Assignment of Bishops," Calendar No. 162, page 413 of the Daily Christian Advocate.

The Judicial Council assumes that it was the intent of this motion to request the Judicial Council to point out how that Decision affects the subject matter of such Report.

The Constitution of the Church (Par. 37 of the Discipline) reads as follows:

"Par. 37. The Bishops of each Jurisdictional and Central Conference shall arrange the plan of Episcopal Supervision of the Annual Conferences, Mission Conferences, and Missions within their respective territories."

In accord with this constitutional grant of power to the Bishops to "arrange the plan of Episcopal Supervision of the Annual Conference," etc., the General Conference had, prior to 1948, adopted Par. 440 of the Discipline reading as follows:

"Par. 440. Each Jurisdictional Conference may fix the Episcopal residences within its Jurisdiction and assign the Bishops to the same. The Bishops of the Jurisdiction shall fix the boundaries of the Episcopal Areas."

On May 5, 1948, the General Conference convening in Boston, adopted a Report adding to Par. 440 the following phrase:

"After consultation with, and with the consent of the Jurisdictional Committee on Episcopacy."

The Judicial Council held that it was within the right of the General Conference to request the Bishops to consult with the Jurisdictional Committee on Episcopacy regarding the formation of Areas, but that the portion of such act which required the consent of the Jurisdictional Committee on Episcopacy in fixing the Episcopal Areas was unconstitutional, same being in conflict with the constitutional power conferred upon the Bishops in Par. 37 of the Dis-

For the same reasons set forth in that Decision (No. 57. See Journal, page 945), the proposal in Report No. 28 of the Committee on Ministry, to take from the Bishops the right to fix the episcopal Areas and delegate that right to the Jurisdictional Conference would be unconstitutional.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Nos. 14, 15, 16, 17. Credentials—H. L. Bradway—Adopted

Henry L. Bradway (New Jersey), Chairman of the Committee on Credentials, presented Report Nos. 14, 15, 16, and 17, DCA-505, and, on his motion, duly seconded, they were adopted by the vote of the General Conference, without reading. For Report see pages 1049-1052.

No. 5. Rules—A. W. Pugh—Amended—Common Consent—Granted

A. Wesley Pugh (North Indiana), Chairman of the Committee on Plan of Organization and Rules of Order, requested unanimous common consent to make two brief amendments to the Plan of Organization and Rules of Order, without the usual parliamentary procedure of moving reconsideration for that purpose. The General Conference granting unanimous common consent, the following amendments were added:

(1) Add section (f) to the Committee on Courtesies and Privileges, which will read as follows:

“(f) To prepare and publish in the Daily Christian Advocate contemporaneously with the list of the nominees for election to the Judicial Council, biographical sketches not to exceed 100 words in length for each nominee.”

(2) Requested the Secretary of the General Conference, when he edits the Journal of the 1952 General Conference to include the footnote, found at the bottom of page 172 of the Handbook for Delegates for the 1952 General Conference, showing that the ministers have the first choice of selection of General Standing Committees for the 1956 session of the General Conference of The Methodist Church. For Report, see page 1063.

Nominations Council of Bishops—Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, New York Area, Secretary of the Council of Bishops, presented a large number of elections and nominations from the Council of Bishops, and made the following statement:

“Mr. Chairman and Members of the Conference: The Council of Bishops is charged under the law with making numerous nominations, and, in some cases, elections. I have before me the work that was done last evening carrying out your orders.

May I say that to read these names, which run into the hundreds, will take about a half hour of your time. We are prepared to read them. I wonder, though, whether you wish it done that way?

In view of a blanket Resolution adopted yesterday which gives to the Council of Bishops the duty of naming any Committees which we may not have named during the session, and to correct any matters in nominations growing out of a conflict in law and the like, I wonder whether you desire all of these Boards, Commissions, and so on read? The National Council involves 124 names.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

It would seem to me, Mr. Chairman, in view of this difficulty, that perhaps you will wish to do something else. We have assumed that the recommendations coming from the Committee of Six, and adopted by you, constitute what you intend to do. Some Committee Reports appear to be in conflict. There must be certain reconciliations made afterward.

In addition, you now have an order that a person may only serve only upon three Boards, and laymen upon only one.

Some of these matters will have to be adjusted and if you care to do this, I would like to read the Co-ordinating Council nominations, and the revision of the Council on World Service and Finance, and if you wish to adopt the others, without reading, it would save you that time. There is no disposition upon our part not to read, it is purely your pleasure."

No. 21. Chairmen—L. T. Moore—Adopted

Leon T. Moore (Philadelphia), Chairman of the Committee of Chairmen, made the following motion:

"Mr. Chairmen and Members of the Conference: I move that the nominations, with the exception of the two named by Bishop Oxnam, be received and approved without reading, and that the Council of Bishops be authorized to make any and all necessary revisions."

The motion, duly seconded, was unanimously adopted by the vote of the General Conference.

No. 9 World Service and Finance—Reconsidered—J. E. Skillington—Adopted

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) called up for action of the General Conference at this time, the motion he made yesterday morning, Monday, May 5, 1952, for the reconsideration of Report No. 9 of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, Part V, DCA-227, columns 1, 2 and 3; DCA-228, columns 1, 2 and 3; and DCA-229, columns 1 and 2, Subject, "Legislation." The motion, which had been duly seconded, when made, was now adopted by the vote of the General Conference.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

No. 9—Amended—J. E. Skillington—Adopted

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) moved to amend Report No. 9, DCA-229, column 2, by adding to the end of Report No. 9, the following:

"15. Delete Paragraph 745 of the 1948 Discipline which reads as follows:

Par. 745. Pastoral charges, individuals, or groups may make designated gifts to the work of any General or Conference Board or Agency, or to one or more projects or types of work under its direction; provided, that said gifts shall be designated for projects or types of work which have been included in the approved program of the Board or Agencies. Before making remittance the donor is requested to ascertain from the Board or Agency concerned whether the proposed gift applies to a project included in the approved program. Designated gifts shall be credited upon the Benevolence Apportionment of the local church, and shall be applied upon the ratio share of the receiving Boards or Agencies in the Apportioned Benevolence Funds."

N. P. Benway (*) Against Amendment—Out of Order—
Bishop Kennedy

Neil P. Benway (*) (Troy) started to speak against the proposed amendment. Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy ruled him out of order, as the proposed amendment had not been acted upon by the General Conference.

The motion of J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) to amend, being duly seconded, prevailed by the vote of the General Conference, and Report No. 9 was before the General Conference for consideration and action.

The Methodist Foundation—Legislation Referred—T. B. Lugg—Adopted

On motion of Thomas B. Lugg (Illinois), Executive Secretary of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, duly seconded, the proposed legislation, Item 12, concerning The Methodist Foundation, DCA-228, column 3, and DCA-229, column 1, was referred to the Co-ordinating Council for careful study and recommendations to the 1956 General Conference of The Methodist Church. (DB-196) Paragraph 754 is not deleted but remains in the Discipline, unchanged.

E. L. Smith Speaks to Report

Eugene L. Smith (Newark), Executive Secretary of the General Board of Missions and Church Extension, spoke to Report No. 9 explaining the situation regarding designated gifts.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

J. D. Heer Against Deletion

John D. Heer (Philadelphia) spoke against deleting Paragraph 745.

Questions—C. A. McPheeters—Answers—Bishop Harrell

Chester A. McPheeters (Detroit) asked the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, may I ask Dr. Smith or Dr. Skillington to clarify this point. I gathered from what Dr. Smith said that the World Service Apportionment must be met before Advanced Specials could be indicated. Is that true?"

J. E. Skillington Speaks to Pending Question

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) stated he was afraid he was not competent to answer the question, and requested that Bishop Costen J. Harrell be given the privilege of the floor to answer the question, and asked Bishop Harrell the following question:

"Must World Service Apportionments be met by a charge before it can participate in Advance Specials? I think not."

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) requested the privilege of the floor for Bishop Costen J. Harrell to reply. The General Conference, by unanimous common consent, granted the request.

Bishop Costen J. Harrell, Charlotte Area, Southeastern Jurisdiction, replied as follows:

"I think there is no law concerning it. However, we do most strongly voice and urge that all of our churches shall first meet their World Service Apportionments, after which they may take Specials as they may individually and severally decide."

Chester A. McPheeters (Detroit) asked this further question:

"Well, Mr. Chairman, does this clear it? I mean to say, are we sure which way we are going here? I have no objections to the stopping of designations if they are not going to require that we raise World Service Apportionment before we can do any designating."

Bishop Costen J. Harrell, Charlotte Area, Southeastern Jurisdiction, replied as follows:

"They are not going to require that."

Questions—G. M. Frye—Answered—E. L. Smith—J. E. Skillington

Glenn M. Frye (Michigan) asked the following question:

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"Mr. Chairman, I should like to ask Dr. Smith to clarify the last sentence of the Paragraph he wants to delete; 'Designated gifts shall be credited upon the Benevolence Apportionment of the local church, and shall be applied upon the ratio share of the receiving Boards or Agencies in the Apportioned Benevolence Funds.'

My question is, if it applied on that ratio, what point is there to his point that only 23 cents of the dollar is applied to that Agency to which it has been designated?"

Eugene L. Smith (Newark), Executive Secretary of the General Board of Missions and Church Extension, replied, as follows:

"There is an expectation that when thus the one dollar, for example, is sent out as a designated World Service Special, they hope to receive from the foreign field the statement from a missionary that the money has been received which was designated to them. The Division of Foreign Missions has tried to keep faith with that expectation on the part of the local church. The legislation does not require it, but history and the expectation of the local church calls for it."

Glenn M. Frye (Michigan) made the following statement:

"If we would keep this 745 in the Discipline and obey it, as some churches have, they would then benefit by more easily being able to educate uninterested members in mission designations. It would not work any hardship as we have been told it is working. We simply have to obey this full law of 745."

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) made the following statement:

"If you want to act upon this proposal itself, there will have to be a motion to delete this from the Report. The proposal to delete 745 is now part of the Report. If you want to act upon that alone, and that is apparently what you want to do, we should have a motion to delete 745 from the Report."

Amendment—W. E. Clark—Not Adopted

William E. Clark (Northwest Indiana) moved to amend Report No. 9 by striking out its recommendation to delete Paragraph 745 from the Discipline.

The motion to amend, being duly seconded, William E. Clark (Northwest Indiana) spoke to the same.

R. F. Curl Against Motion to Amend

Robert F. Curl (Southwest Texas) spoke against the motion to delete the proposed deletion.

Previous Question—E. D. Worley—Ordered

Elbert D. Worley (Holston) moved the previous question on all before the General Conference. The motion was duly seconded.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Question—W. M. Scheuermann—Answer—E. D. Worley
Walter M. Scheuermann (Iowa-Des Moines) raised the following question:

"I wonder what this motion includes. Is it everything before us?"

Elbert D. Worley (Holston) replied as follows:

"I understood there was only one thing before us, that we were voting on the proposition and approving it, one way or another."

Statement—J. E. Skillington

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) made the following statement:

"We have presented the Report, you have amended it by taking out the provision relating to The Methodist Foundation, and referring it to the Co-ordinating Council.

Now you have another amendment, to take out the proposal to delete Paragraph 745. If there was a motion to take the previous question on the whole thing, you will vote first on the motion to take out our proposal to delete Paragraph 745, and then you will vote to adopt the Report as amended."

Question—R. D. Williams—Answer—J. E. Skillington

Roy D. Williams (Memphis) raised the following question:

"We have amended by referring The Methodist Foundation to the Co-ordinating Council, but does this also change the Budget of the General Administration Fund, by striking out the $65,000.00? That part of the Report was not considered."

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) made the as follows:

"That is in another Report, and will come later."

Question—H. H. Hughes—Answer—J. E. Skillington

Harold H. Hughes (Virginia) raised the following question:

"I would like to ask a question on interpretation of Advance Specials under this Paragraph, if it remains in the Discipline. We are no longer under The Advance For Christ and His Church.

What is the status of Advance Specials if they are continued under this Paragraph? Could they be applied under this Paragraph to Benevolences?"

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) answered, as follows:

"They can only be applied to projects under the Board of Missions

Question—M. T. Steel—Answer—Bishop Kennedy

Marshall T. Steel (North Texas) asked for information, as follows:

“Mr. Chairman, I am confused over this negative situation. If I am in favor of the deletion, do I vote against the motion before us?”

Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy replied, as follows:

“The motion before us is simply the previous question, Dr. Steel, and then we will have the amendments stated so you will be clear.”

Previous Question Ordered

The motion of Elbert D. Worley (Holston) for the previous question was adopted by more than the two-thirds vote of the General Conference, and the previous question was ordered.

Question—J. K. Mathews—Answer—E. D. Worley

James K. Mathews (Bombay) raised the following question:

“I just want to inquire whether or not the gentleman who moved the previous question later altered it in his remarks to you (Bishop Kennedy), applying it to only the amendment, because I think a possible amendment to 745 might be acceptable to the body, if it were not shut off by the previous question applying to all.”

Elbert D. Worley (Holston) replied, as follows:

“I did not.”

Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy asked this further question:

“You didn’t mean to shut it off?”

Elbert D. Worley (Holston) replied, as follows:

“No, sir.”

Question—J. D. Heer—Answer—Bishop Kennedy

John D. Heer (Philadelphia) raised the following question:

“My question is, if we vote for this amendment that is coming before us, it means that we continue Advance Specials, is that right?”

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy replied, as follows:

"It leaves the Paragraph in just the way it is, yes, if you vote for the amendment. Is that clear?"

Amendment—W. E. Clark—Not Adopted

The amendment of William E. Clark (Northwest Indiana) to delete the proposal to delete Paragraph 745 of the Discipline, on being put to the vote of the General Conference, was declared not adopted, by Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy, presiding.

E. W. Gamble—Questions Vote

Edge W. Gamble (Louisville) made the following statement:

"Bishop, we think the amendment carried."

Question—C. A. McPheeters—Answer—Bishop Kennedy

Chester A. McPheeters (Detroit) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, I don't believe the Detroit Delegation is any more stupid than any other Delegation, but we are badly confused. The fact of the matter is, when I voted, they told me I voted to delete, which I was against. I would like to have this clarified, if we may. As I understood, the motion was to delete the deletion."

Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy replied, as follows:

"That is correct. Let me make this so simple that even the Detroit Delegation will get it now, if possible. The amendment is simply to leave the Paragraph in. That is what you are voting for."

Vote Taken Again—Amendment Declared Lost

The vote was taken again on the amendment of William E. Clark (Northwest Indiana) to delete the proposed deletion, and again Bishop Kennedy stated the amendment was not adopted.

Count Vote—E. W. Gamble—Not Ordered

Edge W. Gamble (Louisville) called for a count vote on the proposed amendment. The motion was duly seconded.

The motion for a count vote, on being put to the vote of the General Conference was not adopted, as less than the required third of the members voted for it.

Bradford V. Powell (Missouri) moved to amend Paragraph 745.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Point of Order—O. D. Jackson—Sustained—Bishop Kennedy

Olin D. Jackson (Minnesota) raised the point of order that Paragraph 745 had been deleted, and therefore a motion to amend would be out of order.

Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy ruled the point of order well taken.

Previous Question—M. T. Steel—Ordered

Marshall T. Steel (North Texas) moved the previous question on all before the General Conference. The motion, duly seconded, prevailed by more than the required two-thirds vote of the General Conference, and the previous question was ordered.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Charles A. Jones (*) (Ohio), Recording Secretary of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, replied, as follows:

"That is a different Fund. The General Administration Fund was affected by that."

Question—D. W. Throckmorton—Answer—C. A. Jones ()*

Dillon Wesley Throckmorton (California-Nevada) asked the following question:

"I would like to ask Mr. Jones if this estimated $45,000.00 for the proposed new Board would be subject to the disposition of the Board that is about to be established. In other words, the items listed are not frozen, are they?"

Charles A. Jones (*) (Ohio), Recording Secretary of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, answered, as follows:

"That is right."

Suggestion—E. E. Voigt—Explanation—T. B. Lugg

Edwin E. Voigt (Iowa-Des Moines) made the following statement and suggestion:

"Mr. Chairman, we have not yet officially adopted the Memorial to create this Board of Social and Economic Relations, and now we are trying to create a Budget for a Board that is not yet in existence.

My suggestion is that we defer action on this until the Board is adopted."

Thomas B. Lugg (Illinois), Executive Secretary of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, this matter is being presented at your request for your information so you will have it at hand at the time you consider the matter of this new Commission."

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

No. 10 World Service and Finance Discussed—T. B. Lugg—H. C. Case—E. E. Voigt—C. C. Parlin (*)—O. D. Jackson

Thomas B. Lugg (Illinois), Executive Secretary of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, if we can back up to this matter of the Commission, I would like to have Dr. Case present his understanding of it, and ask the Chairman to tell us just where we are on this Special Commission."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the Conference: In Report No. 3, the Special Committee of Six, page 4, adopted by the General Conference (Friday morning, May 2, 1952) the Board of Social and Economic Relations was established.

We deferred consideration of the membership of the Board, and you will find that the Board shall prepare its Budget and present it to the Council on World Service and Finance. That was adopted.

Yesterday in Report No. 4, page 2, you adopted the number of persons to be on that Board.

The function and method of constituting the Board have not been adopted."

Edwin E. Voigt (Iowa-Des Moines) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I may be confused on this, but I am sitting right back of Dr. Throckmorton, who was the Chairman of the Committee, and he tells me that his Committee's Report has not yet been brought to the Conference, and has not been presented, has not yet been officially acted upon.

Aren't we getting lines mixed? That is all I was saying."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, there is no mixture at all. The Committee of Six is aware of the fact that the Report of the Legislative Committee has not yet come before the Conference. That was clarified at the time we discussed Report No. 3 of the Special Committee of Six.

It was agreed upon then that when that Report came, whatever items needed to be harmonized would be harmonized with the establishment of a Board, and the determination of the number of members on that Board."

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) made the following statement:

"There has been a great deal of confusion as to whether we have or have not created a Board of Social and Economic Relations.

We have done clearly two things: First, the Report of the Special Committee of Six created an Inter-board Co-ordinating Committee, in which this Board was named as one of the participants.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Secondly, we said when and if there is a Board, it shall have 48 members. That is as far as we have gone. The official call for the establishment of such a Board will come to you, in the Memorial appearing on page 409 DCA in a Report from the Committee on the State of the Church.

I see no reason to waste further debate as to our precedural status. You will face the issue, frankly, when we come to that Memorial. If you want to knock out the Board and have no such thing, I suppose you can do it by rejecting the structure, with the result we would have a name, but with nothing back of it, and it could not function.

It seems to me it would save time if we would not discuss procedures, but face the questions frankly of whether we have a structure and, if so, what it is when this Memorial comes.

Incidentally, it comes to you as a unanimous Report of the Committee on the state of the Church for the establishment of such a Board, and I will support it when it comes."

Olin D. Jackson (Minnesota) raised the following question in relation to Report No. 10, now under discussion:

"In the previous statement of the Commission, the items for theological schools and Scarrit College carried a footnote."

Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy interrupted Olin D. Jackson (Minnesota) to ask the following question:

"May I interrupt to ask if you are talking to this No. 10 now?"

Olin D. Jackson (Minnesota) replied, as follows:

"Right. In the percentages, in the previous statement, the items for Theological Schools and Scarritt College carried a limitation with a footnote. That does not appear here."

"Does the limitation still prevail?"

Charles A. Jones (*) (Ohio), Recording Secretary of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, replied, as follows:

"Yes, sir." (See page 794.)

Rules Suspended—L. D. Slutz (*)—Adopted

Leonard D. Slutz (*) (Ohio) moved that the Rules be suspended, and that Report No. 9 of the General Standing Committee on the State of the Church be presented for consideration of and action on, by the General Conference.

The motion to thus amend, being duly seconded, George M. Davenport (North Alabama) started to speak to the same.

Point of Order—W. E. Clark—Not Well Taken—Bishop Kennedy

William E. Clark (Northwest Indiana) raised the point of order that under Rule 23, line 5 of the Rules of Order, the motion to substitute may not be considered, or put, until the original Report or Resolution is perfected.

Ray Bond—Statement

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the Conference: I am a member of the Sub-Committee that worked on this Resolution. I think if you look in Paragraph 1586 you will not find that this Board is going to speak for The Methodist Church, as such. It will implement the actions taken here. It is going to set up some other projects. However I think no one has said it is going to speak officially for The Methodist Church."

Chester A. McPheeters (Detroit) moved the previous question on the amendment. The motion, duly seconded,

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Sven E. Stromberg (*) (New York) completed his speech for Report No. 9.

Previous Question—J. S. Chubb—Ordered

James S. Chubb (Nebraska) moved the previous question on all before the General Conference. The motion was duly seconded.

Question—Paul Morrison—Answer—Bishop Kennedy

Paul Morrison (Detroit) asked the following question:

"I have a question. I would like to ask this question, Mr. Chairman, if the previous question now would shut off an opportunity to make an amendment that the name be different. I would like to propose another name for this Board."

Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy replied, as follows:

"I think it would. The previous question has been called for on all before us. I don't think there is any room for amendments until we have voted."

Question—Ferdinand Sigg—Answer—D. W. Throckmorton

Ferdinand Sigg (Switzerland) asked the following question:

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

"In which way will this Board co-operate with the work overseas? If I am correct, overseas representation has no right to be represented on the Board?"

"Is it the understanding that the Board of Foreign Missions will co-operate with the work outside the United States, or will this Board do it directly and in which ways?"

At the request of Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy, Dillion Wesley Throckmorton (California-Nevada) answered the question, as follows:

"Yes, Mr. Chairman, you will find at the bottom of the page, the first column, end of Paragraph 1586, 'to co-ordinate such work with other General Agencies of the Church.'"

Question—E. L. Smith—Answer—Bishop Kennedy

Eugene L. Smith (Newark), Executive Secretary of the General Board of Missions and Church Extension, asked the following question:

"I would like to ask Mr. Parlin, the Chairman of the Committee on the State of the Church if it is a correct interpretation of Paragraph 1586 that this Board shall have the power to speak on social and economic matters for The Methodist Church. Is that Mr. Parlin's understanding?"

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, MORNING SESSION

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on the State of the Church, replied as follows:

"I think the Discipline makes it clear and says that the only body that speaks for the Church is the General Conference. This Board would be bound by the same limitations, but, on the other hand, have such freedom as have the Boards of Temperance, and of Peace.

"All three Boards would be bound by the Constitutional—I think it is a Constitutional provision—that the Church speaks only through the General Conference."

Report No. 9 Amended by Common Consent—C. C. Parlin ()—Adopted*

Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on the State of the Church, closed the debate for the Committee, and requested unanimous common consent to amend Report No. 9 by inserting the words "subject to the provision of Paragraph 1169," after the words, "other endeavors at home and abroad," found in the sixteenth line of the bold-face type, Paragraph 1586, DCA-409, column 1, so that the amended sentence will read:

"To establish 'service projects' where Methodist youth may render Christian service and express their Christian convictions in pioneering and other endeavors at home and abroad, subject to the provision of Paragraph 1169."

The General Conference gave unanimous common consent, and the amendment was made.

Question Raised—J. Q. Schisler—Out of Order at This Time —Bishop Kennedy

John Q. Schisler (Tennessee-SE), Executive Secretary of the Division of the Local Church of the General Board of Education, was recognized, and started to call attention to some overlapping in the provisions of the legislation in Paragraph 1586.

Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy ruled that this was out of order at this time, as the previous question had been ordered on Report No. 9, and the vote would be on the adoption of Report No. 9.

so that the amended section will read:

"(c) To produce and distribute such programs and materials in the area of the work of member Agencies as the Agencies may request and finance, and such other resources as are needed to serve the great causes of the Church. In so far as practical the rental or sale of materials for Methodist use shall be handled through The Methodist Publishing House."

"Through the properly constituted agencies it shall provide courses designed to meet the needs of every classification in our ministry."

and substitute therefore the following (DB-200):

"It shall develop and conduct in-service programs for Supply Pastors, and for persons engaged in the regular ministry."

On the motion of Fred G. Holloway (Baltimore), duly seconded, the amendment was adopted by the vote of the General Conference.

(2) Delete the bold-face type DCA-358, column 1, since the action taken upon the recommendation of the Special Committee of six on the Report of the Survey Commission, bringing the Board of Ministerial Training into General Board of Education of The Methodist Church, makes this section unnecessary.

On the motion of Fred G. Holloway (Baltimore), duly seconded, the deletion was approved by the vote of the General Conference.

John M. Versteeg (Ohio) asked the following question:

"May I ask whether it is true that in the Paragraph having to do with the Wesley Foundation, the second paragraph, third column, page 357, that this means that the local church no longer has the right to nominate the local campus church community representatives on the Board of Directors?"

"Does the local church no longer have any say in selecting representatives to the Board of Directors of a Wesley Foundation?"

At the request of Fred G. Holloway, Charles Bollinger (Genesee) made reply, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, is it true that now interest is charged upon Student Loans?"

John O. Gross (Kentucky), Executive Secretary of the Division of Educational Institutions of the General Board of Education, answered, as follows:

"There is a small interest charge of 1 per cent which carries, I think, for four years. If the student after graduation repays his loan within a period of four to eight years, I think, the interest charge is kept at the lowest possible level. It does not exceed ever 3 per cent."

Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) inquired by what method can we proceed to get rid of the provision of interest on loans?

Point of Order—H. B. Watts—Bishop Kennedy—C. M. Dannelly ()*

H. Bascom Watts (East Oklahoma) raised the following point of order:

Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy replied, as follows:

Statement—F. G. Holloway

Fred G. Holloway (Baltimore) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I hesitate to differ with our Chairman, but I think the point Dr. Heer brings out is well in order. The Report reads that the Committee voted concurrence. The Committee will not have voted concurrence if you eliminate the rest, because they voted concurrence, except."

Allen Whitfield (*) (Iowa-Des Moines) moved further

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

to amend Report No. 10 when the following points of order were raised:

Point of Order—H. B. Watts—Not in Order—Bishop Holt

H. Bascom Watts (East Oklahoma) raised the following point of order:

"Mr. Chairman, may I inquire as to whether or not we have exhausted the thirty (30) minutes allotted to one Committee on this? Aren't we working under that rule?"

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt made the following statement:

"Dr. Watts, we are trying our best to conclude the general session of the Conference this day. We have only two other Reports of Committees. Both of them, I think, will take longer than thirty (30) minutes."

H. Bascom Watts (East Oklahoma) replied, as follows:

"The delegates are exceedingly anxious to leave, and feel that too much time is being consumed by this matter."

Point of Order—C. M. Dannelly ()—In Order—Bishop Holt*

Clarence M. Dannelly (*) (Alabama) raised the following point of order:

"Mr. Chairman, the point of order is this: We were to take thirty (30) minutes, but if we were in the process of completing a Report, we were to complete the Report before retiring the Committee."

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt ruled, as follows:

"I think that is right. If you will state your amendment quickly, Brother Whitfield."

Point of Order—A. W. Pugh—In Order—Bishop Holt

A. Wesley Pugh (North Indiana) raised the following point of order:

"Mr. Chairman, my point of order is this: that no delegate, according to our Rules, has a right to secure the floor and present one amendment, and then continue to hold the floor to present a series of amendments."

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt ruled as follows:

"Well, Dr. Pugh, the situation is simply this: Mr. Whitfield had several amendments to this article. Now, if I had permitted him to present them all to the paragraph at one time, I think you would have been more confused than now."

However, if you insist on your point of order, the Chair has to sustain you. It is just an effort to get through the business this afternoon, if we possible can."

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

A. Wesley Pugh (North Indiana) made the following statement:

"It is just that I do not believe he has a right to present a series of amendments. He should present one, and then get the floor for the next one."

Appeal from Ruling—Allen Whitfield—Ruling Sustained

Allen Whitfield (*) (Iowa-Des Moines) appealed from the ruling of Bishop Holt, making the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I appeal from the ruling of the Chair on this matter, and I ask the delegation and the delegates here to give me the necessary authority to complete this presentation. I am a new delegate, one of the 390 new delegates to this convention. I was not here in 1948 to hear the distinguished Chairman, and the other gentlemen discuss this question of war and peace. I was in the army at that time. I think I have a right to speak, and I would like to be heard, with the consent of the delegation."

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt replied as follows:

"Very well. You have heard the appeal from the decision of the Chair. If you will sustain the Chair, lift your hands. Down, Opposed the same sign. The Chair is sustained in the ruling. You will have to get the floor for the other amendments, Brother Whitfield."

Rules Suspended—J. C. Satterfield, Sr.—Motion Adopted

John C. Satterfield, Sr. (Mississippi-SE) made the following motion:

"Mr. Chairman, I move that the Rule under which the ruling has just correctly been made be suspended in order that this gentleman may present his amendments. It would require a two-thirds vote, I believe."

The motion was duly seconded. There was doubt in the minds of the delegates that the motion had prevailed by the two-thirds vote of the General Conference, so Bishop Ivan Lee Holt put the motion again, and as a result of the vote, ruled as follows:

"I rule that it is carried. Go ahead, sir, and present your amendments."

Amendment—Allen Whitfield ()—Accepted—C. C. Parlin ()

Allen Whitfield (*) (Iowa-Des Moines) thanked Bishop Holt for the privilege, and moved to amend Report No. 10, section "(h) Reserve Officers Training Corps," sub-paragraph 2, DCA-417, column 1, by deleting the last sentence of sub-paragraph 2 which reads as follows:

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

"The presence of military institutions on a campus frequently inhibits freedom of individual thought and action."

and to substitute therefore, the following (DB-210) which reads as follows:

"It does not."

Dillon Wesley Throckmorton (California-Nevada) asked a further question, as follows:

"The sections down below there?"

"No. I don't have a Discipline here right now."

Ernest E. Davis (Genesee) moved to amend Report No. 10 by adding as section 4, DCA-313, column 1, the following (DB-213):

"The Conference Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications may recommend annually to the Annual Conference, students of other denominations in any Accredited School of Theology, to serve as Student Pastors for the ensuing year."

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

The motion to thus amend, was duly seconded.

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, said he would accept the amendment if there were added to it the words,

"under the supervision of the District Superintendent."

Ernest E. Davis (Genesee) accepted the suggested sentence, so that his amendment would read as follows:

"The Conference Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications may recommend annually to the Annual Conference, students of other denominations in any Accredited School of Theology, to serve as Student Pastors for the ensuing year, under the supervision of the District Superintendent."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, accepted the amendment of Ernest E. Davis (Genesee) for the Committee, there being no objection raised by any member of the Committee, or of the General Conference.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

found in line seven;

(2) Delete the words:

"under Appendix,"

in line fifteen, and insert in place thereof, the words,

"Paragraph 2041-55,"

so that amended Paragraph 1387 will read:

"The Commission shall study the educational needs of our ministry, and shall prescribe the Courses of Study to be pursued by those applying for license to preach, for orders as Local Preachers, and for Admission on Trial, respectively; also a Course of Study for those not holding B.D. degrees, or equivalent, from accredited seminaries, extending through four years to be pursued by those who have been Admitted on Trial in the Annual Conference, and a simplified four-year Course for local preachers, etc."

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied, as follows:

"You are correct."

Question—E. E. Voigt—Answers—O. T. Olson—J. R. Spann
Edwin E. Voigt (Iowa-Des Moines) raised the following question:

"Is it not true, Bishop, that if you would delete those three lines, you would delete Admission on Trial?"

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, asked J. Richard Spann (Southwest Texas), Director Commission on Ministerial Training, the following question:

"What about that, after the semicolon there?"

J. Richard Spann (Southwest Texas), Director, Commission on Ministerial Training, replied, as follows:

"That should remain. This should be under the section pertaining to Non-Seminary men, rather than to Seminary men. It is misplaced here, as I see it. It refers to the men who are coming in by orders who are not Seminary graduates, and therefore they must take the Undergraduate Course of Study—not Seminary men."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, made the following statement:

"That is deleted, and it does not appear for Non-Seminary men, which answers your question, Dr. Voigt."

Statement—J. R. Kenney

John R. Kenney (California-Nevada) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, that comes under the provision in the Discipline for Deacon's Orders.

Are you going to start waiving it now? Must he not have completed the Course of Study for Deacon's Orders before he can be ordained a Deacon? I am all for the one-third instead of two-thirds, it throws them in line, but I am not for deleting those last three lines."

Parliamentary Situation—Bishop Holt

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt made the following statement:

"Very well, there is an amendment moved by Dr. Welliver to delete the last three lines. I thought the Chairman accepted it. And then Dr. Spann made some comment to the effect, as I understood it, that could not be deleted. Was that right, Dr. Spann?"

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

There are two categories we are dealing with."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, made the following statement:

"We are dealing here with Seminary students. This is No. 394. I do not have Paragraph 393 in my hand."

J. Richard Spann (Southwest Texas), Director, Commission on Ministerial Training, replied to the question of Bishop Holt, as follows:

"Yes."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, made a further statement, as follows:

"It is an editorial matter, Dr. Spann tells me, dealing with another category of men."

Statement—R. W. Goodloe

Robert W. Goodloe (Central Texas), Professor Perkins School of Theology, made the following statement:

"The meaning there, as I understand it, with which I am in perfect accord, is that one full year in the Seminary is equivalent to the First and Second Year Course of Study."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the Standing Committee on Ministry, answered, as follows:

"Correct."

Question—Bishop Holt—Answer—O. T. Olson

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt asked the following question:

"Do you accept the deletion, or not?"

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the Standing Committee on Ministry, stated that he did, there being no objection raised by any member of the Committee, or of the General Conference.

Questions—W. B. Robinson—Answers—O. T. Olson—J. Richard Spann

William B. Robinson (North-East Ohio) asked the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask how that may be adjusted to Report No. 17, Calendar No. 112, DCA-344, column 2, Subject, 'Admission on Trial—Approved Supply Pastor,' which we just passed concerning the Admission of an Approved Supply Pastor.

Does it make it possible for any Annual Conference to accept an Approved Supply Pastor on this basis, or does it rule it out?"

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied as follows:

"An Approved Supply Pastor when he comes to you with credit, the certifying agency shall be the Department of Ministerial Training, and that in turn is conditioned by the acceptance of the principle that the University Senate Standard shall be the operating Standard."

William B. Robinson (North-East Ohio) asked this further question:

"But if the Conference voted that he must have Seminary work before he is Admitted, then he could not be accepted as an Approved Supply Pastor."

J. Richard Spann (Southwest Texas), Director of the Commission on Ministerial Training, gave the following answer:

"This gives authority for any Annual Conference to set the Doctor of Divinity degree as the minimum of that Conference, and if they set that, this eliminates the two-thirds rule, you see."

William B. Robinson (North-East Ohio) made the following statement:

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

"That is the point I am trying to make. It is contrary to the former action we have taken."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, made the following reply:

"The other is permissive—an Annual Conference would still have the right to set its standards, and could operate under the other rule also. It is purely permissive, not mandatory."

Report No. 20 Adopted

Report No. 20 of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, was adopted by the vote of the General Conference. For Report see page 1290.

No. 21 Ministry—Presented—O. T. Olson—Adopted

Amendment—C. A. Smith ()—Not Adopted*

Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) moved to amend Report No. 23, by inserting the words (DB-214):

"and after he shall have been given an opportunity to present his case to the Conference,"

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

following the words, "Conference Relations," in line seven-teen of Paragraph 377.

The motion to thus amend, Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) spoke to the same.

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, stated,

"There is provision in the Discipline elsewhere for meeting the very situation Mr. Smith has raised."

The amendment of Chester A. Smith (*) (New York), on being put to the vote of the General Conference, was not adopted.

Questions—C. A. Smith ()—Answers—O. T. Olson—A. R. Perkins*

Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, where is it provided in the Discipline, sir, that a preacher who is before the Conference to be located has an opportunity to state his case to the Conference? Where is that provision in the Discipline?"

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, I do not have a Discipline here, but there is a provision for the regular trial of any minister who has his problems and perplexities before him, through the Cabinet and through the regular trial process."

Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) made the following statement:

"I mean, that is on the matter of trial, Mr. Chairman, but I am addressing myself, and my amendment to the proposition where a minister is going to be located, that he shall have an opportunity to present his case to the Conference. Now, is that situation provided for in the Discipline now, and if so, where?"

Statement—A. R. Perkins

Albert R. Perkins (Kentucky) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I think you will find that under Paragraph 377 of the Discipline, 1948."

Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) asked the following question:

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

"Does it state in specific terms that he has a right to present his case to the Conference?"

Albert R. Perkins (Kentucky) replied as follows:

"No, I don't think that is in the Discipline."

Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I have this one other final question: Is it the desire of this General Conference not to give a minister who is up for location a chance to present his case to the Conference? If that is your wish, very well. I think it is most unfair."

Statement—Bishop Holt—Reply—C. A. Smith ()*

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt made the following statement:

"I think, if I may interject a remark, Brother Smith, that when your amendment was before us both Dr. Olson and Dr. Spann stated there was provision elsewhere in the Discipline for that.

Some perhaps voted on the information that it was there. Now, if it is not there the Chair would like to put your amendment again."

Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) replied, as follows:

"I therefore thank you, sir. That is most considerate, and I appreciate it very much.

Now, Mr. Chairman, I renew my amendment to this Report to provide that before the Conference take a vote upon locating a preacher, that he be given a chance to present his case to the Conference."

Statement—A. W. Pugh

A. Wesley Pugh (North Indiana) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I do not believe that anywhere in the Discipline have we provided for any member of an Annual Conference who is accused of mis-doing, and who may be brought to trial to come before the whole Annual Conference and precipitate the struggle there, on the floor of the Conference.

I do not find that in the Judicial Administration for the trial of any member of the Conference. I doubt if we ought to put this in here for one particular type of minister, when others are not included."

Statement—J. E. Skillington

J. Edgar Skillington (Central Pennsylvania) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, Paragraph 377 provides that a man shall be located without his consent only if he is given notice a year ahead of time by way of a request to locate of his own accord.

Now, that is the notice that at the next Conference an effort will be made to locate him, without his consent. He is a member of the Conference. He is required to be present. When the motion is made, or the Report is made recommending that he be located, he has an opportunity to speak, and say why that action ought not to be taken. To be sure he has that right."

Statement—O. T. Olson

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, Dr. Skillington has stated the case exactly. The man is a member of the Conference. He has all the rights, privileges and prerogatives of the floor as a member of the Conference.

All he needs to do is to rise in his place, be recognized by the presiding Bishop, and he has the opportunity of stating his case."

Amendment—C. A. Smith ()—Not Adopted*

The amendment of Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) on being put to the vote of the General Conference, was not adopted.

Typographical Error—R. O. Bryant—Answer—O. T. Olson

R. Orman Bryant (Virginia) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, I have a question. In line 6 as the Paragraph now reads we have this statement, 'or his conduct is such as to impair his usefulness as a minister.'

I observe that in the amended Paragraph, that is to appear in the new Discipline, that statement is not included.

Is that a typographical error, or the purpose of the Committee?"

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied, as follows:

"A typographical error."

Report No. 23 of the General Standing Committee on Ministry was adopted, as amended, by the vote of the General Conference. For Report see page 1293.

No. 24 Ministry—Presented—O. T. Olson—Adopted

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, presented Report No. 24 of the Committee, Calendar No. 127, DCA-349, column 1, Subject, "Physical Examination," and moved its adoption. The motion was duly seconded.

Question—W. L. Steffens—Answer—O. T. Olson

William L. Steffens (Ohio) raised the following question:

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

"Mr. Chairman, this is quite a change. Under the present plan a man coming in On Trial or Into Full Connection must have a Doctor's certificate. The part referring, Dr. Olson, to Full Connection, is omitted. Is that intentional?"

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied, as follows:

"I have just been told that comes up later. This is dealing in both places—the man has to have the good-health certificate from a physician, approved by the Conference Board of Ministerial Training."

William L. Steffens (Ohio) replied, as follows:

"It does not say that."

Report No. 24 Adopted

Report No. 24 of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, was adopted, by the vote of the General Conference. For Report see page 1295.

No. 25 Ministry—Presented—O. T. Olson—Amended—Adopted

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, presented Report No. 25 of the Committee, Calendar No. 194, DCA-422, columns 1, 2 and 3, Subject, "District Committee on Ministerial Qualifications," and moved its adoption. The motion was duly seconded.

Questions—G. A. Dahlquist—Answers—O. T. Olson

G. Albin Dahlquist (New England Southern) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, just a matter of information, for clarification. Section 4, DCA-422, column 2, would seem to me to be a contradiction. In paragraph 2 it seems that the Committee is given authority to license, and then in paragraph 4 the Committee shall report its work to the District Conference for approval."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, we have many Districts where there is not a District Conference organized. If there is a District Conference, the Committee must report to the Conference."

G. Albin Dahlquist (New England Southern) asked the further question, as follows:

"But if the District Conference refuses to approve, does it mean the Committee then has not the authority to license?"

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied, as follows:

"That is right. The court of last resort in that case is the District Conference."

Amendment—A. W. Pugh—Accepted—O. T. Olson

A. Wesley Pugh (North Indiana) moved to amend Report No. 25 by adding at the end of the first paragraph of paragraph 1, DCA-422, column 2, the following (DB-215):

"provided, however, that where a District Conference exists, final action on licensing of such local preachers shall be taken by the District Conference."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, accepted the proposed amendment for the Committee, there being no objection raised by any member of the Committee, or of the General Conference.

Questions—E. E. Voigt—Answers—O. T. Olson—J. R. Spann

Edwin E. Voigt (Iowa-Des Moines) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, Item 2 in the middle column, in the case of Seminary students who are away in Seminary, and who are eligible for orders, how can they appear before the District Licensing Committee prior to the call of the Conference? I think that there ought to be some editorial revision there, though I don't know what it is. I would call it to the attention of the Committee."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied to the question, as follows:

"I think Dr. Voigt is eminently right in that matter. I recall having met that situation in my own District."

J. Richard Spann (Southwest Texas), Director of the Commission on Ministerial Training, made the following statement:

"He can be licensed by the Interim Committee where the college exists. He does not have to appear before the one in his own home."

Edwin E. Voigt (Iowa-Des Moines) asked the further question, as follows:

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

"Yes, that is right, but in the latter part of paragraph 2, there you are talking about orders and not licensing.

My point is, when he is away in Seminary, like in our spring Conference that met right at the close of the academic year, how can he appear before the Conference Licensing Committee?"

J. Richard Spann (Southwest Texas), Director of the Commission on Ministerial Training, replied to the question, as follows:

"The intention was that he could appear before one of his college locations, and they could recommend to his Annual Conference. That is the intention of it."

Question—O. D. Jackson—Answer—O. T. Olson

Olin D. Jackson (Minnesota) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, is there not a difference between local deacon's orders and local elder's orders, and straight deacon's and elder's orders?"

This says local."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied to the question, as follows:

"Correct."

Questions—D. W. Throckmorton—Answers—O. T. Olson

Dillon Wesley Throckmorton (California-Nevada) made the following statement:

"I want us to vote intelligently on this. It is a late hour, and nobody wants to take time needlessly of this General Conference. I refer specifically to the paragraphs that have to do with the use of tobacco for the clergy."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied to the statement, as follows:

"That is not before us here."

Dillon Wesley Throckmorton (California-Nevada) made the following statement:

"That is in Calendar 194."

marks after it. That will be settled when we come to the following Memorials."

Dillon Wesley Throckmorton (California-Nevada) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, I asked if you were dealing with that. At the bottom of the following section it says you are proposing to substitute for it, but it is left out. I don't want the Conference caught on this."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied to the question, as follows:

"In the third paragraph you will see '5. (Statement about tobacco??)'"

Dillon Wesley Throckmorton (California-Nevada) asked the following question:

Mr. Chairman, why should the Chairman of the Committee put question marks in there?"

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied to the question, as follows:

"Because this is a Report appearing in a series and not yet perfected. It will be perfected by your act in a few minutes."

Dillon Wesley Throckmorton (California-Nevada) replied to the statement, as follows:

"All right."

"Very well. You may proceed."

cotics, tobacco and other forms of self-indulgence, and urge that he consecrate himself to purity of life in body, mind and spirit."

Question—O. T. Olson—Answer—N.G. Talbott

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, made the following statement:

"I would like to address an inquiry to you, sir. Also, I would like to call this to the attention of the man who proposed this amendment, You have here 5-A and 5-B. I want the house merely to keep this clearly in mind, so that you get the picture. You have a young man coming up first for his license to preach. He has completed that, and has his license to preach. Now you come into the third part here, of traveling preachers. There we have the good health matter, the Paragraph that appears in the license to preach. Then over beyond you have the question that is formally placed to the man at the door of the Conference, you see.

I am asking you, sir, are you limiting yourself to 303, or are you including 321?"

Norbert G. Talbott (Indiana) replied, as follows:

"My amendment was limited to 303."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied:

"Thank you."

Question Put—Bishop Holt

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt made the following statement:

"Now, the question is on the amendment, perfecting the Majority Report. Are you ready to vote? If you favor the amendment that has just been offered to the Majority Report, lift the hands. Down. Opposed the same sign. Well, I am afraid we are not informed sufficiently because many of you did not vote.

Brother Secretary, will you state the amendment, please."

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

defeated. The announcement was called in question by the Delegates.

Question—Mrs. R. M. White ()—Answer—Bishop Holt*

Mrs. Roscoe M. White (*) (Virginia) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, some of us are confused. We don't know whether they should be asked to promise, or whether it is left for their own discretion."

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt replied, as follows:

"The amendment was simply that they should be reminded of these facts. There is no request for a promise."

Vote Taken Again—Amendment—N. G. Talbott—Adopted

On being put to the vote of the General Conference, for the second time, the amendment of Norbert G. Talbott (Indiana) was adopted by the General Conference.

Point of Order—L. T. Moore—Sustained—Bishop Holt

There being no further amendments offered to the Majority Report, Bishop Ivan Lee Holt started to put the question on the Minority Report, when Leon T. Moore (Philadelphia), Chairman of the Committee of Chairmen, raised a point of order and made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I don't think we have had our second speaker on the Minority Report."

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt ruled as follows:

"I took it that the man making the amendment to the Majority Report was a speaker for the Minority Report."

R. C. Candelaria () for Minority Report*

Ruben V. Candelaria (Philippines) spoke for the Minority Report.

Question—E. D. Landreth—Answers—Bishop Holt —O. T. Olson

Elmer D. Landreth (Northwest Texas) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, just as a matter of clarification I would like to know, some of us would like to know now, since the amendment has been placed in the Majority Report, where the liquor and narcotics are? Are we right in feeling now that the Majority Report carries with it the matter of tobacco education, as well as liquor and narcotics?"

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, replied, as follows:

"That was the language."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, requested permission to reply to the question just asked, and with the permission of Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, replied, as follows:

"The house will recall that I asked the maker of this motion whether he limited himself to Paragraph 303 or not. He answered definitely and directly in the affirmative.

So as the situation stands at this moment, the house has adopted for Paragraph 303, which deals with people who are receiving a license to preach—it is in the process of being written so that I can have the complete text. However, it appears no where else in the Report."

Point of Order—G. M. Frye—Sustained—Bishop Holt

Glenn M. Frye (Michigan), Assistant Secretary of Documents, raised the following point of order:

"That is exactly the point of order I was raising before we took the vote on the amendment. The amendment was being made following the colon in the bold-face type, the second paragraph of the bold-face type, the third line, under 92-A, which we have already adopted, and which is not before the house."

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, replied to the point of order, as follows:

"No, it has not been adopted."

Statements—O. T. Olson—G. M. Frye

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, made the following statement:

"It has not been adopted, Dr. Frye."

Glenn M. Frye (Michigan), Assistant Secretary of Documents, replied, as follows:

"Anyhow, it is the one that was not before the house, because there has been no Minority Report."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, replied, as follows:

"Yes, there is a Minority Report that covers, by understanding between the Chairmen here, the whole matter before the house, 5-A and 5-B."

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

Glenn M. Frye (Michigan), Assistant Secretary of Documents, replied, as follows:

"I beg your pardon."

Questions—C. W. Haggard ()—Answers—O. T. Olson*

Carl W. Haggard (*) (Kentucky) asked the following questions:

"Mr. Chairman, page 311, 92-B, are we voting on that now since it was amended? Where did the amendment come in?"

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, answered, as follows:

"What will happen now will be the presentation in defense of the Minority Report. Dr. Albertson will have the floor."

Carl W. Haggard (*) (Kentucky) asked a further question, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, may I ask one further question? On No. 2, in this 92-B, are you willing to face any sacrifice that may be involved? It seems like since this other has been adopted, that would be somewhat previous?"

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, answered, as follows:

"That will be a matter for subsequent motion before the house."

Question—C. S. Kendall—Answer—Bishop Holt

Charles S. Kendall (Southern California-Arizona) raised the following question:

"Mr. Chairman, may I ask Dr. Olson, if the Majority Report becomes the law of the Church, then may ministers of the Church, if they wish, from now on openly and, if their conscience is all right about it, with the blessing of the Church, smoke?"

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt ruled, as follows:

"I think the question was an argument."

Point of Order—E. E. Voigt—Sustained—Bishop Holt

Edwin E. Voigt (Iowa-Des Moines) raised a point of order, and made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, my point of order is that we divide the motion. We are infinitely confused because the Minority Report is for both 92-A and 92-B."

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

I think I have a right to call for a division of the question, so that we deal with each one separately."

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt ruled, as follows:

"I think that is correct."

Division of Question Ordered

On being put to a vote of the General Conference, the motion of Edwin E. Voigt (Iowa-Des Moines), duly seconded, for the division of the question, was ordered by the General Conference.

Minority Report—C. E. Albertson

Cyrus E. Albertson (Pacific Northwest) presented the facts of the Minority Report.

Point of Order—E. E. Voigt—Sustained—Bishop Holt

Edwin E. Voigt (Iowa-Des Moines) raised the following point of order:

"Mr. Chairman, we are not now talking of 92-B. We are talking of 92-A, and there are five questions."

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, ruled as follows:

"I think that is correct, under your division motion."

Statement—C. E. Albertson

Cyrus E. Albertson (Pacific Northwest) made the following statement:

"I beg your pardon. I merely wanted to remind you of the content of this fourth question. I also want to remind you that the action we take, if we take action, is not retroactive.

Every man who is a member of an Annual Conference has made his vows and pledges, and nothing we would do this afternoon would be retroactive or affect any man now in the ministry.

These are questions to be asked of men who will be coming in in the future.

"I would like to close my remarks by reading the particular part we would like to see as the fourth question to be asked of these men."

Point of Order.—E. E. Voigt—Sustained—Bishop Holt

Edwin E. Voigt (Iowa-Des Moines) raised the following point of order:

"Mr. Chairman, point of order. We are on 92-A, and the gentleman is speaking about the question of 92-B."

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, ruled, as follows:

"That is right."

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

Statement—O. T. Olson

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, for clarification, made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I would like to agree with Dr. Albertson.

If you settle this issue here, everything else will harmonize with whatever action you take. What we are after is not crossing T's and dotting I's. What we are after is to find what the house wants to write in its legislation.

I for one am not interested or willing to participate in jockeying. I am as anxious as you are, ladies and gentlemen, as Brother Albertson is, to get this completed.

You can raise points of order technically. Technically Dr. Voigt is right. But practically, if you listen to the Minority Report and Majority Report and adopt as you wish, as Dr. Albertson has indicated, everything else will fall into the pattern as you may direct."

Statement—D. W. Throckmorton

Dillon Wesley Throckmorton (California-Nevada) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I submit to you that Paragraph 303 deals with one step in the ministry; Paragraph 321 is quite another thing; it is another step in the minister's life. It is not a matter of 'jockeying.'"

Statement—Bishop Holt

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt requested that Cyrus E. Albertson (Pacific Northwest) complete his statement concerning the Minority Report.

C. E. Albertson Speaks for Minority Report

Cyrus E. Albertson (Pacific Northwest) completed his remarks concerning the Minority Report.

The motion duly seconded, prevailed, and the Minority Report of the General Standing Committee on Ministry was adopted by the vote of the General Conference, in place the two Majority Reports. For Reports see page 1277.

Question—Leland Moore—Answer—Bishop Holt

Leland Moore (South Georgia) raised the following question:

"Now that we are about to vote, I would like to ask this question: Are we to understand that any ministerial member of this General Conference who may have habitually violated his sacred pledge to abstain from the use of tobacco, is to be considered still fully qualified to vote in this issue?"

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt answered, as follows:

"Well, it is already voted that that is determined."

Statement—W. L. Steffens—Reply—O. T. Olson—Ruling—Bishop Holt

William L. Steffens (Ohio) made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the Conference: There is in the Report of the Committee on the Ministry, page 466, in the first long paragraph, a sentence which I feel that we of this Conference do not want to have continued in this record. It is on this subject.

"The sentence reads, 'It has made hypocrites or liars out of some men who may sincerely believe they were coerced.'

"I want to move that that sentence be stricken from the record as beneath the dignity of this Conference, to even admit to anybody that they have been hypocrites or liars on this issue.

"I think it should be stricken from the record."

Oscar Thomas Olson (North-East Ohio), Chairman of the General Standing Committee on Ministry, made the following statement:

Recognition Service—Retiring Members Judicial Council—
H. R. Van Deusen ()—W. G. Henry—M. E. Lawson ()

Marvin A. Childers (*) (Southwest Texas) President of the Judicial Council was recognized, and made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the General Conference: Across the years when members of the Judicial Council retired, it has been the custom to bring them before the Conference, and have words of appreciation spoken. We had arranged, that for this occasion Bishop F. P. Corson would speak in regard to Judge Van Deusen, and Bishop Clare Purcell would speak regarding Dr. Henry. These two brethren have served long and faithfully on the Council. Both of them are retiring now because of the age limit.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

"However, because of the lateness of the hour, both Bishop Corson and Bishop Purcell will prepare their words of appreciation and file them for record. We hope they will be printed in the Advocate.

"One other member is retiring, who is not able to be here. That is Judge Martin E. Lawson. Our presiding Bishop this evening, who has so graciously held you in tow across these hours, will prepare the tribute for Judge Lawson.

"I present Judge Henry R. Van Deusen, who has been on the Council since 1939. (The General Conference stood in applause.)

"I present to you Dr. Waights G. Henry, who is the only living minister who was elected to the Judicial Council in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. He has been on the Judicial Council since 1934. (The General Conference stood in applause.)

Tributes to Be Published in Journal—E. A. Love—Adopted

Motion of Edgar A. Love (Washington), duly seconded, prevailed by the vote of the General Conference that the tributes become an official part of the Journal of the 1952 session of the General Conference of The Methodist Church.

Tribute—H. R. Van Deusen (*)—Bishop F. P. Corson

Bishop Fred Pierce Corson of the Philadelphia Area, Northeastern Jurisdiction, and President of the Council of Bishops, prepared the following tribute to Henry R. Van Deusen (DB-221):

Henry R. Van Deusen

"Citation in connection with the retirement of Henry R. Van Deusen, which the General Conference directed prepared, and printed in the Journal.

"Henry R. Van Deusen is a layman whom we delight to honor. He is the Nestor of the Lay Leadership of his Conference, and the Elder Brother of all the ministers. A devoted Churchman, a wise Counsellor, a true Friend, he has won the respect and affection of his colleagues in all of his relationships with them.

"We love him for his spirit, for he is a Methodist in whom there is no guile. We are indebted to him for his service, for he has been abundant in good works.

"We respect him for his intellect, for in him is to be found the mind of Christ.

"We are influenced by his wisdom, for he is a true Judge in Methodism—'to that end born and that cause come' to the Church.

"By his decisions on the Judicial Council we have profited, for as a member of that body from its formation he has expounded the rights of the individual, and upheld the place of the layman in our ecclesiastical system.

"We salute him now that the law of the Church requires his retirement because of age, with the well-earned tribute as 'The Great Defender.'"

Tribute—W. G. Henry—Bishop Purcell

Bishop Clare Purcell of the Birmingham Area, Southeastern Jurisdiction, prepared the following tribute to Waights G. Henry, Sr. (DB-222):

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

"Dr. Waights G. Henry, Sr.

"For more than one hundred years the family name of Henry has been prominent in Methodism in west Alabama and east Mississippi. This has been true in both Church and State.

"Dr. Waights G. Henry, Sr., has served the Church through a long ministry with conspicuous distinction. He is a native of Pickens County, Alabama. Bishops Hargrove and Murrah were also natives of this county.

"When Dr. Henry and his gracious wife came to the end of an eight year pastorate Anniston First Church, the church provided a comfortable home for them where they now reside among friends.

"Dr. Henry is now coming to the end of his service as a member of the Judicial Council of The Methodist Church with the gratitude of the entire Church. He has rendered outstanding service on this Council, having been one of its charter members in 1934. He therefore completes eighteen years in this relationship.

"He brought to this high judicial task a mature scholarship and a devotion to the Church. He holds degrees from seven higher institutions of learning, both earned and honorary, including a Doctorate in Philosophy from Boston University.

"We salute him today upon his earned retirement as a Student, Churchman, a tireless Pastor, and a good Minister of Christ."

Tribute—M. E. Lawson (*)—Bishop Holt

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of the St. Louis Area, South Central Jurisdiction, prepared the following tribute to Martin E. Lawson (*) (DB-223):

Judge Martin E. Lawson

Judge Martin E. Lawson has long served The Methodist Church and has been one of its most distinguished laymen. In his local church at Liberty, Missouri, he has been Recording Steward, for thirty years the Sunday School Superintendent, and for thirty-one years the teacher of the Adult Bible Class. He has also been a Steward and a Trustee for over sixty years.

In the Missouri Annual Conference he has been a member of the Board of Education, the Board of Missions, and the Board of Church Extension. For seventeen years he was Chairman of the Board of Church Extension, and for fifteen years Lay Leader in the Missouri Annual Conference.

For twelve years he was a member of the General Board of Lay Activities, and for four years its President.

He was a delegate from the Missouri Annual Conference to the General Conference seven times, from the General Conference of 1910 to the General Conference of 1934 in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. During that time he was a member of the Committee on Appeals for twenty years, and a member of the Constitutional Commission for eight years.

When in 1934 the Judicial Council was set up he became its Chairman, and served until the unification of American Methodism in 1939. He then became a member of the Judicial Council of The Methodist Church, and served until his retirement in 1952, thirteen years.

From 1926 to 1930 he was on the Unification Commission from the Methodist Episcopal Church, South; has been a Trustee of many Methodist organizations, and for twenty-one years was a member of the Continuation Committee of the Ecumenical Conference of World Methodism. He was a delegate to the Ecumenical Conference in London in 1921, in Atlanta in 1931, in Springfield in 1947, and in Oxford in 1951, though he was too ill to attend the last.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

If his periods of service in official positions were added together, counting the local church, the Annual Conference, the General Conference and the World Conference, they would total four hundred and ninety-two (492) years.

It is doubtful whether any layman in the long history of Methodism has served as many years in official position. His service as a lawyer in the Church has made him in a real sense the Creator of the Judicial Council, and he will be remembered as long a Justice in Methodism's Supreme Court.

His legal service in the Unification Movement is equally important.

In recognition of his record in the Missouri Bar Association he has received Honorary Degrees from Missouri's Methodist and Baptist Colleges, Central and William Jewell.

In the last fifty years no man in American Methodism has had more to do with shaping the policies of The Methodist Church.

Beloved and honored by all who have known him, Methodism crowns with laurel her distinguished son and recognizes him as one of God's noblemen in the service of the Church.

Tributes—Judicial Council—W. G. Henry—M. E. Lawson (*)
—H. R. Van Deusen (*)—Presented—C. B. Ketcham

The Judicial Council prepared the following tributes to Waights G. Henry, Sr., Martin E. Lawson () and Henry R. Van Deusen ():

W. G. Henry—M. E. Lawson ()—H. R. Van Deusen ()

"The Judicial Council marks with regret the passing from its membership of three more of their original group who, by the procedures they established, and by the attitudes they adopted gave shape and direction to the work of the Council as it now operates in the life of our united Methodism.

"Four years ago to two of the illustrious pioneers of our Judicial Council our beloved Church said, 'Your days are many. Your burdens have been heavy. It is enough. It is time your mantles fell on younger shoulders.' With heavy hearts and with no little concern for the future, we said goodbye to Francis R. Bayley and to the late W. Stewart French, who had been outstanding leaders among us in the quadrenniums since union.

"Today, as we stand at the threshold of a new quadrennium, we turn to bid farewell to three other veterans of the Council, whose service has been continuous since unification.

"One of these is a minister, keen in mind, rich in experience, and radiant in spirit, whose labors have been continuous and whose helpfulness has been without measure and without limit. None of us who have known him well forget Dr. Waights G. Henry, Sr., and we are sure he will not forget us.

"The other two who are retiring, Martin E. Lawson and Henry R. Van Deusen, are laymen, who, by their personal qualities and by their knowledge of the law, have put us all forever in their debt. They have been men of faith as well as of vision; of truth as well as of renown; of love as well as of firmness in the right as God has given them to see the right. Their familiarity with the whole field of civil law has been balanced by their knowledge of the Church; and their keen, incisive judgment has been supplemented by an earnest desire to establish truth in love for the people of God.

"They have been second to none in their respect for the clergy who have been ordained for special service in the Church of Christ, but they have never forgotten, nor permitted their brethren on the Council to forget, that ours is a double tradition, finding authority and verification in the work of laymen and clergymen alike who, following in the steps of their Master, have been called to service, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

"We find it hard to part with all three of these fellow workers who have for so long been our inspiration and our help. Others will take their places on the Council but no others will ever be able to take their places in our hearts. Together, those of us who must carry on from here, pray that these men, looking back from their retirement, may see in a new perspective the travail of their souls and be satisfied. And we resolve that, in so far as our faithfulness can make it so, their labors shall not have been in vain.

"Their days of active participation are over but their contribution is not a finished story for their works do follow them. As long as the present fabric of our Council lasts, their influence will persist and their record will speak for them.

"And now the same Church that in the beginning called them has called us. In the same spirit and with the same devotion we found in them, and in the hope and prayer that we may emulate their greatness, we rise to carry on.

CHARLES B. KETCHAM, Secretary

Statements—H. C. Case—L. T. Moore

Leon T. Moore (Philadelphia), Chairman of the Committee of Chairman, was recognized, and made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the Conference: Dr. Harold C. Case had to leave, and handed me this paper, and asked if I would please present it for him, in his absence."

Harold C. Case (Southern California-Arizona) left the following statements and matters in the hands of Leon T. Moore (Philadelphia), Chairman of the Committee of Chairmen (DB-224):

"(1) The size of the Jurisdictional Boards is not changed by actions taken on Survey Report of the Special Committee of Six."

"(2) Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six, page 1, paragraph 2 which reads:

"2. No person who receives compensation for services rendered or commissions of any kind from a Board or other Agency, shall be eligible for membership on that Board or Agency."

"An interpretation: It is intended that this matter of compensation to members of Boards or other Agencies, should include General Conference and Annual Conference Boards or Agencies."

"(3) Move to reconsider Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, page 6, paragraph 4, to allow a simple amendment by Dr. Hughes Wagner (New England)."

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

No. 29. Chairmen—No. 4 Special Committee of Six—Reconsidered—L. T. Moore—Re-Adopted

Leon T. Moore (Philadelphia), Chairman of the Committee of Chairman, moved a reconsideration of Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission, which had been adopted at the morning session of Monday, May 5, 1952. The motion, duly seconded, prevailed, by the vote of the General Conference.

Amendment—H. H. Wagner—Referred to Co-ordinating Council With Power

H. Hughes Wagner (New England) moved to amend Report No. 4 of the Special Committee of Six on the Report of the Survey Commission (DB-225), and made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, this is an awful time to be bringing this up, but I have tried for three days to get it before you.

"The only way to get at the Quadrennial Report was to go back through the Survey Commission's Report of the Special Committee of Six.

"In the Quadrennial Report, on page 110, in the third column, under Section IV, paragraph 753-G, in sub-section 5, it gives the date of the Week of Dedication, that it shall be observed annually during the week preceding the first Sunday in Lent: 'The first Sunday in Lent shall be designated as Dedication Sunday.'

"Now, this is a practical matter which I think every minister will appreciate, and I think it has been pretty well cleared, so there will be no objection. If there is objection I will make no further remarks, and will quit.

"This is the amendment I want to make (DB-225): Strike out the first two sentences and put in their place the following: 'The Week of Dedication shall be observed annually during the week immediately preceding the Sunday on which is set the Inter-Denominational Program known as The One Great Hour of Sharing, sponsored by the Church World Service of the National Council of Churches. Dedication Sunday shall then coincide with the One Great Hour of Sharing Sunday. In the event that this Inter-denominational Program, or its equivalent, should be abandoned or scheduled to another season, then the Week of Dedication shall be observed on the second Sunday in Lent, immediately preceded by the Week of Dedication.'

The motion was duly seconded.

Motion to Refer to Co-ordinating Council With Power—R. E. Clay—C. C. Parlin ()—Adopted*

Russell E. Clay (Southern California-Arizona) moved that the proposed amendment be referred to the Co-ordinating Council, with power to act. The motion, duly seconded by Charles C. Parlin (*) (Newark) was adopted by the vote of the General Conference.

Jones (*) (Ohio) Recording Secretary of the General Commission World Service and Finance, presented Report No. 10, Part V, of the Committee, DCA-533, columns 2 and 3, Subject, "Report of Special Committee to the Commission on World Service and Finance Relative to the Budget of the Methodist Commission on Social and Economic Relations," and on motion of H. For Report see page 1952.

General Administration Fund Changes—C. A. Jones (*)—T. B. Lugg—Approved

Charles A. Jones (*) (Ohio), Recording Secretary of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, made the following statement:

"On page 262 of the Daily Christian Advocate, column 2, you authorized the other day (Friday evening, May 3, 1952) a request to appropriate $3,000.00 for a Commission to make certain studies in connection with the Board of Pensions, that appropriation to be made from the General Administration Fund.

"The General Commission, as a rule does not approve the plan of supplementing apportionments from the World Service Agencies by appropriation from the General Administrative Fund.

"However, in view of the general situation here we ask your consent, or authorization to do this."

The General Conference by unanimous common consent approved the request of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, to make the $3,000.00 appropriation to the Board of Pensions out of the General Administration Fund for the purposes as set forth above.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

Thomas B. Lugg (Illinois), Executive Secretary of the General Commission on World Service and Finance was recognized, and made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, there have been, by the action of this Conference, certain changes in the General Administration Fund as it is shown on page 225.

"First of all, No. 11, Methodist Foundation, listed at $75,000.00 and later changed to $65,000.00, is to be deleted.

"You have introduced the Co-ordinating Council with a request for $10,000.00, with an assumption given to the Conference, that if it should run more than that, up to $15,000.00 in any one year, it might be absorbed.

"You also voted $3,000.00 for the Commission on Pensions.

"You increased the amount for General Conference Expense by $20,000.00, or $5,000.00 annually, in an action taken here this afternoon.

"There may be some other actions we have missed. For that reason we would like to make these subtractions and additions that have been actually voted by the General Conference, and when we have these, determine the percentage that the apportionment will be to the Annual Conferences.

"I can say this: it will be reduced from one-third of one per cent on the total giving, subtracting building and debts, to somewhere between .31 to .25. We would like to be a little more accurate than that, but we wanted to be sure to have everything included.

"If we have your unanimous consent we will make the apportionments accordingly."

The General Conference, by unanimous common consent, granted the request of Thomas B. Lugg (Illinois), Executive Secretary and Treasurer of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, to make the apportionments as set forth in the above statement.

"Mr. Chairman and Members of the Conference: I know we are all very grateful for the wide and friendly coverage we have received from the newspapers around the country, part of which we owe to Mr. Stooddy and his Associates. He is the Director of the Commission on Methodist Information and Public Relations.

"I have here a very brief letter from the senior member of the Associated Press expressing to me, and to you, his appreciation for what Mr. Stooddy has done. I will read you only the first and last sentences, and ask that it be included in the Daily Christian Advocate, and that you express your approval with applause.

"Before you head for Indianapolis, may I register my deep appreciation for the fine assistance of Messrs. Stooddy, West and Fanning. —It is heartening to find The Methodist Church so alert on so vital a matter as Press Relations."

(3) Presented C. V. Adams () for a Privileged Matter*

Adams (*) (Central Pennsylvania) being recognized, moved that when the moment of adjournment comes, we join in the singing of the long meter Doxology acknowledging the goodness of God to all of us in the marvelous things that this General Conference has accomplished. Interpreter's Bible

"There are two significant events in the field of religious literature that merit the attention of the 1952 General Conference. The first is the appearance of two volumes of 'The Interpreter's Bible.' These prove that Abingdon-Cokesbury Press is publishing the most distinguished commentary ever produced in America. In conception, scholarship and pertinent treatment of the material it is without a peer. Methodists have just pride that these volumes appear under the aegis of our own Board of Publication.

"Be It Therefore Resolved, That the General Conference congratulate the Board of Publication, the Book Editor and the Publishing Agents for the intelligence, diligence, and loyalty to Protestant tradition in religious literature evidenced in the publication of 'Interpreter's Bible' and commend it to our people as an unequalled instrument for revealing the truth as contained in God's Word.

"The completion of the publication of the new Revised Standard Version of the Bible which will be high-lighted by the appearance of the Old Testament on September 3, 1952, marks another important milestone for American Protestantism. Methodists have been among leaders to make available to our people and the people of the English-speaking world a version of Scripture that incorporates the highest standards of scholarship, yet brings the Word of God in such clear and simple language that the common man can read it more understandingly than ever.

"So important is this version regarded that the publication of 'The Interpreter's Bible' has been delayed so that the text of this translation would be available. Indeed, the New Testament version has been used by the Editorial Division of the Board of Education since its appearance in 1946.

"Be It Therefore Resolved, That the General Conference of The Methodist Church commends and congratulates the Committee on Revision upon this notable achievement and calls upon our ministers and churches to plan fitting celebration for this significant event."

HARRY ALLEN PRICE (Pittsburgh)
A. HOLLIS EDENS (*) (North Carolina-SE)
CHARLES C. PARLIN (*) (Newark)

(5) Presented C. A. Smith () for a Privileged Matter*

Chester A. Smith (*) (New York) was recognized, and moved (DB-227) that this General Conference commend Hon. Theodore Roosevelt McKendin, Governor of the State of Maryland, for his practical adherence to the cause of Temperance and Prohibition, by refusing to serve intoxicating liquor in the Executive Mansion, and in his own home.

The motion duly seconded, prevailed by the vote of the General Conference.

Amendment—H. B. Watts—Accepted—C. A. Smith

H. Bascom Watts (East Oklahoma) was recognized and stated that Governor Johnson Murray of Oklahoma stands in the same category.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, made the following statement:

"I did not see Dr. Watts until after I had put the motion. I would think there are a good many who belong in the same category.

"I shall put the motion again: Those of you who favor the Resolution of Brother Smith's lift the hand, and we include the others in the same category."

The motion prevailed by the vote of the General Conference.

(6) Presented F. T. Cartwright for a Privileged Matter—Resolution re Ralph E. Diffendorfer

Frank T. Cartwright (Newark), Associate Secretary of the General Board of Missions and Church Extension was recognized, and made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman and Friends of the General Conference: A very distinguished leader and colleague has died, and tribute should be paid to him.

I recognize, and you recognize, that the finest tribute that could be paid at this hour, even to the memory of one like Ralph Diffendorfer, would be the omission of spoken tribute, and the offering of a written tribute, with the hope that this General Conference will order it included in the Journal, and a copy of it be sent to Mrs. Diffendorfer, who is now in Japan."

The written tribute to Ralph Eugene Diffendorfer (DB-228) was presented, and unanimously adopted by the 1952 General Conference of The Methodist Church, as follows:

Dr. Ralph Eugene Diffendorfer

The ultimate tribute to Ralph Eugene Diffendorfer is not to be written in words. Instead it is engraved in great institutions around the world to whose creation he contributed greatly; it is pulsating in Methodism and Inter-Denominational movements that he inaugurated or helped to start; and it is readable today in lives which he touched with a contagion of world-mindedness and in missionaries who when young men and women, were inspired and guided by Dr. Diffendorfer. The list of such institutions, movements and persons would be long. It need not, and should not, be written because the continuing record is far more important than the catalogue.

He was well prepared for the world tasks to which he was called. Born in a small Ohio town on August 15, 1879, his early education was that of rural America. Ohio Wesleyan University, Drew Seminary and Union Theological Seminary (New York) added to his intellectual equipment and to the opening of wide vistas of interest for his life. In later years he was awarded honorary degrees by different universities and, for his efforts on behalf of higher education in China, he was given a highly regarded decoration by the Chinese government.

In the circles of our own Church and in the world outreach of Protestant Christianity it was recognized that Dr. Diffendorfer was a born administrator and religious promoter. It was just as fully recognized that experience had developed and intensified the inborn gift. Even as a student he was drawn into the organizational activities of the Epworth League. For a time his activities were those of Educational Secretary for the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension and for the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Later he was connected with the Church-wide promotion for major agencies working together in and from Chicago. But his major impact on Methodism and on Inter-National and Inter-Denominational Christianity began in 1924 with his election as a Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions. He continued to fill and to expand this position until after unification of the three Methodisms when he was elected Executive Secretary of the Division of Foreign Missions of the Board of Missions and Church Extension.

During this long period of service he was a member of the General Conferences of 1928, 1932, 1936, the Uniting Conference of 1939, and the General Conferences of 1940 and 1944.

It was in this quarter century, too, that the circle of his influence widened until Protestant Christians in almost all lands knew of him and felt his leadership. He was a strong factor in the Jerusalem Conference of the International Missionary Council in 1928. At Madras, India, in 1938 he was one of the outstanding leaders, and in that same year he was an influential member of the Conference on Life and Work held at Oxford, England. During most of this period he was a member of the Executive Committee of the International Missionary Council and in later years he was similarly active in the World Council of Churches.

In addition to his concentration upon the overseas missionary work particularly related to The Methodist Church, he was tremendously interested in co-operative work abroad. He was a Trustee and at times the Chairman of the Boards of Trustees of such higher educational institutions as Santiago College (Chile), Nanking Theological Seminary (China), Ward College in Buenos Aires (Argentina) and the United Board for Christian Colleges in China, in addition to others less widely known. No land was too distant for his intelligent interest in and co-operation with its efforts to develop able and educated leadership, no such cause so discouraging that he would not bring to its proponents new zeal and inspiration.

In the Foreign Missions Conference of North America (now the Division of Foreign Missions of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States of America). Dr. Diffendorfer was acknowledged as belonging in the list of truly great leaders. Probably no contribution made to the promotion of missionary interest was greater than his proposal in the mid-forties of an Inter-Denominational Program across the continent of missionary education and promotion. The idea caught fire, and it resulted in the Advance Program of Missions in the Foreign Missions Conference. It was directly from this Inter-Church united effort and at Dr. Diffendorfer's suggestion that Methodists decided at the General Conference of 1948 to continue the Crusade For Christ and His Church as a Church-wide Advance Program for the quadrennium just ended.

Even in 1949, when the hands of life's clock marked the time for retirement, he embarked upon a moral and spiritual adventure demanding in some ways the supreme effort of his life. He accepted American leadership of the efforts on behalf of the Japan International Christian University, the challenging project of Christians in the United States and in Japan to bring into being a training center for the Christian movement in Japan. It was while struggling with the almost insoluble problems of that movement, and while challenging the Boards of Missions in this country to make an outstanding success of the University, that he dropped at his post and, within a few seconds of time, his physical life ended. This was exactly as he would have desired.

This General Conference of 1952 would here pay verbal tribute to one who contributed signally to sessions of preceding Conferences, and it would thus record its sense of personal and official loss. At the same time it expresses the hope that the missionaries and members of the World-wide Church will continue to be the true and enduring monument to Dr. Diffendorfer, "a matchless fellowship" of those laboring for a world of peace, understanding and Christian brotherhood.

RESOLUTION OF THANKS

"Thanks" is an easy word to say, but if one magnified the meaning of the word a million times it would not be adequate to express the profound gratitude that is in our hearts as we think of all who have contributed to the success of this Conference.

For the countless acts of thoughtfulness of the Commission on Entertainment;
For the careful attention to all our needs by all Local Committees; rested that the Daily Christian Advocate might be laid each morning on our desks;

To the unheralded typists and stenotypists who have labored long hours;

WE ARE EXCEEDINGLY GRATEFUL

For the thoughtfulness and courtesies of ushers and pages;

For the faithful and skillful work of public address technicians;

For the unnumbered services of custodians and others who made our surroundings pleasant and comfortable;

WE ARE HEARTIFUL THANKFUL

For a world that challenges our noblest efforts;

For a Christ whose Spirit leads us onward;

For a God who dignifies the free spirit of man and upholds us by His Grace;

WE SING A HYMN OF PRAISE

"Now thank we all our God
With heart and hands and voices,
Who wondrous things hath done,
In Whom His world rejoices;
Who from our mothers' arms,

With countless gifts of love
And still is ours today.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

Thanks—Bishop Holt

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, in well-chosen words thanked the General Conference for their splendid co-operation in transacting the tremendous amount of business and detail that was involved in this closing session of the 1952 General Conference of The Methodist Church.

No. 1 Reference—Presented—Stewart Clendenin—Adopted

By Common consent, Report No. 1 of the Committee of Reference, was unanimously adopted. For Report see page 1091.

Message of Greeting—African Methodist Episcopal Church—N. W. Moore, Jr.—Adopted

Motion of Noah W. Moore, Jr. (Delaware), duly seconded, prevailed, by the vote of the General Conference, directing the Secretary to send appropriate greetings to the African Methodist Episcopal Church, now in session in Chicago, Illinois.

Thanks—Secretary

Lud H. Estes (Memphis), Secretary of the General Conference, was recognized, and made the following statement:

"Mr. Chairman, I want to express my personal appreciation to everyone in this group. You have had a fine General Conference, and your co-operation has made it possible.

"Your Secretary found it not only a high privilege and a great honor, but a real joy to serve each and all of you."

Closing Service—Bishop Herbert Welch

At the request of the Council of Bishops, Bishop Herbert Welch led in the devotional service of the closing session of the 1952 General Conference of The Methodist Church.

Hymn No. 416—J. R. Houghton (*)

Bishop Herbert Welch announced Hymn No. 416, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and under the leadership of James R. Houghton (*) (New England), General Conference Director of Music, the General Conference stood and joined in the singing of the Hymn.

Closing Remarks—Bishop Welch

Bishop Herbert Welch addressed the General Conference briefly, as follows:

"The Bishops suggested that a few words should be said.

"This is no time for a review of this Conference, but I have been thinking that many of you may have come here, as I did, with some misgivings in your hearts, some fears that this might be a discordant Conference. I think as we look back over the last days, we can rejoice that our fears have proved groundless.

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

"This has been, as I see it, a thoroughly democratic Conference with a degree of participation by the various races and nations which make up the Conference which I have not seen before, so far as I can remember, in the several General Conferences behind us.

"It has been an independent Conference, with a sense of freedom. There has been no slightest sign of dictation. We have had leadership, but the Conference has made up its own mind, even against the recommendations of Commissions and Standing Committees, and even the venerable Council of Bishops.

"It has been a practical Conference, a Conference, as I take it, of high idealism and yet of willingness to take steps in the direction of that ideal when it could not be reached at a single bound.

"And, above all, it seems to me it has been a brotherly Conference, with a determination not to divide but a determination to find out one another and come to the common mind in the spirit of love.

"So I think, as we come to the closing moments, it is with a spirit of profound gratitude to our Heavenly Father, whose Spirit has moved upon this Conference. If we believe that all good things, every good gift, cometh down from above, from our Father of light, if we believe in the universal ministry of the Holy Spirit and of His special presence with those who have dedicated their lives to the Lord Jesus Christ, we may be grateful and confident that in spite of any disappointments, of any surface disagreements, we have been guided by the Spirit of God in these deliberations and in the conclusions which have been reached.

"If we find a place in our personal experience where God is always when some frustration or loss comes to us, always preparing for us some better thing, then we may believe that in this Conference—after the freest and fullest discussion and after earnest desire for truth, and in the spirit of love—we have come, fumblingly, it may be, and not perfectly, but we have come close to the mind of God for our dear Church. And so we may, I think, use the last words of John Wesley, once more, 'The best of all is, God is with us.'"

Closing Prayer—Bishop Welch

Bishop Herbert Welch led in a closing prayer, as follows:

"Our Heavenly Father, we bow in gratitude for thy presence, for thy guidance, for thy blessing. O how we need Thee. Our little boat is so little and the sea is so wide. Our wisdom is so slight, our foresight is so short, but thou knowest the future, the needs and the trials, and in thy presence, putting our hands in thine, we step out, unafraid, into the future.

"May thy blessing go with each member of this Conference. Be with the churches to which we belong. Be with all the institutions and the agencies which thou dost use through us for the upbuilding of thy Kingdom. We trust in thy mercy and in thy love through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen."

Adjourn Sine Die—T. B. Clay ()—C. P. Hardin*

Thomas B. Clay (*) (Genesee) (DB-230) moved that the

TWELFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1952, AFTERNOON SESSION

1952 session of the General Conference of The Methodist Church do now adjourn sine die, after the benediction.

The motion, duly seconded by Cecil P. Hardin (Holston), prevailed by the vote of the General Conference.

Benediction—Bishop Holt—Adjournment Sine Die

The General Conference stood and Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of the St. Louis Area, South Central Jurisdiction, pronounced the benediction, as follows:

"Now, may the grace of our Lord, Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the Communion of the Holy Spirit be with all of you for evermore. Amen."

and the Fourth General Conference of The Methodist Church, adjourned sine die at 7:50 P.M., Tuesday, May 6, 1952.

Holy Communion

CONDUCTED BY BISHOP HERBERT WELCH

The General Conference

THE METHODIST CHURCH

CIVIC AUDITORIUM
SAN FRANCISCO
APRIL 23, 1952

Order for the Administration of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper

Organ Prelude

MR. NEWTON PASHLEY, Mus.M.

Bishop Fred P. Corson, President of the Council of Bishops, presiding.
(While it is not possible, because of limiting conditions, to invite all those present to partake of the Holy Sacrament with the members of the General Conference, it is hoped that all will unite in the Ritual, the hymns, and the spiritual fellowship and dedication which are the heart of the Service.)

The people shall stand and join in singing the hymn, and remain standing until after the singing of the Gloria Patri.

The Processional Hymn—164

DR. JAMES H. HOUGHTON, Minister of Music
Tune: Coronation

All hail the power of Jesus' name!
Let angels prostrate fall;
Bring forth the royal diadem,
And crown Him Lord of all;
Bring forth the royal diadem,
And crown Him Lord of all.

Ye chosen seed of Israel's race,
Ye ransomed from the fall,
Hail Him who saves you by His grace,
And crown Him Lord of All;
Hail Him who saves you by His grace,
And crown Him Lord of all.

Sinners, whose love can ne'er forget
The wormwood and the gall,
Go, spread your trophies at His feet,
And crown Him Lord of All;
Go, spread your trophies at His feet,
And crown Him Lord of all.

Let every kindred, every tribe,
On this terrestrial ball,
To Him all majesty ascribe,
And crown Him Lord of All;
To Him all majesty ascribe,
And crown Him Lord of all.

O that with yonder sacred throng
We at His feet may fall!
We'll join the everlasting song,
And crown Him Lord of All;
We'll join the everlasting song,
And crown Him Lord of all. Amen.

Bishop Tippet:

God is a Spirit. They that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

Glory be to God on high.

God is Light. If we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another; and truly our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ.

Glory be to God on high.

God is Power. They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

Glory be to God on high.

God is Love. Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God. Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us.

Glory be to God on high.

The Gloria Patri (Meineke)

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Here let the people be seated.

Let us pray.

Almighty God, unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known, and from whom no secrets are hid; cleanse the thoughts of our hearts by the inspiration of thy Holy Spirit, that we may perfectly love thee, and worthily magnify thy holy name; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed by thy name; thy kingdom come; thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

Then may the minister read the Ten Commandments, and the people, still in the attitude of prayer, shall in response ask God's mercy for their transgression in times past and grace to keep the law in time to come.

Bishop Straughn: God spake these words, and said: I am the Lord thy God:

Thou shalt have no other gods before me.

Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.

Lord, have mercy upon us, and write all these thy laws in our hearts, we beseech thee.

Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.

Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work: but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day, and hallowed it.

Lord, have mercy upon us, and write all these thy laws in our hearts, we beseech thee.

Honor thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which Lord thy God giveth thee.

Thou shalt not kill.

Thou shalt not commit adultery.

Thou shalt not steal.

Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.

Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor his anything that is thy neighbor's.

Lord, have mercy upon us, and write all these thy laws in our hearts, we beseech thee.

Bishop A. F. Smith: Hear the Beatitudes of our Lord Jesus Christ:

Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

Lord, be gracious unto us, and help us to obtain these blessings.

Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.

Lord, be gracious unto us, and help us to obtain these blessings.

Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

Grant unto us thy Holy Spirit, O God, and enable us to obtain all these blessings; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Apostles' Creed

(The people standing)

I believe in God the Father, Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth: and in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord; who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead, and buried; the third day he rose from the dead; he ascended into heaven, and sitteth at the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy catholic Church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. Amen.

The Hymn—149

In the cross of Christ I glory,
Towering o'er the wrecks of time;
All the light of sacred story
Gathers round its head sublime.

When the woes of life o'ertake me,
Hopes deceive, and fears annoy,
Never shall the cross forsake me:
Lo! it glows with peace and joy.

When the sun of bliss is beaming
Light and love upon my way,
From the cross the radiance streaming
Adds more luster to the day.

Bane and blessing, pain and pleasure,
By the cross are sanctified;
Peace is there, that knows no measure,
Joys that thro' all time abide.

In the cross of Christ I glory,
Towering o'er the wrecks of time;
All the light of sacred story
Gathers round its head sublime. Amen.

Offering for the Fellowship of Suffering and Service

Bishop Corson

Let the people continue in the spirit of prayer while the passages of scripture are read by the bishop.

The Communion Hymn—144

(The people standing)

Beneath the cross of Jesus
I fain would take my stand,
The shadow of a mighty rock
Within a weary land,
A home within the wilderness,
A rest upon the way,
From the burning of the noontide heat,
And the burden of the day.

Upon that cross of Jesus
Mine eyes at times can see
The very dying form of One
Who suffered there for me;
And from my stricken heart with tears
Two wonders I confess—
The wonders of redeeming love
And my unworthiness.

I take, O cross, thy shadow
For my abiding place;
I ask no other sunshine than
The sunshine of His face;
Content to let the world go by,
To know no gain nor loss,
My sinful self my only shame,
My glory all the cross. Amen.

Then shall the people remain standing while the minister reads the invitation.

Bishop Welch: Ye that do truly and earnestly repent of your sins, and are in love and charity with your neighbors, and intend to lead a new life, following the commandments of God, and walking from henceforth in his holy ways; draw near with faith, and take this holy Sacrament to your comfort; and devoutly kneeling make your humble confession to Almighty God.

Then shall this general confession be made by the minister and people, the Minister kneeling, facing the Lord's Table, and all the people in the attitude of prayer.

Almighty God, Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, Maker of things, Judge of all men; we acknowledge and bewail our manifold sins and wickedness, which we from time to time most grievously have committed, by thought, word, and deed, against thy divine majesty. We do earnestly repent, and are heartily sorry for these or misdoings; the remembrance of them is grievous unto us. Have mercy upon us, have mercy upon us, most merciful Father; for thy Son our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, forgive us all that is past; and grant that we may ever hereafter serve and please thee in newness of life, to the honor and glory of thy name; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Then shall the minister offer this prayer:

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, who of thy great mercy hast promised forgiveness of sins to all them that with hearty repentance and true faith turn unto thee; have mercy upon us; pardon and deliver us from all our sins; confirm and strengthen us in all goodness; and bring us to everlasting life through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Then the minister, still kneeling and facing the Lord's Table, shall say:

It is very meet, right, and our bounden duty that we should at all times in all places give thanks unto thee, O Lord, holy Father, almighty, everlasting God.

Then shall be sung:

Therefore with angels and archangels, and with all the company of heaven, we laud and magnify thy glorious name, evermore praising thee, and saying: Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of hosts, heaven and earth are full of thy glory. Glory be to thee. O Lord most high! Amen.

Then shall the minister offer the prayer of consecration:

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, who of thy tender mercy didst give thine only Son Jesus Christ to suffer death upon the cross for our redemption; who made there, by the one offering of himself, a full, perfect, and sufficient sacrifice for the sins of the whole world; and did institute, and in his holy gospel command us to continue, this memorial of his precious death: hear us, O merciful Father, we most humbly beseech thee, and grant that we, receiving this bread and wine, according to thy Son our Saviour Jesus Christ's holy institution, in remembrance of his death and passion, may also be partakers of the divine nature through him, who in the same night that he was betrayed took bread; and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and gave it to his disciples, saying, Take, eat; this is my body, which is given for you; do this in remembrance of me. Likewise after supper he took the cup; and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of this; for this is my blood of the new covenant which is shed for you, and for many, for the remission of sins; do this, as oft as ye shall drink it, in remembrance of me. Amen.

Then shall the minister, kneeling before the Lord's Table, unite with the people in this prayer:

We do not presume to come to this thy table, O merciful Lord, trusting in our own righteousness, but in thy manifold and great mercies. We are not worthy so much as to gather up the crumbs under thy table. But thou art the same Lord, whose mercy is unfailing. Grant us therefore, gracious Lord, so to partake of these memorials of thy Son Jesus Christ, that we may be filled with the fullness of his life, may grow into his likeness, and may evermore dwell in him, and he in us. Amen.

Then shall the ministers assisting first receive the elements of the Communion themselves, after which they shall proceed to deliver the same to the people.*

When all have communed, then shall the minister and people say:

* Assisting are Bishops Archer, Arvidson, Baker, Babieri, Booth, Bowen, Dawsey, Garber, Hammaker, Ledden, Lowe, Magee, Martin, P. E., Purcell, Rocky, Shaw, Short, Subhan, Valencia, Wade, Ward.

O Lord, our heavenly Father, we thy humble servants, desire thy fatherly goodness mercifully to accept this our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving; most humbly beseeching thee to grant that, by the merits and death of thy Son Jesus Christ, and through faith in his blood, we and thy whole Church may obtain forgiveness of our sins, and all other benefits of his passion. And here we offer and present unto thee, O Lord, ourselves, our souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy, and living sacrifice unto thee; humbly beseeching thee that all we who are partakers of this Holy Communion may be filled with thy grace and heavenly benediction. And although we be unworthy, through our manifold sins, to offer unto thee any sacrifice, yet we beseech thee to accept this our bounden duty and service; not weighing our merits, but pardoning our offenses; through Jesus Christ our Lord, by whom, and with whom, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, all honor and glory be unto thee, O Father Almighty, world without end. Amen.

Then shall be sung the Gloria in Excelsis, the people standing:

Glory be to God on high, and on earth peace, good will toward men. We praise thee, we bless thee, we worship thee, we glorify thee, we give thanks to thee for thy great glory, O Lord God, heavenly King, God the Father Almighty!

O Lord, the only-begotten Son Jesus Christ; O Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, that takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us. Thou that takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us. Thou that takest away the sins of the world, receive our prayer. Thou that sittest at the right hand of God the Father, have mercy upon us. For thou only art holy; thou only art the Lord; thou only, O Christ, with the Holy Ghost, art most high in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

The Benediction

The peace of God, which passeth all understanding, keep your hearts and minds in the knowledge and love of God, and his Son Jesus Christ our Lord; and the blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, be among you, and remain with you always. Amen.

The Recessional Hymn—496

God of our fathers, whose almighty hand
Leads forth in beauty all the starry band
Of shining worlds in splendor through the skies,
Our grateful songs before Thy throne arise.

Thy love divine hath led us in the past;
In this free land by Thee our lot is cast;
Be Thou our Ruler, Guardian, Guide, and Stay,

Thy Word our law, Thy paths our chosen way.

From war's alarms, from deadly pestilence,
Be Thy strong arm our ever sure defense;
Thy true religion in our hearts increase,
Thy bounteous goodness nourish us in peace.

Refresh Thy people on their toilsome way;
Lead us from night to never-ending day;
Fill all our lives with love and grace divine,

And glory, laud, and praise be ever Thine.
Amen.

Organ Postlude

[At the close of this service, a brief recess will be had before the opening Business Session]

HYMNS TO BE SUNG DURING COMMUNION

NEARER, MY GOD, TO THEE

Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee!	Though like the wanderer, The sun gone down, Darkness be over me, My rest a stone;	There let the way appear, Steps unto heaven; All that Thou sendest me, In mercy given;
E'en though it be a cross That raiseth me;	Yet in my dreams I'd be Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee!	Angels to beckon me Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee!
Still all my song shall be, Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee!

Then, with my waking thoughts Bright with Thy praise, Out of my stony griefs Bethel I'll raise;	Or if, on joyful wing Cleaving the sky, Sun, moon, and stars forgot, Upward I fly,
So by my woes to be Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee!	Still all my song shall be, Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee!

MORE LOVE TO THEE

More love to Thee, O Christ, More love to Thee!	Once earthly joy I craved, Sought peace and rest;	Then shall my latest breath Whisper Thy praise;
Hear Thou the prayer I make On bended knee;	Now Thee alone I seek, Give what is best;	This be the parting cry My heart shall raise;
This is my earnest plea, More love, O Christ, to Thee, More love to Thee.	This all my prayer shall be, More love, O Christ, to Thee, More love to Thee,	This still its prayer shall be, More love, O Christ, to Thee, More love to Thee,
More love to Thee!	More love to Thee!	More love to Thee!

NEVER FURTHER THAN THY CROSS

Never further than Thy cross,
Never higher than Thy feet;
Here earth's precious things seem dross,
Here earth's bitter things grow sweet.

Here we learn to serve and give,
And, rejoicing, self deny;
Here we gather love to live,
Here we gather faith to die.

Here, O Christ, our sins we see,
Learn Thy love while gazing thus;
Sin, which laid the cross on Thee,
Love, which bore the cross for us.

Pressing onward as we can,
Still to this our hearts must tend;
Where our earliest hopes began,
There our last aspirings end;

Till amid the hosts of light,
We in Thee redeemed, complete,
Through Thy cross made pure and white,
Cast our crowns before Thy feet.

PREFACE

IN framing the Plan of Union for the three Methodist organizations existing prior to 1939, which when adopted by the Uniting Conference, became the Constitution of The Methodist Church, provision was made for a Judicial Council with powers and duties therein set forth.

The creation of a Judiciary, distinct from the Executive and Legislative branches of ecclesiastical bodies, is somewhat new in American Church law. However, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, had set up such a body, and that became the model for the United Church Constitution.

Since the organization of the Council in 1939, with only the short experience of the Southern Church to guide it, it has had to set its own precedents. Fortunately, and somewhat contrary to expectation, the number of cases which have been reviewable has not been too numerous. Up to the present time it has not been necessary for the Council to hold sessions oftener, on an average, than once each year. As the membership of the Council is widely scattered, this has been fortunate.

In the matter of hearing and handing down decisions, the Council has usually been unanimous in its action, and very few dissenting opinions have been recorded. In the writing of these opinions, it has been the policy of the Council to make them as short as possible, and refrain from long legal discussions, and citations of authorities. Some of the opinions, during sessions of the General Conference, have had to be written rather hurriedly, and without the opportunity to consult authorities. It is hoped that this feature has not detracted from the understanding of the basic principles decided.

The actual work of the Council is only partially reflected by the formal opinions and decisions handed down. Almost as much time is consumed in disposing of numerous petitions, requests, and other communications asking for Judicial determination of, or sometimes simply advice upon, questions over which (at least in the manner presented) the Council has no jurisdiction. This also involves a very voluminous correspondence, not only by the Secretary, but by other members of the Council. The character of such cases is illustrated by the first Decision reported herein, but it has been thought unnecessary to include others of a similar character.

For ready reference there is included in this volume the Rules of Practice and Procedure adopted by the Judicial Council. The constitutional provisions as to the Council and legislation of General Conference relating thereto, are not repeated herein, but reference is made to Discipline 1952, Paragraphs 901 to 918 inclusive.

The personnel of the Judicial Council as of January 1, 1954, is as follows:

In Re: Ruling of Bishop Lee, Philippine Annual Conference

DIGEST OF CASE

Lay Missionaries as defined in Par. 974, Discipline 1939, are not eligible to vote in an Annual Conference for Ministerial delegates to General Conference.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At the session of the Philippine Conference, held in Manila, February 22-29, 1940, Bishop Edwin F. Lee made a decision of law in which he held that, under Paragraph 974, page 289, 1939 Discipline of The Methodist Church, Lay Missionaries, designated therein as "Associate Members" of the Annual Conference, were entitled to vote in the election of Ministerial delegates to the General Conference.

In due form Bishop Lee has certified this ruling to the Judicial Council to be passed upon as provided by Section 3, Article II of the Plan of Union. (Par. 43, page 32, 1939 Discipline.)

Decision of the Judicial Council

In view of the fact that the Plan of Union, which is now the Constitution of The Methodist Church (Par. 24, page 27, 1939 Discipline), and the statutory provisions for the election of Ministerial delegates to the General Conference (Par. 514, page 161, 1939 Discipline), both provide that the Ministerial delegates to the General Conference shall be elected by the Ministerial members of the Annual Conference, we are unable to concur in this decision.

It is true that Par. 974 does make Lay Missionaries "Associate Members" of the Annual Conference, but that does not change their status as lay members. It is, therefore, the judgment of the Judicial Council that the presiding Bishop was in error in permitting these lay members to vote in the election of Ministerial delegates to the General Conference. In Re: Appeal A. Lincoln Shute

DIGEST OF CASE

An appeal was taken from a Bishop's rulings in an Annual Conference before Unification, which appeal passed to the Judicial Council under Paragraph 1624 of the 1939 Discipline. This appeal involved a request for rulings asking interpretations of prior pension laws of the Methodist Episcopal Church. As the record did not show that any vested rights of the appellant were affected, the appeal was dismissed, and the Bishop's rulings affirmed.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

In the Rock River Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, held October 5-10, 1937, Bishop Ernest G. Richardson, presiding, A. Lincoln Shute propounded certain questions numbered from one to seven inclusive, relating to pension legislation. The questions affected interests in which said A. Lincoln Shute and the Annual Conference were then interested. The rulings of the Bishop being unsatisfactory to A. Lincoln Shute, he appealed to the General Conference of The Methodist Episcopal Church, and as such appeal was undetermined at the time of the Uniting Conference, the appeal passed to the Judicial Council of The Methodist Church under the provisions of Paragraph 1624 of the Discipline of 1939.

Decision of the Judicial Council

We might well dismiss this appeal because the questions at issue have now become moot through the consolidation of the Churches. New laws governing the issues presented to and passed upon by Bishop Richardson have been enacted. No vested rights of the appellant have been affected and his rights for the future are governed by the enactments of the Consolidated Church. It cannot be useful to merely determine who was right, and who was wrong, as to the rulings in question in the 1937 Annual Conference.

We have felt, however, that it might be better to indicate the questions asked and the answers given, or ruling made, by the Bishop with an occasional short comment by this tribunal.

The substance of the first question asked by A. Lincoln Shute was:

"Is not Paragraph 959, Section 1, of the Discipline of 1936, retroactive and therefore unconstitutional?"

The Bishop answered:

"It is retroactive but is not therefore unconstitutional."

We approve the ruling made by the Bishop as to that question. Many laws are retroactive in effect but not necessarily unconstitutional. Under the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Annual Conference was the sole judge of the annuity to be paid to a retired minister belonging to such Conference (Paragraphs 957, 958, 1936 Discipline), hence no vested right to a certain amount could arise, and the Paragraph 959, Section 1, did not violate the terms of the Constitution of that Church.

The second question, in substance, was: "Does the wiping out of the date line in connection with new legislation touching retroactive divided annuity responsibility under Paragraph 959, Section 1, of the 1936 Discipline, render the Paragraph unconstitutional?"

The Bishop answered: "Any law passed by the General Conference is constitutional. Neither a Bishop nor all of them, nor any person or group, has the right to declare a General Conference act unconstitutional in the interim between General Conferences."

This ruling was made in 1937 and related to the 1936 Discipline. If the language quoted in the first sentence of the Bishop's answer is all he said, then we hold he was in error. Not all laws passed by the General Conference are constitutional. He undoubtedly meant that any law passed by a General Conference should be regarded as being constitutional until declared to be unconstitutional by the proper authority, which was then the General Conference. In any event the answer does not injuriously affect any matter in issue and is not reversible error. The second sentence of the answer is correct and we approve it.

The third question was: "We ask a ruling as to what laws are included, and what laws are excluded in the expression 'all questions of law' found in the Discipline of 1936, Par. 674, Sec. 11, and particularly as to whether this section puts the responsibility upon the presiding Bishop to decide the constitutionality of any law involved in proceedings pending in an Annual Conference, subject to appeal to the General Conference."

The Bishop answered: "'All questions of law' means what it says, but he must rule as the law is, regardless of his personal opinion."

We find no error in the answer of the Bishop, although he might well have declined to answer a question covering so wide a scope and presenting no concrete case or situation.

The fifth question asked was:

1. "Is it lawful for the Board of Pensions and Relief to fix an 'annuity rate' for each Annual Conference, when the Discipline says explicitly in Paragraph 951, Section 3, that among the duties and powers of Stewards is the 'determination of annuity rate' and in Paragraph 947, Section 3, 'The annuity rate shall be determined by the United Session, without restriction'?"

The Bishop answered:

"The Board of Pensions has been given the right to announce to each Conference the minimum annuity rate it should use."

There is no error in this answer. It was a very careful exposition as to the suggested minimum rate, and in no wise abridged the rights of the Annual Conference.

The sixth question asked was:

"Referring to Paragraph 947, Section 3, in the Discipline of 1936, and Paragraph 959, Section 2 (the last sentence), is it lawful for the 'clearing house' to calculate such liabilities quadrennially, when the annuity rate must be dependent on these fluctuating liabilities from year to year, and when the Discipline says that the 'annuity rate' shall be determined 'annually'?"

The Bishop answered: "The minimum rate will be in effect. The Conference can fix a larger rate any time its receipts justify it."

We find no error in that ruling.

The appeal as to questions four and seven was withdrawn.

Having therefore examined each ruling presented to us, we affirm the rulings of Bishop Richardson, except as to the first sentence of the answer to the second question as above stated, and the appeal is dismissed.

In Re: Appeal Willard L. Hadsell

DIGEST OF CASE

A member of an Annual Conference located under the provisions of the 1932 Discipline (Methodist Episcopal Church), although he may have been improperly deprived of his right to be heard when his Annual Conference was considering the report of the Conference Relations Committee on his case, but who thereafter defied the action of the Conference by continuing to preach in a charge where previously appointed, thereby forfeits his right of appeal. A member may forfeit his right of appeal by contumacious treatment of the Church and its authority.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

This case involves the location under Paragraph 188, Section 2, of the 1932 Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of W. L. Hadsell of the Nebraska Conference.

By the unanimous action of the Cabinet of the Nebraska Conference on March 5, 1935, the Appellant was requested to request location. He refused.

After a hearing on September 13, 1935, before the Committee on Conference Relations, at which the Appellant was present and participated and in which he was given full opportunity to be heard, the Committee unanimously voted to recommend his location and so reported to the Nebraska Conference presided over by Bishop Frederick D. Leete.

At the time of the consideration of the Report by the Annual Conference on September 14, 1935, the presiding Bishop, for some reason not satisfactorily explained to this Court, refused to permit the Appellant to be heard in his own behalf. The Report was adopted by the Conference by a vote of 162 to 81 and the Appellant was thereby located.

On March 10, 1936, nearly six months thereafter, the following appeal was filed: "I respectfully notify the Nebraska Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church that I hereby appeal to a Judicial Conference from the actions of the Nebraska Annual Conference Executive Session held at Omaha, Nebraska, on September 14, 1935, locating me under Paragraph 188, Section 2."

Commissioners were thereafter appointed to hear certain evidence as to the conduct of the Appellant after his location. A Judicial Conference was duly called and held April 6, 1937, at which the appeal of the Appellant was considered after which by a vote of 8 to 7 the Appellant's appeal was dismissed, from which dismissal the Appellant has properly appealed to this Court, it being in accordance with Paragraph 1624 of the 1939 Discipline, an appeal from one of the Uniting Churches which remained undetermined at the time of the Uniting Conference.

Decision of the Judicial Council

We find that the Appellant was improperly deprived of his right to be heard in his Annual Conference when the report of the Conference Relations Committee was being considered. If the case depended on that factor alone we would order the Report of the Conference Relations Committee remanded to the Nebraska Conference for further consideration.

We must, however, find that by the Appellant's own actions and by his own neglect since the time of his location, that he has forfeited any right to relief.

Paragraph 897, Section 11, of the 1936 Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church provides that in all cases of appeal the Appellant shall furnish a written statement of the grounds of his appeal, and the hearing in the Appellate Court shall be limited to the grounds set forth in such statement. The Appellant did not comply with any of the requirements of this section. He merely "appealed." This may seem technical, but judicial procedure as set forth in the Discipline is necessarily technical and must be complied with in order to protect both the interests of the parties involved, and the Church.

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1936 adopted a report of the Judiciary Committee (Report No. 9, Appeal of A. H. Magee, found on page 459 of the General Conference Journal of 1936), in which an appeal was dismissed because the Appellant failed to furnish a written statement of the grounds of his appeal.

Of greater importance, however, than this failure to even attempt to comply with the provisions set forth in the Discipline, is the deliberate and open misconduct of the Appellant in directly defying the action of the Nebraska Conference in locating him and in his continuing to remain and preach at the Jamaica Charge where he had previously been appointed.

He was located September 14, 1935. A new appointment had been made to the Jamaica Charge. The Appellant, with the approval of the local church, continued to preach there. The local church refused to accept the new appointee. On September 27, 1935, the Appellant's District Superintendent notified him in writing that he was not an Accepted Supply

Pastor, that he had not been appointed to the Jamaica Charge, that he was violating the order and Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church in continuing to hold services in that church and that if he persisted in holding services he would be subject to judicial procedure. Notwithstanding this notification the Appellant openly, publicly, and defiantly continued to preach and hold services in the Jamaica Church for a period of one and a half years.

This conduct was clearly such that he has thereby forfeited his right to appeal. Paragraph 897, Section 4, of the 1936 Discipline provides that "in no case shall an appeal operate as a suspension of sentence." Paragraph 897, Section 1, of the 1936 Discipline provides that "Appeals regularly taken, shall be heard by the proper Appellate Court unless it shall appear to said Court that the Appellant has forfeited his right to appeal by misconduct, such as refusal to abide by the findings of the Committee on Investigation or of the Trial Court."

In Merrill's Digest of the Religious Law 256-257, it states: "A member may forfeit his right of appeal by contumacious treatment of the Church and its authority." "No one can use the Discipline of the Church, occupying the time of those charged with its administration, without at least professing to be loyal and submissive to its authority."

In Report No. 44 of the Committee on Judiciary of the Methodist Episcopal Church we find in the General Conference Journal of 1932, pages 629 and 630, the case of Guy Willis Holmes, where a Judicial Conference had voted that the Appellant had forfeited his right to appeal by his refusal to abide by the findings of the Trial Court and continuing to preach. The Committee on Judiciary ruled that that ruling was in accordance with the law of the Church, and that Report was adopted by the General Conference.

The action of the Appellant in continuing to preach after location, in defiance of the Church, is contumacious treatment of the Church and its authority and constitutes such gross and open disobedience of the action of the Annual Conference that he has thereby forfeited any right he might have had to appeal.

His appeal is therefore dismissed.

All members concur except M. A. Childers, dissenting. April 27, 1940.

Dissenting Decision of M. A. Childers

I concur with my colleagues in the following expression set forth in the opinion of the majority of the Judicial Council filed herein:

"We find that the Appellant was improperly deprived of his right to be heard in his Annual Conference when the report of the Conference Relations Committee was being considered. If the case depended on that factor alone we would order the Report of the Conference Relations Committee remanded to the Nebraska Annual Conference for further consideration."

Under my interpretation of the law the question of what disposition should be made of his appeal does depend alone upon that factor; hence I cannot concur with them in holding that, by failure to set out the grounds of his appeal in connection with his notice of appeal, and by reason of his subsequent failure to abide by the action of the Annual Conference, he forfeited his rights of appeal.

The holding set forth in the majority opinion is based upon subdivisions or sections 1 and 11 of Paragraph 322, page 273, of the 1932 Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which reads as follows:

"1. An appeal shall not be allowed in any case in which the accused has failed or refused to be present in person or by counsel at his trial. Appeals, regularly taken, shall be heard by the proper Appellate Court, unless it shall appear to the said Court that the Appellant has forfeited his right to appeal by misconduct, such as refusal to abide by the findings of the Committee of Investigation, or the Trial Court, or withdrawal from the Church, or failure to appear in person or by counsel to prosecute the appeal, or prior to the final decision on appeal from his conviction resorting to suit in the Civil Courts against the Complainant or any of the parties connected with the Ecclesiastical Court in which he was tried.

"11. In all cases of appeal the Appellant, at the time he gives notice of his appeal, shall furnish to the officer receiving such notice, and to the counsel for the Church, a written statement of the grounds of his appeal and the hearing in the Appellate Court shall be limited to the grounds set forth in such statement."

In my opinion these provisions with reference to appeals did not apply in the case of an appeal from the action of an Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in locating one of its Ministerial members under the "Involuntary Location" proceedings authorized by Paragraph 188 of the 1932 Discipline, and Paragraph 505 of the 1936 Discipline, for the reasons hereinafter set forth.

"Involuntary Location" takes away from a minister his right to "exercise his ministerial office," one of the most precious rights in all the relationships of the Church. Conceding that by a strict construction the above mentioned Paragraph, under which said right may be taken away from a minister without his consent, was constitutional, reason and justice both dictate that its very provision should be strictly complied with. In this case the orderly procedure broke down at a vital point. It required action by the Annual Conference on the Report of the Committee on Conference Relations before location could become effective. Such a Report was subject to debate, for it was the action of the Annual Conference, and not that of the Committee, which deprived a minister of his right to exercise his ministerial office.

It is admitted that when this Report was before the Annual Conference a representative for the Cabinet, and another for the Committee on Conference Relations appeared, and that at least one of them "gave information" to the Conference regarding the matter on which the Cabinet and the Committee had based their actions.

It is also admitted that the Appellant sought to present his side of the matter to the Conference, but that he was denied the right to be heard, and that the Annual Conference voted upon the Committee Report without Appellant's side of the controversy ever having been presented. My colleagues concede this to be reversible error. It was such error. It was the depriving of this minister of one of the most important of all human rights, that is, the right to be heard by the tribunal that was about to deprive him of the office of minister—one of the most precious relations in the Church of God. This was not a trial as guaranteed by the Constitution. If the orderly procedure under this statute could be construed as a trial it broke down in its application in this case at the most crucial point, that is at the point where, in a trial, the accused would have the right to be heard by the tribunal trying him.

Such violation of the fundamental rights of a minister is no more to be condoned than the contumacious conduct of such minister in refusing to abide by the decision of the tribunal which had thus denied him his fundamental rights.

Third—Subdivisions of Sections 1 and 11, Paragraph 322 of the 1932 Discipline, hereinbefore quoted, at best were limitations upon the constitutional right of appeal. They appeared under the heading "Judicial Administration," and according to their own terms were a part of the law of the Church relating to charges, Investigating Committees, Trials, Trial Courts, etc.

"Involuntary Location," however, appeared under an entirely different heading or division of the Discipline, viz.: "Membership in the Annual Conference." Furthermore this "Involuntary Location" proceeding had its own provision for appeal, and that without limitation or restriction. Section (6) of Paragraph 505, 1936 Discipline, reads as follows:

"6. A preacher located under the provisions of this Paragraph shall have the right to appeal to a Judicial Conference within six months after such location."

Paragraph 188 of the 1932 Discipline contained the following:

"He shall have the right to appeal within six months to a Judicial Conference."

Thus the right of appeal from an involuntary location was absolute, except as to the time in which it was required to be taken, and no provision was made for it to be forfeited by misconduct thereafter. Nor was there any provision designating any particular form for the appeal or requiring any particular statement of the grounds of appeal. If the General Conference had desired such limitations and restrictions to be placed upon the appeal of a minister from the action of an Annual Conference in locating him, it could have enacted such provisions and made them to so apply, subject to the Constitutional provisions guaranteeing to every Minister the right of trial and appeal. (Section 5, Paragraph 90, 1936 Discipline.) Apparently it did not do so. Therefore in so applying them in this appeal the Judicial Council may be doing by judicial construction that which the General Conference failed to do by specific legislation. I am unwilling to take that chance when by remanding the Report of the Committee to the Annual Conference for further consideration the Church can correct its own admitted error and relieve itself of all possible grounds for censure in this respect, without losing its right to deal with the Appellant in the light of his conduct both before and subsequent to his location. Even if there might be an inference that the General Conference intended to make such limitations apply in "involuntary location" proceedings, it is doubtful if a limitation upon a constitutional right should be given any standing by inference in the absence of specific legislation clearly and unequivocally making it so to apply.

It follows, therefore, as a logical conclusion, that Appellant's appeal should have been heard by the Judicial Conference, and that because of the denial to the Appellant of his fundamental right to be heard by the tribunal which deprived him of his ministerial office, the judgment of the Annual Conference in locating the Appellant should have been reversed, and the Report of the Committee on Conference Relations remanded to the Nebraska Annual Conference for further consideration. The Judicial Conference having failed to hear the appeal and remand the Report, such action, in my judgment, should now be taken by the Judicial Council.

However, let it be understood that I am not condoning in the least the conduct of Appellant in refusing to abide by the action of the Annual Conference. The Church, however, is not left without protection in this respect. If it be true, as alleged, and which seems practically to have been admitted, that he has been guilty of contumacy, and has failed to abide by the action of the Annual Conference in locating him, or if he has been guilty of any other misconduct, such can, and no doubt would be made known in the reconsideration of the matter by the Annual Conference, and appropriate action taken.

If Appellant has any explanation in defense of, or in extenuation of, his conduct subsequent to the action of the Annual Conference, or in reply to the matters relied upon for his location in the first instance, he could present the same. The Annual Conference, then, could act with full knowledge in the premises, and could protect every right both of the Church and of the Appellant. Such, I believe, would be the proper course in disposing of this appeal.

In Re: Tenure of Central Conference Bishops

DIGEST OF CASE

Paragraph 462, Discipline 1939, providing for election by Central Conferences of Bishops for a limited term, is constitutional.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

This case comes before the Judicial Council upon an appeal of a majority of the Council of Bishops, and is stated in the following form:

"Whereas, the Uniting Conference enacted Paragraph 462, to wit: "A Central Conference shall have power to fix the tenure of Bishops elected by said Central Conference; provided that such tenure shall not be for a term longer than that in force at the time for Bishops elected by the Jurisdictional Conferences.

"We submit to the Judicial Council the question as to the power of the Uniting Conference under the present Constitution, to authorize the election of a Bishop for a limited tenure."

Decision of the Judicial Council

The Plan of Union by Paragraph 43, Article II, Section 1, gives to the Judicial Council power "to determine the constitutionality of any act of the General Conference upon an appeal of a majority of the Council of Bishops." The General Conference has taken action re-enacting all of the Discipline of 1939. (See Page 94, D. C. A., 1940.) Therefore the section under review is an act of this General Conference and consequently the Judicial Council may assume jurisdiction.

The Second Restrictive Rule says: "The General Conference shall not change or alter any part or rule of our Government so as to do away with Episcopacy, or destroy the plan of our itinerant General Superintendency."

The questions which must first be determined are: (1) Of what does our Episcopacy consist? (2) What is the plan of our itinerant General Superintendency?

Fortunately the same instrument which contains our Restrictive Rules contains provisions also for Bishops elected by Jurisdictional Conferences and Bishops elected by Central Conferences. (See Section IV and Section V of the Plan of Union.) These sections clearly show that there are two kinds of Bishops, those elected by Jurisdictional Conferences and those elected by Central Conferences. There are limitations on the powers of Central Conference Bishops which are not on those elected by Jurisdictional Conferences, but however much they may differ as to power, each is a part of our Episcopacy and a part of the plan of our itinerant General Superintendency.

We are here construing the Second Restrictive Rule in the light of the identical Constitution which contains it. Our Episcopacy and the plan of our itinerant General Superintendency are described in other Paragraphs of equal force and validity. So far, therefore, we can find no provisions making term tenure for Central Conference Bishops unconstitutional.

If unconstitutionality be inferred by appealing to "our historic Episcopacy" we must state that we are dealing with our present Episcopacy and our present plan of itinerant General Superintendency, and must insist that there is a distinction between General Superintendents and Central Conference Superintendents.

In the former Methodist Episcopal Church, in order to provide for Central Conference Bishops, it was decided that the Restrictive Rule with which we are dealing must be changed by constitutional process and it was accordingly amended. What was there secured by such constitutional process is now secured in other parts of the present Constitution. This has a special point here because in construing the powers of the General Conference under this amended Restrictive Rule, it was held that Central Conferences could elect Bishops for a limited term in The Methodist Episcopal Church. (Paragraph 101, Section 57, Discipline Methodist Episcopal Church, 1936.) Hence permission to Central Conferences to elect Bishops for a limited term became a part of the plan of the itinerant General Superintendency of The Methodist Episcopal Church.

The pertinence of the foregoing to this decision will be seen by references to Division Three, "Episcopacy," Paragraph 34, Article 1, "There shall be an Episcopacy in The Methodist Church of like plan, powers, privileges, and duties as now exist in The Methodist Episcopal Church and The Methodist Episcopal Church, South." Therefore, since in the Methodist Episcopal Church it was a part of the plan of the Episcopacy to allow Central Conference Bishops to be elected for a limited term at the option of any Central Conference, it is now a part of the plan of the Episcopacy of The Methodist Church.

We determine therefore that the second section of Paragraph 462 is constitutional.

All members of the Council concur, and J. S. French files the following concurring opinion:

"While unable to follow the reasoning of the majority, by another line of reasoning I reach the same conclusion and concur in the opinion that Paragraph 462 is constitutional." April 30, 1940.

In Re: Election of Delegates to Jurisdictional Conferences by Mission Conferences

DIGEST OF CASE

That part of Paragraph 492, Discipline 1939, which attempts to grant to members of a Mission Conference the right to elect Delegates to Jurisdictional Conferences is unconstitutional.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

This matter comes before the Judicial Council as an appeal by one fifth of the members of the General Conference. The question as to the constitutionality of Paragraph 492 of the Discipline is stated in the following manner:

"WHEREAS, the Plan of Union provides that an appeal may be made to the Judicial Council regarding the constitutionality of an action of the General Conference upon the appeal of one fifth of the members of the General Conference (Paragraph 43, Section 1) and

"WHEREAS, the Plan of Union designates that the delegates to the Jurisdictional Conference shall be chosen from the Ministerial and Lay members of the Annual Conferences (Section 13) and

"WHEREAS, in the Legislation in the Discipline, Paragraph 492, the following statement occurs: 'A Mission Conference . . . may elect one Ministerial and one Lay delegate to the Jurisdictional Conference,' which seems to be in contradiction to the above mentioned statement in the Plan of Union;

"THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the General Conference request the Judicial Council to consider the constitutionality of the statement in Paragraph 492 and report to the General Conference its Decision." (See Daily Christian Advocate, Page 262.)

Paragraph 13 of the Discipline which is a part of the Constitution reads as follows:

"The General Conference shall fix the basis of representation in the Jurisdictional Conferences, provided that the Jurisdictional Conferences shall be composed of an equal number of Ministerial and Lay delegates, the Ministerial to be elected by the Ministerial members of the Annual Conferences and the Lay delegates by the Lay members."

Paragraph 492 reads as follows: "A Mission Conference is authorized to exercise the powers of an Annual Conference . . . and its members . . . may elect one Ministerial and one Lay delegate to the Jurisdictional Conference."

Decision of the Judicial Council

It is the fundamental law that the Annual Conference is the basic body of the Church, and as such shall have reserved to it, inter alia, the right to vote on the election of Ministerial and Lay delegates to the General and the Jurisdictional or Central Conferences. (See Paragraph 22, Discipline 1939.)

Reference to other Paragraphs of the Constitution confirms the conclusion that the Annual Conference only is the body to which is granted the right to elect delegates to General and Jurisdictional Conferences.

The granting to the General Conference of the power to define and fix the powers of Mission Conferences must be construed in connection with the other provisions of the Constitution, and cannot be construed to give unlimited authority to create other Conferences, whether they be called Mission Conferences, Provisional Conferences, or otherwise, which would take rank with Annual Conferences, and have equal powers and duties.

The Constitution clearly intends that the General Conference shall give only such powers to Mission Conferences as may not be in conflict with the basic law of the Church to which reference has been made.

It follows therefore that such part of Paragraph 492 of the Discipline which attempts to grant to "the members" of Mission Conferences the right to elect Delegates to Jurisdictional Conferences must be declared unconstitutional.

In Re: Election of Delegates to Central Conferences by Mission Conferences

DIGEST OF CASE

That part of Paragraph 452, Discipline 1939, which attempts to grant to Mission Conferences the right to elect delegates to Central Conferences is unconstitutional.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

This matter comes before the Judicial Council as an appeal by one fifth of the members of the General Conference. The question as to the constitutionality of certain parts of Paragraph 452 of the Discipline is stated in the following manner:

"WHEREAS, The Plan of Union provides that an appeal may be made to the Judicial Council regarding the constitutionality of an action of the General Conference upon the request of one fifth of the members of the General Conference (Paragraph 43, Section 1) and

"WHEREAS, The Plan of Union designates that the delegates to the Conference shall be chosen from the Ministerial and Lay members of the Annual Conferences (Section 17) and

"WHEREAS, In the legislation in the Discipline, Paragraph 452, the following statement occurs: 'Each Annual Conference and Mission Conference shall be entitled to at least two Ministerial and two Lay Delegates (to the Central Conference),' which seems to be in contradiction to the above-mentioned statement in the Plan of Union;

"THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the General Conference request the Judicial Council to consider the constitutionality of the statement in Paragraph 452 and report to the General Conference its decision."

Decision of the Judicial Council

The principles involved in the decision of this question are very similar to the questions raised as to the constitutionality of another Paragraph of the Discipline as to the election of delegates to Jurisdictional Conference by Mission Conferences.

Paragraph 452 provides inter alia as follows: "The Central Conference shall be composed of Ministerial members elected by Ministers and Lay members elected by Laymen. . . . Each Annual Conference and Mission Conference shall be entitled to at least two Ministerial and two Lay Delegates."

We call attention again to the provision of Paragraph 22 of the Discipline which makes the Annual Conference the basic body of the Church and that it has reserved to it the right to vote on the election of Ministerial and Lay Delegates to the General and Jurisdictional or Central Conferences. In other words the Annual Conference only is the body to which is granted the right to elect delegates to General and Jurisdictional Conferences as well as Central Conferences.

For the further reasons stated in the opinion already filed in the matter of the constitutionality of the election of delegates to Jurisdictional Conferences by Mission Conferences, it must be held that such provision of Paragraph 452 of the Discipline which attempts to grant the right to Mission Conferences to elect delegates to Central Conferences must be declared unconstitutional.

All members concur.

In Re: Constitutionality of Provision Fixing Retirement Age of MinistersDIGEST OF CASE

The legislation enacted by the 1940 General Conference providing for automatic retirement of clerical members of Annual Conferences whose 72d birthday precedes the first day of the regular session of the Annual Conference (Paragraph 231, Discipline 1940), is constitutional, as it is a general principle of constitutional construction that legislation must be upheld unless it is clearly in conflict with the Constitution interpreted as a whole. The matter of uniform regulations for retirement of Ministers is a connectional matter, and as such it is a subject over which the General Conference under the Constitution has legislative power.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At the session of the General Conference held May 3, 1940, there was adopted the following:

Amend the Discipline of 1939 by adding another article to be known as Article 2, to Paragraph 230 at the close of Article 1 to read as follows:

Every clerical member of an Annual Conference whose 72d birthday precedes the first day of the regular session of his Annual Conference shall automatically be retired from the active ministry at said Conference session.

This action is to become effective with the Annual Conferences of 1942.

Immediately thereafter the determination of the constitutionality of this enactment was appealed to the Judicial Council by the vote of more than one fifth of the members of the General Conference.

Decision of the Judicial Council

In behalf of those contending that this act is unconstitutional, it is urged that the question is answered by Article II of Section VII of the Constitution, Paragraph 22, of the 1939 Discipline as follows:

The Annual Conference is the basic body in the Church, and as such shall have reserved to it the right to vote on all constitutional amendments, on the election of Ministerial and Lay delegates to the General and the Jurisdictional or Central Conferences, on all matters relating to the character and Conference relations of its ministerial members, and on the ordination of ministers, and such other rights as have not been delegated to the General Conference under the Constitution, with the exception that the Lay members may not vote on matters of ordination, character, and Conference relations of Ministers. It shall discharge such duties and exercise such powers as the General Conference under the Constitution may determine.

On the other hand, the proponents of the constitutionality refer to Article II of Section I of the Constitution, Paragraph 8 of the 1939 Discipline as follows:

Article IV.—The General Conference shall have full legislative power over all matters distinctively connectional, and in the exercise of said power shall have authority as follows:

To define and fix the qualifications and duties of Elders, Deacons, Supply Preachers, Local Preachers, Exhorters, and Deaconesses.

To define and fix the powers and duties of Annual Conferences, Mission Conferences, and Missions, and of District, Quarterly and Church Conferences.

It therefore becomes necessary to construe the different sections of the Constitution, having in mind the general principle of constitutional construction that legislation enacted under any grant of power must be upheld unless it is clearly in conflict with the Constitution interpreted as a whole.

In the construction of the Constitution as a whole we must also read Article III, Division 2, Paragraph 4, of the 1939 Discipline, as follows:

There shall be a General Conference for the entire Church, with such powers, duties and privileges as are hereinafter set forth.

It is important to bear in mind in considering what may appear to be the inconsistent wording of these different portions of the Constitution, that much of Paragraph 22 was taken from the 1932 Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church, wherein the powers of the Annual Conference (which was then composed of the clerical members only) were outlined as against those of the Lay Conference composed of lay members; and therefore must be interpreted with that connotation.

The question at issue seems to be as to whether or not the fixing of the retirement age for ministers is a connectional matter. It must be conceded that the General Conference is the supreme legislative body of The Methodist Church and has been specifically empowered to legislate on all matters distinctively connectional. The Constitution specifically enumerates many items over which the General Conference shall have such authority in legislating, so as to make all such matters uniform throughout the Church.

It is unnecessary to mention all the subjects which have been so included in the legislative program of the General Conference, but it is sufficient to name only fixing of educational qualifications of ministers, location of ministers, minimum age limit for retirement, and similar matters.

What was meant by the term "connectional" put into our Constitution has another historical aspect. In each of the three Churches when a minister completed all the requirements and was admitted into the Conference, he was "admitted into full connection." That meant that while his membership was in the Conference so receiving him, his relationship was a "connectional" one and that he was eligible for transfer elsewhere into the "connection." If, therefore, joining the Conference was a "connectional" matter, surely retirement from active service is likewise a connectional matter.

It can hardly be denied that the age of a minister is a continuing qualification, and as such is the subject matter for legislation. It is inconceivable that the General Conference should have full legislative powers so that it can enact uniform legislation for the whole Church, and that at the same time each Annual Conference could also have the right to enact diverse and conflicting regulations, on the same subject.

The reservation of the right to the ministerial members of an Annual Conference to "vote on all matters relating to the character and Conference relations of its ministerial members," is not a distinctively legislative function but is rather an administrative function. It can only mean that the Annual Conference has the right as well as the duty to pass upon and determine the facts and apply the laws in all such cases in accordance with the uniform regulations and provisions which the General Conference may enact in reference to the same. In other words, the right reserved to the ministers of an Annual Conference to pass upon the character and Conference relations of its ministers does not mean that it has the legislative right to set up standards to measure the character and Conference relations of the Ministers except insofar as such standards do not contravene or are not covered by provisions enacted for the whole Church by the General Conference.

Thus as it is held that General Conference is the only body that can legislate for the "entire Church," and has the specific authority to legislate on "all matters distinctively connectional," and since it is also held that the matter of uniform regulations for retirement of ministers is a connectional matter then it must follow that authority to enact such laws is vested in the General Conference.

Therefore by applying the well-established rule of construing an instrument as a whole, it must be held that two portions of the Constitution in question are not conflicting, but that each applies to separate and distinct matters. It follows then that the addition to Paragraph 230 as adopted by the General Conference is constitutional, and we so hold.

All members concur except J. S. French who files herewith a dissenting opinion.

May 5, 1940.

Dissenting Decision of J. S. French

Up to the time when the delegated General Conference was established, the Annual Conferences had all power. The General Conference of that day was a mass convention of the entire ministry of the Church in full connection. There are no terms too broad or too high to express the unlimited powers which belonged to it. But upon the establishment of such a delegated body, the Annual Conferences committed to it "full powers to make rules and regulations for our Church under the following limitations and restrictions." Then follow the six Restrictive Rules. It may be said frankly and without reserve that nowhere in these Rules is there a limitation on the General Conference which would prevent it passing a retirement age for ministers, such as in Report No. 11 of the Committee on Ministry. Up to the time when what was Paragraph 63 (Annual Conferences) in the Discipline of 1936 of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, was passed, and to the time of the Uniting Conference in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, such legislation would have been entirely constitutional in these respective bodies.

But we are no longer governed by those Constitutions, but by the Plan of Union, which has been declared to be our Constitution and under which, by constitutional methods adhering in the respective Churches, the union of the Churches was legally effected. In this Constitution, it is plainly declared that "the Annual Conference is the basic body of the Church, and as such shall have reserved to it the right to vote on all constitutional amendments, on the election of Ministerial and Lay delegates to the General and the Jurisdictional or Central Conferences, on all other matters relating to the character and Conference relations of its Ministerial members" (Paragraph 22, Discipline of 1939, a part of the Constitution), and it fixes it the more firmly in its rights in this respect by affirming that only ministers may vote on such relations, thus eliminating the possibility of a General Conference passing such legislation as is here contemplated since it is composed of laymen in equal number with ministers and no restrictions are laid upon them in their voting. In fact, this legislation was passed with laymen voting.

It has been contended that under Paragraph 8, Sections 2 and 3, the General Conference has a constitutional right to pass such an act. But this Article IV, Paragraph 8, gives to the General Conference "full legislative power over all matters distinctively connectional," and only by an accommodation of language utterly foreign to any rule of interpretation can it be said that the matter of deciding Annual Conference relations is connectional. It is purely local. Sections 2 and 3 plainly deal only with connectional, not local matters—i. e., to "define and fix the qualifications and duties of Elders, Deacons," etc., which are to be the same everywhere—i. e., to lay down rules regarding educational and moral and other qualifications for these orders and classes in the Church. Section 3 affirms that the General Conference is to "define and fix the powers and duties of Annual Conferences," etc., but in doing so it plainly cannot fly in the face of a clear affirmation that only the Annual Conference, as the "basic body of the Church," has the power to vote on the "Conference relations of its Ministerial members," and only its ministerial members vote on such a matter.

It may be argued that this matter in Paragraph 22 (which has just been quoted), was brought into the Constitution from the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church when the Lay Conference was established in order to confine ministerial Conference relations to a vote of ministers, and that a vote is all the Annual Conference has. But the right to vote inevitably carries with it, in any but a despotic government, the right to decide, and by whatever means or for whatever purpose, it was introduced into the Constitution, this right of the clerical members of an Annual Conference to determine the Conference relations of its ministerial members is in the Constitution and a vital part of the Plan of Union.

I am, therefore, of the opinion that the action of the General Conference on May 3, 1940, with relation to above stated report of the Committee on Ministry, was unconstitutional. May 5, 1940.

In Re: Status of Ministers of Former Methodist Protestant Church Left Permanently Without Appointment

DIGEST OF CASE

An "unstationed" minister under the provisions of the Methodist Protestant Church Discipline of 1936, is in the same relation to an Annual Conference as "located" Ministers under the provisions of Paragraphs 235-39, Discipline 1940.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

In the former Methodist Protestant Church from time to time certain ordained ministers were left without appointment permanently, some by their own request, and others by action of the Conference. There were certain such former members of the Maryland Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church prior to the merger and the formation of the present Baltimore Conference. At the 1940 session of Baltimore Annual Conference a question was propounded by G. E. Williams for a ruling by the presiding Bishop, Edwin H. Hughes. The same was entered upon the Conference Journal and appears therein on page 69.

REQUEST FOR RULING

The Bishop is requested to rule as to the status in The Methodist Church of ordained ministers of the former Methodist Protestant Church who were members of a Conference, and who either voluntarily or involuntarily were left permanently without appointments.

RULING OF THE BISHOP

The Bishop rules that such ministers, in harmony with the general law of the former Methodist Protestant Church, would hold to The Methodist Church the relation of located preachers.

Decision of the Judicial Council

The determination of this question involves the interpretation of certain Paragraphs of the Discipline of the former Methodist Protestant Church as well as corresponding Paragraphs of the Discipline of The Methodist Church.

The Methodist Protestant Church, Discipline of 1936, by Paragraphs 23 and 25 of Section 5 (pages 58 and 59) provided for "unstationed" ministers. A minister might be placed upon the "unstationed list" either voluntarily or involuntarily. After being so placed upon the unstationed list, he was no longer accountable to the Annual Conference, but was simply a member of the Quarterly Conference of the Charge where he located. See Methodist Protestant Discipline 1936, pages 27, 79 and 86.

A comparative examination of Paragraphs 235 to 239 inclusive of The Methodist Church Discipline, 1940, as to location of members of an Annual Conference discloses that the provisions of the Methodist Protestant Discipline above mentioned as to "unstationed" ministers, created the same relationship to the Annual Conference as the provisions of our Discipline concerning "located" ministers. In other words, allowing for certain minor differences not affecting the basic question, an unstationed minister of the former Methodist Protestant Church was and is to all intents and purposes a located minister of The Methodist Church.

Accordingly the ruling of the Bishop in the foregoing matter is hereby affirmed.

In Re: Compensation of Retired Minister Serving as Supply Pastor

DIGEST OF CASE

A general rule by action of an Annual Conference as to retired ministers receiving a pension and also receiving pay as supply pastor is in conflict with the provisions of Paragraph 1329, Discipline 1940, as to disallowance of claims in whole or in part, as it denies the claimant the right to make an oral or written statement to the Board of Conference Claimants, and denies him the protection of the two-thirds vote of the Conference prescribed in said Paragraph.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

The New England Conference in session at Westfield, May 17, 1940, adopted the reports of Conference Claimants of the New England Conference containing Section 8, which reads as follows:

That retired men who take supply charges in or out of the Conference, shall not receive in pension and salary more than the minimum salary of the Conference for ministers in the effective relation, and that the Board of Conference Claimants be authorized and instructed to administer pension funds accordingly.

REQUEST FOR RULING

At the same session of the Conference Rev. C. Oscar Ford requested in writing from the presiding Bishop, G. Bromley Oxnam, a ruling upon the legality of the above quoted report, and cited certain Paragraphs of the Discipline, particularly Paragraph 1329, Subsections (1), (2) and (3) as to the Disciplinary manner of disallowing annuities, and also part of Paragraph 1337 under the heading "Judicial Decisions," which reads as follows:

A retired minister's annuity claim is not invalidated by service as a Supply Pastor. A retired minister should have the privilege of serving as a Supply Pastor, especially when the annuity is insufficient to afford him "comfortable support."

The foregoing Request for Ruling, and the Ruling of the Bishop thereon are recorded in the minutes of the New England Conference, session 1940, page 25 et seq.

RULING OF THE BISHOP

Paragraph 1317 of the Discipline reads:

The Annual Conference shall be the sole judge of the admissibility and validity of annuity claims, and shall be fully competent to determine all payments, disallowances and deductions thereunder, subject to the specific regulations relating thereto contained in the Discipline.

There is no question relative to the right of the Annual Conference to determine disallowances of and deductions from annuity claims. The method of determining such disallowances or deductions is subject to the provisions contained in the Discipline.

Paragraph 1329, Section 1 of the Discipline reads:

Upon recommendation of the Board of Conference Claimants, after opportunity has been given for either a written or oral statement by the Claimant, any "Annuity Claim" may be disallowed, in whole or in part, for any cause cited by the Board of Conference Claimants, provided that in case of disallowance for such cause, approval shall be given of two thirds of the members of the Annual Conference present and voting.

Paragraph 1329 defines the method. The individual claimant is entitled to present a written or oral statement relative to his claim. Note the phrase "by the Claimant." Such disallowance, namely that of the individual, must be approved by a two thirds vote of the Conference.

The rule adopted by the New England Conference is intended to operate as an automatic denial of at least a part of the claim under certain circumstances, and is intended to deny the individual claimant the right to make a written or oral statement in opposition thereto, as well as to deny him the protection that lies in the two-thirds vote of the Conference approving said denial.

The rule is therefore declared illegal because it contravenes the method of disallowing or deducting from annuity claims established by the Discipline.

No reference was made in the above ruling to the citation of Judicial Decision, Paragraph 1337, by the Rev. C. Oscar Ford, for two reasons. First, these Decisions are at present before the Judicial Council for consideration and may or may not be operative. Secondly, the question of the right of a retired minister to serve as a Supply Pastor is not involved in the rule of the New England Conference under consideration.

The New England Conference, by adopting this rule, expressed its judgment relative to the wisdom of allowing retired men to accept supply appointments, and from the combined income from annuity claim and salary receive a greater income than that of the minimum salary established by the Conference. It would appear that the Conference would be within its rights to adopt certain grounds for the disallowance of or deduction from annuity claims to guide its Board of Conference Claimants in determining the admissibility and validity of annuity claims. The Board, under such instructions, would no doubt deny claims the Conference desires denied. The individual claimant would then be privileged to make his written or oral statement, and the denial would come before the Conference in the individual case for approval by the necessary two-thirds vote.

Decision of the Judicial Council

The ruling in the above case being regularly before the Judicial Council for review, the Council affirms the same, and adopts as its opinion in said case the foregoing statement and Ruling of the Bishop.

Attention should be called, however, to the reference in said statement to "Judicial Decisions," Paragraph 1337 of the Discipline, followed by this sentence, "These Decisions are at present before the Judicial Council for consideration and may or may not be operative." The portions of the Discipline which appeared as Paragraphs 1337 and 1341 of the 1939 Discipline are interpretations of law by what were the authentic judicial bodies prior to 1939. These provisions were re-enacted by the General Conference of 1940, but with the direction that the Judicial Council review and edit the same for publication. The Council did review and edit the same and so reported as to Paragraph 1337, so that Discipline of 1940 contains the provisions correctly as enacted and approved. Accordingly these provisions have the force of law until and unless declared unconstitutional by the Judicial Council on appeal, or until repealed or amended by later action of the General Conference.

In Re: Eligibility of Member of Annual Conference Board of Lay Activities to Membership on Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance

DIGEST OF CASE

Members of an Annual Conference Board of Lay Activities, being a Board that asks for appropriations from the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance, are ineligible for membership on the Commission, under the provisions of Paragraph 1224, and Paragraph 1228, Discipline 1944.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

In the Wyoming Annual Conference at its 1941 Session nominations were presented which disclosed that a District Lay Leader had also been nominated as a member of the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance. The Conference Lay Leader then presented a Request for a Ruling by the presiding Bishop, E. G. Richardson, which Request and the Ruling thereon were entered on the Journal and appear on page 12 of the Wyoming Annual Conference Year Book 1941, which Request and Ruling are as follows:

REQUEST FOR RULING

Question—Paragraph 832 of the 1940 Discipline provides for the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance. As the membership on said Commission, it provides as follows: "No member or employee of any Conference or Connectional Board shall be eligible." Does this provision render the District Lay Leaders and Associate Lay Leaders ineligible for membership on the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance?

RULING OF THE BISHOP

The Bishop replied as follows: "It does not. The ineligible provision applies only to Conference or Connectional Boards."

Decision of the Judicial Council

In accordance with Paragraph 40 of the Discipline this Episcopal decision is now before us. The determination of the issue requires the definition and application of what is meant in Paragraph 832 of the 1940 Discipline by the terms "Conference Boards," and membership thereon.

Paragraph 1224 of the 1940 Discipline under the heading "Annual Conference Boards" provides:

There shall be in every Annual Conference a Conference Board of Lay Activities, composed of the Conference Lay Leader who shall be Chairman of the Board, the District Lay Leader and the two Associate District Lay Leaders from each District, and the District Superintendents.

Paragraph 1228 provides further as to Annual Conference Board of Lay Activities as follows:

The Board shall estimate annually the amount necessary for the support of the work and report the amount to the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance for the consideration and recommendation to the Annual Conference.

It is evident that the purpose of the restriction as to membership on the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance was to eliminate members and officers of other Boards who would be asking appropriations from the Finance Commission.

Judged by this standard, it is clear from reading of the above Paragraphs that the Board of Lay Activities set up in the Annual Conference is a "Conference Board" under the meaning of Paragraph 832, and that District Lay Leaders and Associate Lay Leaders are members thereof and as such are ineligible for membership on the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance.

It necessarily follows that the presiding Bishop's decision was in error and must now be and hereby is reversed. April 28, 1942.

In Re: Board of Trustees, Missouri Annual Conference

DIGEST OF CASE

In view of the inhibition by the Missouri State Constitution of religious corporations except to hold title to real estate for Church edifices, parsonages, and cemeteries, the Trustees of an Annual Conference in Missouri may not be incorporated, but the Trustees duly elected as an unincorporated Board are the proper parties to recover possession of property of abandoned churches under the provisions of Paragraph 782, Discipline 1940.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

The Constitution of the State of Missouri by Section 8, Article 2, provides "that no religious corporation can be established in this State, except such as may be created under a general law for the purpose only of holding title to such real estate as may be prescribed by law for church edifices, parsonages and cemeteries."

Paragraph 791 of the 1940 Discipline of The Methodist Church provides that "there shall be an incorporated Board of Trustees of each Annual Conference," but Paragraph 803 provides as follows:

Whenever the law of the state, territory, or country in which is located any property of The Methodist Church, its agencies or subdivisions, or the provisions of an existing charter of a corporation organized and holding property for such purposes, require otherwise than in this Chapter prescribed, such law or charter shall apply and be substituted for such of the provisions of this chapter as are in conflict with such law or charter.

In view of the uncertainty, by reason of the foregoing statute and disciplinary provisions, as to the proper parties to take and hold title to the proceeds from the sale of abandoned Methodist Church property in Missouri, requests for rulings were presented to the presiding Bishop, John C. Broomfield, at the 1941 session of the Missouri Annual Conference. Additional facts are disclosed in the opinion in this case.

REQUESTS FOR RULINGS

Question No. 1—In view of the exceptions noted in Paragraph 803 of the Discipline of 1940, and in view of the inhibitions placed on religious corporations by the constitution and statutes of the State of Missouri, is the requirement of Paragraph 791 of the Discipline of 1940 providing that the Annual Conference Board of Trustees shall be incorporated to be construed as mandatory upon the Trustees of this Missouri Conference?

Question No. 2—Can the Trustees of this Missouri Annual Conference qualify to perform their duties without being incorporated?

BISHOP'S RULINGS

Answer to Question No. 1. Section 8 of Article 2 of the Missouri Constitution provides that no religious corporation can be established in this State except such as may be created for the purpose only of holding the title to such real estate as may be prescribed by law for church edifices, parsonages, and cemeteries.

The Annual Conference Board of Trustees incorporated as directed by Paragraph 791 of the 1940 Discipline would be a religious corporation.

In view of Paragraph 803 of the Discipline the requirement of Paragraph 791 thereof requiring incorporation is not mandatory. Both Paragraphs are a part of the same section, are to be construed together, and the law of Missouri is substituted for the provisions of the Discipline, where the law of Missouri requires otherwise than in the Discipline described.

Answer to Question No. 2. The Trustees of the Missouri Annual Conference, when duly elected according to the provisions of the Discipline, can perform their duties as a Board without being incorporated.

Decision of the Judicial Council

During the session of the Missouri Annual Conference held September 26 to 29, 1941, the foregoing questions were presented in writing to the presiding Bishop, and were answered by him as above set forth, both questions and answers being entered in the Journal of said Conference.

One of the provisions of the Constitution of The Methodist Church, embodied in the Plan of Union, and now appearing as Paragraph 40, Article 7 of the 1940 Discipline, provides that a Bishop presiding over a District, Annual or Jurisdictional Conference, shall decide all questions of law coming before him in the regular business of the session, provided that such questions be presented in writing, and that his decisions be recorded in the Journal of the Conference. It is also provided that each Bishop shall report in writing annually all his decisions of law, with a syllabus of the same, to the Judicial Council, which shall affirm, modify, or reverse them.

Bishop Broomfield has reported the foregoing decisions in writing, and such decisions are properly before us for our judgment thereon.

The record shows that a local church, formerly in the Missouri Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, burned. It was insured and the insurance money was paid to and is held by the former Trustees of that church. The church has not been rebuilt, nor is it contemplated that a church will be built in the near future, but the local Trustees expressed the intention to hold the money on the theory that it may be rebuilt in the future. The Missouri Annual Conference of The Methodist Church, after an examination of the facts, and with the consent of the presiding Bishop and the District Superintendent, as well as the District Board of Church Location and Building within whose jurisdiction the church was located, declared each church to be discontinued and abandoned, and directed the disposition of the funds in the hands of the local board of Trustees (Conference Record Missouri Conference 1941, page 42). The local church Trustees refused to comply. Paragraph 782 of the 1940 Discipline provides that it shall be the duty of the local Board of Trustees to make such disposition, or if, for any reason said Trustees fail to make such disposition, then it shall be the duty of the Trustees of the Annual Conference to sell or dispose of said property in accordance with the direction of the Annual Conference.

Paragraph 791 of the 1940 Discipline provides that "There shall be an incorporated Board of Trustees of the Annual Conference." The constitution of Missouri inhibits religious corporations, except to hold title to real estate for church edifices, parsonages and cemeteries. An Annual Conference Board of Trustees, if incorporated, would be a religious corporation.

Paragraph 803 of the 1940 Discipline was enacted to provide against such a situation by providing that the law of the State shall be substituted for the Disciplinary provisions. Therefore the Missouri law controls. Under the law in Missouri it is competent to create Conference Boards of Trustees without incorporation, in which event the said Trustees, and their successors in office as such Trustees, have all the authority that the proposed incorporated Board would have. The Board of Trustees so chosen then are the officers referred to in Paragraph 782 where it provides that if for any reason said (local) Trustees fail to make the disposition of property as directed by the Annual Conference, "It shall be the duty of the Trustees of the Annual Conference to sell or dispose of the property in accordance with the direction of the Annual Conference." Such Annual Conference Board of Trustees is entitled to recover possession of the property in order that it may apply the same as directed by the Annual Conference.

The rulings of Bishop Broomfield were correct, and such rulings are affirmed.

In Re: Authority of a Joint Distributing Committee Appointed Under the Provisions of Paragraph 1312 of the Discipline of 1939

DIGEST OF CASE

The decisions of a Joint Distributing Committee duly constituted under the provisions of Paragraph 1312, Discipline 1939, having acted in accordance with such provisions, are binding upon the several Conferences affected by merger.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

The Uniting Conference of 1939 defined Conference boundaries for the Kansas Conference by Paragraph 1495 and for the Central Kansas Conference by Paragraph 1492. The Central Kansas Conference, generally speaking, covered the same territory as the Northwest Kansas Conference and the Southwest Kansas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, less certain charges in Oklahoma, but also plus three Kansas counties taken from the territory of the former Methodist Episcopal Kansas Conference, to wit, the Counties of Washington, Clay and Dickinson.

The new Kansas Conference of The Methodist Church so defined included approximately the territory of the old Kansas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, less the three counties allocated to the Central Kansas Conference, there being also some other minor changes due to the allocation of former Methodist Protestant charges, and charges formerly of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

At the first session of the new Kansas Conference of The Methodist Church, the members being composed of those of the former Methodist Episcopal Church Kansas Conference, less the three counties; plus members of the former Methodist Protestant churches within this boundary, declared the Kansas Conference of The Methodist Church to be the ecclesiastical and lawful successor to the Kansas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The Board of Conference Claimants of the Kansas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church was incorporated under the laws of Kansas by charter dated March 18, 1917, and amended June 24, 1931, its purpose being the holding, managing and distributing funds for the Conference Claimants of said Conference. By action of the Trustees of the Board, ratified by the new Kansas Conference, this Charter was again amended by changing its name to "Conference Claimants' Funds, Inc.," said amendment being dated September 26, 1939. The character of the corporation as amended was stated to be to take and hold property in trust for the use and benefit of the Conference Claimants of the Kansas Conference of The Methodist Church.

In accordance with the provisions of Paragraph 1312, Discipline 1939, there was constituted a Joint Distributing Committee appointed by the Conferences affected by the foregoing change of boundaries: that is, three committeemen each from the Kansas, Northwest Kansas, and Southwest Kansas Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and three from the Kansas Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church. This Joint Distributing Committee, in its study of the comparative strength of the charges in the three allocated counties, agreed that it represented approximately one twelfth of the strength of the former Kansas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Upon that basis, the Committee proceeded to allocate Conference Claimants, whose annuity years amounted to about one twelfth of the total annuity years for which the said Kansas Conference was responsible, from the Kansas Conference to the Central Kansas Conference; and, further, called upon the Kansas Conference to allocate to the Central Kansas Conference one twelfth of its permanent endowment funds.

The action of the Joint Distributing Committee was printed in the Journals of the 1940 sessions of both the Kansas Conference and the Central Kansas Conference. At a later meeting, the Distributing Committee called upon the Trustees of Conference Claimants' Funds, Inc., the corporate body holding the permanent funds of the Kansas Conference, for their decision concerning the requested allocation of funds. The Trustees carefully considered the proposal, and appointed a Special Committee to investigate and to formulate a statement. The decision, which the Trustees believed to be demanded by Charter obligations, was "We do not feel that we as a Board are empowered to make any distribution of endowment funds."

On the above statement of facts, a request for a ruling by the presiding Bishop was requested in the 1941 sessions of both the Kansas Conference and the Central Kansas Conference, which Requests and Rulings are as follows:

REQUEST FOR RULING

The question is raised: Was the duly appointed Joint Distributing Committee which adjudicated the respective pension concerns of the Kansas Conference of the former Methodist Protestant Church, the Northwest Kansas Conference, the Southwest Kansas Conference, and the Kansas Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church in connection with the reorganization of the aforesaid Annual Conferences consequent upon unification, acting within its authority under the Discipline, and are its decisions binding upon the Central Kansas Conference and the Kansas Conference of The Methodist Church?

RULING OF THE BISHOP

Pursuant to its powers, the Uniting Conference of 1939 reorganized the entire work in the State of Kansas in such manner as to merge the former Northwest Kansas and Southwest Kansas Conferences of the former Methodist Episcopal Church under the name of the Central Kansas Conference of The Methodist Church and enlarged the area of the new Central Kansas Conference by taking from the area of the Kansas Conference of the former Methodist Church the counties of Washington, Clay and Dickinson. This action of the Uniting Conference altered the status of the new Kansas Conference of The Methodist Church, bringing, thereby, both of the two new Conferences, namely, the Central Kansas and the Kansas, under the provisions of Paragraph 1312 of the Discipline of 1939.

One of the most important and delicate problems facing the Uniting Conference was the equitable readjustment of Annual Conference boundaries. It was clearly seen that such readjustment included the much more difficult attendant problems of readjusting the placement of the Conference Claimants involved and the resources hitherto provided for their support. For this reason, the Uniting Conference enacted Paragraph 1312 of the Discipline of 1939 and gave final power to a Joint Committee to "allocate" Conference Claimants and such portion of the assets of a Conference involved as could be designated "distributable," that is, free from a declaration of trust, or other rigidly specified "uses," to which they are to be devoted.

It follows, therefore, that under the authority vested in it by Paragraph 1312 of the Discipline of 1939, the above-mentioned Joint Distributing Committee was within its Disciplinary rights and acting under the authority of the Uniting Conference when it assigned to the new Central Kansas Conference a portion of the Conference Claimants and of the assets of the Kansas Conference commensurate, in the judgment of the Joint Distributing Committee, with the transfer of the three counties of Washington, Clay and Dickinson to the new Central Kansas Conference, and the decisions of the aforesaid Committee are binding upon all Conferences concerned.

Decision of the Judicial Council

The only questions before us which are raised by the foregoing Ruling is whether the Joint Distributing Committee acted within its authority under the provisions of the Discipline of The Methodist Church, and whether its decisions are binding in the manner prescribed by the Discipline.

The subject matter of "Pensions and Permanent Funds" constitutes Part VIII of the Discipline of 1939, being the same also of the 1940 Discipline. Chapter II of Part VIII is entitled "Permanent Funds." Paragraph 1312 (1) and (2) which is a part of Chapter II reads as follows:

Paragraph 1312. 1. There shall be set up a Distributing Committee in each Annual Conference to be merged after Unification, to be composed of three members appointed by the Conference at its session immediately succeeding the Uniting Conference, which Committee shall act jointly with similar Committees of three members each from the other Annual Conference or Conferences having an interest in the merger of such Annual Conference; said Joint Committee to have power to allocate the Conference Claimants and the distributable assets of the Conference to be merged.

2. The Distributing Committee shall determine the number of service years rendered in the Annual Conferences which will lose their identity in the merging of Conference territory, and the findings of the Committee shall be final unless definite evidence to the contrary be discovered, and the annuity payments by the continuing Conference shall be made accordingly.

There is no question but that the Joint Distributing Committee was duly appointed in this case, and that the Conferences in question were all affected by the merger. It appears further that the Committee proceeded to act in accordance with the provisions of the Discipline, and made its findings as therein presented. These findings are "final unless definite evidence to the contrary shall be discovered," and as there is no allegation of new evidence, we must therefore hold the findings of the Committee in this case to be final.

It is to be noted that the question of what are "distributable assets," is not before the Council. This may involve the interpretation and adjudication as to the terms of specific trusts under which funds may be held, all of which questions if there be any dispute must be adjudicated by the proper tribunals.

For the foregoing reasons it is now held by the Judicial Council that the Joint Distributing Committee was duly constituted under the provisions of the Discipline of The Methodist Church; that it acted in accordance with said provisions; and that its decisions are binding. Accordingly the Ruling of the Bishop is hereby affirmed.

In Re: Recommendations for Apportionments for Conference Claimants by Annual Conference Board of Conference Claimants

DIGEST OF CASE

An Annual Conference Board of Conference Claimants is not required to submit its askings for appropriations to the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance under the provisions of Paragraphs 832, 834, and 835, Discipline 1940, but reports its recommendations directly to the Annual Conference in accordance with Paragraph 1323, Article 2.

To reconcile conflicting provisions in legislative enactment, the entire legislation must be considered, and the legislative intent is to be drawn from the act as a whole.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

Due to the language of Paragraphs 832, 834 and 835 of the 1940 Discipline quoted hereinafter, considerable doubt has been indicated in several Conferences as to what control, if any, is to be exercised by the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance, over the recommendations and asking for Regular and Emergency appropriations for Conference Claimants; or whether that matter is to be left entirely to the Annual Conference Board of Conference Claimants, to recommend directly to the Annual Conference. At the 1942 session of the Wyoming Annual Conference, a Ruling was requested by the Commission on World Service and Finance from the presiding Bishop, Adna W. Leonard, which request more fully states the case.

REQUEST FOR RULING

The Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance requests a ruling by the presiding Bishop upon the following question, which is herewith submitted in writing:

Section IV of the Discipline of 1940 relating to Annual Conference

Commission on World Service and Finance provides by three different paragraphs as follows:

Paragraph 832. "... The Chairman of each Conference Board or Commission, or some person appointed by it, shall have opportunity to represent the claims of his Board or Commission before the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance."

Paragraph 834. "The Commission shall make diligent effort to secure full information regarding all Conference interests, that none may be neglected, jeopardized, or excluded, and shall recommend to the Annual Conference for its action and determination the total amount to be apportioned for each."

Paragraph 835. "The Commission shall recommend to the Annual Conference for its action the percentage of the total sum for Annual Conference interests which shall be allotted to each such interest."

Paragraph 1323, being a part of the regulations for the Illinois Corporation for the support of the Conference Claimants provides inter alia as follows:

"2. The apportionment to the Pastoral Charges for both regular Relief and Emergency appropriations for Conference Claimants who are in distress, because of inadequacy of the annuity to meet their needs, or because of other special circumstances, shall be recommended by the Board of Conference Claimants and approved by the Annual Conference."

Question. Whether the Conference Board of Conference Claimants shall present their recommendations for apportionments to the Pastoral Charges for Relief and Emergency appropriations to the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance, to be approved by the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance and then submitted to the Annual Conference for adoption, or whether the Annual Conference Board of Conference Claimants presents its recommendations directly to the Annual Conference for approval or disapproval disregarding the Commission on World Service and Finance.

RULING OF THE BISHOP

The Bishop condensed the question on which the ruling was requested, and then ruled thereon as follows:

Is the Annual Conference Board of Conference Claimants required to present its recommendations for apportionments to the Pastoral Charges for Relief and Emergency appropriations to the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance, to be approved by the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance and then submitted to the Annual Conference for adoption?

Answer. It is not. Paragraph 1323 Discipline 1940. Article 2.

Decision of the Judicial Council

This ruling of Bishop Leonard is now regularly before the Judicial Council for review.

From the history of the discussions leading up to this decision, it is evident that the inquiry was the outgrowth in an effort to reconcile the apparent conflict in the provisions of Paragraph 834 and Section or Article 2 of Paragraph 1323 of the 1940 Discipline, which Paragraphs are quoted in the Request for Ruling as hereinbefore stated.

It is maintained on the one hand that the Discipline of 1939, re-enacted in 1940, in providing for the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance, including many features somewhat new in Methodist financial procedure in the Annual Conference, intended to create a Commission in the Annual Conference which should have exclusive supervision over "all Conference interests" for which apportionments are requested. The proponents of this theory seem to rely chiefly on the language of Paragraphs 834 and 835 of the 1940 Discipline, and contend that the broad and inclusive language of these Paragraphs would require the submission of requests and estimates for Conference apportionments not only from other Conference Boards and Commissions, but also from the Annual Conference Board of Conference Claimants.

It is a well-settled rule of legal construction that, in seeking to reconcile conflicting provisions in a legislative enactment, the entire legislation on the subject, or the entire act, must be considered, and that the legislative intent is to be drawn from the act as a whole and not merely from an isolated paragraph that may be in conflict with the underlying purpose and intent of the act.

When that rule is followed with respect to the question under consideration we find preponderating evidences of the intention of the General Conference to make the Board of Conference Claimants amenable to the Annual Conference alone, and not to be required to subject its askings for both regular Relief and Emergency appropriations to the approval or disapproval of any other agency of the Annual Conference.

In the first place, support for Conference Claimants is provided under the heading "Ministerial Support" (Paragraphs 804-805), and is therefore not a benevolence. Note the emphasis placed upon the same as an obligation in Paragraphs 551, 805 and 1316 of the Discipline:

"Assumption of the obligation of the itineracy required to be made at the time of admission into the Traveling Connection puts upon the Church the counter-obligation of providing support for the entire Ministry of the Church. In view of this, the Claim for Ministerial Support in each Pastoral Charge shall include provision for the support of Pastors, District Superintendents, Bishops and Conference Claimants."

In the next place, the Discipline, in Paragraph 806, fixes the basis for these apportionments for Ministerial Support, and in Subdivision 3 of Paragraph 1323 fixes a limitation upon apportionments for Conference Claimants, which limitation can be changed only by a majority vote of the members of the Annual Conference present and voting.

Furthermore, other agencies of the Annual Conference, such as the Board of Missions (Paragraph 1038), Board of Education (Paragraph 1176), and Board of Lay Activities (Paragraph 1228) are specifically required to submit their askings to the Annual Conference Commission on World Service and Finance, but no such provision exists specifically requiring the Board of Conference Claimants to submit its askings for regular Relief and Emergency appropriations to such Commission. This is particularly significant in view of the several provisions of Paragraph 1314, and of Paragraph 1323 above quoted.

Subdivision 1 of Paragraph 1314 provides that the Board of Conference Claimants "shall have charge of the interests and work of providing for the support of Conference Claimants of the Annual Conference, except as otherwise provided for by the Board of Pensions."

Subdivision 3 of said Paragraph 1314 provides for the Board of Conference Claimants to report to the Annual Conference "the names of those who have died during the year, the names of the dependent children of deceased members of the Conference, and any other useful information, and show separately the amount paid to each by the Conference from the Annuity and necessitous fund and by the Board of Pensions." It provides further that "the appropriations to Conference Claimants shall be subject to the approval of the Annual Conference." It does not provide, however, that such askings shall first be submitted to the Conference Commission on World Service and Finance, as other Paragraphs do with reference to the askings of other agencies of the Annual Conference. The same policy is reflected in Subdivision 2 of Paragraph 1323 in which it is specifically provided that the apportionments "for both regular relief and emergency appropriations for Conference Claimants who are in distress . . . shall be recommended by the Board of Conference Claimants and approved by the Annual Conference." These are subject only to the limitations placed thereon in Subdivision 3 of said Paragraph.

In the opinion of the Judicial Council, these provisions as a whole show a clear intent on the part of the General Conference to exempt the Board of Conference Claimants from having to submit its askings for both regular relief and emergency appropriations to the Conference Commission on World Service and Finance, and to provide that it submit its askings for same directly to the Annual Conference.

The decision of Bishop Leonard being correct, it is hereby affirmed.

In Re: Appeal of Board of Missions and Church Extension on Question of Responsibility of Pension of D. W. Nichols, et al.

DIGEST OF CASE

Under the provisions of Paragraph 1330, Discipline 1940, no liability rests on the Annual Conference of which the claimant was a member on retirement, for the years of service of such claimant which he served in a Mission Conference.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At the June, 1943, session of the Southern California-Arizona Annual Conference of The Methodist Church, a report was submitted by the Board of Conference Claimants and adopted by the Annual Conference, reading as follows:

Board of Conference Claimants of the

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA-ARIZONA CONFERENCE
THE METHODIST CHURCH

125 East Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif.

Be It Resolved, That the Board of Pensions of The Methodist Church be requested to exclude from its Clearinghouse procedure, beginning June 1, 1943, and charge to the Division of Foreign Missions of The Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church the following years spent in Foreign Missionary services:

D. W. Nichols from 1888 to 1904 inclusive, a total of 16 years.

Charles A. Kent from 1912 to 1915 inclusive, a total of 4 years.

Stacy A. Smith from 1890 to 1892 inclusive, a total of 3 years.

Thereafter, action was taken by the Division of Foreign Missions of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church, as follows:

REQUEST FOR RULING

Appeal to Judicial Council by Board of Missions and Church Extension

It was reported that the Southern California-Arizona Conference had recently refused to continue to pay pensions for certain years of service given by Rev. D. W. Nichols under the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and the Division of Foreign Missions is now asked to assume responsibility for those years.

It was VOTED that the Division of Foreign Missions refuse to accept responsibility for the pension of Rev. D. W. Nichols for the years he served the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church from December 26, 1887, to September 1, 1904, hitherto paid for by the Southern California-Arizona Conference, and that the Executive Secretary prepare an appeal to the Judicial Council on whether or not Paragraph 959 in the Discipline of 1936 is retroactive for those who had already retired and had been receiving pensions.

The Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church in session at Buck Hill Falls Inn, having adopted such appeal and made it an appeal of a General Conference Board, the matter is now properly before the Judicial Council for determination.

Decision of the Judicial Council

In the opinion of the Judicial Council, the law now in force relating to divided annuities is set forth in Paragraph 1330 of the 1940 Discipline, the first clause of which reads as follows:

1. The responsibility for annuity for the approved years of service of a Conference Claimant shall rest with the Annual Conference in which the service was performed, or its legal successor; etc.

It is further the opinion of the Council that such law is retroactive, and does apply to those who had already retired and had been drawing pensions when same was enacted.

Since the service rendered by D. W. Nichols from 1888 to 1904 was in a Mission Conference and not in the Southern California-Arizona Conference or its predecessor Conference in the United States, no liability rests upon the Southern California-Arizona Conference for annuity payments to D. W. Nichols on such years of service in such Mission Conference.

Walter C. Buckner, a member of the Judicial Council, being also a member of the Southern California-Arizona Conference, did not participate in the decision herein set forth. December 8, 1943.

In Re: Constitutionality of Paragraph 231, Discipline 1940

DIGEST OF CASE

Action of an Annual Conference in retiring ministers on age limit, under the provisions of Paragraph 231, Discipline 1940, is legal, as said Paragraph has been heretofore held to be constitutional.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At the session of the Missouri Annual Conference held September, 1943, three members of the Conference, to-wit: W. C. Franasco, H. T. McGrew and E. J. Speer were retired by action of the Conference alleged to be under the provisions of Paragraph 231 of the Discipline of 1940, by reason of having attained the age of 72 years. Thereupon a request for a ruling was presented to the presiding Bishop, John C. Broomfield, which is as follows:

REQUEST FOR RULING

QUESTION OF LAW

The following question of law was presented by Paul Barton for a ruling by the Bishop: The Constitution of The Methodist Church Discipline 1940, Paragraph 22, reserves to the Annual Conference the right to determine all rights relative to the character and Conference relations of its ministerial members. Is the requirement of Paragraph 231 of the Discipline of 1940 that ministers having reached the age of 72 shall automatically be retired constitutional, and is it binding upon the Annual Conference? This request for ruling appears on page 27 of the Conference Journal of the said Missouri Annual Conference.

RULING OF THE BISHOP

The presiding Bishop, John C. Broomfield, ruled as follows:
Paragraph 231 is not in conflict with the Constitution.

Decision of the Judicial Council

The foregoing ruling of Bishop Broomfield having been considered by the Judicial Council, it is held that the Judicial Council alone has the power to pass on the constitutionality of an act of the General Conference. See Paragraph 431, Article II of the Constitution.

The Judicial Council has already determined that Paragraph 231 of the Discipline of 1940 is constitutional. (See Judicial Council Decision 7.) Therefore the Judicial Council holds that, Bishop Broomfield in this case having properly applied the law in the light of such decision, his said ruling is hereby affirmed.

Concurring Decision

Dr. J. S. French asked leave to file a separate opinion in the above stated matter, which is as follows:

I agree with the above opinion under the ruling of the majority opinion of the Judicial Council, as recorded in Decision 7; but I am still of the opinion that Paragraph 231 of the Discipline of 1940 is not constitutional for the reasons set forth in the dissenting opinion appended to Decision 7. December 8, 1943.

In Re: Status of T. H. Osborne, North Texas Annual Conference

DIGEST OF CASE

An Annual Conference Committee on Conference Relations and Ministerial Qualifications may, under the provisions of Paragraphs 463 and 466, recommend for admission a Minister claiming to come from another Evangelical Church (Paragraph 311), even though such minister had previously been a member of the same Conference from which he had withdrawn; but final action thereon rests with the Annual Conference which may accept or reject the recommendations for admission submitted by the Committee.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

T. H. Osborne, a member of the North Texas Annual Conference for more than twenty years, in 1940 withdrew from the ministry and the membership of The Methodist Church, surrendered his credentials, joined the Baptist Church, and was ordained a Baptist minister. Subsequently he sought readmission in the North Texas Conference, under Paragraph 311 of the Discipline, coming as a minister from the Baptist Church. The Conference Committee on ministerial qualifications recommended his acceptance, but the Conference voted against the Committee's Report. Thereupon there was presented to the presiding Bishop, Ivan Lee Holt, at the session of the Conference on October 29, 1941, a request for a ruling, which appears on page 33 of the North Texas Annual Conference Journal.

REQUEST FOR RULING

H. D. Knickerbocker presented the following written question, involving an interpretation which Bishop Holt made concerning the application of T. H. Osborne: "Can a Methodist preacher who surrenders his credentials while under complaints, join the Baptist Church and come back presenting his Baptist credentials and be recognized as a Baptist preacher, ignoring his record as a Methodist preacher, and without clearing up the aforesaid complaints, made while he was a Methodist preacher?"

RULING OF THE BISHOP

The Rev. T. H. Osborne served as a member of the North Texas Conference for more than twenty years. In the autumn of 1940 he withdrew from the ministry and membership of The Methodist Church, surrendered his credentials, joined the Baptist Church, and was ordained a Baptist minister. For some months there was illness in the family, and Brother Osborne's own illness made it necessary for him to ask and be granted relief from his charge six weeks before the Conference session. The doctor's certificate stated that he was in great pain, and that he was not in physical or mental condition to carry on the work of the pastorate.

At the Annual Conference Brother Osborne's District Superintendent made the announcement, presented his credentials to the Conference, and had for filing with the credentials a statement containing a report of rumor about financial difficulties and unpaid bills of Brother Osborne. No formal or signed complaint other than this was made.

In the fall of 1941 Brother Osborne sought reception into the North Texas Conference as a minister from the Baptist Church. The Committee on Ministerial Qualifications took the case under consideration, made due investigation, and recommended that Brother Osborne be admitted as coming from the ministry of the Baptist Church. The motion to accept and approve the Committee's recommendation was considered by the Conference for two hours. The Conference voted against the Committee's report and Brother Osborne was not admitted.

During the consideration of the case by the Conference I was asked by Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker, a member of the Conference, to answer the following question submitted in writing: "Can a Methodist preacher who surrenders his credentials while under complaints join the Baptist Church, and come back presenting his Baptist Credentials and be recognized as a Baptist preacher, and without clearing up the aforesaid complaints made while he was a Methodist preacher?" My answer was: "The case of T. H. Osborne is legally before this Conference on recommendation of the Committee on Ministerial Qualifications." I have talked with several Bishops about my position and all agree that I was right, but I am required by law to submit the question and answer to the Judicial Council. In support of my position I call attention to Paragraph 311, Article 3: "Ministers from other churches may apply directly to the Annual Conference, which may recognize their credentials and receive them into full membership in the Conference, provided that in all such cases the candidates for admission into full membership must answer satisfactorily the questions set forth in Paragraph 218." At the time of his application for admission Brother Osborne was a fully ordained minister in good standing in the Baptist Church. Paragraph 466, Article 2, Section 3, gives the Committee on Ministerial Qualifications authority to report those to be received from other Churches.

The law gives full protection to the Conference and the ministerial connection by investing it with power through its Committee on Ministerial Qualifications to get all the facts of the applicant, with the power to reject as well as accept the Committee's Report, and with the further power to try him later. The "clearing up of aforesaid complaints" or any new complaints cannot be considered so long as the applicant is a member and a minister of another Church. Brother Osborne as a Baptist preacher could not be tried by a Methodist Conference. If he had been admitted by a vote of the Conference then complaints could have been made, an investigation conducted, and a trial held if necessary.

If one wished to advance a moral as well as a legal argument he might plead the comity and fellowship among Christian denominations in recognition of the ministers of one, by another, and also our Methodist insistence on a man's right of confession and repentance in the hope of forgiveness. But the Judicial Council is concerned only with the legal arguments, and in my thinking the law is absolutely clear in sustaining me.

Decision of the Judicial Council

The Judicial Council having considered the foregoing ruling of Bishop Holt, and the Paragraph of the Discipline applicable to the facts so presented, the Council adopts the written statement of the Bishop as its formal opinion; and the ruling of the Bishop is hereby affirmed. December 8, 1943.

In Re: Costs of Jurisdictional Committee of Appeals

DIGEST OF CASE

The expenses which may be paid from the General Administration Fund are strictly limited by the provisions of Paragraph 848, Discipline 1940, and therefore the General Commission on World Service and Finance is not thereby authorized to pay expenses incurred by a Jurisdictional Committee of Appeals acting under the provisions of Paragraph 694.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

A member of the Central Pennsylvania Conference was tried by said Conference according to charges and specifications duly submitted. The trial court having found him guilty imposed a penalty, from which decree the defendant appealed to the Committee on Appeals of the Northeastern Jurisdiction, as provided for by Paragraph 694-697 of the Discipline of 1940.

In connection with the hearing of the appeal by said Committee, certain expenses were incurred. No provision having been made for the payment of the same by the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference, the Secretary of the latter Conference forwarded a bill for the complete amount of the expenses to the General Commission on World Service and Finance.

The General Commission on World Service and Finance, on the ground that Paragraph 848 of the Discipline provides only that the General Administration Fund shall pay the expenses of the Judicial Council, the sessions of the General Conference, such General Conference Commissions and Committees as may be appointed, and authorized inter-church activities, but made no provision for the payment of any expenses incurred by any Jurisdictional Conference, held that such payment could not be made from the General Administration Fund.

From this action of the General Commission on World Service and Finance the College of Bishops of the Northeastern Jurisdiction have appealed.

Decision of the Judicial Council

After carefully considering the briefs presented by, and hearing oral arguments of representatives both of the Northeastern Jurisdiction and the General Commission on World Service and Finance, the Judicial Council finds as follows:

1. There is no specific law of the Church governing this case.

2. The General Conference has made no provision for the payment of the costs of appeal of this character in the budget of the General Commission on World Service and Finance.

Therefore, there is no authority for the General Commission on World Service and Finance to pay such expense. The appeal is accordingly not sustained.

In Re: C. M. Tyndal

DIGEST OF CASE

The procedure for restoration of credentials of a traveling Deacon or Elder which have been surrendered, under Paragraph 707, Discipline 1940, requires that the steps therein outlined shall be strictly followed.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

Sometime prior to March 21, 1943, C. M. Tyndal, then a member of the North Alabama Conference, surrendered his credentials to the District Superintendent, who then forwarded the same to the presiding Bishop, J. L. Decell. Subsequently, on March 2, 1943, at the Quarterly Conference of the Hamilton Charge of the Jasper District of the North Alabama Conference, a Resolution was adopted recommending that the Annual Conference restore to C. M. Tyndal his surrendered credentials. The next session of the Annual Conference occurred in October, 1943, at which session on October 28, 1943, the following action was taken, as shown by the Journal of the Conference, page 40:

B. F. Tingle, Superintendent of the Jasper District, announced that C. M. Tyndal had surrendered his credentials under complaint, and that his credentials had been placed in the hands of the Secretary. The Conference voted to receive these surrendered credentials.

There was then presented for the consideration of the Annual Conference the Resolution of the Hamilton Church Quarterly Conference recommending restoration of these surrendered credentials, and the presiding Bishop was requested to rule thereon.

RULING OF THE BISHOP

The main question here is: May an Annual Conference restore credentials to a person who has never been relicensed to preach? An Annual Conference in the restoration of credentials can only restore whatever rights and privileges inhered in the credentials which were bestowed by its vote. Membership in the Church and license to preach are not within the powers of an Annual Conference; therefore, it cannot restore what it never possessed.

In view of supporting law and decisions, we hold that Paragraph 707 in the 1940 Discipline assumes that a person receiving restoration of credentials has taken the necessary steps to qualify for reception of credentials. One who is not even a Local Preacher and holds only the relation of layman in the Church may not have his credentials restored. Therefore, "A preacher deposed and deprived of his credentials must be recommended, examined, and licensed in regular form in order to bring his case under the provision of the law for the restoration of credentials."

The petition or recommendation is estopped and the Annual Conference may not restore the credentials until the one for whom restoration is requested has begun his ministry DE NOVO.

Decision of the Judicial Council

The procedure for restoration of surrendered credentials, when surrendered under complaints, is provided by Paragraph 707 of the Discipline of 1940 as follows:

707. Should he later give satisfactory evidence to the Conference of his amendment or innocence, and procure a certificate of the Quarterly Conference of the Charge in which he resides, or of the Annual Conference that admitted him on trial, recommending their restoration by the Annual Conference to which he surrendered his credentials, the Conference may restore them.

This procedure must be strictly followed. In the instant case, from the record, it appears that the acceptance of surrender of the credentials was voted by the North Alabama Conference at its session on October 28, 1943. Therefore, the requisite steps specified by Paragraph 707 could only properly take place after October 28, 1943, including (a) later giving satisfactory evidence to the Conference of amendment or innocence, and (b) the procurement of a certificate of the Quarterly Conference of the Charge in which the applicant resides, or of the Annual Conference that admitted him on trial, recommending restoration of credentials.

It follows, therefore, that the ruling of the Presiding Bishop, which in effect was that no action could then be taken by the Annual Conference on the restoration of credentials, was proper, and to that extent the ruling is affirmed.

In Re: Distributions from Endowment Fund for Superannuates, Held by the Missouri Corporation

DIGEST OF CASE

Under the provisions of Paragraph 1309, Discipline 1940, Ministers who at time of retirement may have been members of an Annual Conference within the territory assigned to the Illinois Corporation, are nevertheless entitled to annuities from the Endowment Fund for superannuates held by the Missouri Corporation, on account of the years of service formerly rendered in an Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, or in an Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in territory assigned to the Missouri Corporation.

However, no claimant has any vested right or equity in such General Endowment Fund nor the income derived therefrom.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At the 1943 Session of the California Annual Conference of The Methodist Church, the following question was propounded in writing to Bishop James C. Baker:

REQUEST FOR RULING

Are the following Conference Claimants of the California Annual Conference of The Methodist Church, who have retired since May 10, 1939, entitled, under Paragraph 1309 of the 1940 Discipline, to receive income from the Endowment Fund for the Superannuates held by the Missouri Corporation of the Board of Pensions, on the years of service which they rendered as members of an Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, prior to May 10, 1939?

			Years of service prior to May 10, 1939
G. C. Black	Retired 1942	43½
A. S. Cecil	Retired 1940	32½
S. M. Cheek	Retired 1940	33½
Jesse Crumpton	Retired 1940	34½
W. R. Haselden	Retired 1940	31½
John I. Huff	Retired 1940	16½
N. F. Johnson	Retired 1940	37
William J. Lee	Retired 1940	38
C. W. Long	Retired 1940	29½
B. H. Mobley	Retired 1942	42½
U. G. Murphy	Retired 1942	*4
A. B. Pendleton	Retired 1942	33½
Total			376½

To this question Bishop Baker answered in writing as follows:

RULING OF THE BISHOP

They are entitled to receive the income from the Endowment

* Balance relinquished.

Fund for Superannuates held by the Missouri Corporation of the Board of Pensions on exactly the same basis as any other member of an Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for any and all services rendered prior to May 10, 1939.

The income from the Superannuate Endowment Fund of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was distributed prior to May 10, 1939, to all superannuated preachers on the basis of years of service. Every member of an Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, upon retirement had an equity in the income from this Fund, the amount of which was determined by the number of years of service he had rendered to his Church. The act of Unification on May 10, 1939, did not take away the right of any member of an Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, upon retirement to his share of the income from this fund, based upon the years of service rendered to his Church.

The Uniting Conference decided that the Pension administration of The Methodist Church should be divided between the Illinois Corporation and the Missouri Corporation of the Board of Pensions and assigned the Northeastern, the North Central, the Western, and the Central Jurisdictional Conferences to the Illinois Corporation; and assigned the Southeastern and the South Central Jurisdictional Conferences to the Missouri Corporation.

The Uniting Conference, by adopting Paragraph 1309, terminated the further accrual of service which could be counted as a basis of participation in the income from this Fund by any member of an Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, whose membership in The Methodist Church was assigned to an Annual Conference in the territory of the Illinois Corporation.

Since the General Conference has not "ordered otherwise" than is provided in Paragraph 1309 of the 1939 Discipline a Claimant of the California Annual Conference who has retired since May 10, 1939, and who rendered service as a member of an Annual Conference in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, prior to May 10, 1939, is entitled to share in the income from the Endowment held by the Missouri Corporation for such years of service.

Decision of the Judicial Council

This decision is now properly before the Judicial Council for review. After careful consideration of the question and answer, and of the briefs and arguments submitted in support of Bishop Baker's ruling and in opposition thereto, we approve such ruling in all respects except as hereinafter set out.

We find ourselves unable to agree with Bishop Baker in his statement that "every member of an Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, upon retirement had an equity in the income from this fund." Paragraph 1316 of the 1940 Discipline distinctly says:

Assumption of the obligation of the Ministry required to be made at the time of his admission to membership in an Annual Conference puts upon the Church the inevitable counter-obligation of providing a comfortable support for the Minister during the period of his membership in an Annual Conference and for his widow and dependent children after his death; but such counter-obligation with reference to an annuity (emphasis ours) shall not be construed as contractual unless and until provision shall have been made therefor on an actuarial reserve basis."

No one has any vested right or equity in such General Fund or the income derived therefrom. This was judicially determined recently by the United States District Court, Eastern District of Missouri, in the case of Rembert Gilman Smith, et al. v. The Board of Pensions of The Methodist Church, Missouri Corporation, 54 Fed. Supp. 224. The Court said:

By brief filed, plaintiff asserts that he and other pensioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, who were receiving an income from the trust at the time of union have, not only a "fixed, vested, property interest" in the fund, as "fixed" by the original articles of agreement of defendant (the Missouri Corporation), but that such "vested rights could not be affected or diverted in whole or part" without the consent of plaintiff and other pensioners. We search the pages of the original Articles of Association of the defendant in vain for language from which it could be concluded that "a fixed, vested, property interest" was created in any pensioner. It is evident that the creators of this trust retained control of this trust at all times. They determined who should be admitted to the pension rolls and could have removed pensioners from the rolls.

In this conclusion, so clearly stated by the Court in this case, we fully concur.

However, this does not affect Bishop Baker's decision as a whole. His interpretation of Paragraph 1309 to the effect that the Uniting Conference in enacting Paragraph 1309 intended thereby to make former members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, who have retired since Union (May 10, 1939) in Annual Conferences outside the territorial limits of the Missouri Corporation, eligible for Annuities out of the income of the General Fund being administered by the Missouri Corporation for all their years of service rendered in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, prior to May 10, 1939, is correct. It is sustained by two well-settled principles of judicial interpretation, viz.:

First—The language of the Act itself.

Second—The interpretation given to the Act by the proponents thereof before the enacting body at the time the Act was passed.

It has been argued before the Council that Paragraph 1309 conflicts with other provisions of the regulations governing the Missouri Corporation. Be that as it may, the pertinent clause in Paragraph 1309 is not uncertain. It plainly reads as follows:

Until the General Conference shall order otherwise, the income from the Endowment Fund for Superannuates held by the Missouri Corporation, shall be distributable as annuities on account of service of Conference Claimants formerly rendered in an Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South . . .

Up to this point in Paragraph 1309 there are no territorial limitations. It is only in the succeeding clause that a territorial limitation is imposed. For a traveling preacher to be eligible for a pension from this fund for service rendered in an Annual Conference of The Methodist Church, such Annual Conference must be located within the territory of the Missouri Corporation. Thus Bishop Baker's interpretation is sustained by the language of the Paragraph itself.

Furthermore, in interpreting the meaning of an act of a legislative body, it is a well-settled principle of civil law that the proceedings attendant upon the enactment of the act may be considered in determining the true legislative intent sought to be expressed by the act. When that rule is applied in this case, the correct interpretation of Paragraph 1309 becomes obvious. When the Report of the Committee on Superannuate Support embodying Paragraph 1309 was before the Uniting Conference on Friday, May 5, 1939, as reflected on page 247 of the Daily Christian Advocate of Saturday, May 6, 1939, Dr. B. W. Meeks requested that Dr. Thomas S. Brock, Chairman of the Committee, make explanation of same. After some discussion between Dr. Meeks and Dr. Brock, the following dialogue took place between them:

B. W. MEEKS: "... The point I would like to have cleared up is this: Will the members of the Baltimore Annual Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, under the Missouri Corporation, up until the adjournment of this Uniting Conference, receive their annuity rights under the law of the Missouri Corporation as operated up to the present time? In other words, will the rights established by reason of participation in the raising of the six million dollar fund of the Missouri Corporation—of which probably one fourth belongs to the Annual Conferences, be maintained after the adoption of this legislation, or will they be discontinued and the Conference into which they come assume full liability for all the years?"

THOMAS S. BROCK: "The Missouri Corporation, at the present time, is paying $2.13 per service year to all the annuitants for which that Board is responsible. That money was raised for the benefit of these members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The responsibility of the Annual Conference under the jurisdiction of the Missouri Board will be for the moneys that came from the churches and from the Chartered Fund and the dividends or produce of the Book Concern and such other moneys that may come into these particular Annual Conferences. Then, all those members who were originally members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South (emphasis ours), for which this six million dollar fund was raised, will, in addition, receive the $2.13 for service years as long as they continue to be annuitants of The Methodist Church."

B. W. MEEKS: "Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman. That is the thing I wanted to get into the record."

With that interpretation before the Uniting Conference, and within a very few minutes after it was given, the Uniting Conference adopted the Report including Paragraph 1309.

The Uniting Conference having enacted this Paragraph with that understanding no other interpretation could or should be given thereto.

Therefore, with the exception noted above, with reference to "vested rights and equities," the ruling of Bishop Baker is approved.

In Re: Pension Claim, Mrs. A. S. Gregg

DIGEST OF CASE

The widow of a former member of a Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who voluntarily located under the then provisions of the Discipline of that Church, may not invoke the provision of that Discipline applying to involuntary locations, and therefore has no claim for a pension which the deceased located minister himself did not have.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

The Rev. Albert Sidney Gregg, a member in good standing in the North-East Ohio Conference, was permitted to locate at his own request at the session of the Conference in September, 1927. This was a voluntary location. The Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church, 1932, repeated as Paragraph 505 of the Discipline of 1936, provided the manner whereby a minister involuntarily located might retain his right to an annuity on reaching the age of 65, as follows:

"Paragraph 505—Involuntary Location. Section 3. If such located person remains a member in good standing of the Methodist Episcopal Church until the age of sixty-five years, he shall thereby retain the right to make an annuity claim, based upon the years of his effective ministry, and subject to the action of the Annual Conference."

A. S. Gregg died before reaching the age of sixty-five. Later his widow made application for a pension on the ground that the provision of the 1936 Discipline applied to voluntary as well as involuntary location, and that whatever rights he had passed on to her at his death.

REQUEST FOR RULING

"On page 629 of the Journal of the North-East Ohio Conference for 1943, the following motion appears:

"On motion of C. W. Cooper, the Conference voted to reaffirm the following action taken two years ago:

"The Conference voted to remove the name of Albert Sidney Gregg from the list of those located, place his name in the list of those granted the retired relation, and among the deceased members of the Conference, in order that Mrs. Gregg may receive the pension which is due her for the years served by Brother Gregg previous to his location (see record, page 243, 1941 Journal); and to request the presiding Bishop to make a statement on the law in the case for inclusion in the Journal for presentation to the Judicial Council."

RULING OF THE BISHOP

The Bishop restated the question involved, and thereupon ruled on the same, which question and answer are as follows:

"Question: Since the Rev. Albert S. Gregg, of the North-East Ohio Conference, who was in good standing in the Conference and located at his own request, September 11, 1927, died before he reached the age of 65, when he would have been entitled to ask for his pension for his effective years of service, does his widow have the right to ask for her pension as a preacher's widow when her husband would have been 65 had he lived?"

"Answer: The widow of Albert S. Gregg has just claim for an annuity, and the Conference has the power to grant the same."

Decision of the Judicial Council

In ruling as above the presiding Bishop in this case relied upon and followed a ruling by the Board of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church which was made in May, 1938, in another case in the North Dakota Conference wherein the facts were seemingly similar to those in the instant case. Under the procedure of the former Methodist Episcopal Church such a ruling of the Board of Bishops would have been submitted to the next succeeding General Conference of that Church for affirmation or reversal on the Report of its Committee on the Judiciary. This ruling in the North Dakota case, however, was never so submitted as there was thereafter no General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and it therefore has no binding authority as a precedent even if the facts were similar.

It must be noted in the instant case, that even if the located minister had reached the age of 65, on the record as it stood without further action, he would not have been eligible for annuity claim, as the Paragraph of the 1936 Discipline which has been invoked in behalf of his widow applied only to involuntary location.

It follows, therefore, that the widow could have no right which the deceased located minister did not have at the time of his death, and as he had no claim, she has none.

The ruling of the Bishop is accordingly reversed.

In Re: Election of Missionary Bishops by General Conference

DIGEST OF CASE

As the only provision in the Constitution relating to election of Bishops is that they shall be elected by the respective Jurisdictional and Central Conferences, it would be unconstitutional for the General Conference to elect Missionary Bishops.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

On Monday, May 1, 1944, the General Conference passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That in order to provide adequate supervision for Central Conferences and Provisional Central Conferences, as need may arise, the General Conference shall elect one or more Missionary Bishops for administration in such areas."

An appeal was taken by more than the necessary number to the Judicial Council, on the question of constitutionality.

Decision of the Judicial Council

The Constitution, Paragraph 35, Article II, reads as follows:

"The Bishops shall be elected by the respective Jurisdictional and Central Conferences, and ordained or consecrated in the historic manner of Episcopal Methodism, at such time and place as may be fixed by the General Conference."

There is no provision for the election of a Bishop by the General Conference.

Since the General Conference cannot go beyond the clear powers granted in the Constitution, we must declare that it would be unconstitutional for the General Conference to elect Missionary Bishops.

The Judicial Council is unanimous in this opinion.

In Re: Membership of Bishops in Annual Conferences

DIGEST OF CASE

A Bishop, effective or retired, is not a member of an Annual Conference, and should not be counted in reporting total membership of the Conference for voting or other purposes.

REQUEST FOR RULING

At the 1943 session of the Central New York Conference there was presented for ruling by the presiding Bishop the following question:

"Is a Bishop a member of the Annual Conference? Should he be counted in the statistics of the Conference, and exercise the rights of Annual Conference membership?"

Note: In this case the names of Frederick G. Keeney (retired) and Charles W. Flint appeared on the Roll of the Conference.

RULING OF THE BISHOP

"A Bishop effective or retired, is not a member of an Annual Conference. He should not be counted in reporting the total membership of the Conference for statistical purposes or in computing the number of delegates."

"No provision should be made by the Annual Conference for him as a Conference Claimant; other provision has been made by the General Conference; nor is he subject to Annual Conference assessments."

"He is not eligible to election as a delegate representing the Annual Conference in the General or Jurisdictional Conferences; nor is he entitled to vote in an Annual Conference for delegates to General and Jurisdictional Conferences.

"When elected a Bishop, if at the time a delegate, his membership in the electing Conference as an Annual Conference delegate terminates and his place is immediately filled by an elected alternate delegate.

"If he resigns from the Episcopacy he is returned, by definitely prescribed procedure, to membership in the Annual Conference of which he ceased to be member when elected Bishop."

Decision of the Judicial Council

The Judicial Council hereby affirms the ruling of Bishop Flint, and adopts as its opinion the ruling of the Bishop as aforesaid.

In Re: General Pension Regulations

DIGEST OF CASE

The provisions of the Discipline as to Declaratory Decisions by the Judicial Council do not confer upon the Council any legislative power, and whenever there is doubt as to the meaning of any General Conference legislation, it is the duty of the General Conference itself to clarify its own enactment.

REQUEST FOR DECLARATORY DECISION

At the session of the General Conference on May 4, 1944, the following was adopted:

"Whereas, This General Conference has adopted the Pension Code, Paragraph 1318, Section 2, Subdivision (d) of which provides that years served as a member of an Annual Conference left without appointment to attend school for a period not to exceed three Conference years may be counted for annuity claim,

"Whereas, The Western North Carolina Conference, in common with other Annual Conferences in the Territory of the Missouri Corporation, has in its membership many Conference Claimants to whom such a provision has not been hitherto applicable.

"Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the General Conference ask the Judicial Council to render a Declaratory Decision as to whether or not the aforementioned enactment is retroactive within the Territory of the Missouri Corporation, in order that the claims of these Conference Claimants may be accurately determined."

Decision of the Judicial Council

The Judicial Council is ready at all times to render such service to the General Conference as it may within the limits of the jurisdiction conferred upon it, but we do not believe that the enactment of the legislation in regard to Declaratory Decisions was intended to put into our hands any legislative authority but that, contra, the General Conference itself, outside of matters involving constitutional questions, is the sole judge and interpreter of the meaning of any legislation passed, so long as the Conference enacting such laws is in session.

While the General Conference is in session it would appear that if there is any lack of clarity in legislation it should be clarified by the General Conference and not be left to Judicial determination.

We therefore respectfully return this request with the suggestion that the General Conference itself clarify the enactment at issue.

In Re: Constitutionality of Paragraph 924 as to Lay Missionaries

DIGEST OF CASE

That part of Paragraph 924, Discipline 1940, which provides that outside the United States of America lay missionaries may be seated in an Annual Conference "with the right to vote on all questions not ministerial or constitutional, etc.," is unconstitutional, as Paragraph 21 of the Constitution strictly defines the composition and qualifications of the members of an Annual Conference.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At the evening session of May 1, 1944, the General Conference passed a motion made by L. O. Hartman that an appeal to the Judicial Council to be made to determine whether Paragraph 934 of the Discipline 1940 is constitutional.

Paragraph 934 reads as follows, "In fields outside the United States the Annual Conference may seat regularly appointed lay missionaries of the Board of Missions and Church Extension in the Annual Conference session and give them the privileges of the floor and the right to vote on all questions not ministerial or constitutional and they shall be eligible for election to Mission or Conference Committees."

Paragraph 21, Article I, of the Constitution defines the composition and qualifications of the members of the Annual Conference. "The Annual Conference shall be composed of all the Traveling Preachers in full connection with it, together with a Lay Member elected by each pastoral charge. The Lay Members shall be at least twenty-one (21) years of age and shall have been for the four years next preceding their election members of one of the constituent churches forming this union of The Methodist Church."

Decision of the Judicial Council

From this it is clear that only those laymen who have been elected by pastoral charges are eligible to membership in the Annual Conference and membership alone determines the right to vote on any matter before the Annual Conference.

We must decide, therefore, that the part of Paragraph 934 which reads as follows, "The right to vote on all questions not Ministerial or constitutional and they shall be eligible for election to Mission or Conference Committees" is un-constitutional.

The first part of Paragraph 934 which reads as follows, "In fields outside the United States the Annual Conference may seat regularly appointed lay missionaries of the Board of Missions and Church Extension in the Annual Conference session and give them the privileges of the floor" is constitutional; provided the phrase "may seat" used therein is not to be construed as extending to them membership in the Annual Conference. In Re: Conscientious Objectors

DIGEST OF CASE

Paragraph 1716, Discipline 1940, under heading "Statement on Peace and War," and Paragraph 1712 under the heading "Our Social Creed," contained identical provisions as to claims for exemption from Military service by conscientious objectors who may be members of The Methodist Church, and although the Statement on Peace and War adopted by the 1944 General Conference is somewhat at variance with the "Statement on Peace and War," Paragraph 1716, yet it did not repeal Paragraph 1712; and accordingly conscientious objectors who are members of The Methodist Church still have the same protection as heretofore.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

At a session of the General Conference held May 4, 1944, after a lengthy debate on certain Resolutions on "War and Peace," the so-called Minority report was adopted which in effect modified certain portions of the "Statement on Peace and War," adopted by the 1940 General Conference, and appearing as Paragraph 1716 of the 1940 Discipline, particularly that portion of the Statement on page 777 et seq. The question was raised therefore whether the adoption of this revised statement (see 1944 Discipline, Paragraph 2016) took away the protection of the Church from conscientious objectors claiming exemption on this ground. Accordingly the matter was referred to the Judicial Council for a Declaratory Decision, and the following Resolution was adopted:

"That there be immediately referred to the Judicial Council the question of whether members of our Church who are conscientious objectors are entitled to assert their claim to exemption under the Selective Service Act in spite of the adoption of the statement on 'The Church and War' today adopted."

Decision of the Judicial Council

Paragraph 1716 of the 1940 Discipline, under the heading "Statement on Peace and War," and Paragraph 1712 of the 1940 Discipline under the heading "Our Social Creed," seemed to be of equal standing, each being under the division of the 1940 Discipline known as "Resolutions, etc."

The pertinent language in these Paragraphs in protection of the rights of conscientious objectors is identical. Note the following quotations from these respective Paragraphs:

Paragraph 1716 (page 778 of the 1940 Discipline): "We ask and claim exemption from all forms of military preparation or service for all conscientious objectors who may be members of The Methodist Church."

Paragraph 1712 (part of sub-section 16, page 769, 1940 Discipline): "We ask and claim exemption from all forms of military preparation or service for all conscientious objectors who may be members of The Methodist Church."

We have not been advised of any action of the General Conference altering, changing or deleting Paragraph 1712. Assuming that Paragraph 1712 has not been repealed or altered, it would appear obvious that conscientious objectors still have the same protection under the Discipline that they had prior to the action of the General Conference today on the report on "The Church in Time of War."

Any action regarding Paragraph 1716 under the heading "Statement on Peace and War," could not be interpreted as affecting in anywise Paragraph 1712 under the subject "Our Social Creed."

In Re: Meaning of "Church Members"

DIGEST OF CASE

The determination of the meaning of the words "Church Members" as used in Paragraph 871, Discipline 1940, is a legislative matter within the province of the General Conference, and is not a judicial matter to be settled by the Judicial Council, unless the question arises in some case legally pending before the Council.

PETITION OF BOARD OF PUBLICATION FOR DECLARATORY DECISION

On May 2, 1944, the General Conference referred to the Judicial Council the following communication with request that the Judicial Council answer the inquiry therein set forth:

To the Members of the Judicial Council of The Methodist Church

Brethren:

In behalf of the publishing interests of The Methodist Church, we desire to ask of the Judicial Council a "Declaratory Decision" on the following question:

Paragraph 871 of the Discipline of 1940 specifies:

"The Board of Publication shall be constituted by the respective Jurisdictional Conferences, with a representation of each in proportion to Church membership upon a basis of one member of the Board for each 150,000 Church members or major fraction thereof within the Jurisdictional Conference; . . ."

In order that there may be uniformity of action in each of the respective Jurisdictions, we desire a Decision on this question: Does the 150,000 church members required as a basis for election include laymen and ministers or laymen only?

There will be in these next Jurisdictional Conference sessions some changes in the number of members elected to this Board predicated on the changes in membership and it is necessary that we be able to notify the Jurisdictions of their proper action and assure uniformity.

As the Board in charge of the Statistical Department of the Church, we desire to state that to the best of our knowledge and belief page 500 of the Discipline of 1940, which has on it a map of the various Jurisdictions and a statement of the membership of each Jurisdiction, was created to simply include the lay members of the Church. Therefore, if the membership of the several Jurisdictions are added to show the membership of the Church in the United States, it will not include the ministers.

Purely for the purpose of information for the Judicial Council we desire further to state that we have issued to the Statistical Department instruction that when preparing a like map for the publication in the Discipline of 1944 two sets of figures shall appear in each Jurisdiction, (1) the number of lay members; (2) the number of ministers.

With very great appreciation of the service being rendered to the Church by the Judicial Council, we are Respectfully yours,

T. W. APPLEBY

Vice-Chairman, Board of Publications

Decision of the Judicial Council

After careful examination of the Discipline of 1939 and the Discipline of 1940, and of the Journal and Daily Christian Advocate of the Uniting Conference, and of the Journal and Daily Christian Advocate of the General Conference of 1940, we can report only that we are unable to find any legislative interpretation of the meaning of the words "Church members" as used in connection with this subject.

The General Conference is thoroughly competent to define such term as it may desire. Since there appears no legislation on the subject, it is our opinion that any definition given to the term "Church member" in connection with this matter should be by action of the General Conference rather than by judicial interpretation.

In Re: Pension Case, Mississippi Conference

DIGEST OF CASE

Under the provisions of Paragraph 1619 and Paragraph 1618 (8), Discipline 1944, a retired Minister of the Mississippi Conference, formerly a member of the Methodist Protestant Church, who originally entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, but was involuntarily located and who was subsequently received into the Ministry of the Methodist Protestant Church, is entitled to have the years of service in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, included in the number of years on which his annuity claim is based.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

On May 4, 1944, the General Conference of The Methodist Church in session at Kansas City, Mo., adopted the following resolution (See Proceedings of 1944 General Conference, page 190):

"Resolved, That the General Conference ask the Judicial Council to give a Declaratory Decision on the following case:

"A retired minister of the Mississippi Conference who was a member of the Methodist Protestant Church on May 10, 1939 (the date of Unification) originally entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, rendered service therein in the effective relation, was subsequently involuntarily located and thereafter he was received into the ministry of the Methodist Protestant Church. Since Unification, and until the present time, his approved years of service counted for annuity claim in the Mississippi Conference have been those served as a minister in the Methodist Protestant Church.

"In this case, the adoption of a new Pension Code by this General Conference raises under Paragraph 1318, Section 2 and Paragraph 1319, last clause thereof, the question as to whether or not the years of said retired minister formerly rendered in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, should be included with the years for which annuity claim can be made."

Decision of the Judicial Council

This Resolution having been duly considered it is the decision of the Judicial Council that the effective years of service by such minister in an Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, prior to his involuntary location should, under the new Pension Code, be included in the number of years on which his claim for annuity is based.

Subsection 2, subdivision (c) of Paragraph 1319, of the 1940 Discipline reads as follows:

"The following years of service in the effective relation may not be approved as a basis of annuity claim; . . . (c) Years served prior to the Uniting Conference in a Denomination other than the one in which membership was held on May 10, 1939."

This provision was repealed by the 1944 General Conference, and therefore is not included in the new Pension Code.

However, Paragraph 1320 of the 1940 Discipline was re-enacted in 1944 as Paragraph 1619, Article 6 of the 1944 Discipline. This article reads as follows:

"Art. 6. Claims of a Retired Minister:

The Annuity Claim of a retired minister shall be for an amount equivalent to the total years of his approved service multiplied by the annuity rate as defined above, irrespective of breaks in the sequence of such service."

(See Paragraph 1619 of the 1944 Discipline.)

Furthermore the 1944 General Conference (Subdivision 8 of Paragraph 1618, 1944 Discipline) defined the meaning of the words "The Methodist Church" as used in connection with the years of effective service on which annuity claims may be based. Such definition reads as follows:

"8. The Methodist Church shall mean The Methodist Church after the Uniting Conference of 1939, also any of the Churches united in 1939, as they were constituted prior to 1939."

In the light of these specific actions of the General Conference, it appears that there can be no doubt as to the legislative intent in the premises. The minister involved is entitled to have such years included in the number of years on which his annuity claim is based.

In Re: Boundaries, Baltimore and Central Pennsylvania Annual Conferences

DIGEST OF CASE

The Constitution of The Methodist Church provides that boundaries of Annual Conferences shall be determined by the respective Jurisdictional Conference, and this power may not be delegated to the Annual Conferences themselves.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At the 1944 session of the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference the Committee on Conference boundaries presented a report known as Report No. 3, relating to the settlement of boundaries between the Baltimore and the Central Pennsylvania Conferences. (See page 56, Daily Christian Advocate, Northeastern Jurisdiction.)

The Report was amended and adopted in the following form (See Page 103 Daily Christian Advocate, Northeastern Jurisdiction):

"Whereas the Committees on boundaries of the Baltimore and Central Pennsylvania Annual Conferences have given consideration to a change in the boundary line between said Conferences, and

"Whereas, such consideration has not progressed sufficiently to enable said Conferences to seek action on such change at this Jurisdictional Conference,

"Be It Resolved: that the Baltimore and Central Pennsylvania Annual Conferences be empowered by the Jurisdictional Conference to adjust the boundary line during the quadrennium in such manner as may be agreed upon by said Conferences."

APPEAL

Subsequently as appears from the records in the Daily Christian Advocate (Northeastern Jurisdiction, page 109), the following action was taken:

"NORMAN M. MOSS (Troy): There was an action taken here this afternoon delegating to the Baltimore and the Central Pennsylvania Annual Conferences the power to adjust the boundary line during the next quadrennium. That seems to be in possible contradiction of the Constitution of our Church. Therefore I move that the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference request a ruling of the Judicial Council on the constitutionality of the action taken by this Conference this afternoon in voting to empower the Baltimore and Central Pennsylvania Annual Conferences to adjust the boundary line between them during the quadrennium in such a manner as may be agreed upon by said Conferences.

"The reference is to Report No. 3 of the Committee on Conference Boundaries as amended by the motion of Dr. Skillington."

This motion, having received more than the required vote of one fifth of the body was declared adopted and the appeal allowed.

Decision of the Judicial Council

In the Constitution (see Paragraph 15, Article V, Section 4) the power to determine the boundaries of the Annual Conferences is enumerated as one of the powers of the Jurisdictional Conferences:

"4. To determine the boundaries of their Annual Conferences, provided that there shall be no Annual Conference with a membership of fewer than fifty ministers in full connection, except by the consent of the General Conference."

With respect to the method by which this should be done, the Constitution provides (See Paragraph 29, Article IV):

"Changes in the number, names and boundaries of the Annual Conferences may be effected by the Jurisdictional Conferences in the United States of America and by the Central Conferences outside the United States of America, according to the provisions under the respective powers of the Jurisdictional and the Central Conferences."

The boundaries of the Annual Conferences in The Methodist Church were established by the Uniting Conference in 1939, and the right to make all changes in these boundaries thereafter was granted to the Jurisdictional and the Central Conferences.

When the question of a proposed change in the boundaries of the Baltimore Annual Conference and the Central Pennsylvania Annual Conference was presented to the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference (see page 56, Daily Christian Advocate, Northeastern Jurisdiction) the Committee on Boundaries voted non-concurrence on two grounds: First, because the Committee was of a divided opinion as to the right of the Jurisdictional Conference to delegate to the Annual Conferences its power to determine the boundary between them; and second, because the Jurisdictional Conference could not determine the disputed boundary wisely in the absence of definite recommendations as to the nature of the changes to be made. (See page 103, Daily Christian Advocate, Northeastern Jurisdiction.)

The amendment that was finally adopted by the Conference

(see page 103, Daily Christian Advocate, Northeastern Jurisdiction) attempted to empower the Baltimore Annual Conference and the Central Pennsylvania Annual Conference to adjust the boundary line between them "during the quadrennium in such manner as may be agreed upon by said Conferences," on the ground that the case was urgent and that there was precedent for such a method of arriving at a change of boundaries affecting two Conferences in the same Jurisdiction.

It is the opinion of the Judicial Council that such power is specially committed to the Jurisdictional Conferences and cannot be thus delegated; that power was intentionally committed to the Jurisdictional Conferences in order that the final determination of the boundaries between Annual Conferences might be made by a body capable of acting wisely and impartially. The way by which the Jurisdictional Conference reaches its decision as to where a wise and just boundary can be drawn is a matter for its own decision, but the Jurisdictional Conference, and it alone, can determine by legal enactment, what the boundary shall be.

The action of the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference in attempting to empower the Baltimore Annual Conference and the Central Pennsylvania Annual Conference to give effect during the quadrennium to any agreement mutually reached by the two Conferences, as to the boundary between them, is therefore unconstitutional.

F. R. Bayley dissents on the ground that the power granted to the Baltimore Annual Conference and the Central Pennsylvania Annual Conference was administrative and not legislative.

In Re: Powers of Trustees, Fourth Street First Methodist Church, Wheeling, W. Va.

DIGEST OF CASE

The Board of Trustees of a local church is not such a body as would have the right to appeal directly to the Judicial Council, so that it may petition for a Declaratory Decision under the provisions of Paragraph 914, Discipline 1944; but the questions of law involved in any such request for a Declaratory Decision may be acted upon by the Quarterly Conference under Paragraph 362, subsection 14, and may thus eventually become subject to review by the Judicial Council.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

The Board of Trustees of Fourth Street First Methodist Church of Wheeling, W. Va., filed with the Judicial Council the following petition:

"Your petitioner respectfully represents that it is the duly elected Board of Trustees of Fourth Street First Methodist Church of Wheeling, W. Va.

"Your petitioner shows that under the Will of the late Mary M. Alderman, there was bequeathed to Fourth Street Methodist Episcopal Church (now Fourth Street First Methodist Church of Wheeling), the residue of the estate of said Mary M. Alderman pursuant to Item 20 of said will, reading as follows:

"I hereby give and bequeath all the residue and remainder of my estate, if any, unto the Trustees of the Fourth Street Methodist Episcopal Church, now located on Chapline Street, Wheeling, West Va."

"Petitioner further represents that the executor under said will is now holding for delivery to your petitioner for the benefit of said Church certain personal property, pursuant to the terms of said will.

"Your petitioner further represents that it is of the opinion that the best interests of the church will be served if the properties received under said will and any other gifts, or bequests hereafter received, are placed in trust with a corporate Trustee having either sole authority or joint authority with the Board of Trustees of the church to manage, invest and reinvest the principal and income of the fund received by reason of said bequest, and by reason of any other similar gift, devise or bequest, all for the benefit of the church.

"Your petitioner further shows that one of its members has raised the question as to the power of the petitioner under Paragraph 775 of the Discipline of The Methodist Church to transfer to a Trustee, property received by your petitioner under said will or by reason of any other gift or bequest, and providing by a trust instrument for the sole management by said Trustee or by the joint management of said Trustee and the Board of Trustees of the church as it may be constituted from time to time, and the terms and conditions under which said property so received shall be managed even though any such trust instrument shall contain provisions that such management shall be for the sole benefit of the church.

"Petitioner, therefore, prays for a ruling under the Declaratory Decisions Act adopted by the General Conference of 1944 as to its power to establish a trust whereunder it would convey to a corporate Trustee the bequest received under aforementioned will and providing for the management of the properties so conveyed to said Trustee and any other properties which it might later receive under any future gifts or bequests, such management to be solely by such Trustee or jointly by such Trustee and the Board of Trustees of the church as it may be constituted from time to time, such trust containing such other terms as are usual and appropriate, and providing further that the use of the income and principal of any and all of such property shall at all times be for the sole benefit of the church."

Decision of the Judicial Council

The Discipline of 1944, Paragraph 914, provides as follows:

"Par. 914. When the General Conference shall have passed any act or legislation that appears to be subject to more than one interpretation, or when any Paragraph or Paragraphs of the Discipline seem to be of doubtful meaning or application, any authority in the church affected thereby that would have the right to appeal thereon to the Judicial Council under the law of the Church from any action of any Conference, ruling of a Bishop, or of any Board, Commission, or body of the Church, may petition the Judicial Council for a ruling in the nature of a Declaratory Decision as to the meaning, application, and effect of such act, legislation, or Paragraph or Paragraphs of the Discipline; and the Decision of the Judicial Council thereon shall be as binding and effectual as a Decision on Appeal under the law relating to appeals to the Judicial Council.

"But only those who could appeal from an action under such act, legislation, or laws can ask for such Declaratory Decision by the Judicial Council. Moot and hypothetical questions shall not be decided, but only those where some action is desired and some doubt or question as to the meaning or application of the act, legislation, action, or ruling is apparent. The Judicial Council shall determine from the facts in connection with each such petition whether or not it has jurisdiction to hear and determine the same."

Under the Declaratory Decision Act of 1944, the Judicial Council may not assume jurisdiction, unless jurisdiction has been clearly vested in the Council. To this extent the Declaratory Decision Act, in the same manner as the Declaratory Judgment Acts of the State Legislatures, should be strictly construed. In this case jurisdiction is vested in the Judicial Council only when the petition arises from any authority in the Church that would have the right of appeal to the Judicial Council directly.

Accordingly we are constrained to hold that the Board of Trustees of a local church is not such a body which would have the right of the appeal directly to the Judicial Council under any present law of the Church.

It may be stated that this does not mean that there is no remedy in a case of this character. The Board of Trustees of every local church is subject to the direction of the Quarterly Conference. Paragraph 362, subsection 14, makes it the duty of the District Superintendent "To decide all questions of law which may arise in the business of the Quarterly Conference, subject to an appeal to the President of the next Annual Conference." Thus a procedure is provided whereby any such question can be acted upon by the presiding Bishop of the Annual Conference, whose ruling thereon becomes subject to review by the Judicial Council.

For the reasons above stated, therefore, the Judicial Council holds that it does not now have jurisdiction to make the Declaratory Decision prayed for by the said petition. December 4, 1944.

In Re: Apportionment for World Service, Holston Annual Conference*DIGEST OF CASE

The action of the General Conference of 1944 in asking for contributions to World Service determined by a percentage in excess of contributions during a particular fiscal year is within the Constitutional powers of the General Conference as prescribed by Article IV, Section 9, even though in a particular case it may seem to result in an unfair apportionment.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At the session of the Holston Annual Conference of The Methodist Church, held October 11 to 16, 1944, a request was made in writing to the presiding Bishop, Paul B. Kern, for a ruling as follows:

Question: "In order that the Commission on World Service and Finance may know how to proceed, we ask the Bishop for a ruling. Is the action of the General Conference asking for $91,578.00 annually for World Service a legal and binding action?"

RULING OF THE BISHOP

The Bishop ruled thus: "I rule that the action of the General Conference asking for $91,578.00 annually for World Service is legal and binding. Paul B. Kern, President."

An appeal was taken from the ruling of the Bishop.

Decision of the Judicial Council

The General Conference of The Methodist Church, meeting in Kansas City, Mo., in 1944, adopted the report of the General Commission on World Service and Finance, shown on page 51 of The Daily Advocate, 1944, in which it is stated: "We also recommend that during the ensuing quadrennium the annual apportionment to each Annual Conference shall be a sum ten per cent in excess of its contributions to the World Service Fund during the fiscal year June 1, 1943, to May 31, 1944."

The Constitution of the Church, Paragraph 5, Article IV, Section 9, creating the powers of the General Conference, is as follows:

"9. To determine and provide for raising the funds necessary to carry on the connectional work of the Church."

Therefore the General Conference did have the power to take the action indicated. The Judicial Council can only pass upon the legality of such action. It was clearly legal and the ruling of the Bishop was correct.

The fact that in some cases, hardship and inequity might result because of the dates fixed, was a question for the General Conference, and for that body only.

The ruling of the Presiding Bishop in the foregoing case is therefore affirmed.

In Re: Interpretation Paragraph 411, Discipline 1944

DIGEST OF CASE

Ministers coming from other evangelical churches, whether proceeding under Sections One, Two, or Three of Paragraph 411, Discipline 1944, are in all cases subject to the requirement of meeting "the educational standards required of Methodist Ministers."

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At the session of the North Alabama Conference held at Bessemer, Ala., October 25-29, 1944, there was submitted to the presiding Bishop, a question in writing of which the following is the record.

REQUEST FOR RULING

O. R. Burns submitted in writing the following question, asking for a ruling from the Chair: Does Item Two of Paragraph 411 of the Discipline of our Church specifically make a provision by which an ordained minister from another Church who cannot meet the educational standards required of Methodist ministers may be admitted on trial or into full connection in an Annual Conference and have his orders recognized by the Annual Conference?

RULING OF THE BISHOP

Item Two of Paragraph 411 of the 1944 Discipline does not make provision by which an ordained minister from another Church who cannot meet the educational standards required by The Methodist Church may be received on trial or into full connection by an Annual Conference. It would be unreasonable to think that the General Conference intended that a person recommended by a District or Quarterly Conference might be received on a different educational standard from that required of ministers of other churches applying directly to the Annual Conference. The words in Item Three, "Who can meet the educational standards required of Methodist Ministers," was inserted by the General Conference of 1944. Paragraph 411 is a unit, and the words above quoted apply to all ministers from other Churches who apply for admission into an Annual Conference of The Methodist Church. This is the clear intent of the General Conference as witnessed by the statement of John W. Hawley, Chairman of the Committee on Ministry, 1944 General Conference, who is presenting Report No. 1 of the said Committee amending the law of the Church as to educational standards required of ministers coming from other Churches said, "At present, ministers are received from other Churches without meeting the educational requirements of our Church and without answering the questions which are asked of the men who are received on trial. This amendment makes the requirements the same in all cases." (See Proceedings Forty-first General Conference of The Methodist Church.)

Decision of the Judicial Council

The Judicial Council hereby affirms the Ruling of Bishop

Harrell in the above entitled case, and adopts his statement as the decision of the Council.

In Re: Appeal of the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference on Its Own Action Involving a Change in Jurisdictional Lines:
Boundaries of Delaware Conference

DIGEST OF CASE

Under the Constitutional provisions contained in Paragraph 8, Section 12, Discipline 1940, the General Conference may change boundaries of Jurisdictional Conferences only by consent of the Annual Conferences in each Jurisdictional Conference involved. Accordingly the action of the 1944 General Conference granting permission to the Central Jurisdiction only to change boundaries of the Delaware Annual Conference, which proposed changes involved also changes in boundaries of certain Annual Conferences in the Northeastern Jurisdiction, did not grant any power to the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference to initiate any such boundary changes.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

The General Conference, on May 5, 1944, adopted Report No. 7 of its Committee on Enabling Acts and Legal Forms, entitled "Subject: Boundaries of Delaware Conference," which Report will be found on pages 154 and 155 of the General Conference Daily Christian Advocate of 1944. This Report recited a memorial adopted by the New York City Society of The Methodist Church April 20, 1944, petitioning for the enactment of an Enabling Act so as to effectuate a change in the boundaries of the Delaware Conference of the Central Jurisdiction. This change would, however, have the effect of including certain new Negro work within the boundaries of the New York Annual Conference, and the New York East Annual Conference, which latter Conferences are within the boundaries of the Northeastern Jurisdiction.

The Enabling Act, based upon the foregoing Memorial, which was then adopted by the General Conference is contained in the following words:

"Permission is granted under Paragraph 361, Section 12, of the Discipline of 1940 to the Central Jurisdiction to change the boundaries of the Delaware Conference to that Jurisdiction, when all requirements of the Discipline shall have been observed."

The same petition from the New York City Society was before the General Conference Committee on Conferences, and concurrence was voted as shown in its Report No. 11, pages 263-264, General Conference Proceedings. This Report, however, was later withdrawn by the Chairman of that Committee, apparently on the assumption that the Report No. 7 of the Committee on Enabling Acts was identical with it.

A careful reading of the Report No. 7, however, shows that the only power granted under the Report of that Committee is contained in the last paragraph above quoted.

On June 9, 1944, in the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference the Committee on Conference Boundaries presented its Report No. 2, entitled "Subject: Change of Boundaries of Delaware Conference." See Daily Christian Advocate, Northeastern Jurisdiction, page 47. This Report recited the enactment by the General Conference of the Enabling Act above mentioned, and petitioned that:

"The Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference shall take appropriate action approving the boundaries of the Delaware Annual Conference as above set forth; and

"Shall send said action down to all of the Annual Conferences of the Jurisdiction to be voted upon in accordance with the provisions of the Discipline; and

"Shall upon the approval of a majority of said Annual Conferences given due notice thereof to the Secretary of the Central Jurisdictional Conference with the understanding and agreement that when a majority of the Annual Conferences of the Central Jurisdiction shall have given like approval to the same proposed change in the boundaries of said Delaware Annual Conference, and when notice thereof shall have been received by the Secretary of the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference the boundaries of said Delaware Annual Conference shall be deemed to have been changed as aforesaid, and that thereafter the boundaries of said Annual Conference shall read as follows: 'Delaware Conference shall include the Negro work in Delaware, New Jersey, and New York, except that in the city of Buffalo and already included in the New York Conference in the Boroughs of the Bronx and Manhattan in the city of New York and except such new Negro work as shall be constituted by either the New York Annual Conference or by the New York East Annual Conference, or by both of them within their respective boundaries; it shall also include the Negro work in the Eastern Shore of Virginia and all Maryland and Pennsylvania not included in the Washington Conference.'"

This Report was adopted by the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference, as shown on page 72 of the Daily Christian Advocate of the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference.

APPEAL TO JUDICIAL COUNCIL

On Saturday, June 10, 1944, as shown on page 107, Daily Christian Advocate of said Jurisdictional Conference, Dr. John B. F. Yoak, Jr., moved an appeal from the said action of the Conference on the preceding day "on the ground that it is contrary to the Plan of Union." The appeal was ordered by the Conference.

The appeal was presented to the Judicial Council by Dr. John B. F. Yoak, Jr., and reply thereto was made by Dr. Frederick B. Newell.

Decision of the Judicial Council

It is apparent that the action of the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference challenged in this appeal was based on the assumption that the General Conference's Enabling Act had actually authorized changes in the boundaries of Jurisdictional Conferences. Such intention, however, is not borne out by the authority actually granted to the Northeastern and the Central Jurisdictional Conferences to make the proposed changes in Jurisdictional lines. The General Conference, in the only action taken by it on the subject, granted only the following authority:

"Permission is granted under Paragraph 361, Section 12, of the Discipline of 1940 to the Central Jurisdiction to change the boundaries of the Delaware Conference of that Jurisdiction when all requirements of the Discipline shall have been observed." (Page 256, General Conference Proceedings.)

Paragraph 361, Section 12 of the 1940 Discipline (under General Conference powers) reads as follows:

"To change the number and the boundaries of Jurisdictional Conferences upon the consent of a majority of the Annual Conferences in each Jurisdictional Conference involved."

For a change in the boundaries of the Delaware Conference by the Central Jurisdictional Conference, the authority quoted above is not necessary, as the power to determine Annual Conference boundaries was granted to the Jurisdictional Conferences by the Constitution; see Paragraph 15, Section 4, Discipline 1944. But for a change in Jurisdictional boundaries such as was asked for in the memorial and provided for in the above Paragraph 361, Section 12, the actual grant of power in the Enabling Act is insufficient. The wording of the Enabling Act is, therefore, confusing and inadequate.

It is the decision of the Judicial Council therefore, that the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference was without legal authority to take the action on which the appeal is based, and that such action is void.

In Re: Ruling of Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, in Response to a Request From Hallam Richardson During the New York East Annual Conference Held at Hanson Place- Central Methodist Church, Brook- lyn, New York, September 25 and 26, 1945

DIGEST OF CASE

The provision of Paragraph 914, Discipline 1944, limits the jurisdiction of the Judicial Council as to Declaratory Decisions so that they do not include moot or hypothetical questions; and the same principle applies to requests for rulings by a Bishop in an Annual Conference, which requests should be based upon some action taken or proposed to be taken, wherein under the specific facts in each case some doubt may have arisen as to the legality of the action taken or proposed.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At the session of the New York East Annual Conference, held at the Hanson Place-Central Methodist Church, Brooklyn, N. Y.,

September 25 and 26, 1945, Mr. Hallam Richardson made the following request for a Ruling:

"REQUEST FOR INTERPRETATIVE RULES

"Last year, at the recommendation of the Chairman of the Committee on World Peace, and after hearing his report, the Conference called upon the Council of Bishops and other authorities of our Church to include what was referred to as a claim for the financial support of 600 of those in the CPS camps, and it is therefore desired to have a ruling as to the following questions:

"1. Has The Methodist Church any 'Cardinal Tenet of Faith' opposed to Peacetime Conscription in Preparation for War or Military Service in Wartime?

"2. Has The Methodist Church any teaching or substance of Doctrine that it is unchristian or sinful to keep and bear arms or participate in enforcing the law or overcoming law breakers by force of arms?

"3. Has The Methodist Church any teaching or substance of Doctrine that human life is sacrosanct and that killings and executions classed as 'justified,' 'excusable' and/or 'necessary' under the laws of civilized states regulating peace enforcement or war restrictions connected with curbing marauding aggressions are condemned by the law of the Church?

"4. Has The Methodist Church any teaching or substance of Doctrine to the effect that there is any scriptural authority that Christians should hold aloof from social, civic, political or judicial affairs (or any law or rule condemning those who actively endorse, support, and participate in the legislative, judicial or executive functions of local, state, national or world administration)?

"5. Was Paragraph 1716, of the 1940 Discipline, a teaching of our Church, or a statement tolerating a minority interpretation of a matter of personal interpretation of a citizen's duty to a state in time of crisis?

"6. Did The Methodist Church or any representatives speaking in its behalf promise financial support to members of Methodist churches going into CPS camps instead of into some branch of the armed services?

"7. Did the United States Government negotiate in any way with any Council, Board, Commission or Committee of The Methodist Church relative to placing CPS campers in the hands of the Friends, Brethren and Mennonite groups?

"8. In the light of the General Conference legislation on the subject, is there any Council, Board, Commission or Committee of The Methodist Church which has the authority to apportion any of the sums for Overseas Relief, Day of Compassion, Day of Dedication on other emergency world need offerings for CPS camp support?"

THE RULING

The Discipline does not give the Bishop the privilege of making Declaratory Judgments. This is a request, in effect, for such Declaratory Judgment. There is no legal question involved, since no action is cited in which it is alleged the law has been violated. These requests are really requests for information or the expression of opinion. Item 8 raises the question of the authority of an Annual Conference to take a certain action. A Bishop is not allowed to rule in anticipation of an action.

Decision of the Judicial Council

It would seem to be sufficient to affirm the ruling of the presiding Bishop in this case and adopt his statement as the opinion of the Judicial Council. However, it seems wise to call attention to a fundamental principle which determines jurisdiction in cases of this character.

Paragraph 914 of the 1944 Discipline provides for Declaratory Decisions by the Judicial Council, but limits the jurisdiction as follows:

"Moot and hypothetical questions shall not be decided." We are of the opinion that this same principle should apply to requests for rulings by the Bishops in an Annual or a District Conference, and that any such request should be based upon some action taken or proposed to be taken by such Conference, wherein under the specific facts in each case some doubt may have arisen as to the legality of the action taken or proposed. It is not the duty of the presiding Bishop to rule upon any hypothetical question which may be propounded, nor to answer requests for information which involve no legal matter.

The foregoing statement of principle would seem to call for no citation of authorities. It is stated here only that all members of Annual or District Conferences may be guided in making requests for rulings which are reviewable by the Judicial Council.

For the reasons as stated, the Ruling of the Bishop in this case is hereby affirmed.

In Re: Ruling of Bishop Charles C. Selecman in North Texas Annual Conference as to Cast- ing of Ballot by Secretary of a District Conference Under Paragraphs 670-673, Discipline 1944

DIGEST OF CASE

District Conferences may license proper persons to preach and other orders, under the provisions of Paragraph 670, et seq., Discipline 1944, but "all votes to license shall be by ballot"; and the casting of a ballot by the Secretary pursuant to a vote authorizing him to do so is illegal.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At the last session of the North Texas Conference, which convened at Greenville, Texas, October 24-28, 1945, the presiding Bishop, Charles C. Selecman, was called upon to make a decision of law, as recorded in the Journal, page 41, as follows:

"Friday afternoon, October 26

"The Chairman read a letter from George C. French asking for the Bishop's decision on matters described in the following manner:

"To the Bishop presiding at the North Texas Conference of The Methodist Church, now in session in Greenville, Texas.

"Dear Bishop:

"Whereas, Paragraphs 670-673 specifically provide that all votes to recommend Preachers for admission on trial, for local Deacon's orders, for local Elder's orders, for readmission into the traveling connection, and for restoration of local Preacher's credentials, shall be by ballot; and also to license candidates to preach; and,

"Whereas, Paragraph 46 in Robert's Rules of Order, titled 'Voting,' in sub-paragraph titled 'Voting by Ballot,' says, 'The main object of this form of voting is secrecy,' and, 'As the usual object of the ballot is secrecy, where the by-laws (in this case the Discipline as cited above) require the vote to be taken by ballot, any motion is out of order which members cannot oppose without exposing their views on the question to be decided by ballot. Thus it is out of order to move that one person cast the ballot of the Assembly for a certain person when the by-laws require the vote to be by ballot'; and

"Whereas, The same Rules of Order in Paragraph 47 titled 'Votes that are Null and Void even if Unanimous,'

"NO MOTION IS IN ORDER THAT CONFLICTS WITH THE LAWS OF THE NATION AND STATE, OR WITH THE ASSEMBLY'S CONSTITUTION OR BY-LAWS, and if such a motion is adopted even by a unanimous vote, it is null and void'; and

"Whereas, The Journal of the 1945 session of the Dallas District Conference which met in Grace Methodist Church in Dallas, Texas, on May 10, 1945, states that said District Conference instructed and permitted its Secretary to cast the ballot for the following purposes:

"(A) To license Lee Alvin Bedford, Robert Vreeland Brickell, and Fred Keller Hill to preach;

"(B) To recommend to the Annual Conference for admission on trial, Clarence Marvin Collins, Horace Neil McFarlin;

"(C) To recommend Clarence Marvin Collins and Earl Esker Harvey, Jr., for Deacon's Orders;

"Whereas, These actions, in the light of the Authorities cited above, seem to be of no force, binding power, or validity, utterly null and void;

"Therefore, As provided for in Paragraph 40 of our 1944 Discipline, I am herewith asking for your official ruling on the following points of Law, all of which seem clearly involved in the situation specifically set forth above.

"Respectfully submitted,

"GEORGE C. FRENCH"

RULING OF THE BISHOP

"(1) Under the circumstances cited above, can any Annual Conference legally include in its Official List of Local Preachers any man who has been recommended or licensed to preach in the manner set forth above by any District Conference? Answer—It cannot.

"(2) Under the circumstances cited above, can any Annual Conference legally admit on trial any man who has been thus recommended therefor by any District Conference? Answer—It cannot.

"(3) Can any Annual Conference legally elect to Deacon's or Elder's orders anyone who has been thus recommended therefore by any District Conference? Answer—It cannot.

"In brief: When the Discipline clearly requires the vote of the District Conference to be taken by ballot for the purpose of licensing one to preach, or recommending one for admission on trial into the Annual Conference, or Deacon's orders or Elder's orders, and that District Conference instructs and permits its Secretary to cast the ballot of the Conference for such purposes, is that action of said District Conference legal and valid, or is it illegal and null and void? Answer—Such action is illegal.

"(Signed) CHAS. C. SELECMAN"

Decision of the Judicial Council

At the 1945 session of the Dallas District Conference, the Secretary was instructed and permitted to cast the ballot to license certain named persons to preach, to recommend certain named persons for admission on trial, to recommend certain named persons for deacon's orders.

The matter having taken the above recorded course, comes to us under Paragraph 43-3, viz.: "To pass upon decisions of law made by Bishops in Annual or District Conferences" and we therefore take jurisdiction.

As is set forth in the preamble leading up to the questions recorded above, Paragraphs 670 and 671 of the Discipline clearly state that "All votes shall be by ballot." The question arises as to whether a vote by ballot is synonymous with a vote cast by some designated person for a District Conference, and in this realm of parliamentary law we follow Robert's Rules of Order, which says:

"It is out of order to move that one person cast the ballot of the Assembly for a certain person when the By-Laws (Discipline, in this case) require the vote to be by ballot, and no motion is in order that conflicts with the laws of the nation or state, or with the Assembly's Constitution or By-Laws, and if such a motion is adopted even by a unanimous vote, it is null and void."

We sincerely sympathize with any persons who have been put to trouble, but we must hold to the opinion that the action of the Dallas District Conference was illegal. We therefore affirm the decision of Bishop Seelman.

In Re: Voting of Retired Bishops

DIGEST OF CASE

The provisions of Paragraph 437, Discipline 1944, in connection with retired Bishops of Jurisdictional Conferences, stating that "he may participate in the Council of Bishops, but without vote," is not in conflict with the Constitution, Paragraph 34, as the Constitution by Paragraph 8, Section 5, granted unto the General Conference the power to "define and fix the powers, duties and privileges of the Episcopacy."

STATEMENT OF FACTS

Paragraph 437 of the Discipline in connection with retired Bishops of Jurisdictional Conferences states: "He may participate in the Council of Bishops, but without vote."

At a meeting of the Council of Bishops the question as to the constitutionality of the particular phrase in Paragraph 436 "but without vote" was raised and it was then voted to request the Judicial Council for a ruling in this matter.

Decision of the Judicial Council

The Constitution in Paragraph 34 states:

"There shall be an Episcopacy in The Methodist Church of like plan, powers, privileges and duties as now exist in The Methodist Episcopal Church and The Methodist Episcopal Church, South."

In Paragraph 36 of the Constitution it states:

"There shall be a Council of Bishops composed of all the Bishops of all the Jurisdictional and Central Conferences."

Paragraph 8, Article IV of the Constitution states in connection with the powers of the General Conference:

"The General Conference shall have full legislative power over all matters distinctively connectional, and in the exercise of said powers shall have authority as follows:

"5. To define and fix the powers, duties and privileges of the Episcopacy."

It has been stated that this act of the General Conference in inserting the words of "but without vote" infringes on the historic powers of the Episcopacy as set forth in Paragraph 34. It is however a fact that a similar phrase "but without vote" was in the Discipline of The Methodist Episcopal Church prior to Unification.

It is clear that a retired Bishop is a member of the Council of Bishops. Ordinarily membership in an organization implies the right to vote. But that implication is not necessarily an absolute right. The Constitution has given the General Conference the power "To define and fix the powers, duties and privileges of the Episcopacy." In the exercise of that power it has provided that a retired Bishop may participate in the Council of Bishops "but without vote." The same Paragraph of the Discipline 437 sets out other restrictions such as not presiding over certain Conferences nor making appointments.

The Paragraph setting out the composition of the Council of Bishops and the Paragraph giving the General Conference the power to define and fix the powers, duties and privileges of the Episcopacy are each a part of the Constitution.

As against the implication of the right to vote implied by membership in the Council of Bishops, is the clear and definite restriction imposed by the General Conference in Paragraph 437.

There is no such conflict of authority in these two portions of the Constitution sufficient to justify our holding the action of the General Conference unconstitutional.

Accordingly, it is held constitutional.

Concurring Decision

M. A. Childers, J. S. French, and W. G. Henry filed a concurring opinion as follows:

The opinion of our colleagues above set forth states that there is no such conflict of authority between Paragraph 36 of the Discipline relating to membership in the Council of Bishops and Paragraph 8, Section 5 of the Discipline giving to the General Conference power to prescribe the powers, duties and privileges of the Episcopacy (each a part of the Constitution) sufficient to justify our holding unconstitutional the action of the General Conference taking from retired Bishops the right to vote in the Council of Bishops.

We believe there is a conflict between these two provisions of the Constitution and that the provision of the Discipline denying retired Bishops the right to vote in the Council of Bishops is of doubtful constitutionality.

However, it is a well-established rule of constitutional construction that if an act of a legislative body is not clearly unconstitutional, the judicial body reviewing same should sustain its constitutionality. On the basis of that universal rule of construction, we concur in the decision set forth above.

In Re: Ruling of Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, in Response to a Request from Ross A. Cobb During the New York Annual Conference Held at the St. James Methodist Church, Kingston, New York, Thursday, May 3, 1945

DIGEST OF CASE

As an Annual Conference has no quorum, a session of Conference held in wartime abbreviated to one day, and ostensibly restricted in attendance to officers and certain Committees (although it was stated that all members of the Conference were entitled to be present), although irregular, was nevertheless a legal session.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

During the New York Annual Conference held at the St. James Methodist Church at Kingston, New York, Thursday, May 3, 1945, Mr. Ross A. Cobb, a Lay Member of the Conference, made the following request for a Ruling:

"As a duly elected member of this Conference, I herewith raise the question of the legality of the calling and holding of an abbreviated or restricted Conference, whether by direct order or by strongly worded recommendation. I refer in particular to Section 7 of Article 21 of the Constitution of The Methodist Church, which reads as follows:

"The Annual Conference shall be composed of all the traveling preachers in full connection with it, together with a lay member elected by each pastoral charge."

BISHOP'S RULING

The presiding Bishop made his ruling as follows, together with a statement of the authority for and reasoning upon which ruling is based.

The session of the New York Annual Conference held in the St. James Methodist Church at Kingston, New York, Thursday, May 3, 1945, is a legal session of the Conference.

(1) The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1912 approved the following Ruling of the Bishops:

"November, 1910. An Annual Conference is not a self-constituted organization, but is a body created for certain specific purposes and has no power to establish any definite or proportionate number as a quorum for the transaction of the business of the Conference."

(2) In "A Manual of the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Including the Decisions of the College of Bishops," originally prepared by Holland N. McTyeire, revised and enlarged by Collins Denny, Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Nineteenth Edition, 1931, the following actions are recorded:

Page 41, No. 7. "Not being a delegate or strictly representative body, an Annual Conference has no quorum. Any number of its members who may meet at the time and place officially appointed may proceed to organize and to transact business."

Page 230, No. 4. "An Annual Conference has no quorum; any number of its members, met at the time and place officially appointed, are competent to organize and proceed to business. But, as a portion of its membership is elective, and these have a right to participate in the organization, the names of those present must be recognized and enrolled before the Conference organization can be completed."

(3) The Bishop, therefore, in making the above Ruling, holds that no quorum for an Annual Conference is established in the law of the Church.

(4) When an Annual Conference is in session, it may determine when it will adjourn or how long it will remain in session. No announcements by Secretaries or others indicating that the session is to be for but a single day takes from the Annual Conference the right to adjourn in less than a day or to continue in session more than a day. Consequently, the reference to the term "abbreviated" is not related to the question of the legality of the Conference that did meet.

(5) The call for this Conference distinctly stated, "All members of the Conferences (referring to all of the Conferences of the Area) are entitled to be present." It is true that in a national crisis and in an endeavor to co-operate patriotically in efforts to win the war, the Bishop and the District Superintendents, in conformity to a recommendation from the Council of Bishops, did make a certain recommendation to the ministers. This recommendation did not deny the right of any man to come, but gave advice upon which he was free to act. The fact is, many did attend in addition to the Chairmen of Committees and others whose attendance was specifically requested. The legality of the Conference session, however, is not involved in any recommendations that may be made in this connection.

(6) The New York Conference was held at the time and place as determined by the Council of Bishops. No one was denied the privilege of attending; and, since no quorum is required, those present constituted a legal session.

(Signed) G. BROMLEY OXNAM

Decision of the Judicial Council

This ruling by Bishop Oxnam is now properly before the Judicial Council for review.

From the Statement of Facts accompanying the Report of the above quoted Ruling and now before the Judicial Council, it appears that prior to the "abbreviated" session of the New York Annual Conference, Bishop Oxnam and the District Superintendents of the New York Area, sent to each member of the various Annual Conferences in the New York Area, a letter reviewing in detail the circumstances that, to them, seemed to make it imperative that only one-day sessions of the Annual Conferences in that Area should be held, and strongly urging the members not to attend. This was done solely for the purpose of preventing the attendance from exceeding the limit of fifty established by the O.D.T. for conventions to be held during the national emergency. This communication is rather lengthy and need not be produced in full here. The following paragraph is quoted because of its pertinency to the decision of the Judicial Council hereinafter set forth:

"In view of the recommendation of the Council of Bishops the District Superintendents of the Area met with the Bishop on February 16 and voted unanimously to make the policy recommended by the Council the policy of the New York Area. We will meet, therefore, in Annual Conference sessions. These sessions will be for but a single day. All members of the Conferences are entitled to be present. However, it is our thought that it would be wiser if only the Bishop, the members of the Cabinet, the Chairmen and Secretaries of important Committees were to attend. It will be possible for the Committees to meet in advance of the Annual Conference, discuss the matters which must be cared for, and then have the Chairmen and the Secretaries present the recommendations to the Conference in the single session where, in all probability, there will be fewer than fifty percent. This, of course, is but a temporary adjustment to a national emergency."

In this connection we call attention to Paragraph No. 636 of the Discipline, which reads as follows:

"P. 636. All members of the Annual Conference, including probationers and accepted supplies, shall attend the sessions of the Annual Conference," etc.

The procedure followed at least had a tendency to nullify the provisions of this Paragraph. Its justification is based solely on the apparent necessity growing out of an existing national emergency. That a national emergency did then exist is common knowledge to all concerned.

It will be noted that the notice of the intention to hold the "abbreviated" sessions of the Annual Conferences did contain the following sentence:

"All members of the Conferences are entitled to be present."

We are informed that many others in addition to those who were specifically invited did attend—thus indicating that no one felt that his right to attend was being denied.

Under the circumstances, the procedure followed cannot be classified as arbitrary. No claim has been made that it was prompted by ulterior motives on the part of the presiding Bishop and his Cabinet, and certainly no evidence of ulterior motives on their part has been presented to the Judicial Council.

We, therefore, approve the Ruling of Bishop Oxnam as above set forth, with the following observation:

This decision is in no wise to be regarded as a precedent, as the procedure followed was irregular and was pursued only because of the existence of a national emergency, which we hope and pray shall never again occur.

In Re: Executive Sessions of an Annual Conference Excluding Lay Members

DIGEST OF CASE

The jurisdiction of the Judicial Council to pass on the constitutionality of an Act of the General Conference is limited by Paragraph 43, Section 1, Discipline 1944, and its jurisdiction as to Declaratory Decisions is limited by Paragraph 914, in neither one of which Paragraphs is provision made for initiating any such procedure by an Annual Conference. Accordingly the Judicial Council may not render any decision involving the constitutionality of Paragraph 646, Discipline 1944, on the request, petition or other action of an Annual Conference only.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

In the morning session of the Southern California-Arizona Annual Conference on Saturday, June 23, 1945, Nathan Newby presented to the presiding Bishop, James C. Baker, a request for a ruling on the following question:

"A group of the lay members of the Southern California-Arizona Conference hereby protest against their exclusion from the Executive Session of the ministerial members of said Conference, held on Friday afternoon, June 22, 1945, and question the legality of said session, on the ground that it was held in violation of the Constitution of The Methodist Church.

"We also request the presiding Bishop to rule on the legality of said Executive Session and, if he finds it to have been illegal, to direct the Secretary of the Conference to expunge from his record all reference thereto." (P. 37 Journal of the Southern California-Arizona Annual Conference for the session held at Pasadena in 1945.)

In the Journal of the Conference no ruling made by the Bishop in response to this request, during the session of the Conference held at Pasadena, can be found.

At the afternoon session of the Conference on that same day, just prior to the holding of an Executive Session of the Ministerial members of the Conference, Nathan Newby moved the following Resolution which the Conference approved by a unanimous vote:

"Whereas, The following request was presented to the Southern California-Arizona Conference in open session on June 23, 1945, Bishop James C. Baker presiding:

"Whereas, Section 21 of Article One (1) of the Constitution of The Methodist Church provides that an Annual Conference shall be composed of traveling preachers in full connection and one lay member from each charge; and

"Whereas, Section 22, Article Two (2) of said Constitution provides that the lay members 'may not vote on matters of ordination, character, and Conference relations of ministers'; and

"Whereas, Paragraph 646 of the Discipline of The Methodist Church provides that an Annual Conference 'may order an Executive Session of the ministerial members to consider questions relating to matters of ordination, character and Conference relations'; and

"Whereas, The said provision, in Paragraph 646 of the Discipline for an Executive Session of the ministerial members is apparently in conflict with the Constitution and might render any action taken at such a session illegal; and

"Whereas, Paragraph 631 of the 1944 Discipline forbids an Annual Conference from making 'any rule contrary to the Constitution or to the powers granted it by the General Conference';

"Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by certain of the lay members of the Southern California-Arizona Conference that we request the said Conference to cause to be presented to the Judicial Council, pursuant to Paragraph 914 of the 1944 Discipline, for its decision as to the legality of that portion of Paragraph 646 of the Discipline that purports to authorize said Executive Session, and thereby exclude the lay members, not only from voting but from attendance upon and participation in the proceedings of a Conference of which they are constitutional members."

"Now, Therefore, in pursuance of said request the Southern California-Arizona Conference and the presiding Bishop join in submitting the said question of the legality of the Executive Sessions of this Conference held in pursuance of a rule of said Conference and Paragraph 646 of the 1944 Discipline of The Methodist Church, to the Judicial Council as provided by Paragraph 914 of the 1944 Discipline for a ruling in the nature of a Declaratory Decision as to the legality of holding Executive Sessions of an Annual Conference, consisting exclusively of ministerial members." (Journal of the Southern California-Arizona Annual Conference for the session held at Pasadena in 1945, pp. 49, 50.)

Well-prepared briefs were submitted on behalf of those requesting the decision by Nathan Newby, Esq., and Mr. Chester A. Smith.

Decision of the Judicial Council

The matter at issue is clearly a question of constitutionality. Both in Judge Newby's request for a ruling by the Bishop, and in the request of the Conference for a Declaratory Decision the question is stated in this form only.

The authority of the Judicial Council for dealing with constitutional questions, with respect to General Conference legislation, is found in the Constitution, Paragraph 43, Article II, Section 1:

"To determine the constitutionality of any act of the General Conference upon an appeal of a majority of the Council of Bishops, or one fifth of the members of the General Conference."

Even though in Paragraph 22, Article II of Section VII of the Constitution, the Annual Conference is declared to be "The basic body in the Church" no authority is given to it to request from the Judicial Council a ruling on constitutionality. Neither is there any authority in Paragraph 914 of the 1944 Discipline for Declaratory Decisions in response to appeals from Annual Conferences.

It is therefore the opinion of the Judicial Council that we are without jurisdiction in this case.

In Re: Corporate Meetings, Central Kansas Annual Conference

DIGEST OF CASE

In a case where an Annual Conference (as permitted by the Discipline) has been incorporated under the provisions of the Statutes of the State of Kansas, and the corporation has adopted By-laws in statutory form, the corporate sessions must be called in the manner provided by the By-laws; but when the Conference is once in such corporate session, it may exercise all the powers it ever possessed, including the right to amend its By-laws and its Charter.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At the seventh session of the Central Kansas Annual Conference of The Methodist Church held at Salina, Kansas, September 26 to 30, 1945, Bishop William C. Martin decided a question of law. The official Record, page 157, reads as follows:

"RULING ON QUESTION PRESENTED BY DR. C. A. KITCH AT THE 1944 SESSION OF THE CENTRAL KANSAS CONFERENCE

"QUESTION:

"I move that the Bishop be requested to make a ruling as to the necessity of a stockholders, so-called, meeting, in order to make such business effective. In other words, is the Conference an incorporated body, able to transact all of its business or only part of it?"

"RULING:

"The Central Kansas Conference of The Methodist Church is an incorporated body and is competent in any regular session of the Conference to transact any and all business of a legal nature that may be regularly brought before it."

Carefully prepared briefs were submitted in behalf of the President and Trustees of the Central Kansas Conference (the corporation) by Hon. Jay T. Botts, and Dr. P. L. Mawdsley, and Contra in behalf of the Special Committee of the Conference, by Dr. Chas. E. Schofield; and on hearing before the Council able oral arguments were made by these representatives.

Decision of the Judicial Council

The above quoted ruling of Bishop Martin, made before the 1945 session of the Central Kansas Annual Conference of The Methodist Church, is now properly before the Judicial Council for review.

The ruling of Bishop Martin involves the powers of an Annual Conference, and whether or not an Annual Conference can delegate its powers, through incorporation, to a Board of Trustees so as to deprive itself of its ultimate control in the matter.

Article II of Section VII of the Constitution of The Methodist Church (Paragraph 22 of the Discipline), declares that The Annual Conference is the "basic" body in the Church, and that there is reserved to it, certain specified rights, "and such other rights as have not been delegated to the General Conference under the Constitution, etc."

The Constitution does not provide for the incorporation of Annual Conferences, nor does it prohibit such action on the part of an Annual Conference.

Paragraph 625 of the Discipline reads as follows:

"Paragraph 625. Annual Conferences may become several bodies incorporate, wherever practicable, under the law of the countries, states and territories within whose bounds they are located."

Under this provision of the Discipline, the Central Kansas Annual Conference was incorporated in 1940. The Charter of the corporation contains, among others, the following provisions:

"B. The purposes for which it is formed are . . . :

"(4) To receive, hold, manage, control and dispose of by sale and conveyance or otherwise, any and all property of every kind, money, goods, chattels, evidences of debt, things in action, lands, tenements and hereditaments and all rights thereto and interests therein, equitable as well as legal, now belonging to or hereafter acquired by said Central Kansas Annual Conference of The Methodist Church, as said Conference may direct or has directed."

"E. The number of the Trustees shall be nine."

"G. The members of this corporation are the members of the Central Kansas Annual Conference of The Methodist Church. The certificate of its Secretary shall be prima facie evidence as to who are its members."

"J. The Discipline of The Methodist Church, so far as applicable, shall apply to and govern in any matter not covered by this Charter or the By-laws that may be enacted by its Trustees for the management of the business and for the conduct of the affairs of this corporation, provided such provisions are not contrary to the laws of the State of Kansas."

"K. The By-laws of this corporation shall be adopted, altered or repealed by its Board of Trustees, at any regular meeting of said Trustees, or at a special meeting thereof called for such purposes."

Counsel challenging the correctness of Bishop Martin's ruling, have furnished to us an article of the Kansas Statutes relating to the making of By-laws for a corporation. This article, as presented to us, reads as follows:

"G. S. 1943 Supp. 17-3107. By-laws.

"The articles of incorporation may provide for the manner of and authority for the adoption, alteration and repeal of By-laws. In the absence of such provision, the power to adopt the original By-laws shall be vested in the incorporators or in the stockholders and upon their failure to do so, in the Board of Directors. In the absence of provision in the articles of incorporation to the contrary, the power to amend, alter or repeal the By-laws shall be vested in the Board of Directors, subject to the power of the stockholders to amend, alter, or repeal the By-laws: Provided, however, that notice of any such amendment of the By-laws by the Board shall be given to each stockholder having voting rights within ten days after the date of such amendment by the Board. (L. 1939, ch. 152, paragraph 33; L. 1941, ch. 182, paragraph 7; June 30.)"

Under the Constitution of The Methodist Church, as heretofore referred to, the Annual Conference is the "basic" body in The Methodist Church, and is the reservoir of all powers not specifically delegated to the General Conference.

No authority is given in the Constitution of the Church for it to delegate its powers in such a manner as to deprive itself of that basic or ultimate power.

It is true that the Central Kansas Annual Conference, in its Charter, did delegate to its Board of Trustees, power to make By-laws. The corporation, however, is the creature of the Conference. No creature is or ought to be, greater than its creator. It follows, therefore, that by delegating to the Board of Trustees power to make By-laws, it did not deprive itself of its fundamental right to make the rules and regulations by and under which its affairs shall be administered. We do not believe this interpretation is in any wise in conflict with the Kansas Statute quoted above. In fact the Kansas Statute above referred to, recognizes the ultimate right of the stockholders (members), over By-laws made by the Trustees.

In regard to the matter of amending its Charter—a matter which seems pertinent to the ultimate decision herein—we call attention again to the fact that the ultimate "governing body" of the Central Kansas Annual Conference Incorporated, is the Central Kansas Annual Conference itself.

This is recognized in the Charter in the provision already cited above, which provision is quoted here again for emphasis:

"The purposes for which it is formed are . . .:

"(4) To receive, hold, manage, control and dispose of by sale and conveyance or otherwise, any and all property of every kind, money, goods, chattels, evidences of debt, things of action, lands, tenements and hereditaments and all rights thereto, and interests therein, equitable as well as legal, now belonging to or hereafter acquired by said Central Kansas Annual Conference of The Methodist Church, as said Conference may direct or has directed."

It is the decision of the Judicial Council, therefore, that the ultimate right of the Central Kansas Annual Conference of The Methodist Church to make and control its By-laws and to amend its Charter, still exists in said Conference.

However, since the Central Kansas Annual Conference, by its own action, delegated to its Board of Trustees power to make By-laws, and failed to exercise its right to make By-laws, it is bound, under its own action, by the By-laws now in existence as to time and manner in which its corporate sessions shall be held. Nevertheless, when the Conference is once again in session, in accordance with its By-laws, it still retains all the rights and powers it ever possessed.

We are unable, therefore, to approve the ruling of Bishop Martin in the language in which it is stated. Our decision is that the corporate sessions must be called in the manner provided by its By-laws, as they now exist, or as they may be hereafter adopted or amended, but that when once in corporate session as provided by its By-laws, said Conference can exercise all the powers it ever possessed with reference both to its By-laws and to its Charter. In such a meeting, it would be "competent to transact any and all business of a legal nature that may be regularly brought before it."

In Re: Request by the Council of Bishops for a Declaratory Decision as to the Legality of the Resolution Adopted by the General Conference of 1944, Relative to the Origin of The Methodist Church

DIGEST OF CASE

A. Resolution of the General Conference of 1944 "that in all official literature and pronouncements of The Methodist Church respecting the date of its origin, it shall date from 1784," does not involve a constitutional question, and accordingly the Judicial Council will not take jurisdiction; but at the same time the Council holds that under Article V of the Declaration of Union the present organization of The Methodist Church began in 1939.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At a meeting of the Council of Bishops held at Atlantic City, N. J., on February 21, 1946, the following action was taken:

"The Council of Bishops of The Methodist Church hereby requests a Declaratory Decision, in accordance with the provision of Paragraph 914 of the 1944 Discipline.

"The question having been raised in various sections of the 'Marsh Resolution,' we request the Judicial Council to render a Declaratory Decision upon the legality of the following Resolution proposed by Daniel L. Marsh and adopted by the General Conference in 1944:

"Whereas, There is a growing tendency that dates The Methodist Church from the Uniting Conference in 1939, both in the General Church and in some of the Annual Conferences, as well as in certain local churches, and

"Whereas, The Uniting Conference specifically declared that "The Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Methodist Protestant Church are and shall be one United church," and

"Whereas, It is therefore a historical fact that The Methodist Church was organized in 1784 and that the achievement of 1939 was not the organization of a new Church but rather the healing of wounds in the Church that was organized in 1784; therefore be it

"Resolved, That in all the official literature and pronouncements of The Methodist Church respecting the date of its origin, it shall date from 1784." (See Proceedings of the General Conference, Page 15.)

This case was reviewed by the Council at a session held May 7, 1946, and both oral arguments were heard and briefs submitted. There appeared before the Council attacking the legality of the Resolution, Bishop James H. Straughn, and Rev. O. L. Williams, of the North-East Ohio Conference; to sustain the Resolution, Dr. Daniel L. Marsh and Charles O. Loucks, Esq., of the Rock River Conference; all of whom submitted carefully prepared lengthy briefs. Also briefs were filed attacking the Resolution by Bishop John M. Moore, and Leverett J. Simpson, Esq., of the Genesee Conference.

Decision of the Judicial Council

It is clear to us that the present organization of The Methodist Church began in 1939. The Declaration of Union passed by the Uniting Conference in that year makes this fact indisputable and sets forth the relationship of The Methodist Church to the three uniting Churches. We quote from Article V of The Declaration of Union:

"The Methodist Church is the ecclesiastical and lawful successor of the three uniting Churches, in and through which the three Churches as one United Church shall continue to live and have their existence, continue their institutions, and hold and enjoy their property, exercise and perform their several trusts under and in accord with the Plan of Union and Discipline of the United Church."

It is clear also that organized Methodism in America goes back to 1784, while the Methodist Movement began years before 1784.

However, the Judicial Council is not convinced that any question of constitutionality is involved in the Resolution as passed by the General Conference which is now challenged as unconstitutional.

Therefore, the Judicial Council cannot take jurisdiction and must leave the whole matter to the next General Conference for clarification.

H. R. Van Deusen, Secretary of the Council, with the consent of the other members, filed a Concurring Opinion, which is as follows:

Concurring Decision

By requesting the Judicial Council to render a Declaratory Decision upon the legality (or constitutionality) of the Marsh Resolution of 1944, the Council is really asked for an answer to the following question: "Is The Methodist Church a new ecclesiastical organization created in 1939 by the union of three predecessor Church organizations, or is it a continuation, without legal or factual interruption, of the predecessor Church organizations, the oldest one of which dates from 1784?"

There is no question but that organized Methodism in America began with the formation of The Methodist Episcopal Church in 1784. This is recognized by Article III of the Declaration of Union, adopted at the Uniting Conference of 1939, as the concluding step in the Plan of Unification, which says: "The Methodist Episcopal Church, The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, The Methodist Protestant Church, had their common origin in the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church in America in 1784."

The Declaration of Union further states in Article V, "The Methodist Church is the ecclesiastical and lawful successor of the three Uniting Churches, in and through which the three Churches as one United Church shall continue to live and have their existence, continue their institutions, and hold and enjoy their property, exercise and perform their several trusts under and in accord with the Plan of Union and the Discipline of the United Church."

There can now be no doubt as to the legal result of this process of unification, particularly as it applies to property rights, as we have the authority of the courts wherever this matter has been litigated:—See Purcell vs. Summers, 145 Fed. 2nd 979; and Smith vs. Board of Pensions, 54 Fed. Supp. 224. See also the following cases which have not as yet been reported in any law reports, i.e., Ninth Street Methodist Church vs. Case, in the Circuit Court, St. Joseph County, Michigan, and Hickey et al. vs. Detroit Annual Conference, Circuit Court, Saginaw County, Michigan. These cases have all conclusively established the claim of "The Methodist Church" to all property rights, present and future, of the three constituent organizations. The foregoing cases also render unnecessary any discussion of the legal principles involved in other cases decided by various courts as to other Church unions, such as in Hayes vs. Manning, 263 Mo. 1, 172 S. W. 897, or cases arising as a result of the organization of the United Church of Canada, where the facts differ materially from the Methodist unification.

The courts in discussing the various phases of unification of the three Methodist Church organizations have sometimes (as in similar cases) used the words "merger" and "consolidation" interchangeably without regard to the technical distinction between the two as applied to corporations, including both profit and non-profit corporations under our modern State statutes. But that is immaterial, as in a certain sense, this coming together of the three Churches was not exactly either a merger or a consolidation, although it partakes more of the features of a consolidation. What the courts have unanimously decided is that all property rights of the three constituent organizations are now vested in The Methodist Church and in its various subsidiary organizations subject to its control, to be held and administered under the provisions of the newly adopted Constitution and the Discipline as enacted from time to time.

While there may be some doubt as to whether or not the Marsh Resolution involves a constitutional question, over which the Judicial Council has jurisdiction, yet we can say definitely that the part of the resolution which states that The Methodist Church was organized in 1784, and that the achievement of 1939 was "not the organization of a new church" is both factually and legally incorrect. In other words, no Resolution now adopted by a General Conference can in any way change or modify the language adopted in the "Declaration of Union," and already construed by the civil courts, and in so far as the Resolution attempts any change or modification, it is a nullity. Whatever may be done in regard to dating and numbering should be done in accord with the principles laid down in the Declaration of Union. May 9, 1946.

In Re: Voting by Retired Bishops

DIGEST OF CASE

The Decision of the Judicial Council upholding the Constitutionality of Paragraph 437, Discipline 1944, as to voting by retired Bishops affirmed. (See Judicial Council Decision 35.)

STATEMENT OF FACTS

For a statement of facts in relation to this case, and the Decision previously handed down, see report of case in Judicial Council Decision 35.

A petition for a rehearing and review of this case was filed by Bishop John M. Moore. Supporting briefs were filed by Bishop A. Frank Smith and Bishop E. H. Hughes.

Bishop John M. Moore appeared before the Council in person at its session April 22, 1947, in support of the petition for a review and reconsideration of the Decision handed down at the 1946 session of the Judicial Council. He presented an able and carefully prepared brief, was fully heard, and given every opportunity to present his arguments.

Decision of the Judicial Council

After full consideration of the petition and arguments, all members being present and voting, it was voted to reaffirm without change the opinion and decision previously adopted.

J. S. French, M. A. Childers and W. G. Henry filed a separate opinion as follows:

Being still of the opinion that the expression "but without vote" in Paragraph 437 of the 1944 Discipline is of doubtful constitutionality, we adhere to the concurring opinion signed by us as reported in Judicial Council Decision 35, for the reasons therein set forth.

In Re: Footnote to Article XXIII
Articles of Religion

DIGEST OF CASE

The footnote to Article XXIII, Articles of Religion, Discipline 1939, held to be not a constitutional part of the Articles of Religion. It was made a footnote by legislative act only.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

At a session of the Uniting Conference held in Kansas City, Missouri, May 9, 1939, "the question of the legality of deleting from the new Discipline the footnote to the twenty-third Article of Religion" was referred to Committee on Judiciary. (See Journal of Uniting Conference 1939, P. 357.) At a subsequent session on May 10, 1939, this motion was reconsidered, and the subject matter was referred to the Council of Bishops for their study and to report to General Conference. (See Journal of Uniting Conference 1939, P. 363.)

The footnote as it appeared in the 1939 Discipline, P. 45, reads as follows:

"As far as it respects civil affairs we believe it the duty of Christians, and especially of all Christian Ministers, to be subject to the supreme authority of the country where they may reside, and to use all laudable means to enjoin obedience to the powers that be; and therefore it is expected that all our Preachers and People, who may be under British or any other Government, will behave themselves as peaceable and orderly subjects."

At a meeting of the Council of Bishops in Atlantic City, New Jersey, on February 22, 1946, the following action was taken:

"Question: Is further action required concerning footnote to Articles of Religion?"

"Answer: We recommend that proper steps be taken to ask the Judicial Council for a Declaratory Decision.

"The question at issue is: Is said footnote to Article XXIII of the Articles of Religion a part of the Articles of Religion?"

The Council of Bishops, by more than the required majority, thereupon appealed the matter to the Judicial Council, thus taking the "proper steps."

Under Paragraph 904 of the Discipline of 1944, the Judicial Council is clothed with authority to "determine the constitutionality of any act of the General Conference upon an appeal of a majority of the Council of Bishops," etc., and under Paragraph 914 this authority is extended to include Declaratory Decisions when legislation "appears to be subject to more than one interpretation, or when any Paragraph of the Discipline seems to be of doubtful meaning," etc. It is therefore clear that the Judicial Council has jurisdiction in this matter and it hereby assumes the same.

HISTORICAL SURVEY

(1) At the session of the General Conference of 1820, the question arose as to the relationship between the Methodist churches in Canada and those in the United States. A series of Resolutions was introduced and adopted, seemingly without much debate, among which was the following, numbered 2:

"Resolved, that the following note be inserted in the Discipline under the XXIII Article of our Church, viz. As far as it respects civil affairs, we believe it is the duty of Christians, and especially of all Christian ministers, to be subject to the supreme authority of the country where they may reside, and to use all laudable means to enjoin obedience to the powers that be; and therefore it is expected that all our preachers and people who may be under the British, or any other government, will behave themselves as peaceable and orderly subjects." (See Minutes of the General Conference, meeting in Baltimore, Md., May 1820, written in longhand and deposited in the library of Drew Theological Seminary.)

This footnote, appearing thus in the Discipline for 1820, was continued in every subsequent edition of the Discipline of the former Methodist Episcopal Church until the Uniting Conference in 1939.

(2) The Methodist Protestant Church never inserted such a Note.

(3) In the case of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the matter is more involved. After the separation in 1844, it did not immediately attach any "Note" to the XXIII Article of Religion. At that time it had no work outside the boundaries of the United States, and the War between the States, coming soon afterwards, precluded for some time any such undertaking of magnitude. As soon as it was thought feasible, however, this Church began sending missionaries to foreign countries and establishing churches. It was not a great while until complaints began to arise among the members of these churches regarding this XXIII Article of Religion, based on the ground that it virtually brought them to the point of declaring allegiance to foreign rulers and thus repudiating their own.

These complaints became more and more insistent, and the session of the General Conference of 1906, in Birmingham, Alabama, recommended to the Annual Conferences that they add the following "Note" to the XXIII Article:

"It is the duty of all Christians, and especially of all Christian ministers, to observe and obey the laws and commands of the governing or supreme authority of the country of which they are citizens or subjects, or in which they reside, and to use all laudable means to encourage and enjoin obedience to the powers that be."

Two things need to be noted:

First: The General Conference merely recommended to the Annual Conferences its adoption, a Resolution immediately prior to this recommendation having been passed inserting certain words in the Paragraph relating to amendments, which among other things, prohibited any initiative upon the part of the General Conference in amending the First Restrictive Rule.

Second: The matter of the insertion of the "Note" was considered a Constitutional one. For one reason or another, however, the vote in the Annual Conferences was slow in being taken, but was finally completed in the quadrennium 1918-1922, and adopted by the General Conference of 1922 after every Annual Conference had given a majority vote in its favor.

It is now necessary to notice at greater length the Resolution of 1906, above referred to, inserting a certain clause in the Paragraph relating to amendments. The General Conference of 1808 provided that the proposed delegated General Conference "shall have full powers to make rules and regulations for our Church, under the following limitations and restrictions." Then follow the six Restrictive Rules, at the close of which is the following:

"Provided, nevertheless, that upon the joint recommendation of all the Annual Conferences, then a majority of two-thirds of the General Conference succeeding shall suffice to alter any of the above restrictions."

Thus it made the Annual Conference the unit in voting on all contemplated constitutional changes, which meant that even one Annual Conference could defeat the wishes of the remainder of the Church by giving a negative vote.

By the quadrennium of 1828-1832, this had become a "grievous yoke which neither we nor our fathers were able to bear." (Bang's History of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Vol. IV, p. 103.) After several false starts in the General Conference of 1828, the General Conference of 1832 finally completed the work of the preceding quadrennium so as to make the proviso read as follows:

"Provided, nevertheless, that upon the concurrent recommendation of three-fourths of all the members of the several Annual Conferences who shall be present and vote on such recommendation, then a majority of two-thirds of the General Conference succeeding shall suffice to alter any of such regulations, excepting the first article."

Notice particularly this last preceding clause: "Excepting the first article."

It then went on to say:

"And also whenever such alteration or alterations shall have first been recommended by two-thirds of the General Conference, so soon as three-fourths of the members of the Annual Conferences shall have concurred, as aforesaid, with such recommendation, such alteration or alterations shall take effect."

This language, word for word, remained in the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church until 1900, when it adopted its written Constitution, at which time "two thirds" was substituted for "three fourths" where the latter word was to be found. In every other respect, especially as regards the phrase "excepting the first article," it remained there until the Uniting Conference in 1939. In the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, it remained exactly as it was adopted in 1832 for seventy-four years.

It is perfectly plain that this eliminated the Annual Conference as a constitutional unit and substituted therefor the members of the several Annual Conferences.

But in order to insert this "Note" to the XXIII Article of Religion, a Note which it thought a Constitutional matter, the General Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South, meeting in 1906, passed the following Resolution:

"That the Editor of the next edition of the Discipline be directed to insert . . . the following: after the words, 'excepting the First Article': 'Which may be altered upon the joint recommendation of all the Annual Conferences and a majority of two-thirds of the General Conferences succeeding,' so that the Paragraph shall read as follows:

"'Provided, nevertheless, that upon the concurrent recommendation of three-fourths of all the members of the several Annual Conferences, who shall be present and vote on such recommendation, then a majority of two-thirds of the General Conference succeeding shall suffice to alter any of the above restrictions, except the first article,' (and now comes the addition) 'which may be altered upon the joint recommendation of all the Annual Conferences by a majority of two-thirds of the General Conference succeeding.'"

The provision of 1832, to which particular attention has been called in a preceding paragraph, in effect in 1906, provided no way of amending the first Restrictive Rule, and this addition was made in order to provide such a way. Thus it attempted to revert, as far as the First Article is concerned, to the rule of 1808, making the Annual Conference the constitutional unit.

Without discussing here the wisdom of such a procedure, the fact remains that this change was never submitted to the Annual Conferences—the only way in which it could have become constitutionally effective. It is perfectly clear that the matter was one involving constitutionality, since the method of amending a Constitution is an integral part of the document itself. It is equally clear that the General Conference was not acting in a judicial, but wholly in a legislative capacity, and that therefore the constitutionality of the method by which the footnote was added was not res adjudicata. Under the law of that Church the General Conference had no right to pass upon the constitutionality of its own acts. Strange as it may seem, that right was reserved to the administrative department—the Bishops, and remained with them until the establishment of the Judicial Council in that Church. The action itself, therefore, and all other action, or actions, taken under the misconceived idea of the legality of said action, was null and void, and was so declared by the Judicial Council of that Church in its OPINION ON THE LEGALITY OF THE ADOPTION OF THE PLAN OF UNION.

CONCLUSIONS

In the light of the above history it seems clear:

(1) That the General Conference of 1820 did not regard the "Note" as a Constitutional matter and that the former Methodist Episcopal Church acquiesced in this opinion for the remainder of its history as a separate organization.

(2) That though the "Note" passed through the forms demanded by the supposed amended law for Constitutional procedure in the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South, that amendment was itself unconstitutional and the "Note" therefore could be regarded, at the best, as only a non-constitutional pronouncement of General and Annual Conferences.

(3) If it should be contended that whatever its status prior to the vote on union, that vote made it not only a part of the Plan of Union but a Constitutional part thereof, it is only necessary to reply:

First: That the voters of the former Methodist Episcopal Church certainly regarded it as non-Constitutional.

Second: That those of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South, adopted it as a Constitutional matter under an unconstitutional amendment which nullified the action and left it as a mere legislative enactment.

In both cases, the vote could not, unless it had been clearly specified, have changed whatever status the "Note" legally occupied, and that status, as shown by the historical survey above taken, was one of non-Constitutionality.

Third: The Plan of Union specifically provides (Paragraph 3, 1944 Discipline) that: "The Articles of Religion shall be those historically held in common by the three uniting churches." The Methodist Protestant Church never having had such a footnote clearly same was not "historically held in common by the three uniting churches," and cannot be regarded as an Article of Religion of the United Church.

Decision of the Judicial Council

In answer, therefore, to the question of the Council of Bishops: "Is said footnote to Article XXIII of the Articles of Religion a part of the Articles of Religion?" we reply that it is a legislative, but not a Constitutional part of the Articles of Religion.

In Re: Executive Sessions of Annual Conference Excluding Lay Members; Constitutionality of Paragraph 646, Discipline 1944

DIGEST OF CASE

The provisions of Paragraph 646, Discipline 1944, permitting an Annual Conference to "order an Executive Session of the ministerial members to consider questions relating to matters of ordination, character and Conference relations," held to be Constitutional.

HISTORY OF THE CASE

For a statement of the history of this case reference is made to Judicial Council Decision 37. The case was previously sent up to the Judicial Council in the year 1946, as a petition or request by the Southern California-Arizona Conference asking for a Declaratory Decision involving the constitutionality of Paragraph 646, Discipline 1944. The Judicial Council then held for the reasons set out in Decision 37, that it had no jurisdiction to render Declaratory Decisions in response to appeals from an Annual Conference.

At the meeting of the Council of Bishops held in Grand Rapids, Michigan, September 12, 1946, the following action was taken:

"In accordance with the provisions of Paragraph 43, Article 2, Section 1 of the 1944 Discipline, the Council, in response to the request of the Southern California-Arizona Conference as communicated in a letter from its Secretary, W. C. Botkin, dated July 18, 1946, voted to appeal to the Judicial Council to determine the constitutionality of Paragraph 646 of the Discipline of The Methodist Church which provides that an Annual Conference 'may order an Executive Session of the ministerial members to consider questions relating to matters of ordination, character, and Conference relations,' in the light of the following Resolution adopted by the Southern California-Arizona Conference, and appearing on Pages 49 and 50 of the 1945 Journal of that Conference:"

Then follows the identical Resolution formerly presented to us by the Southern California-Arizona Conference.

The manner in which it is now presented is according to one of the legal methods, and we therefore assume jurisdiction.

SOME STATEMENTS, AND AN EXAMINATION OF THE PARAGRAPH IN QUESTION

(1) The language of the Constitution of The Methodist Church, Section VII, Paragraph 21, Article I, seems to make clear beyond a reasonable doubt that the membership of an Annual Conference consists of the ministers in full connection thereof, together with one layman from each pastoral charge of said Conference, provided he meets certain specified requirements. The matter of meeting these requirements is not in controversy in this case.

(2) We cannot be sure what meaning the General Conference attached to the phrase, "Executive Session," in Paragraph 646. Neither in "Robert's Rules of Order," nor in the rules governing procedure of the General Conference of The Methodist Church, is any reference made to such a session. In Webster's "New International Dictionary" an "Executive Session" is defined as that "of an executive council, as of the United States Senate, when considering appointments or the ratification of treaties," and an executive council is defined, by the same authority, as "a body of men constituted to give advice to, or exercise some control over, the executive." It may be that some other authority gives some other, or additional, definition, but if so, we have been unable to find it. If the General Conference meant this, the language in Paragraph 646 is very inadequate and greatly needs clarification.

But there has grown up a commonly accepted definition, just how and by what authority we do not know, that an "Executive Session" is one from which all but its own membership is excluded, and the Southern California-Arizona Annual Conference has interpreted the phrase, "an Executive Session of the ministerial members," to mean that its lay members are not only not to have a vote on "questions relating to matters of ordination, character, and Conference relations" (a constitutional provision according to Paragraph 22 of the 1944 Discipline), but that they are to have no voice on such "questions," and not even to be present when such a Session is held.

Does this infringe upon the constitutional rights of the laymen of that Conference—or any other where such procedure may be in vogue? In other words, is that part of Paragraph 646 which reads as follows: "Provided that the Conference may order an Executive Session of the ministerial members to consider questions relating to matters of ordination, character, and Conference relations," contrary to Paragraph 21, a part of the Constitution, which says that "an Annual Conference shall be composed of all the traveling preachers in full connection with it, together with a lay member elected by each pastoral charge"? Is such a session of its ministerial members illegal and its actions null and void?

(3) Let us examine rather closely the 646th Paragraph in its entirety.

"Inquiries shall be made in the open Conference as to whether all the ministerial members of the Conference are blameless in their life and official administration." We call attention to the fact that if the Conference chooses the "open session" method, it is obligatory (the word used is "shall," not may) to make these inquiries "in the open Conference." The Paragraph then goes on to point out two methods by which the open Conference may arrive at a decision: (a) "The District Superintendent may answer for all the preachers in his District in one answer, if it be desired to call the name of each and every preacher in open session," or (b) "The Committee on Conference Relations and Ministerial Qualifications may make inquiry of each District Superintendent about each man in his District and make one report to the Bishop and the Conference in open session." It is the province of the Annual Conference, and of it alone, to choose which of these methods shall be used to reach the desired end, and it may make its choice either through a motion at each annual session, or by making whichever method it chooses a paragraph of its standing rules, which, of course, are subject to revision at any annual session. Either of these methods is to be carried out "in open session."

Then the Paragraph goes on to provide for a closed session, through which the "ordination, character, and Conference relations" of its ministerial members may be determined, the said session confined to its ministerial membership—if the word "Executive" is to be defined as excluding all others, as it has been by the Conference from which this appeal originated.
